Ben Sharpe, 240 and Dan O'Connor, weighing 236, went to a 30-minute prelim draw. It started off nicely with good clean wrestling shown. Ben surprised his followers by pulling a couple of illegal stunts, and then the belt was off the powerhouse. Dan really roughed it then, and Ben repaid in kind. They fought from corner to corner as the crowd yelled at the hot action, and Maxwell hustled about trying to keep some semblance of law alive. No holds were barred, nor fists, and each in turn took a beating. Toward the end O'Connor tried strangling Ben with a string, but he was being pasted around at the finish. They mixed again after the bell to wind up a lively mat tussle.

Odds 5 to 1 Charles Keep Boxing Title

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 (AP) —Boxing could crown a new heavyweight champion tonight but probably will not. The odds today were 1 to 5 that Ezzard Charles would successfully defend his National Boxing Association title against the challenge of Pat Valentino in their 15-round fight at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

The fight is scheduled for 10 p.m. PST (2 a.m. EDT Saturday.

Charles has beaten the most solid contenders in his climb to NBA recognition of the championship vacated by Joe Louis.—

In some respects, however, Valentino fits into the category of a fairly strong challenger. He lost close decisions to Jimmy Bivins and fought two draws with Joe Maxim, both of whom extended the titleholder plenty, although defeated.

Aside from the remote possobility he could become the upset victim of Valentino's punishing body attack, Charles figures to win rather handily. He is the superior boxer, is much faster than his rival, and has proven he can take a knockdown punch and come back to win.

Queen Mary Victors

A deciding game was necessary to declare the winners of the north zone in the intermediate soccer schedule between Queen Mary and King George and the former won 2-0, which entitles them to play King Edward, south zone finalists, in the final.

Right from the kick-off, the west-end boys worked on a combination which proved successful when Wilfong opened the scoring. In the second period, King George boys forced the issue, but failed when in front of the goal. Five minutes to the finish, Dubey, on a fast break-away, registered the second counter.

Queen Mary—G. Finn, goal; G. Harris and D. Peacock, full backs; J. Dafoe, K. Beck and P. Jones, half backs; D. Hillier, D. Friar, R. Brown, R. Dubay and A. Wilfong forwards.

King George—E. Innes, goal; G. Pollard and W. Nurse, full backs; F. Roberts, D. Mc. aughton and D. Barclay, half-backs; G. Elylis, A. Baptie, D. Hale, D. Dorrington and E. English forwards. Subs.: D. Fallis, K. Barker, K. Dixon.

Referee: Mr. James Burns.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Fall and footballs roll right along, mes hearties, and it seems a trio of grid tilts are on tap locally this week-end. At 8.15 tonight, Oakville Braves wind up their ORFU schedule 'gainst the Panthers, who looked right promising early in the season but ran into stiff opposition all the way. Two exhibition high school scraps at the Oval tomorrow aft, Humbersides of Toronto supplying the junior and senior opposition to the PCVS packs. Should be interesting duels with wide-open play likely. SPS have a junior fixture in Lindsay.

St. Anthony's of Ottawa, runners-up in the Ottawa Valley senior diamond circuit, clash with the Petes' ballsters at 10.30 tomorrow morn in Riverside. A sudden-death game for the OBA senior "B" crown, and a.m. fans ought to see a rousing struggle. Game is early so that the Petes can play a benefit tomorrow p.m. in Oshawa., The men o' Murphy have the distinction of lasting longer this season than the Brooklyn Dodgers. Peterborough has never won a senior "A" or "B" baseball title, but the Petes are just one game away from it now. This final is strictly for glory as these diamondeers bravely breast a strong tide of red ink.

Champs In Action

Rotary Club's fund to aid crippled children should get a hefty boost in Civic Arena about 8.30 tonight when Lindsay Meteors (of Toronto) tangle with the Legionnaires, OHA senior "B" champs. An exhibition and the first fray of the season for Legion. Car will be drawn for at this time, and 18 door prizes are offered. It will be recalled that the speedy and scrappy Legionnaires last spring rang up 11 straight playoff victories en route to the provincial title. Only a few local fans saw them capture the crown down in Sarnia, but this is the same squad except for the loss of Ned Vitarelli and Bob Greenlaw—their places being taken by Doug Free and Keith Montgomery. Ought to be a nifty tilt before a full house.

St. Kitts' scribe says: "We hate to foresee the day that organized sports dictates the sports pages and everyone loses sight of the word 'democracy' and freedom of the press. Big teams really regard themselves as tough babies and the continental press rates them so. They revel in such glory and draw big money. Yet, let a scribe criticize a star for an error, or bonehead play, or state the team played a punk game, deserving to lose, and the team bosses say you're killing their gates, while relatives and pals of the players dub you a heel. We'd guess the tough babies need to be nursed. For every one fan who sees a game, a hundred don't, and readers' rights have to be respected. The only star who 'grew up' was David, after he ousted Goliath."

That "Devil Dance"

Lots of mat action along the Rue Brock last e'en as pro wrestling returned for the season and was greeted loudly by a goodly gallery. Handsome and popular Mike Sharpe defeated huge Hi Lee in the main bout, scrambling back into the ring to beat the ref's count by a gnat's whisker. Brother Ben Sharpe and Dan O'Connor threw the book (not the rule book) at each other in a sizzling prelim, ending in a draw. And the Red Devil made his debut in the semi-final, which he won handily over Faro Renaldi. A flaming and masked figure, he proved quite dramatic, especially when he won by his special hold, the "devil dance head twist". Rotund Bert Maxwell refereed in so-so style. 'Twas an okay grapple card.

A few days ago, Johnny Russelle—in New York for the World Series—sent us a program of one of the games. The 1-0 contest where Tommy Henrich hit the homer in the ninth. Quite a thick booklet which set spectators back half a dollar. Apart from many Manhattan ads, it ran a flock of pictures of Yankee and Dodger officials and players, with considerable reading matter on same. They put on quite a show when the big diamond classic rolls around. Each of the Toronto papers sent a scribe over but they were quite critical of the class of ball played for a world's title. Might be that they weren't happy over the press seats reserved for them. Joe Perlove of the Star wound it up by viewing the last game via television for three bucks in a hotel room! Which might be a forerunner of things to come in sports' coverage when video is common, huh?

P of W Win Contest

Prince of Wales and Queen Alexandra played at Queen Alexandra school grounds Thursday afternoon in a senior league game with the west-enders gaining two league points on a 5-0 count.

Queen Alexandra boys were more aggressive throughout the first half but Prince of Wales replied with a close-passing combination that permitted Faiers to register. In the second half, Queen Alexandra boys wilted against the pressure of the west-enders when Friers tallied three times, Evans getting the last tally to make it read 5-0.

Series Worth $5,665 To Yanks $4,272 For Bums

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14 (AP) — The New York Yankees feat of winning the American League championship on the last day of the regular season and then drubbing Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series was worth $5,665.54 to the team's full-time members.

That was the figure announced today by baseball commissioner A. B. Chandler after his office force had finished figuring out who gets how much from the world series "gate" of $1,129,627.88.

The Yankees cut their $206,159.45 into a total of 36 full shares but the commissioner would not announce the names of players sharing in the division—either as to full shares or part shares.

The Dodgers, who could win only one game of the World Series, cut up $137,439.64 into a total of 36½ shares. That meant each player who received a full share earned $4,272.73 for his part in the series.

The commissioner explained the money divided did not include $150,000 received for the radio broadcasting rights. That money goes into the baseball players' pension fund. Disposition of the television rights receipts will not be decided until the next joint major league meeting.

Little Olympic Games Set For Saturday

The Little Olympics is scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition Grounds. This annual sports meet for the elementary school students, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club has been postponed twice due to poor track conditions but this Saturday the meet will take place inside the track in front of the grandstand.

Meet officials inspected the track Thursday and found it still muddy and decided to hold the meet at the new location. The relay races will now be changed to shuttle relay races.

All participants are asked to meet at the Drill Hall at 1 p.m. There they will assemble and parade to the field where the games will start at 1:30.

West End YMCA Club To Meet 'Y' Swimmers

Coach Gord Minty's Swimming Club of the YMCA meets Coach Kressy McCatty's Toronto West End YMCA swimming club Saturday night at the YMCA in the first of five swimming meets to be held this season.

Mr. McCatty is bringing 30 boys down to contest with the 36 boys in the local club. There is one event for boys under nine years, three for 11 years and under, five for the 13 years and under, one for the 15 years and under, five for the sixteen years and under and three for the senior boys.

Al Marshall, former Canadian senior breaststroke 200-yard champion and record holder and holder of four Collegiate championships is expected to swim for the Peterborough Club.

Humberside Boys To Play PCVS Teams

Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School football teams tackle the highly rated Humberside Collegiate junior and senior squads of Toronto Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval. The Humberside teams were finalists in the Toronto championships last year with the juniors taking the championship honors in their bracket while the seniors lost by one point.

This year the Toronto squads are well on their way to the Toronto championships. The junior squad has already chalked up three wins by fairly high margins.

Coach Bev Goulding has only one player on the injured list, Bus Jenson who received a badly sprained ankle in practice last week. A full team is expected out for the junior squad who have two wins and a loss so far this year.

St. Peter's High school will try to break into the win column Saturday afternoon in Lindsay when they tangle with the Lindsay juniors. Both teams have one loss, each losing to the PCVS juniors.

Canadiens Off To Big Start Blank Chicago Hawks 4-0

By VIC MORRIS, JR.,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Montreal Canadiens got off to a flying start in the young National Hockey League season with a perfect boxscore record—four goals, no errors.

Their fiery right winger, Maurice (Rocket) Richard, drove home two goals in a brilliant display of his old form as Canadiens blanked the husky Chicago Black Hawks 4-0 Thursday night at Montreal before 10,811 fans.

And sharing the Rocket's hour of glory was big Bill Durnan, whose shutout may well be the start of a string that will carry him to his sixth Vezina Trophy in seven years. The 34-year-old, ambidextrous natice of Toronto, was flawless in the Montreal goal as he repeatedly swept back the best the Hawks had to offer.

The game, the first of the schedule at Montreal, moved the Montrealers into a first place tie with Detroit Red Wings, who defeated Boston Bruins 2-1 Wednesday night.

Going Easier

Rookie Gilles Dube, the Sherbrooke Saints senior player who was reluctant to sign an NHL contract, found the going a little easier in the big league than he expected. The swivel-hipped Dube who was on the left flank of a line with Richard and Elmer Lach, scored one goal and assisted in another. Another youngster, who played against Dube in the Quebec Senior Hockey League, Gerry Plamondon earned a goal and an assist.

The Montrealers jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first period after little Billy Reay set up Plamondon on a lone effort from the Chicago blueline.

Richard, who sank 20 goals last season, scored halfway through the second session on a play with Plamondon. Defenceman Bob Goldham of Hawks was serving a two-minute tripping penalty at the time.

Richard notched his second goal late in the final period with Dube assisting. With less than a minute remaining and Chicago mustering five men well into Montreal territory, Dube took the puck in his own end, faked a pass to Richard and skated the length of the ice to rap home his first NHL goal.

Canadiens will get a chance to move into first place Saturday when they tackle New York Rangers at Montreal. Detroit Red Wings and Boston are idle. Last year's Stanley Cup winners, Toronto Maple Leafs, make their 1949-50 debut against Chicago Black Hawks Saturday at Toronto.

Future of Canadian Ballet To Be In Smaller Cities

By KAY REX,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Bermuda is listed—and just possibly Australia—on the itinerary of the Winnipeg Ballet which has popped into Ottawa for a two-day stand.

Sixteen members of the ballet, including the pianists Gordon Kushner of Toronto and Edmund Assaly of Montreal, arrived here Thursday night, still enthusiastic over the reception they received this week at Peterborough. Business manager David Yeddeau described it as "wonderful."

The Winnipeg group, acclaimed at the Ballet Festival last spring in Toronto as one of Canada's best companies, is in the midst of its fifth tour of eastern Canada.

Next week it will play in Kingston, Brockville and Montreal. The following week it will move to Three Rivers, Que., and will finish the tour Oct. 25 at Quebec City.

Mr. Yeddeau said Thursday night that negotiations are under way for the Ballet to tour Bermuda the last two weeks of February.

"We also have been offered 61 one-night stands in the United States," he said.

There also is a big "hope" that the ballet may venture to Australia in August.

"Some people say we may be too ambitious, but we feel it's time for Canadians to make themselves known," he said.

In his opinion, the future of Canadian ballet is not in large cities such as Montreal and Toronto, but in the smaller centres. "That's where the interest lies," he said.

At the completion of its latest tour the company will return to Winnipeg to start rehearsals for a three-act children's ballet, to open Boxing Day. Music for the dance, based on Thackeray's "The Rose and the Ring," will be arranged by Walter Kaufman of Winnipeg.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Philadelphia Athletics Thursday fired veteran coaches Al Simmons and Earle Brucker in the first major decision the American League baseball club ever has made against the wishes of Connie Mack.

The handwriting on the wall seems plain for all baseball to read: the 86-year-old owner manager no longer is the absolute boss of the club he helped found.

Dismissal of the two coaches, a complete surprise to them and to Philadelphia fans, was announced as having been ordered by the club's board of directors. And in a tight-lipped statement Connie said:

"They (Simmons and Brucker) both are wonderful fellows and I thought they did a fine job for us.

"But the board of directors decided we could do without them and they have the final say in running the ball club."

The directors are Mack's three sons, Earle, Roy and Connie, Jr.; Benjamin MacFarland, grandson of the late John Shibe who founded the club with Connie, and Robert Schroeder, one-time Shibe Park hot dog hustler who never has worked for any other organization.

Despite heavy costs of transporting teams involved in Dominion soccer finals and semi-finals a profit of $2,399 was made on the championship series, Dominion Association officials reported at Toronto Thursday.

Hamilton Westinghouse, eastern champions, received nearly $500 as their share, with the other teams splitting $619 among them. The remainder went to the Dominion Association.

Next year's finals are to be held in Vancouver, it was announced.

Continuing their policy of disposing of surplus material, Brooklyn Dodgers Thursday announced at New York the sale of pitcher Paul Minner and first baseman Preston Ward to Chicago Cubs for an undisclosed sum.

The latest National League transaction boosts the total of players sold by the Brooks during the last two weeks to six, only one of whom was on the Dodger roster this season.

Bucko McDonald, former National Hockey League star and now Liberal Member of Parliament for Parry Sound, joined Ottawa Senators for a workout at Ottawa Thursday night.

However, coach Alex Connell regretfully announced that the one-time Toronto Maple Leaf blue line bouncer has no intention of joining the Stanley Cup champions.

"Bucko just wanted to get in some skating," said Connell.

At St. Louis, George (Whitey) Kurowski, sturdy third baseman with St. Louis Cardinals for eight years, Thursday night was given his unconditional release by the National League club.

Troubled by a lame right elbow the 31-year-old infielder had not played regularly with the Cards since 1948, when he appeared in 77 games.

Arthur Pim, 50, one of the greatest scoring players in field lacrosse 25 years ago, died at Toronto Thursday. He started his lacrosse career with Toronto Beaches and later played with Young Torontos before moving to Brampton where he was one of the mainstays of Eddie Longfellow's great teams of that era.

20,312,327 People Attend Baseball Games

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Major league baseball attendance dipped a slight three per cent from its record high of 1948 but unofficial figures show the 16 big league clubs still drew 20,312,327 customers during 1949. New York Yankees were high with 2,321,302.

The American League with 10,804,531 paid off some 345,568 with Cleveland dropping 386,756 from its all time record of a year ago. The decrease was 262,994 in the National League where the unofficial total attendance was 9,507,796.

In the National Boston Braves, who like Cleveland failed to repeat their 1948 pennant victory, led the decline with a minus 373,608.

Detroit with 1,821,204, the St. Louis Cards with 1,430,586 and Boston Red Sox with 1,596,650 set records for themselves.

Pensions Very Low

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP) —A total of 1,106, Federal civil servants or their widows are receiving pensions of less than $20 a month, it was shown Thursday in a Commons return tabled for Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre). The return showed that some 6,093 former civil servants and 4,060 widows are receiving less than $100 monthly in pensions. A total of 2,832 retired government workers and 145 widows are receiving more than $100 monthly.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Say Honey Crop Down 31% In '49

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP) — Woe to the sweet-toothed Canadian. Canada's honey crop is 31 per cent lower than last year.

And, according to bee experts, you can't blame it on the bees. As usual, the guilty party is that universal butt of abuse, the weather man.

Bureau of Statistics reports place the 1949 crop at 31,286,000 pounds, away below the near-record production of 45,145,000 last year and the lowest since the honey-short year of 1946, when only 23,185,000 pounds were produced.

In western Ontario, for example, where the largest percentage of Canada's honey is produced, production dropped about 30 per cent from 15,736,000 pounds last year to 10,655,000 this year. Blame it on the droughts of late June and July, which cut production per colony to 43 from 66 pounds.

Production for Ontario with 1948 output in brackets was Ontario, 10,655,000 (15,736,000)

Newspaperman Dies On Paper 35 Years

KITCHENER, Oct. 14 (CP) — Charles A. Zilliax, 64, of Kitchener and Listowel died in Kitchener Thursday. He was on the staff of the Kitchener-Waterloo Record and had been associated with newspaper work for 35 years.

In 1914 Mr. Zilliax purchased an interest in the Listowel Standard and was active in the operation of the paper until 1944. In that year, with the amalgamation of the Listowel Standard and the Listowel Banner, he joined the staff of the Kitchener-Waterloo Record.

Survivors include his widow, the former Gertrude Smith of Listowel; a brother, William J., of Listowel and two sisters, Gertrude Zilliax and Mrs. W. May, both of Toronto.

Halt Increases For Commuters

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners has stepped in to halt increases in railway commuters fares, a Board spokesman said Thursday night. The increases were to have gone into effect next Saturday.

The spokesman said the halt was called pending reconsideration of the railways' requests for the fares boost "after considerable correspondence between various parties."

He said he could not give an estimate of the extent of the fares increase.

The increase, it was learned, would have affected almost every heavily-populated area in Eastern Canada, where the railways sell specially-reduced tickets to daily passengers, most of them living in the suburbs and travelling to city offices.

Chamber of Commerce Aids In Fire Prevention Work

Peterborough's Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with Fire Chief George Smith has circulated a number of reminders during Fire Prevention Week to make local homes safer to live in. This week is Fire Prevention Week not only in Peterborough but also throughout North America.

As he leaves his home the average householder would do well to pause and ask himself:

"Did I check the furnace before I left?" or "Did I really put out that cigarette I was smoking in the hall?"

The Chamber of Commerce bulletin goes on to state that careless smoking is one of the major contributors to Canada's all-too-high fire damage.

Smokers who just flip their butts away without first extinguishing them—or others who walk away and leave a cigarette burning on the table, shelf or elsewhere—are guilty of criminal negligence.

Sure Fire Hazard

Smoking in bed is another sure fire hazard, states the bulletin, which has caused many home and hotel fires with resulting property loss and death toll.

Other common causes of fires in the home are as follows:

Electrical—Too many fires are started by frayed or worn-out appliance cords. If your toaster or iron cord begins to wear or spark, get a new one. It's a lot cheaper in the long run. Amateur wiring, over-loaded circuits and replacing burnt-out fuses with the proverbial penny also play a heavy part in our local fire losses.

Flammable Liquids—Gasoline has the exlosive power of dynamite so don't use it to clean floors, dresses or anything else in the house. And don't try to start a stove-fire with coal oil. If you must commi tsuicide, do it out in the open.

Burning Rubbish—Always burn rubbish and leaves in small piles and away from all buildnigs. Never allow children to play around such fires. Never leave a rubbish fire to burn unattended. Many homes have been burned to the ground from sparks on the roof.

Chimneys—Never start your furnace in the fall without first cleaning out your smokepipe and your chimney. You'll not only save money on coal but possibly your home or your life.

And above all—never let children play with matches. Keep them out of their reach.

"Your fire department stands ready at all times to help you," says Chief Smith. "Our equipment may be fast and our men well trained, but an ounce of prevention on your part will save grief, trouble and money."

Circulars with this information are being sent by the Chamber of Commerce to all service clubs in the city and to all 375 members of the Chamber itself.

TRIES DRAMATIC ESCAPE — George Franklin, 32, self-confessed thief and suspected shopbreaker broke out of a court cell in Toronto's City Hall Wednesday afternoon, eluded pursuers and crawled onto a narrow window ledge three storeys above the street. As hundreds of spectators gathered below, city firemen were called to raise an aerial ladder while Franklin threatened to jump. A policeman climbed the ladder and while he attracted the man's attention, other police officers managed to grab him from the open window. It was Franklin's second bid in 20 minutes. He tried to break away while being led into court earlier.

Cattle Prices Barely Hold Steady In Dull Trading On Toronto Market

TORONTO, Oct. 14 — (CP). — Cattle prices barely held steady in dull trading on the Toronto Livestock Market this week, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today. Sheep and lambs were stronger and higher by 50 cents, while hogs and calves were unchanged.

The cattle run of 6,647 head was added to 650 carryover from last week. Included in the fresh offerings were 1,500 Western cattle. The bulk of the slaughter cattle lacked quality and buyers picked out the best of offering at steady prices, while lower grades were easier with heavy carryovers.

Medium to good weighty steers were $20.50-$22.25. Good light steers sold from $19-$20.50, with good heifers bringing $18.50-$19. Plain light steers and heifers brought $16-$18 with boners as low as $13. Good cows sold at $14-$15 with canners and cutters mostly $9.50-$11.50. Good export bulls were $16-$17 and plain light bulls ranged downward to $13. Best fed yearlings were $23-$24 and Western yearlings sold from $18-$20.

Good store cattle were active and steady with others dragging Picked feeders and stock calves sold from $18.50-$20. Ordinary stockers ranged in price from $14-$18 a hundredweight.

Calf receipts totalled 2,171 head. Good to choice quality vealers sold steady at $26-$28 a hundredweight. Plain to medium lights and heavies brought $16-$24 and thin grassers for slaughter sold from $13-$15.50.

Hog offerings were 2,920 head. Despite lower prices in the East, Toronto prices held steady at $29.50 for Grade-A and $29.10 for Grade-B1. Sows were steady at $19 a hundredweight dressed.

The sheep and lamb run totalled 3,420 head. Prices were 50 cents higher on lambs at $22.50 for good ewes and wethers and $21.50 for bucks which sold at the usual $1 discount. A few culls brought $15-$17 a hundredweight. Good light Western sheep sold at $11-$11.50. Local sheep were from $5-$11 according to quality.

Bell Telephone Asks 20.6% Increase

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCIX. No. 87 FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1949

Company Sends Application To Revise Rates To Transport Commission

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—(CP)—The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, which operates 1,560,000 telephones in Ontario and Quebec, today applied for rate increases averaging 20.6 per cent. The company asked the Board of Transport Commissioners for increases on local and long-distance rates estimated to yield a total of $23,900,000 a year, of which the company estimated it would net about $14,200,000 after taxes. The application asks that the revised rates be made effective Dec. 1.

They would apply to service given through all standard types of telephones.

The proposed rates do not represent a flat increase of 20.6 per cent; they vary with different types of service.

Greatest increases would be in exchanges with the largest number of telephones, and all exchange rates are graded according to the size of the exchange.

On long-distance tolls, the company proposes to hoist the initial-period charge by five, 10 or 15 cents, depending on the distance involved and the type of call. Some person-to-person, night and Sunday calls would be increased by 20 or 25 cents. There are no increases for station-to-station calls under 10 miles.

The proposed boosts for domestic rates vary. In Montreal, Toronto and Quebec, the increase would be 65 cents a month for a two-party hand telephone.

40 Cents In Peterborough

In Hamilton and Ottawa it would be 60 cents; London, Peterborough, St. Catharines, Sudbury and Windsor, 40 cents. The increases grade down through smaller communities to 25 cents in exchanges having 500 or fewer phones.

For individual business phones, the Montreal and Toronto rate would jump from $7.35 to $12 a month. In Quebec, they would rise from $5.10 to $9.50. For Hamilton and Ottawa, they would move from $5.85 to $9.50. For London and Windsor it would be from $5.10 to $8. The lowest category would move up from $2.85 to $4.

Miscellaneous equipment and services generally would be subject to higher changes, though some reductions are proposed. One of these is in the rates for extension hand telephones served through private branch exchanges.

The application notes that the company received its last general rate increase in 1927, and it states that in the last nine years Bell's operating expenses have increased 153 per cent against a rise of 125 per cent in operating revenues.

Gets 1½ Years For Robbing Lindsay Priest

LINDSAY, Oct. 14 (ENS) — For stealing $100 from a Roman Catholic priest who befriended him, John Paul, 20-year-old Ottawa youth, was today sentenced to one year definite and six months indefinite in the Ontario Reformatory by Magistrate E. A. Gee of Lindsay.

Paul pleaded guilty to the charge.

He was arrested on October 6 by Provincial Constable C. W. Stevens as he left an Omemee pool room to enter a taxi.

An Omemee storekeeper became suspicious of the youth when he entered the store, purchased a wallet, and flashed a large roll of United States' money. The storekeeper informed Constable Stevens who made the arrest and later handed the accused over to Lindsay police.

Dean Befriended

It was learned that Paul had been given lodging the two previous nights at the rectory of Dean J. V. McAuley of Lindsay, and he repaid his benefactor by later returning and robbing the rectory of $100.

At the time of Paul's arrest the theft had not been discovered or reported.

An orphan, the youth told the court he got started on the wrong road by hanging around with a gang in a tough neighborhood in Ottawa.

POPULAR OUTBOARD MARINE PRESIDENT, Hugh M. Campbell, has retired from active membership of the Board of Directors after 27 years of service. A banquet in his honor was attended by 60 executives and employees on Thursday evening. Eleven after-dinner speakers eulogized Mr. Campbell, made numerous presentations of esteem and listened to their retiring Chief tell of the Company's growth in Peterborough since 1928.

Outboard Marine President Gets Tribute On Retirement

The management staff of Peterborough plant of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company of Canada and executives of the U.S. Company paid tribute to Hugh M. Campbell, president of the Canadian Company Thursday at a dinner at the Empress Hotel on the occasion of his retirement from active membership of the Board of Directors.

Mr. Campbell started the Johnson Motor Company in Canada 27 years ago, when he obtained the premises on the present site from Raybestos Company.

Eleven afterdinner speakers addressed Mr. Campbell and the 60 executives and employees assembled to honor him. Presentations included a set of travelling bags from the Canadian B's, for whom Larry Trembley was spokesman; a floral horse shoe from Ernie Estlick, production manager; a smoking set from Eddie Murphy, Peterborough Marine Baseball team; cigarette case and lighter Joe McGuire, Outboard Marine Workers' Union; crystal glasses and jug, Herb Butcher, Social and Athletic Association, and a desk and chair from Bill Taylor, Foremen's Association.

Reg. Reid, personnel manager, was chairman throughout the evening.

Company's Growth

Mr. Campbell traced the history of the Canadian Company from the time he came to Peterborough and set up the plant on $50,000 borrowed from the bank. In a genial manner he described its growth mentioning by name many members of the staff who joined the company in the early days and are still at the Peterborough plant.

Joining the Johnson Motor Company at its inception in South Bend, Indiana in 1922, Mr. Campbell came to Peterborough in 1928. In 1931 he accepted the responsibility of vice-president in charge of sales and merchandising for the US Company as well as continuing in charge of the Peterborough plant.

At that time the Canadian company was formed for the purpose of manufacturing for export. Today, however, 95 per cent of its production is for domestic use and the staff has grown from 12 in 1928 to approximately 600.

In 1946 Mr. Campbell became president of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company of Canada, manufacturing not only Johnson Sea-Horse but also Evinrude outboard motors. Although he retires from active participation in the operation of the company, he will continue to be available in an advisory capacity.

It all started when he answered "a blind add" Mr. Campbell said. After a while he represented the company in the north central States and Pacific coast and was selected from three eligible members of the company to come to Canada.

He had thought of opening the plant in Toronto, but was invited to Peterborough by Roland Denne, a former mayor of this city and Senator Frank O'Connor. After meeting these two men in the Empress Hotel, he chose Peterborough in favor of Toronto.

U. S. President's Compliments

Ralph Evinrude, president of Outboard Marine Corporation, said that Mr. Campbell had always operated the Canadian Company successfully. Even during the depression in 1932 and 1933, when the U. S. Company was in troubled waters, he managed to keep the Canadian balance sheet out of the red.

During the war the plant made a big switchover to wartime production. At the end of the war there was a great demand for mo-

Medical Co-ops Confer In City

The fourth annual conference of the Co-operative Medical Services Federation of Ontario will be held at the Empress Hotel this Saturday and Sunday. 100 delegates representing 35 counties are expected to attend.

William McCarthy of Shelburne chairman of the Ontario Farm Forum and president of the Medical Federation will preside at the local sessions and at the Saturday evening dinner at the Empress Hotel. Guest speaker for the dinner meeting will be Geo. W. Jacobson, secretary-treasurer of the Group Health Association, St. Paul, Minn.

Peterborough is represented in the Federation by two groups, the Kawartha Co-operative Medical Services, which has been sponsored by the county Federation of Agriculture, and the Peterborough Co-operative Medical Services whose members are city residents. Quirt McKinney of the Normal School staff is director of the Central-Eastern group of the Federation including Peterborough county and city.

The purpose of the Co-operative Medical Services Federation is to afford to rural people the advantages of prepaid hospital care. It is intended to save for the farmers thousands of dollars in hospital costs by the co-operative action.

Support Given Insurance Disappointing To Board

Support of the accident insurance policy covering all PCVS students and public school pupils has not been up to expectations, the Board of Education was informed Thursday night.

This policy, started for the first time at the beginning of this term, insures the children for $50 against accidents occurring on school premises or even outside the premises if under teacher supervision.

To date, 77.6 per cent of public school children have paid the 25 cents premium and 62.8 per cent of PCVS students. K. S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools said that parents of the latter group had been particularly vocal in requesting such coverage.

Board of Education members have stated this year's attempt to insure all boys and girls under their jurisdiction is only an experiment. And if parents do not give it practically 100 per cent support it will be discontinued.

Protection To Parents

The $50 insurance would be available for medical expenses incurred, including doctors' bill, cost of an ambulance for removing a pupil to hospital, and other related costs. It was introduced by the Board to protect parents against a sudden financial outlay when confronted with an injury to their child while he is under school jurisdiction.

(This policy is in addition to the liability policy carried by the Board. Rates for a year's protection are as follows: public school pupils 25 cents; high school students taking the academic course 35 cents, and vocational students 50 cents.

After stating that support of the plan was below expectations Mr. Wightman pointed out that already two claims have been paid.

The total premium for public schools is $1,000.25. Of this 77.6 per cent or $776.50 has been collected from parents. Total premium for Academic and Vocation students is $507.10, of which 62.8 per cent or $318.80 has been collected.

Mr. Wightman said it was expected that further payments would be made, and that there would be an adjustment of the premium on the basis of the average enrolment per month for the school year.

"Even when these points are taken into account, however, there still remains a larger balance for the Board to pay than was expected," he said.

"Some parents whose children are already covered by factory insurance are disinclined to pay even the small premium required for school insurance, though to the credit of some of these it must be said that they paid the premium as a means of helping to insure the continuance of the Board's policy."

The Superintendent said it was still too early in the school year to estimate accurately the success of the experiment.

George St. Site Studied For Memorial Centre

In its sixth year of searching for a site, the general committee of the Memorial Community Centre began Thursday night to focus its attention on the property at George, Rink and Townsend Streets.

The meeting in the Chamber of Commerce reached the stage of agreeing to investigate thoroughly the merits of that property which the council has offered to the Centre. It is owned by the city, and with the new park on McDonald's Point and the work of clearing up Little Lake the council itself has come around to the idea that George St. is a desirable location.

Question Footings

Chief obstacle to that place, since the Centre committee first considered it three or four years ago, is the uncertainty of the footings. A qualified construction engineer made borings showing a high water table level and depth of more than 30 feet in several places before coming to solid foundation. That question remains a clouding doubt, and is one of the phases of the shift in site that is to be probed. Details of property dimensions, giving thought to the lacrosse bowl, are also to be surveyed, and the information is to be submitted to another meeting.

"We've waited all this time, so another few weeks will not matter much," said Mayor Swanston. Representatives of the council sat in with the Centre men Thursday night, and will also name several of its members to the new committee of enquiry.

J. A. Jebson, chairman, was solicitous about effect of the Centre site on the lease of the lacrosse club. Both Ed Riley and Mayor Swanston said it was quite obvious to everybody that the lacrosse officials were quite capable of looking after their own affairs and accommodation.

City Pay Difference

Mayor Swanston said the council might be prepared to offer the Centre committee the difference in foundation cost caused by water conditions under foot at the George St. spot.

"That's something new," said Paige Rowell. "It's the first time we were ever offered that consideration."

Mayor Swanston said that as owners of the George St. lot the council could give it to the Centre, otherwise they would have to buy a site. The advantage of the George St. site was an asset to future business of the Centre. Extra foundation cost was regarded as an alternative to buying property for a site.

It was decided that city council and Centre committee each name three members to a joint sub-committee to get complete information about the Centre, even to matters relating to the Miller Bowl. Ed Riley suggested that labor should be represented on the committee.

Mr. Jebson said that could be easily done by including Harold Dormer on the committee.

WANTED MAN ARRESTED

Les Abraham, Peterborough, wanted by police in this city, Havelock and Toronto for charges of false pretence, was arrested in Lindsay Thursday evening. Peterborough city police have had a warrant out for his arrest for a charge of obtaining $5 from Noble Wellington by posing as a Canada Packers inspector.

Request Resignation Of Police Matron

Peterborough Police Commission decided Thursday to ask for the resignation of Mrs. L. Maguire, police matron. The resolution followed discussion of a number of suggestions for changes in the structure of the administration.

Seek Increases In Bell Rates Of 40, 65 Cents

Increases of 40 cents per month for two-party residence telephone service in Peterborough and of 65 cents for residence individual lines, are proposed in Bell Telephone's application for revised rates filed in Ottawa with the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada, according to F. D. Tufford, the company's manager here.

The proposed increase for individual line business service is $2.40 monthly, while the proposed rate for two-party business service is $1.90 higher than at present.

It is intended that the proposed rates shall apply to all standard types of telephones supplied by the company.

A comparison of present hand telephone rates for typical classes of service with proposed rates in Peterborough follows:

	Pres.	Prop.	In.
Residence
Individual line	$ 3.10	$ 3.75	$ .65
Two-party line	2.60	3.00	.40
Rural line	2.35	2.75	.40
Extension phone	.90	1.25	.35
Business
Individual line	4.60	7.00	2.40
Two-party line	3.85	5.75	1.90
Rural line	2.60	4.00	1.40
Extension phone	1.15	1.65	.50
PBX trunk	5.30	10.50	5.20
PBX Exten. phone	1.35	1.65	.30

Until hand telephones are available in quantity sufficient to supply all who desire them, subscribers who presently have wall telephones will temporarily pay 35 cents less and those having desk telephones 15 cents less per month.

Long Distance Rates

It is proposed to increase the initial period charge for long distance calls by 5, 10, or 15 cents, depending on the distance involved and on whether station-to-station or person-to-person service is requested. Some person-to-person, night and Sunday calls would be increased by 20 or 25 cents. There are no increases for station-to-station calls between centres less than 10 miles apart

ManNowMaking Third Attempt To Rule Himself

"We are now seeing the third attempt of man to rule himself" said Charles Hurst speaking to the Kiwanis Club Thursday on "A Rare Phenomenon", of being demoncractic.

"Whether or not men of the future see us as we have seen the men of the two attempts before us will depend on us," Mr. Hurst explained." Our democracy will be a success to the extent that each individual in the society assumes his or her responsibility as a citizen."

Over 600 years ago, said Mr. Hurst, free men lived in independent cities in Mesopotamia. They elected their leaders and governed their communities. By the people quarreling leaders secured power over the regions.

The Greek demoncracy ended the same way, Mr. Hurst explained and both times failures were due to man's failure to live up to the responsibilities of democracy in times of stress.

In giving a sketchy outline of the history of parliamentary demoncracy Mr. Hurst explained that Alfred the Great was not a dictator but relied upon the advice of the Witenagemot in ruling the early Anglo-Saxons. The king and the Witenagemot (a gathering of the wise and strong men of the realm) nominated bishops, made grants of land, imposed taxes, decided on peace or war and formed a tribunal of the last resort for criminal and civil matters. It was a supreme legislative, governmental and judicial assembly.

The Normans, Mr. Hurst said, had no standing army. police or civil service to support and defend the state. They depended upon the general public and it was natural for them to carry on the tradition of governing with the help and the consent of the people.

Edward I in 1295, he said, summoned the "Model Parliament" which consisted of archbishops, bishops, abbots, even earls and 41 barons. The prelates, he added were summoned to bring representatives of the lesser clergy. The sheriffs were directed to cause two knights from each shire, two citizens from each city and two burgesses from each borough to be elected. The Lords, he said, were summoned by name and the commoners by general writ.

The story of the parliament from the model parliament to the present day parliament is the development under the Tudors, the struggle for power under the Stuarts, the excess piety under Cromwell, the final triumph over the crown with the election of William of Orange to be King of England and then the orderly advance of universal sufferage and triumph of the Commons over the House of Lords, he said.

"In the sphere of pure politics Britain is famous as the mother of parliaments." Mr. Hurst said. "She evolved in the course of centuries a system which reconciled three things that other nations have found incompatible—executive efficiency, popular control and personal freedom."

"Parliament became what it is because men worked ceaselessly often at great personal sacrifice to make it so. Only by constant vigilance, not just once every 20 years, but every day, will we make ourselves and our country worthy of the institutions which we have inherited."

Mr. Hurst was introduced by Ben Meyers and thanked by Blake Bell.

COMMEMORATE TREK — Seventy-five years ago the North West Mounted Police, forerunners of the colorful and internationally-known Royal Canadian Mounted Police, became the police forces of the Canadian prairies. United Nations Experts Now Advising Independence For Libya

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 14—(CP)—A solution finally is in sight for disposition of Italy's pre-war colonies in North Africa.

United Nations experts on colonial topics openly predict the U. N. General Assembly this session will call for independence of Libya— the largest of the three separate colonies which made up Mussolini's African empire.

The assembly's decision will in effect be an order because the four big powers agreed to accept its recommendations when they turned the tricky problem over to the U. N. in 1948. It will be the first such U. N. decision.

While disposal of Libya is almost assured, experts express belief that next assembly session will again have to struggle with the fate of the two other colonies — Italian Somaliland and Eritrea.

The Italian colonies debate was the toughest and longest at the last assembly session when an Anglo-Italian plan was narrowly defeated.

At the present session, with the groundwork done, the debate is moving fast and a final committee decision is expected next week.

As in almost every U. N. deliberation, the United States and Russia have taken widely different views.

The Soviet plan calls for immediate independence of Libya with withdrawal of all foreign forces and military personnel within three months. The Russians would give part of Eritrea to Ethiopia— victim of Mussolini's aggression—and put the remainder of the country under the U. N. trusteeship system along with Italian Somaliland.

Armed at Britain

"The withdrawal of forces" phase of their proposal is aimed directly at Britain whose forces along with those of the commonwealth liberated the area in the Second World War and now administer the three colonies with the exception of the Fezzan, a small section of Libya where French troops are stationed.

Britain's general policy statement at the opening of the debate this year indicated a view similar to that expressed in the United States' formal proposal submitted this week.

The U. S. plan calls for independence of Libya—which has important Mediterranean ports—within three years with Britain and France to continue administration during the period leading to independence. The United Nations would set up an advisory council comprising Egypt, France, Italy, Britain and the United States and two native representatives.

Eritrea, which has a coastline 670 miles along the Red Sea, would be divided under the American plan, between Ethiopia and the Anglo- Egyptian Sudan.

The United States would have Italian Somaliland— on the Indian Ocean coast— brought into the United Nations trusteeship system with Italy as the administering power.

Rice Lake Beckons Hunters Ducks Reported Plentiful

By NICK NICKELS

Rice Lake is not only noted for muskie fishing but is one of the finest duck-shooting waters in the Province. Its 80-some square miles lie directly across the north-west branch of the Atlantic waterfowl flyway for migrating ducks and geese. Its northern shoreline is ringed with ponds, marshes, and rice and wild celery beds, excellent feeding grounds.

This year has been a good breeding season for marsh ducks. Any evening half an hour before sundown flocks of 80 or more black ducks may be seen wheeling high from one end of the lake to the other. As the sun sinks, flocks hover over the marshes, some to stay on the lake for the night, and others winging into the sun track for ponds at Campbellcroft, Mercer's, Elizabethville, Millbrook and Cavan.

On various small creeks, such as North, Centre, Cole and Wooduck, and up and down the shores of the Otonabee, blacks and mallards hide in the rushes, many of them close to their spring breeding grounds. A few bluebills have been noticed here and there in recent weeks.

Ducks From North

Within a week or less, at the most, redheads, whistlers and canvas backs will stop briefly at Rice Lake for feeding on their way south. They will dive for fine gravel and sharp sand required by their digestive systems and found on the shallows off Grape Island, Stoney Point and a few scattered bays. Hunters too, who are aware of these habits, make a point of watching closely such areas.

Butterballs, widgeon and greenwing teal are the last and least numerous species of ducks that pause at Rice Lake. Honkers also avail themselves of the lush feeding grounds but do not stay long.

Out of Bounds

Pond shooting seems to be one of the most popular methods of hunting on Rice Lake. Residents who know the habits of local ducks are able to get their limit by poking into weed-choked pools and creek tributaries. Shooting from blinds is favoured by others in some areas along the north shore. Restricted and posted sections along some stretches of the Otonabee, at the mouth of the Ouse River spots are, of course, out of bounds for all hunters.

Residents say that high winds in September flailed the grain from wild rice. This most certainly will provide plenty of seed for next year but reduced the harvest. The small amount harvested by reserve Indians will cost epicures $1.25 a pound this fall. At one time wild rice grew in profusion around the lake but the farm geese are blamed for destroying many acres of beds through the years by feeding on green shoots.

This is the duck shooting picture on Rice Lake as of this evening. When hunters get out on the marshes tomorrow wheeling flocks and pond broods will be scattered from one end of the lake to the other. If the eye is quick and the trigger finger true there will be roast duck on the family table on Sunday. On the other hand if sport is slim the day will not be ill spent. There is the fun in the suspense when its shooting, the control of a rambunctious retriever, the clean wind and final curtain call of autumn splendor to enjoy.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—(AP)—Russian ships recently have gone to Antarctica and explored the frozen continent with powerful planes, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd said Thursday night. "Whether they were looking for uranium or not, I cannot say," he added. "The Russian ships are reported not to have had any names to identify them."

Oil Officials Give Impressive Picture Of West

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Undoubtedly Alberta is a terrific province.

"What is there that cannot be done with 50,000,000,000 tons of coal; 1,000,000,000 or so barrels of oil; 2,000,000,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas and $250,000,000 worth of farm produce every year?

"Add in the salt beds that underlie most of Saskatchewan through Alberta to Athabaska. Include the 15,000 square miles of tar sands, the 150,000 square miles of timber and 106,000 horsepower in Alberta's waterfalls alone.

"With basic resources of this sort, it is hardly necessary to count the rare materials such as the potash, bromine and iodine that have been indicated in some of the oil seekers' drill holes. Unnecessary, because what few materials in Alberta lacks can be brought in from outside; for example from the metal mines that surround her on all sides.

Bountiful Supply

"Visible in the west are the materials for every type of plastic, for virtualy all the major industrial chemicals and electrochemical products. There is here the material for rayon, for nylon, synthetic rubber, phenolic, and cellulose plastics, carbonrundum, graphite, cyanamide, acetylene, and its host of relatives, and many others.

Mr. White does give a bit of a hand there to the rest of the west, and in case anyone should be jealous, he added:

"While opportunity is perhaps knocking a little more noisily in Western Canada than in other parts of the land, the entire nation offers tremendous possibilities for growth and expansion."

He also cautioned that having the resources is not enough. They must be accompanied, he said, by opportunity, capital and initiative; and the findings of ways to make these resources useful despite handicaps of distance and markets.

Mr. White's thumbnail sketch was included in an address Thursday in Ottawa to the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and the Engineering Institute of Canada.

Washington Spotlight

3 Countries Moving Closer To Full Atomic Partnership

By GEORGE KITCHEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—(CP)—Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom are reported here to be moving quietly closer to full partnership in the development of atomic energy for war or peace. Explanatory discussions to this end were held here last month by negotiators from the three governments and will be resumed in the near future, probably sometime in November.

Meantime, proposals advanced during the September talks are under study in Washington, London and Ottawa.

The discussions are another phase of the continuing meetings on atomic relationships which the three countries have held since the war, but this time the emphasis is on steps to restore their wartime co-operation on atomc matters.

Trade Minister Howe, the minister responsible for Canada's atomic development, was the Dominion's principal negotiator last month and probably will come here again when the discussions resume.

As part of a continuing study, the talks were planned long before the three governments knew of the Soviet atomic explosion.

Good Progress

A cautious report of "good progress" came out of the September meeting and observers here suggest that, if Congress is willing, there is a good chance of a three-power agreement early next year providing for these things:

1. Full interchange of scientists and of atomic information between the three countries, possibly with a few specific types of atomic detail still to be kept short.

2. Long-term assurance that all three countries can get uranium from the Belgian Congo, apportioned according to their needs.

3. A joint three-power atomic program under which each country could do the kind of atomic development for which it is best fitted. This might mean, for example, that the united States would concentrate on atomic weapons, Britain and Canada on atomic power plants, and all three, perhaps, on production of fissionable materials.

Any such agreement would require approval by the United States Congress. This might take the form of legislation to amend the McMahon Atomic Act, which now forbids the exchange of atomic information, or a joint Congressional resolution granting broad new powers to President Truman.

Find Truman Not Much Of Movie Fan

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 14 (AP)—Here's another worry for Hollywood — President's Truman is not much of a movie fan.

Through an official source, I submitted a list of question about the President's entertainment habits. Here, in part, is reply:

"I hate to disappoint you, but there is little I can tell you about the President's movie habits. The reason is that he is not very much of a movie-goer.

"He likes to see a newsreel now and then in the movie projection room of the White House. Usually present with him are a few members of the White House staff. . ."

A Reader Writes

From reader Don McAnally of Toledo come some pertinent remarks on barriers against tourist visitors by film studios:

"Industry has learned that it is good public relations to open its doors to visitors. . .The fact that doors are opened, that visitors are wanted and welcomed, creates favorable public reaction —the very thing which most studios want most, especially now, to build attendance and profits. It seems to me that the studios are taking the wrong approach to what could be a great trade builder.

"I have no authority and little influence in the film industry, but if I had some of either I would bend every effort to open the gates to all tourists and other visitors. . .Such a program would cost little, maybe no more than what it costs to keep people outside. The guards who now block the way might well be used as escorts on conducted tours."

Italian Strike Ends

ROME, Oct. 14—(Reuters) — Printing presses started rolling again throughout Italy Thursday night as a two-day wage strike by 75,000 printers came to an end. Union leaders and employers' representatives met at the Ministry of Labor Thursday night to try to settle the printers' demands for a raise of 1,000 lire (about $1.54 weekly), which started the stoppage.

TURNING THE PAGES OF
"CANADA UNLIMITED"

Surrounded by her relatives and future parents, the nervous bride-to-be sat at the loom. Following an early Canadian custom, she must prove she could weave homespun. In the 1600's, all girls had to be able to weave, for the average Canadian family wore only home-made clothing.

Spinning bees were a picturesque feature of pioneer Canadian life in the 1700's. Wives would gather for gossip and hard work over their spinning-wheels. Afterwards, a gay and colorful barn-dance would be their reward.

By the 1860's, small shop-owners made clothing and sold it to the people in their immediate neighborhood. In 1879 export had begun in a small way.

World events of this century have helped Canada to take a major part in the production of textiles and finished clothing. Today Canadian woolens and worsteds are among the finest in the world. Our textile industry is steadily on the increase. The future is one of vast opportunity. Yes, there's room to grow—in Canada Unlimited.

10 Provinces Can Air Views On BNA Charges

MONTREAL, Oct. 14 (CP) — Canada's ten provinces will have a chance to express their views on seeking amendment to the British North America Act to allo wthe Dominion to amend its own constitution.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced Thursday night that a Dominion-Provincial conference will be called "after the present session of Parliament."

"It is in the hope of reaching agreement. . . that we are planning to confer with the governments of the provinces at the close of the present session," he said.

"If we can reach a satisfactory agreement we will then ask the United Kingdom parliament to make one last amendment to the British North America Act to incorporate the agreed procedure for making any future changes which may be required here in Canada."

Speaking at the main convention banquet of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada, Mr. St. Laurent said the proposed amendment would give the Federal government the same power to amend Constitution of Canada which the provincial authorities already enjoy to amend the constitutions of the provinces.

Up To Court

"If the provincial authorities or any other competent persons wish to challenge our amendments on the ground that they touch something beyond Federal jurisdiction, it will be the duty of the Supreme Court of Canada whether the Parliament of Canada has gone beyond its jurisdiction."

Commenting on arguments that the BNA Act is "a contract or pact and that no change can be made in any part of the Act without the consent of the contracting parties," the Prime Minister said it "matters very little . . . so long as the Federal authorities respect the powers and rights given to the provinces and the provinces respect the powers and rights given to the Federal authorities."

Mushrooms Grace Castle Rooms

LLANDILO, Wales, Oct. 14 — (CP)—Mushrooms are sprouting in the dining-room, billiards-room, library, wine cellar, servants hall, kitchen and stables of a 60-roomed mansion.

Outwardly the mansion retains its 17th century charm and grandeur. Inside it is a mushroom farm.

Rich, antique furniture has been replaced by tier upon tier of mushroom beds. Gilt mirrors surrounding the large ballroom throw back the image of dusty piles of boxes, for the ballroom now is the main office and packing station.

"Next year there will be mushroom beds in the main bedrooms on the first floor," said Z. Sproczynski, one of the three Polish ex-offiers operating the business.

The officers met for the first time when they were being demobilized from the Polish Resettlement Corps. They decided on mushroom-growing and after months of searching acquired the old mansion.

This year they have produced 30,000 pounds of mushrooms.

Under The Table Deals Are Out Scott Declares

PORTLAND, Ont., Oct. 14 — Strong defence of the Frost administration was voiced here on Wednesday night by Lands and Forests Minister Harold Scott as the Leeds provincial by-election campaign opened.

Mr. Scott, speaking for Hugh A. Reynolds Progressive Conservative candidate, detailed the record of the government in education, hydro, welfare, tourist and publicity activities, highways and lands and forests administration.

"No under the table deals are made today with the Government of Ontario," he declared, in reference to lands and forests administration.

He said salvage following the Mississagi forest fire in 1948 had resulted in 125,000,000 feet of logs being placed in water to date. He detailed measures for fire protection which include a large mobile force.

Mr. Reynolds, a Brockville business man, pointed to the government's record as it affected Leeds riding. School grants, he said, had increased from $85,000 a year in 1944 to $400,000 in 1948. The increase, he said, had held the Brockville tax rate lower by 14 mills.

The by-election has been called for Oct. 31 to fill the vacancy in the legislature caused by the death of Walter B. Reynolds.

5-Point Program Outlined To Young Liberals

MONTREAL, Oct. 13 — (CP)— A five-point program of activity for the Young Liberal Federation of Canada was outlined Thursday by W. S. (Bill) Mulock of Ottawa, executive secretary and past president, at the group's third biennial convention here.

2—Increase the active participation of Young Liberals in Liberal action;

3—Promote the holding of regional meetings to bolster Liberal solidarity;

4—Strengthen the National Federation by improving provincial association relationships;

5—Contact young people who will vote for the first time in the next general election and invite them to the Young Liberal) group.

Outlining development of the Young Liberals, Mr. Mulock said the Federation was "loosely organized" at Winnipeg in 1944, but during the last two years had built "the strongest, greatest and only national political youth movement in Canada."

Some 50 delegates from nine provinces are attending the convention, termed "the largest in the Young Liberals' history." There is no representation from Prince Edward Island.

Enlist Public Over Pollution In Niagara River

OTTAWA Oct. 14—(CP)—The International Joint Commission Thursday decided to enlist the public in efforts to help solve international pollution problems in the Niagara River.

Tentatively set for Nov. 15, public hearings will be held in Buffalo, N.Y., and later at Niagara Falls, Ont. to gather views from Canadian and United States citzens.

A full report then is expected to be prepared by the Commission for presentation to both the American and Canadian governments.

However Senator A. O. Stanley, chairman of the Commission's U.S. section, said Thursday that Buffalo industrialists and others already were aware of the Niagara pollution problems and were taking personal action to cut down the seepage of refuse in the waters.

"Some of them have spent millions of dollars," the Senator said in an interview. "They are doing a good job."

Amend Bylaws To Permit Renting Drive-Yourself Cars

City bylaws to govern the operation of drive yourself car services were recommended by Judge S. L. Smoke at a meeting of the Police Commission Thursday. On his recommendation the Commission decided to ask the city solictor to prepare an amendment or amendments to apply to drive yourself car services as distinct from taxi cab businesses.

The subject arose when J. C. Donnelly, proprietor of Call-A-Cab and licencee of Hertz Drive-Ur-Self Cars asked for the limit of 60 taxi licences authorised in the city to apply to taxi cabs only and not to drive yourself cars.

When Mr. Donnelly asked the Commission on a previous occasion for two drive yourself car licenses in addition to the one he already had and three taxi licenses, his request was refused on the grounds that there were already 60 taxi licenses in the city.

Mr. Donnelly met the Commission on Thursday to explain that in 400 other cities, licenses for cars to be driven by the hirer were not included in the taxi limits. They were regarded separately, he said.

If the Commission granted the licenses, he would not use these cars as taxis. He told the Commission that during the weekends there was always a greater demand than he could fulfill for drive yourself cars. They were hired by honeymooning couples, doctors, who used them for two or three days when their own cars were being repaired, bank managers, the Provincial Police and the Bell Telephone Company among others.

Members of the Commission discussed the question after Mr. Donnelly had left. None wanted to bar the operation of such a service but there was, at present no means of enforcing the regulation that the cars should not be used as taxi cabs.

It was decided to notify Mr. Donnelly that the bylaws were being considered and that he could make a formal application for the licenses.

Find 55 Boys Non-Swimmers

Fifty-five of the 225 boys registered in the Boys' Department of the YMCA are non-swimmers, Donald Duncan, Boys' Work Secretary said Thursday. Already Gord Minty, honorary swimming director and assistant swimming coach, Bill Watson, have taught seven swimmers sufficiently so that they passed their beginners test.

Ronald Sinclair, Colin Soutter, Malcolm Ray, Rod Tucker, Harold Holman, Larry Wood and Donald Morrison, all boys between 8 and 10 years old passed the test. Mr. Duncan added that several others are able to swim 40 yards but are required to be able to swim 60 yards before they earn their certificate.

The requirement to pass from the tadpole group into the junior swimming club is to be able to swim a quarter of a mile in less than 10 minutes. In the tadpole class the boys learn styles of swimming, proper breathing and timing. From the tadpole they advance to the junior club where they are given instruction in speed and efficiency swimming.

Mr. Duncan said that more than 150 boys in the Boys' Department last year were taught to swim by Mr. Minty. He explained that method of teaching the boys is continuous, enabling a boy to start half way through the year and still not be behind in the lessons.

Blame Operators For Many Timber Fires

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 — (CP) — Timber operators, careless sportsmen, cigarets and insects were blamed alternately in the Commons Thursday for destruction of Canada's forest resources.

A. Wesley Stewart (L, Charlotte) said he believed the timber operators are the "greatest" menace to the forests. In his native New Brunswick they have been reducing forests to slash and it would be 100 years instead of 50 before a new crop could be cut.

Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L, Portneuf) said many sportsmen are careless with camp fires and he suggested that they at least heed the posters which warned that one tree can make 1,000,000 matches, but one match can destroy 1,000,000 trees.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) said he was amazed at the number of forest fires blamed on cigarets. He suggested an investigation be made to find out how many could be blamed on cigarets. If the number was large then cigaret manufacturers should be prohibited from putting saltpetre and other chemicals in the tobacco to make it burn faster.

The Rev. Dan McIvor (L, Fort William) said there had been a "hot discussion" around the Lakehead in recent months on the ravages caused to the forests by the spruce budworm. He expressed hope that an experimental station would be established in the area to help combat the insects.

The discussion occurred on a resolution to a bill enabling the government to establish national experimental areas and enter into agreements with the provinces on protection and development of forest lands. The resolution was adopted and the bill was introduced and given first reading.

Fears Trees Lost

Gordon K. Fraser, (Peterborough West) said he did not think the resources department has the facilities yet to find out what will be of harm to Canadian forests.

For instance, the department should find some means of eliminating the army worm.

Mr. Fraser said that if Canada's trees continued to be thinned out as they have been in the last 50 years, the country will have nothing left to attract tourists.

He urged that the government consult as soon as possible with the provinces over forestry.

Mr. Gibson replied that the Dominion has been working in close co-operation with the provinces. This bill would increase co-operation.

Electrical Association Meeting In Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 — (CP) — Delegates to the two-day annual convention of the Eastern Ontario Municipal Electrical Association opened their get-together in unique fashion Thursday—with an impromptu golf tournament.

They thronged to the Rivermead Golf Club on the outskirts of Hull, Que., for a round in crisp autumn air.

The Association officers turned to more serious business Thursnight as they held a full executive meeting prior to the opening today of the general convention sessions. Association president Frank H. Plant, chairman of the Ottawa Hydro Commission, presided.

About 200 delegates, representing all major centres in the eastern part of the province, are attending the gathering. Speaker today include Robert H. Saunders of Toronto, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission.

Holding Convention

HAMILTON, Oct. 14—(CP)—The 24th annual meeting of the Canadian Purchasing Agents' Association starts here today. Some 500 delegates are expected to attend the two-day convention.

Says Niagara Power Possibilities Wasted

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 14—(AP)—A leading foe of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway and power project said Thursday night the Niagara River "has power possibilites now going to waste."

Caroll B. Huntress told a Central Railway Club meeting in a prepared speech that the Niagara could be harnessed for power "more easily, more cheaply and more quickly than the St. Lawrence.

Huntress is chairman of the National St. Lawrence project conference. He also is vice-president of the Republic Coal and Coke Company, New York.

The power possibilities of Niagara Falls Huntress said, could be developed more fully "without taking any more water away from the Falls than has been taken for several years under a temporary 'wartime' agreement," between Canada and the United States.

Shipping Plight Serious-Chevrier

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP) — Transport Minister Chevrier told the Commons Thursday the plight of Canadian ship owners and operators is "serious" and the government is giving careful consideration to the situation.

He was answering questions from G. K. Fraser (Peterborough West) and Gordon Isnor (L-Halifax) on what action the government proposed to remedy conditions that are causing deep-sea operators to lay up ships.

Mr. Chevrier said the situation was caused by a number of factors. One was the high cost of operating Canadian vessels — at least 25 per cent more than United Kingdom ships. Costs of Canadian construction also were higher.

A further serious element, the Minister said, was in the "deterioration" of freight rates another was currency devaluation.

Old Bicycles Rider's Hobby

ROMFORD, Essex, Egland, —(CP)—A white-bearded, ghostly figure is often seen cycling Romford's streets at night mounted on an old-fashioned bicycle.

He is 67-year-old John (Jock) Miller, former Olympic rider whose hobby is collecting bicycles.

His collection contains more than 70 ancient models. Miller claims it is the finest collection in the world.

It includes the machine Blondin used to cross Niagara Falls and a women's model built so that the rider could sit "side saddle." The most distinguished model is one built for the sixth Duke of Argyll in 1818.

DOROTHY DIX

Mother's Slovenly Habits Bewailed By Her Daughter

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a college graduate with a job and live at home. If I could improve my relations with my mother, my happiness would be immeasurably increased. I do not believe that I am overly fastidious, but every day I find it harder not to revolt at my mother's slovenly ways. I have tried to tell her kindly that it is hard to love a mother with a dirty face, but she always responds with anger and tears and reproaches and says that after all she has done for me I have only scorn and censure for her. Can I hope that she will ever change, or must the word "mother" always mean to me a slattern who is not personally clean and who often sets the table with unwashed dishes.

Dorothy Dix

A DAUGHTER WHO WOULD LIKE TO RESPECT HER MOTHER

ANSWER: There are no greater tragedies than those of growth. How often we see children, educated, cultured, refined, who have so outgrown their parents that they live in a different world and have not one taste or thought or impulse in common.

Heroic Act

When I have seen ignorant fathers and mothers working their fingers to the bone to give their children advantages that they never had themselves, lifting their children above them. I have thought that it was as heroic an act as humanity was capable of performing. For they knew they were making with their own hands a gulf between them, and were separating themselves from their children as if by death.

For all parents desire above everything else on earth to be loved and admired by their children, to be oracles to them, and it must have been bitter in their mouths to know that their educated and cultured children would be ashamed of them and critical and scornful of their humble ways.

In a way this is what has happened to you. You have acquired dainty personal habits, refined tastes, and your mother's slovenly habits are repulsive to you. That is inevitable. But be as patient with her as you can, for if she gets upon your nerves the knowledge that she is an offense to you stabs her to the heart.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a college boy, 21 years of age, very much in love with a girl of 18. We were in love before I started to college and I thought she would co-operate with me in my plans to work my way through. But she seems to have grown indifferent to me. Her letters are short and infrequent, and when I go home on a week-end she is always dated up. She says she loves me and would marry me in a minute if only I would quit school and go to work. Will it be best in the long run to sacrifice present happiness for merely contemplated future happiness?

JIM

ANSWER: Well, Jim, if I were a boy, I wouldn't marry any girl who would not enter into my hopes and plans and ambitions and try to help me make a success of myself. She would have to be a good enough sport to be willing to make some sacrifices and play the game with me.

A woman makes or breaks her husband. If she is willing to stand behind him and fight with him, if she is willing to deny herself present pleasures for his future good, he will win out if there is anything in him at all. But if she works him to death to get the present pleasures she desires; if she drags him around at night and robs him of the sleep and rest he needs because she wants to dance; if she discourages his plans and throws cold water on his dreams and whines and complains because he can't give her fine clothes, she is a millstone around his neck that drags him down into failure.

And that is the kind of wife this girl would make, this girl who can't be faithful to you when you are out of her sight, and who wants you to give up your chances at an education to dance attendance upon her.

Take my advice and don't let any girl stampede you into a premature marriage.

DEAR MIS SDIX: We have an adopted child and we have determined never to tell him that he is not our own. Are we right or wrong?

MRS. H. E.

ANSWER: Wrong. Tell him while he is so young that he will take it as matter of course. When a child grows up believing its adopted parents are its own and then finds out this is not true, it gives it a shock from which the child never recovers.

Separate School Graduates Get Certificates

A meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of St. Peter's and St. Mary's School was held in the new St. Anne's School, with the graduating class of each school present. President W. J. Cunningham was in the chair and the Rev. F. K. Malane opened with prayer. Principle E. J. Boland extended a welcome and invited inspection of the class rooms in this modern school.

The Rev. J. Coughlan, speaker of the evening, expressed his gratitude in the prospect of a closer and more personal contact with the parents through the newly formed Association. Addressing the graduates he cautioned, "Love your homes, school and teachers and be proud of them. In other countries youths are deprived of these privileges and the results are sad indeed."

The speaker emphasized importance of character development, which he said is formed under four influences: hereditary, environment, ideals and habit "Good habits are within the grasp of every child, and well formed, will remain through life."

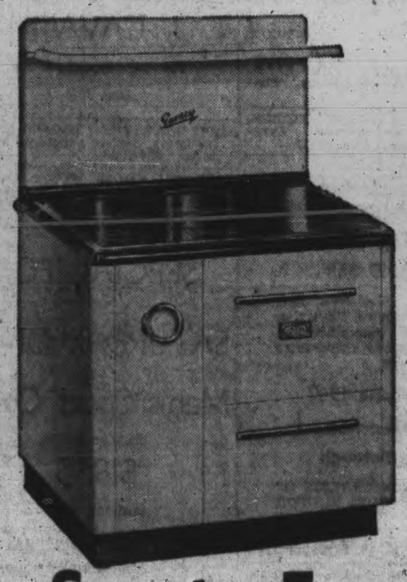
For St. Mary's School the valedictory was given by Margaret O'Keefe, winner of the prize for highest standing. Second prize went to Adelle Nolan. James Hull, winner of first prize at St. Peter's also spoke. Second prize winner was Daniel Quinlan. Solos were contributed by Olive and Margaret Chrepien with piano accompaniment by Max Clark.

Graduates receiving certificates from Father Malane were:

St. Mary's School: Margaret O'Keefe, Adelle Nolan, Joan Begley, Teresa Begley, Barbara Casey, Wilhelmina Collins, Patricia Coulson, Arleigh Fitzgerald, Phyllis Hobbins, Verna Hotts, Kathleen Howell, Mary Hunt, Beverley Johnson, Anna Marie Lamore, Marie McFarlane, Cecelia McGrath, Donna Minicola, Barbara Moher, Joan Morton, Joan Pearson, Joan Phelan, Colleen Picard, Doreen Quinlan, Beverley Richardson, Mary Ronco, Dorothy Russelle Catherine Rutherford, Yvonne Tobin, Helen Wynn.

St. Peter's School: James Hull, David Quinlan, John Allen, Ronald Board, Billie Collins, Paul Devlin, Donald Finn, Donald Hotts, Terence Killen, Leonard Griffin, Jerry McCormick, James Lorenz, Vincent O'Brien, Bob O'Rourke, Carl Simmons, James Smith.

Prizes for parent attendance at this meeting were won by grade four of St. Peter's and grade two of St. Mary's.



Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Emery and members of the social committee with tea being poured by Mrs. J. C. Rutherford and Mrs. J. R. McDonald.

Scot's Two-year Bike Ride Boosts Appetite

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Scott McArthur is the man to see if you want an "appetite like a horse and legs of steel."

The solid, 23-year-old Scot straddled his bicycle in Vancouver one day in 1947 and will collect a sizable wager when he returns but that may not be for some time yet because Scottie has come to love the life on the open road.

Asked when he expected to hit Vancouver again, he replied: "Weel, ye nay kin tell—I may go noo or I may go back to the States for a wee while."

Pedalling Since 1947.

Born in Scotland, Scottie came pedalling around North America to Canada while still a "wee bairn" and, apparently, gained a strong desire to be other than where he happens to be at any given time. So he began going elsewhere in 1947 and has been pdalling around North America ever since.

To list all the places he has been on his travels would take time and space but he has ranged down to Montreal and has pretty well covered western Canada and the United States.

Only three mishaps have marred an otherwise happy two-year ride. Once he got some teeth knocked out when he hit a car in London, Ont., he froze both feet early in the morning just out of Moose Jaw and he went into a Montreal hospital when a chill threatened to bring on pneumonia.

Scotty doesn't rely on charity for his trip. He works a few days here and there because he must earn enough for his horse-like appetite.

Dutch Town Honors Canada

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—(CP)—Canada's Red Ensign holds a place of honor at Sneek in northern Holland.

The townspeople hoist the flag once a year in a ceremony to commemorate their liberation by Canadian troops April 15, 1945.

The first ceremony was held last month when an ensign, obtained from Canada's consulate-general at New York, was raised by members of the Maple Leaf Club of Sneek.

"A day like this should never be forgotten," said the mayor, "and it should be made a day of glad and deep thankfulness in our hearts, and at the same time, give some thought to those who fell among our liberators.

Before the band played "The Maple Leaf," the mayor said the event will be held each year as a token of international co-operation, peace, liberty and justice.

Plant Maple Tree

Earlier, the chairman of the Maple Leaf Club reminded the crowd, gathered in the Iepenlaan Park, of "'Liberation Sunday" when the first Canadian soldiers entered the town.

The local club soon afterward changed its name to the Maple Leaf Club. They planted a maple tree and built a fence around it.

"After five long years of terror and oppression, everyone had been waiting for the Allied liberation," the mayor said. "Only at the expense of thousands of young lives was this possible. The Canadians knew they had to do it and did not shirk their job. They were out to liberate Europe and the whole world as well."

The consulate-general in New York received a description of the event in a letter from officials of the club. They said:

"We hope that this flag may fly out every year on the 15th of April as a remembrance of this glorious day of freedom and as a manifestation of thankfulness to the Canadian army and nation."

Unique Society Shows Visitors British Sights

LONDON, Oct. 14—(Reuters)—United States and Commonwealth visitors to Britain may talk poetry with Lord Wavell, former viceroy of India, be shown around Princess Elizabeth's new town house or stay at the farm of a lord.

That is if they are members of the Fellowship of the British United States Comrades, a unique organization founded to keep alive wartime friendships between American and Commonwealth servicemen and women.

The 3,000 British members have promised accommodation to visiting overseas members.

Willing hosts include Lord Knebworth who, the Fellowship says, would be delighted to see American visitors on his farm and Sir Frederick Browning, comptroller of Princess Elizabeth's household who is also prepared to give hospitality.

Hobbies and the occupations of all members are kept in Fellowship headquarters here so that visitors can contact Britons with the same interests.

"Let them name the place they want to see or the hobbies they are interested in and we will fix them up," Fellowship Secretary F. L. Williams said.

His chief, Brigadier Scales Turner, British liaison officer at Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force during the war has just produced the first edition of the British organization's magazine.

Sights and Hobbies

Colonel James, governor of the Tower of London, will show visitors the Crown Jewels.

Lieutenant-General Sir Brian Horrocks, "Black Rod" at the House of Lords will show them over the Houses of Parliament.

Games as well as arts are among the hobbies of British members. There are balletomanes, phialtelists, sailing enthusiasts, astrologers, chess players, fishermen, fox hunters, fliers antique collectors, amateur naval architects, singers painters, fencers, dancers and cricketers.

Edinburgh members want to see Americans at their famous festival in the late summer.

Williams said 20 Canadians have joined the Fellowship.

Seventy per cent of members here are officers as in the United States, where there are 2,400 members.

Membership fee is one guinea ($4.20) a year and candidates eligible are any British Commonwealth or American members of the forces of the last war.

Kinsmen Urged To Support Youth Music

One of the finest things a service club can do is promote musical education for the community's children, James Millman of London told the Kinsmen Club Thursday night. He was speaking at the bi-monthly meeting of the Kinsmen held at the Kawartha Club.

Mr. Millman, international chairman of the Kiwanis Musical Committee, is himself an accomplished pianist. And before the night was over he entertained his audience with a wide selection of numbers, including both classical and popular.

He strongly urged the service clubs, and particularly Kinsmen, to support musical education. A start could be made by having talented singers, pianists, violinists—any child of unusual musical aptitude—appear at the regular meetings of the club. This could be arranged through the schools, he suggested.

He further suggested a small fee but said that was not the main thing. Most important would be the prestige which the child would gain by being selected to play before an adult audience.

Public Encouragement

Proper publicity given to the event in the local press would allow the child to have a clipping, and perhaps a picture, of his performance. This he would probably treasure always, and it would to encourage him, contended Mr. Millman.

During the social part of the evening the guest speaker remained at the piano playing all request numbers. A sleight-of-hand artist was also on hand to provide entertainment.

Mr. Millman was introduced by George Bouck and thanked by Weldon Fanning. Harley Weir was in the chair.

Wm. G. McDougall's Funeral Held In City

Rev. Walter S. Crone of the Church of the Open Bible conducted the funeral of the late William Garnet McDougall on Thursday from the funeral home of A. Comstock and Sons.

Mr. McDougall was born in Chandos, the son of the late Hugh and Rebecca McDougall. Prior to moving to Peterborough he lived in Norwood. He was an active member of the Church of the Open Bible.

Pallbearers were Fred Masters, John Masters, Jack Trotter, Tom McCartney, Henry O'Rourke and Gordon Hawley.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. B. Leether of Thompsonville, Conn., Miss Eva McDougall of Peterborough and one brother Clarence of Toronto.

Interment was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Truck And Car Collide At George and London

A city truck of the Sanitation Dept. driven by Gordon Smith and a car driven by G. Sorenson, 39 Argyle St. collided Thursday at George and London Sts. causing approximately $135 damage to the car and $40 to the truck.

Both right fenders and right rear door of the car were damaged and the left front fender and bumper of the truck will have to be repaired.

Industrials Advance To Highest Price Level

TORONTO, Oct. 14—(CP)—The strong advance that carried industrials to the highest average price level in three years Thursday was brought to a standstill in the forenoon on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

A few key issues showed signs of backing down from their peaks but selling pressure couldn't make any headway. Gains and losses were about balanced on the Industrial board.

A handful of golds moved briskly in a narrow range and base metals tightened quietly. Western oils tended lower.

Volume for the first hour was 299,000 shares, about 60,000 shares more than Thursday's first hour.

Imperial Oil, Montreal Locomotive and Dominion Stores were among the gainers in industrials.

Upper Canada Mines featured the mining board, gaining 15 cents at $3.85 in brisk trading. Quemont and Normetal were higher in base metals.

No Bones Broken

Carol Little, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Little, 63 Bethune St., had a narrow escape Thursday when she ran out into the street. As she ran from the corner of Aylmer and McDonnel Sts. she was in collision with a car driven by J. A. Dewart, 589 Weller St., who was driving on McDonnel St.

The youngster was taken to Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick's office but had sustained no injuries, Constable Claire McGillen reports.

Exodus To Sweden

BERLIN, Oct. 146 — (Reuters) —The British-licensed newspaper Der Tag reported Thursday that so many Germans in the Russian occupation zone have fled to Sweden recently that booksellers in the Soviet zone state of Mecklenburg have been ordered to record the names of persons buying Swedish dictionaries.

Hear Truman Plans Devaluation Scheme

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—(AP) —Representative John Taber (Rep. N.Y.) said today he has heard that the Truman administration "is working on a scheme to increase the price of gold and devalue the dollar."

He didn't say, in a prepared statement, where he obtained his information but said that was his "understanding."

"The Truman program," Taber said, "calls for onerous increases in spending. It calls for so many more expeditures that our deficit for the current fiscal year is bound to be $5,500,000,000."

The effect of a devaluation program, he continued, would be to "help create inflation, increase the poor man's taxes and reduce his purchasing power" and "make us suckers for the foreign gold producers."

Get Chief Henchman Of Sicilian Bandit

PALERMO, Sicily, Oct. 14 — (Reuters)—Police after a night-long battle today captured Giuseppe Cucinella, chief henchman of Sicilian bandit leader, Salvatore Giuliano, wanted on charges of killing 30 policemen.

Cuccinella was wounded and captured in the Palermo area at dawn while trying to flee with a bandit girl in whose house he had taken refuge.

Giuliano, besieged by army and police forces in his mountain hideout, today used the Rome Communist newspaper Unita for a new "Robin Hood" gesture.

He smuggled 50,000 lire to the paper to be given to the family of Giuseppina Sina, a woman spectator killed accidentally a week ago when Giuliano's followers attacked a police barracks at San Giuseppe, near Palermo.

Prince Of Wales School Students Hold Field Day

Nearly 500 pupils competed in individual and group events Thursday afternoon at the annual field day of Prince of Wales School, under direction of Principal R. J. Bolton. Judged outstanding athletes for senior boys were: George Downer, Ray Larry, Scott Morley and Don Fredericks; senior girls: Oryce McIlraith, Lou Ann Kempt, Betty Guthrie, Ann Menzies, Eleanor Gilders and Shirley Panter; junior girls: Dorothey Ketcheson and Margaret Hawthorne; junior boys: Paul Johnston and Bernard Martin.

Seek Pointers On Annexation

City Clerk Outram and Bruce Johnston, clerk of North Monaghan, related to members of Oshawa and East Whitby township councils Wednesday night the experiences of Peterborough and North Monaghan in annexation here.

"Both visitors agreed that annexation by Peterborough of township areas had benefitted both municipalities through better civic services and increased property values." Oshawa and East Whitby have a similar problem confronting them.

"The main thing in going ahead with annexations," said Mr. Outram, "is to decide upon boundaries first, then submit the plans to the Ontario Municipal Board, and be prepared to make whatever adjustments are necessary and satisfactory to both parties. The Municipal Board will not decide anything for you.

"They will expect you to make your own decisions and then they will work with you. They are not hard to get along with. Taxes have been increased because everything has gone up. We have had to increase salaries of firemen and policemen, even the city clerk."

Mr. Outram mentioned matters of Peterborough's changes in debentures. A new Civic Hospital and sewage disposal plant had become necessary, but were not caused in any way by annexation.

Mr. Johnston said in part: "We have found that our property has increased considerably in value, and the whole plan has worked out well for all. We say the same public school rate as people in the city pay."

Cameron Man Takes Top Plowing Honors

BRANTFORD, Oct. 14—(CP)—In the horse-drawn plowing Thursday first place honors in class one went to Alvin Mark of Cameron, who won the grand championship last year and thereby won a trip to the British Isles. Second place in the same class went to John Capton of Ohsweken who was runner-up to Mr. Mark a year ago and joined him in the trip to the British Isles.

Neither of these two will be eligible for the grand championship tomorrow because of their wins last year.

PM Suggests Reciprocal Arms Buying

1941 Hyde Park Pact Possible Model St. Laurent Tells U.S.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 15 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent of Canada Friday night urged that the United States and Canada work out an arrangement for reciprocal defence purchases.

He suggested such a program could be possible under a peacetime equivalent to the 1941 Hyde Park agreement which launched the giant exchange of arms between the two countries during the war.

"Without some arrangement for reciprocal defence purchasings with the United States, Canada cannot make the most effective contribution to the security of this continent and the North Atlantic area," the Prime Minister said.

"And our aim in Canada is the greatest possible co-operation for our common security consistent with the maintenance of our independence as a nation."

He spoke at a convocation observing Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's 125th anniversary. The Canadian Liberal leader received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

Non-Committal

In Washington high U. S. government officials, particularly in the departments of State and Defence, today studied the text of the Prime Minister's address. They expressed keen interest in it but were non-committal since Mr. St. Laurent's proposals entered the sphere of U. S. government policy.

One ranking member of the Senate armed services committee, Senator Styles Bridges (Rep.-NH) said he felt that the Prime Minister's statement emphasized "the need for mutual co-operation in the defence of this continent."

Bridges added that he hoped a joint Canadian-US arms scheme "can be worked out satisfactorily and each country assigned its responsibilities."

Both Benefit

In his convocation speech, Mr. St. Laurent said both the United States and Canada would benefit by a defence purchase agreement. It would enable Canada to obtain arms and equipment in the United States, which the Dominion can not do to the extent it would like to because of its shortage of U. S. dollars. In return, the Dominion would supply some of

Sitdown Cost Workers $10,000 Pay

Clarification of Order Of Arbitration Board Sought By Company

By DAVID WHITE,
Examiner Labor Reporter.

Peterborough's 3,200 production workers, members of Local 524 UE-CIO, will decide Sunday night at a membership meeting what their next course of action will be in their current dispute with CGE.

Friday afternoon the union members staged a work stoppage that brought activity in Peterborough's largest industry almost to a standstill. They punched in at 1 p.m. but remained by their benches until 5 p.m. Then they punched out and went home as usual.

No violence or untoward incidents were reported.

Union officials estimated today that "a handful of night shift employees worked, but the vast majority merely punched the time-clock and left.

Continued To Work

Three or four workers in the Formex section of the Wire Department worked through the general stoppage with the permission of the Union. Plastic insulation is put on in this section of the plant and the stoppage would have been too costly.

A mass meeting will be held Sunday night at Brock Street Summer Gardens to determine what the future action of the union will be.

Several workers questioned by the Examiner as to their reactions spoke of a "showdown" with the company on this issue.

This stoppage, the fifth in more than three weeks, stems from a decision handed down by an Arbitration Board last February under the chairmanship of Judge A. Cochrane of Brampton.

The union had filed a grievance claiming that about 30 girls engaged on the job of winding induction motors had their piecework prices cut. It was claimed that this was unjust and a restoration of the former prices was asked.

This view was upheld by the Arbitration Board which ordered the company to do so, together with retroactive pay. The original cut was about 19 months ago.

A change in method, thus permitting a change in prices was the argument used by the company in support of its stand and it contends the Board's ruling needs clarification.

Larger Dispute

Local 524 is at present engaged in an even larger dispute with the company. Since May they have been negotiating with management for an amendment to the continuing contract now in force.

Policy On China

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—The government may shortly make a statement on its policy toward the Communist Chinese government. Defence Minister Claxton told the Commons today he will consider the suggestion that a statement of policy be issued early next week.

3 Parties Fight Increasing Judges' Pay

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—The three opposition parties in parliament are solidly against increasing the salaries of Canada's Supreme Court judges.

Their feelings on the matter were expressed in the Commons Friday when they forced a formal vote on a government resolution giving notice of a bill to increase the salaries by $5,000 each. However, the resolution went through—the government members voting 88 to 32 against the Progressive Conservative, CCF and Social Credit groups.

Reasons for the opposition varied. G. K. Fraser (PC, Peterborough West) said it "lowers the dignity" of the Prime Minister when judges or any other public employees get more than he does —$23,000.

The legislation will increase the salary of Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret from $20,000 to $25,000 a year and others from $15,000 to $20,000.

Judges Well Paid

E. B. Fulton (PC, Kamloops) argued that the time has come for the government to give close scrutiny before increasing judicial salaries. In almost every case judges were well paid and received substantial pensions.

Angus MacInnis (CCF, Vancouver East) urged that the standard of living of the people be raised before consideration is given to increasing judges' salaries.

Justice Minister Garson said, however, that "some very substantial financial inducement" is necessary to get men of the highest ability to pull up family stakes and move to Ottawa as Justices of the Supreme Court. The increased salaries were in line with the increased responsibility resulting from abolition of appeals to the Privy Council.

The Commons wound through a long procedural discussion before getting on with the principle of the measure to increase the salaries.

Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) started it when he protested against the practice by the government of omitting the amounts of money involved from such resolutions.

Government Goes In Red To Extent Of 15 Million In September Accounts

Abbott Blames Deficit On Budget Cuts On Excise And Income Tax; Baby Bonuses Jump $12,731,020 Since 1948

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—Red ink showed up in the government's accounts in September, snipping off part of a rising budgetary surplus. The government went into the red to the extent of $15,417,300 last month, cutting the six-month surplus to $279,200,000. Finance Minister Abbott, in his monthly accounts statement, attributed the September deficit to reductions in Excise Tax and personal Income-Tax rates announced in the budget last March.

Slightly offsetting this was an increase in Corporation Tax.

In his budget speech last March, Mr. Abbott said the government was aiming for a surplus of $87,500,0000 for the fiscal year, ending next March 31, compared with a surplus of $575,000,000 in the 1948-49 fiscal year.

September's revenues totalled $173,998,300, down from the $199,569,744 in the same month last year. Expenditures climbed to $189,415,600 from $174,853,757.

In the six-month period revenues declined to $1,240,606,376 from $1,314,766,783. Expenditures increased to $961,395,664 from $845,364,396.

Income Tax collections during the last six months dropped to $353,848,021 from $405,842,413 — but collections from corporations climbed to $289,689,191 from $224,003,114.

Thus while the government collected some $151,994,392 less taxes from persons, it got an extra $64,686,077 from corporations.

In the expenditure field increases were noted in payments to provinces for rental of taxation fields by the Federal Government, higher appropriations to the resources department and greater payments for family allowances and old-age pensions.

In the six-month period, payments to provinces for taxation rights increased to $47,027,846 from $42,284,526.

Government spending on baby bonuses amounted to $147,181,049—sharply up from the $134,450,029 last year.

Federal contributions to old-age pension schemes amounted to $18,921,035, compared with $16,283,894.

Red Soldiers Enter Canton Without Fight

HONG KONG, Oct. 15 (AP) — Conquering Chinese Communist troops today were reported to have entered Canton, mother of China's revolution but lately the Nationalist refugee capital.

Other Red columns slashed more than 40 miles southeast of Canton and were fighting only 60 miles from the border of this British Crown Colony.

Nationalist troops along the border fled westward apparently hoping to escape the onrushing Reds by sea. Telephone communications with Canton were out.

The Hong Kong telegraph said Communist troops had reached the Pearl River Bund, Canton's main thoroughfare.

Chinese banking circles received reports by secret radio that Communist underground agents appeared on Canton streets Friday night. They posted temporary laws to be observed by the 1,000,000 population.

These reports said citizens remained indoors Friday night. The city was quiet except for occasional bursts of rifle fire.

The occupation apparently was peaceful. There were no reports of violence or of any attempt to defend this city which Nationalist leaders had vowed they would defend to the death.

The occupation seemed to have interfered with a swift Red drive on southward, designed to trap and destroy the scattered 80,000-man garrison of Canton.

One Canadian To Receive 5-Cent Cheque

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 — (CP) — Someone in Canada is going to get a five-cent cheque from the government.

He or she probably will receive it just in time to do some heavy Christmas shopping. But it will take some stretch of the imagination to find things to buy for five cents.

The cheque, it was learned, is included among 250,000 others of various amounts to be mailed to Canadians entitled to refunds under income-tax cuts in the government budget.

Refunds cover payments made by persons, now exempt from taxation, during the period Jan. 1-March 22. Altogether some 750,000 persons were struck off the tax rolls, but most of these, such as fishermen and farmers, didn't make payments on a weekly or monthly basis.

The money probably won't stretch far. The average cheque amounts to about $7.86.

The largest number of refunds will go to Montreal and the smallest to the Yukon. In Montreal, the anticipating 66,000 refund collectors will get an average of $8.33. The three participants in the Yukon will get $12.45 each.

Fight General Election As Dunkerque—Churchill

LONDON, Oct. 15—(CP)—The Conservative party is pledged to fight the next general election in the spirit of Dunkerque. Winston Churchill, sometimes scowling, sometimes smiling, made the promise Friday night before one of the largest indoor meetings ever held in Britain. In a blaze of floodlights and amid wild cheering, the leader of the Conservative party laid this program before 10,000 followers:

"If the government of Britain is entrusted to us, at this crisis in her fate, we will do our best for all, without fear or favor, without class or party bias, without rancor or spite, as we did in the days of Dunkerque."

Churchill whipped up a frenzy of enthusiasm in London's Empress Hall, scene of a mass rally winding up the party's three-day 70th annual conference.

Although most of his speech contained less than usual of Churchillian rhetoric, he did declare that his party is "straining at the leash" to free Britain from the grip of a parliament "not only dead but decomposing."

The Conservative Leader assailed the Labor Government's "twittering calculations" over the date of the next election, but added:

"We are indifferent; whenever the election comes we are ready."

"We are here straining at the leash to drive from power the men who have done our country so much harm and robbed it in large measure of the fruits of its victory."

Churchill ended his 90-minute address with a promise that a Conservative government, if the party is returned to power next year, would strive "to carry forward that great social revolution which has covered the lifetime of the oldest of us here."

The wartime prime minister said Britain is fighting for her life almost as in the war.

"We will never welcome bad news just because it is to party advantage," he said amid cheers. But four years of socialism had led to "unbridled expenditure" which had caused Britain's financial Union Jack to be hauled down to half-staff and lowered her prestige all over the world.

Mental Patient Bludgeons Aide

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 15—(CP)—An elderly attendant at the Ontario Hospital here was bludgeoned to death Friday night by an unidentified 34-year-old mental patient wielding a rubber floor brush.

Charles H. Yelf, about 63, apparently was attacked by the patient without reason, hospital superintendent Dr. G. H. Stevenson said early today. Other mentally-ill patients, the only witnesses of the attack, were unable to aid the victim.

Yelf was on duty when the attack took place. An attendant from another ward heard a commotion and rushed to the scene but Yelf was beyond aid.

Thep atient, itw as reported, had been in the institution for 10 years and had not previously shown any violence.

'It was not a very heavy weapon," said Dr. Stevenson. 'No one would ever dream it could do the damage it did."

Yelf had been an attendant at the hospital since 1941.

It has not been decided whether a.i inquest will be held.

Lift Ceilings On Vegetables

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—The Prices Board Friday night announced revocation of all price ceilings on fruits and vegetables, effective Monday, Oct. 17.

The order affects ceiling controls on imported grapes, new potatoes, citrus fruits and citrus juices, as well as domestic and imported carrots.

These are the last of the food controls first imposed on Canadians as a wartime measure early in 1941.

Removal of the ceilings mean that producers and importers can place any price they wish on their saleable commodities. A government official said he did not believe the elimination will bring many price changes.

Welsh Baronet Debts Paid After 9 Years

CARDIFF, Wales, Oct. 15 (CP) —A Welsh baronet's gambling debts will be paid—nine years after his death.

Sir David Llewellyn, coal magnate and racehorse owner, gambled heavily in daily doubles. When he died he owed bookmakers £175,000 ($542,500).

The executors decided that all of Sir David's creditors would be paid. Slowly they accumulated the earnings of the estate until Friday when they announced there was enough money to pay it all.

Forced To Leave

DUESSELDORF, Germany, Oct. 15 (AP)—Some 500 Germans here don't want Hitler's financial wizard, Hjalmar Schacht, around. Schacht and his wife arrived in Duesseldorf on a visit; from their home near Lueneberg, in the British occupation zone. Thereupon 500 local residents staged a riotous demonstration Friday protesting Schacht's presence. The couple agreed to leave the area immediately.

Major Saves Frost's Life Premier Pays Moral Debt

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—A chance remark which Premier Frost overheard at Sturgeon Point this summer started a chain of events which enabled him to pay off a moral debt of 31 years' standing.

The obligation was to his army company commander, Maj. George Musgrove, who was instrumental in saving the premier's life when the latter was badly wounded while fighting in the trenches in 1918 in the final push of the First World War.

Maj. Musgrove was killed some months later and Mr. Frost, because he was hospitalized, never had an opportunity to thank him. It was the first aid which Major Musgrove obtained that kept Mr. Frost alive until medical attention could be secured.

The name Musgrove lingered in Mr. Frost's mind and when he overheard it applied to a young man who was in the same group with him at Sturgeon Point, it awoke memories that had been dormant for three decades.

Inquiries revealed the young man was W. J. Musgrove, a Belleville school teacher. Introductions followed and it turned out that the teacher was the son of Major Musgrove, and that his mother was still alive in Hanover.

The premier expressed a wish to pay his respects to Mrs. Musgrove and, accompanied by his wife, he visited her early this month. It was then that he was able to express his appreciation of what Major Musgrove had done for him back in 1918.

When he met W. J. Musgrove, the premier said the scene in the trenches, where he lay wounded, was vividly brought home to him again.

RCAF Map Program Paying Off In Hurry

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—The huge mapping program of the RCAF air photo section is paying off in a hurry.

This year, the Air Force mapped 899,000 square miles. It wasn't as much as the 911,000 miles mapped last year, but the new tri-camera system which produces air navigation maps of eight-miles-to-the-inch, is running out of territory.

Introduced about three years ago, the tri-camera system has covered an immense amount of Arctic territory previously unmapped since early explorers made the vague maps now adorning Canadian walls.

The new maps will be accurate at least for the purposes of navigation by airplane. They are turned out from the air photos taken by Nos. 414 and 408 squadrons of the air force, which this summer ranged out of bases as far spread as the Yukon and the Labrador.

Russian Plan Said Misleading

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 15 —(CP)—The Western Powers' answer to Russia's lastest proposals on atomic weapons today was before the United Nations.

Canada, Cuba, Norway, China, France and the United States Friday told the 11-member Security Council the Russian call for information on atomic and other armaments is useless without a lie-detecting system.

L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, said the Russian plan introduced last week is "dangerously misleading and inadequate."

Warren Austin, of the United States, said it is a "cruelty and a fraud" to make disarmament appear to be a simple or easy business.

Pearson said disarmament is not a matter for propaganda or psychological warfare.

"The problem which confronts the world regarding atomic energy is not merely one of hearing what governments have to say regarding atomic weapons, but of being able to check the accuracy of such information, and, above all, accepting methods effectively to prevent the possession or the use of these fateful weapons by bringing atomic energy under international control."

Kisses Wife Goodbye Duke Off To Sea

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh kissed his wife and son goodbye today and left for the sea again. The Duke's family did not go to the airport to see him take off for Malta to rejoin the Mediterranean fleet. He will be second in command of the destroyer Chequers. The order has gone out from London that there is to be no fuss over the handsome duke.

No. 2 Red Executed For Hungary Treason

BUDAPEST, Oct. 15—(AP)—Laszlo Rajk, former No. 2 Communist in Hungary, was executed today for treason, a Foreign Ministry spokesman announced.

Rajk, once Hungary's foreign minister and also his country's former police boss as Interior Minister, was convicted by a five-judge people's court on Sept. 24. It was charged he conspired to overthrow the Hungarian government, with American help, and substitute for it a regime subservient to Premier Tito of Yugoslavia.

Hanged with Rajk, the spokesman said, were Dr. Tibor Szoenyi, 46, former director of the Hungarian Communist party's cadre system, supervising rank-and-file membership; and Andras Szalai, 32, Soenyi's deputy. Rajk was 40 years old.

Battle Brews Over Scope Of Transportation Inquiry

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)— A battle is brewing over the scope of the Royal Commission Inquiry into transportation.

Lawyers for the Canadian Pacific Railway and interested provinces will clash sharply over the issue when the Commission resumes hearings here Nov. 1 in the investigation that has been under way since early this year.

The C.P.R., which from time to time has been suggesting that the Commission's terms are somewhat restricted, was reported preparing to seek a showdown as the Commission goes into its final stage of receiving evidence and argument.

The eight provinces involved in the inquiry, who have been contending the inquiry is a pretty wide-open one into every phase of transportation, and getting ready to go to the mat with the C.P.R. to make this argument stick.

A ruling from the Commission headed by Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon on the extent of its jurisdiction would have a considerable influence on the trend of evidence and argument to be offered in the closing months of the inquiry.

A major argument of the C.P.R. will be that the question of "equalization" of freight rates as between eastern and western Canada is a matter to be determined by the Board of Transport Commissioners; the regulatory body of the railways, and not by the Commission.

The Board was ordered last year by the Cabinet to undertake an examination of the railway freight-rate structure with a view to such equalization, and this inquiry is still in progress.

Expert Opinion Given On Fire

TORONTO, Oct. 15. (CP)—A medico-legal expert's opinion of the cause of the Noronic fire is expected to be given next week at the federal inquiry into the cruise ship disaster.

The inquiry, which adjourned late Friday until Monday after 12 days of testimony, likely will hear from Prof. Joslyn Rogers, Ontario medico-legal expert, who made an investigation on behalf of the Ontario Fire Marshal.

The commission presided over by Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock of the Supreme Court of Canada was told Friday that the officer responsible for patrolling the ship as fire watcher was asleep at the time of the outbreak. The crew member, Special Officer Russell Brown, 68, of Port Arthur, said he went to sleep in his quarters immediately after his return from a visit ashore and did not report for his watch.

More Strike Lines Expected In States

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15 (AP)—Strike lines in the United States, already bulging with more than 900,000 coal and steel workers, threatened to expand during the week-end.

With no signs of immediate peace in the coal and steel strikes, the country's top labor disputes, the number of idle in the two key industries may soar far past the 1,000,000-mark.

A strike was set for 1:01 a.m. EDT Monday by some 16,000 CIO United Steelworkers at nine plants of the Aluminum Company of America.

Also threatening to join the ranks of the strike idle are thousands of other CIO steelworkers employed in fabricating plants.

Welch Officially Opens Roseneath Fair; Biggest Crowd In History

President of 50 Years Ago, Dr. E. Hayden Has Never Missed A Fair, Receives Wrist Watch From Board Officials

ROSENEATH, Oct. 15—Fred J. Slade, president, declined to estimate the attendance at Roseneath Fair Friday, substituting only a comment of satisfaction that "it looks like the largest crowd we've ever had." He has been continuously president for the last 23 years. Unofficial approximations were around 12,000, more or less. Whatever the total count of the turnstiles, the day was a sunny success. Motor cars were strung along the highway and other roadsides, packed parking spaces that have been laid out to accommodate the restored mobility of the district since the end of the war, and finally headed off in long files in every direction when the show was over.

The weather made amends for last year's rain that netted a loss of something like $1,500 against a treasury that could stand a reverse after many profitable years.

Out of its expecience in public relations, Roseneath directors have developed a sentiment of appreciation of public support that was expressed in a presentation before the grandstand of a wrist watch to Dr. Edgar Hayden, of Cobourg, president 50 years ago. It was presented by A. J. Campbell, 1st vice-president, who informed that section of the crowd that Dr. Hayden had never missed a Roseneath Fair day since then.

Present Certificates

In the same spirit of recognition of service and loyalty, Mr. Slade presented on behalf of the board certificates of service to Harry Mouncey, second vice-president 21 years, and to Harry Brown, treasurer 19 years, both now retired from executive office.

The fair was officially opened by Col. T. E. Welch, Provincial Secretary, who congratulated Roseneath on having achieved one of the most notable agricultural fairs in Ontario. He was accompanied by Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare, who said he was content to be another spectator among his Northumberland constituents.

A few figures suggest the popularity of Roseneath Fair. There were 220 exhibitors, including juniors; 23 young women competed in the beauty contest; and 32 babies were entered in that section which is provided for the youngest promoters of the show. Clarence Varcoe, secretary, said

MP's Air Views On Divorce, Quebec Opposed

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP)—Quebec divorce—one of the perennially tender spots of parliament—caused its annual flutter in the Commons Friday night.

There were a number of suggestions—none from the government—as the Commons discussed 47 private bills which must be passed by the Commons to make that number of Quebec divorces official.

Quebec and Newfoundland are the only provinces in Canada which have no divorce courts. As a result, any divorce cases must come directly before Parliament. Procedure is for the divorces to be discussed by a Senate committee, passed by the Senate and then sent to the Commons.

Members discussed the bills during the whole hour devoted to private measures. They didn't get around to voting on the bills. One objection is that Parliament is no place to deal with divorce cases.

However, as Works Minister Fournier said, the British North America Act provides for a petition to Parliament by anyone wanting a divorce.

Opposes Divorce

Mr. Fournier emphasized that he is opposed to divorce in principle. He said the people of Quebec are opposed to divorce and prefer to have their cases handled through Parliament rather than a divorce court.

Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East) took exception to the minister's remarks. Not all the people in Quebec are opposed to divorce, he said, or else there would be no divorce bills before Parliament.

At least a minority in that province believed in divorce and the rights of such a minority should be respected. Mr. MacInnis wasn't specific except to say that some way should be found to deal with Quebec and Newfoundland divorces without the necessity of them coming before Parliament.

W. J. Browne (PC—St. John's West) said there have been no divorces in Newfoundland up to now and he hoped there would be none in the future.

THE UNITED KINGDOM POST OFFICE is commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Universal Postal Union at Berne on October 9, 1874, by issuing four special postage stamps of the denominations 2½d., 3d., 6d., and 1s. When this special issue is exhausted, the stamps will remain valid for postage for a number of years. All four stamps are double the normal size, that is, the same size as the Olympic Games stamps issued last year.

Optimism Still Keynote For Markets

By The Canadian Press

Optimism continued as the keynote on stock markets this week.

Canadian markets showed the widest general advances over the four-day week with average price level climbing to the highest point in three years.

Streeters were betting on an early end to the steel and coal strikes in the United States. New York sources also believed that the strikes would end before serious damage could be done to the business structure.

A mid-week Columbus Day holiday curtailed activity in New York. Prices bucked their way slowly upwards with brisk buying in rails setting off a rally Tuesday that carried stocks to a new high for the year.

The Associated Press 60-stock average closed the week Friday 67.2, a gain of .5 from the previous Friday.

Feature Markets

Paper stocks featured Canadian markets. Declaration of an increased dividend by Abitibi Paper sparked very heavy buying that quickly spread through the remainder of the industrial listings.

In Toronto, industrals climbed for three sucessive sessions to the highest point since August, 1946, on the exchange's index of representative stocks.

Agricultures, steels, liquors, refining oils and utilities contributed to the gain of 4.80 on the exchange's index from the previous Friday.

Western oils pushed their way up a gain of 2.70 at the highest price level since early in the year.

Again individual gold stocks reacted briskly to favorable drilling news. Golds were ahead .40 on the index. Base metals bucked reports of weakening metal markets for a gain of .16.

Canadian markets were closed Monday—Thanksgiving Day.

Average volume for the four days in Toronto was 1,240,250 shares, compared with a five-day average of 1,244,200 shares the previous week.

Eight Arrested Gambling Raid

City police raided the home of Robert McMasters, 474 Wolsley St., in the Wartime Housing section at 4 a.m. today and arrested seven men for alleged gambling. In city police court today McMasters, after spending the night in a city police cell, pleaded not guilty to keeping a common gaming house and was remanded until Monday with bail set at $1,000.

Seven others who were in the room with McMaster when the police entered through a window, will be arraigned Monday on charges of being found-ins.

Four city constables, Gordon Trennum, Sherman Keliele, Don Mackay and Harold Andrews broke into the house through a window, after a watch had been kept from the garden. Constable Trennum reports that he broke through the window because the front and back doors were heavily bolted.

Gerard Clancy and Edward Roach, who arrived at the house during the police raid, will not be charged, police say.

The men to appear in court on Monday are Fred Zakarow, Neil Harrington, Melville Lester, Alfred Pepe, Max Vincent, Robert Primeau and Jack Phelan.

the needs of the U. S. armed forces.

The Prime Minister said such arms and equipment are needed if Canada is to carry out plans for standardization of defence weapons and training methods "which is so obviously necessary if there is to be fully effective co-operation in defence."

In recalling the 1941 Hyde Park agreement and the 1947 statement by the two governments which extended defence collaboration under that agreement in some branches into peacetime, the Prime Minister said:

Need Understanding

"One of the principles of collaboration laid down . . . is the 'encouragement of common designs and standards in arms, equipment, organization, methods of training and new developments.'

"Our countries have made considerable progress in working out plans for the standardization. . . but the only way in which we in Canada can hope to carry out plans for standardization is to reach an understanding with the authorities of your country on procurement.

"We cannot undertake to manufacture all the many and complicated and costly items of arms and equipment for modern military forces: many of these things we must obtain from your manufacturers. But, in order to pay for them, we must be in a position to provide you with certain other items for your forces which we can produce efficiently in Canada! That is how we co-operated under the Hyde Park arrangement during ht ewar.heNlw during the war. And both countries benefited.

Cars Hit Fenders On Outskirts Of City

Two cars had damaged fenders and wheels after colliding Friday evening at the junction of Clonsilla and Western Avenues. Harold Smith, 76 Runnymede Road, Toronto, was travelling west on Clonsilla Avenue, and as A. S. Lonsberry, Dinsmore, Sask., turned from Western Avenue on to Clonsilla Avenue to drive into Peterborough, the two cars met.

Constable E. McDonald, who was accompanied by Constable Grant Gillespie at the scene of the accident, reports that the right front fender of Mr. Smith's car was badly damaged and damage to the grill was slight. Damage to Mr. Lonsberry's car was confined to the left front fender and hub cap.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15 (CP) — Flax May futures made their first appearance on the board at the Winnipeg Grain Exchange when a price of $3.62 was asked Friday. However, there was no trading in the futures.

Oats and barley developed a firm undertone during a moderately active trading session which saw the commodities attract fair demand from American accounts and shippers. Rye came in for local demand and small offerings were well taken.

Allocation of 835,000 bushels of wheat to the United Kingdom was announced, along with a small lot of about 75,000 bushels allocated to Israel.

Price of class two wheat, for export to countries other than the United Kingdom, were down two cents.

Sitdown Cost

When deadlock was reached the matter was taken to Arbitration in August.

Union demands include a 40-hour week with no reduction in take-home pay, a wage increase, improved clauses on vacations and a general tightening of the contract on union security.

After a number of meetings the sittings of the Conciliation Board were adjourned, and the next sitting will not likely be until October 28. A week ago Canadian President C. S. Jackson sent a letter to Labor Minister Charles Daley asking for immediate action.

The letter blamed Daley for the delay, and it requested that the services of Louis Fine, Chief Conciliator, be obtained to break the deadlock.

Violation of Act

Ian McRae, works manager said that the work stoppage meant a loss of more than $10,000, in wages. He described it as "contrary to the provisions of the Collective Bargaining Act and . . . a violation of the Ontario Labor Relations Act."

Any difference between the Company and the Union can be settled by collective bargaining, he informed the press.

Giving the company view on the arbitration award that sparked the work stoppage, he said the company had suggested to the union several months ago that the arbitration board be requested to clarify its award. The chairman was Judge A. Cochrane of Brampton.

McRae Statement

Following is the text of a statement by Mr. McRae:

"The work stoppage appears to be over a difference of opinion between the company and the union as to the meaning of certain statements in an arbitration award. This award dealt with the changing of some piecework prices for girls in the Induction Motor Winding Department.

"In order to clarify the matter the company suggested to the union some months ago that the arbitration board, presided over by His Honour Judge A. Cochrane, be requested to clarify its award in order that it could be properly applied. The company has also offered to have a qualified industrial engineer determine whether the changed prices established by the company were properly set.

"As an indication that no hardship has resulted from these new prices, it should be pointed out that the girls involved in the original grievance were earning from $1.13 to $1.59 per hour, which represented bonus earnings of from 50 per cent to over 120 per cent.

"The company's position is that any differences of opinion between company and union can be settled within the proper procedure of collective bargaining, and following this procedure proper settlement can be reached without incurring any loss of employees' earnings.

"It is regretted that the work stoppage during one afternoon means loss of wages of more than $10,000.

The company has an agreement with the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers of America and its Local 524 covering employees in Peterborough Works. The work stoppage which occurred is contrary to the provisions of the Collective Bargaining Act, and is also in violation of the Ontario Labor Relations Act

Fifth Work Stoppage

The total shutdown of the plant is the fifth and largest of a series of work stoppages in slightly more than three weeks. All were claimed by union officials to be due to workers dissatisfaction over price cutting or related causes.

On September 20, 130 workers in the machine shop and assembly section of the CGE Refrigerator Unit Department quit work for two hours. They complained of layoffs, speedups and price cutting.

Two days later 12 employees in the transformer plant on Perry St. walked off the job and filed grievances at the George St. union office to the effect the Company was slashing piece-work rates.

The third stoppage was on October 3. Twenty-five welders in structural steel quit work in the morning and did not return till the following day. They said the Company had removed estimated prices that had been in effect for two or three years.

On Wednesday the trouble over the arbitration award came to a head and 200 workers in the Induction Motors Department walked off the job in protest against the Company not restoring the former piece-work rates paid to 30 girls.

The girls directly affected quit work at 7 a.m. and the rest of the Department followed a couple of hours later. By 4 o'clock the bulk of the workers had returned to their jobs but the girls did not report until next day.

No Agreement Yet At Rubber Plant

TORONTO, Oct. 15—(CP) — The wages strike of 925 production employees at the Dunlop Rubber Company here showed no indication Friday of an agreement being reached between the company and Local 132 of the United Rubber Workers (CIO).

In the strike—first held at this plant, the union asks a 12-cent-an hour wage increase, union security, retroactive pay for two extra statutory holidays and three weeks vacation after 15 years' service. The 12-cent increase would bring the average wage for male workers to $1.34 an hour and for female workers to $1.05 an hour.

J. R. Simpson, company president, said today after three days of strike:

"There is no sign of weakening by us or by the union . . . we will stand or fall on negotiations with the union. They asked for a board of conciliation and got it. After all the evidence was heard, the board made its recommendations and the union refused to abide by them . . ."

Find Traces Of London's Buried Past

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Oct. 15 —(CP)—Traces of London's buried past have emerged from rebuilding operations on a number of sites in the city of London and on Bankside, Southmark.

They include relics of a Roman house in old Jewry, part of the Roman diversion of the Wallbrook stream, suggestions of a mediaeval jetty, remains of two large 14th-century boats on Bankside and a late Stuart pottery works.

Boats found on the site of the new Bankside power station lay well back from the river and were probably connected with a jetty, dated by tree-ring analysis to the end of the 14th century.

In St. Dunstan's Lane, near Billingsgate, builders recovered the plan of a house which was in use from the 13th to the 15th centuries. Under the debris was an ancient stone tablet carved with a lively representation of an heraldic squirrel.

On the north side of Holborn Viaduct— where the Fleet River was discovered some years ago—several deep wells have been found. From one of these, made of chalk with a wooden lining, a group of pottery dating from about 1600 was recovered. Two imported German stoneware bottles known as bellarmines were found with their original corks —an early instance of this form of bottle-stopping.

In old Jewry were found relics of the 14th-century North Aisle of St. Olave's Church. A trench nearby has revealed two floor levels, representing the third and fourth centuries of a Roman house, with fragmentary traces of a Roman pavement.

Employ Women As Assistants School Janitors

On the theory that a woman can do the work of assistant janitor as well—if not better—than a boy, the Board of Education has decided to employ two at King George and Confederation Schools.

This was the recommendation of the Property Committee and was endorsed by the Board which gave Superintendent of Schools K. S. Wightman the go-ahead signal to hire two.

Formerly assistant janitor work was all done by boys but in many instances Board members were not impressed by their industry or reliability.

It was pointed out by one member that women would be less useful for heavy work, such as shovelling snow.

Hiring of the two women assistants was described as an experiment. It is said to have proved sucessful at Hamilton.

Three recommendations from the Advisory Vocation Committee were adopted.

A new class in machine technology for Night School was recommended in the report read by Albert E. Borland. There will be a part-time stenographer hired for extra clerical duties at the opening and closing of Night School. Total expenditure would be $60. Permission was granted to use Central Public School for a class in sewing as it cannot be accommodated at PCVS.

Whether or not the Summer Theatre will obtain permission to use Queen Mary auditorium again next summer is a question that still remains.

The Supervision Committee whose task it was to look into the matter reported to the Board it had reached no decision. And Chairman Dr. H. G. Carleton asked other members of the Board to give some thought to the matter and go for themselves and inspect the auditorium.

Severe Drought Hits S. Africa

JOHANNESBURG (CP). — Drought, with famine in its wake, is parching great tracts of Africa south of the equator. Dust-dry veldt and farms are found from South Africa through east and central African territories to Kenya and the Belgian Congo.

In some areas the drought is reported to be the worst in the last century.

Severe famine in many South African native tribes is being averted only by government feeding of thousands of natives.

In central Africa, the sprawling Congo river is so low that shipping can no longer use some parts of it and the Belgian administration is experiencing new transport problems, especially of food.

The eastern Cape Province is the worst-hit area in the Union of South Africa. A great trek of cattle has taken place—by rail—for almost 1,000 miles from the eastern cape north to the Zoutpansberg and Louis Trichardt area of the Transvaal.

Southern and Northern Rhodesia will have to import maize and the Union itself will be able to meet its requirements only because of a carry-over of 6,000,000 bags from last year's record crop.

Elephants Migrate

Nyasaland, south of Tanganyika, may face a crisis in a few months unless the rains are early and plentiful. Parts of Tanganyika are as badly off, and in the east-coast area of Kenya the hardships of drought are complicated in an ugly way by the mass migration of 5,000 thirsty elephants.

In the first week in May the South African Railways had to find 5,196 cattle cars to meet requisitions from the Eastern Province, the Free State and the Northern Cape. Throughout June the weekly requirements were between 4,000 and 5,000 cattle trucks.

In Africa there will, however, always be contrasts.

The southern part of South West Africa, normally dry, semi-desert, has had its best rains since 1934, and the desert is blooming. Most parts of Natal and Portuguese East Africa have had a good year.

A recent rain was confined to the coastal belt of South Africa and the worst drought in living memory continues over practically the whole of the Eastern Province and the midlands—an area of approximately 100,000 square miles.

In some sheep-farming areas, up to 40 per cent of sheep have died since the drought began.

The position in the thickly-populated Ciskeian native territory is bad, and doctors say the death rate among humans has increased as a direct result of the drought.

At Queenstown, the drought is the worst since settlers went to the district 100 years ago. The veldt has turned to dirt, the rivers to dust. Hardest-hit are the natives. The district surgeon has instructed the clinics to use fish oils more liberally. He cannot prescribe milk — there is none.

NO SHIPS—NO JOBS—Typical of the thousands of Canadian merchant seamen who have lost their jobs, since Canadian vessels began to be forced off the seas by stiff foreign competition, are these three job-hunters shown outside the Montreal Sailors' Institute. 2 Overseas Ballet Groups Take New York By Storm

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (CP) — Gallic verve and sumptuous British spectacle characterize the work of two overseas ballet companies which stirred New Yorkers to enthusiastic plaudits this week.

The rejoicing among dance lovers was occasioned by the performances of Les Ballets de Paris and of the Sadler's Wells Ballet Company from London.

The verve was exhibited by the French Company, along with some of the most impassioned dancing Manhattan Theatre audiences have seen in years. The outstanding performance of the Paris group is that of Renee Jeanmaire, who delineates in torrid, sensual manner the character of Carmen. Roland Petit, founder, choreographer and principal danger of this recently-formed group, enacts the part of Don Jose opposite her. Petit devised the ballet, which was adapted from Bizet's opera by Meilhac and Halevy.

In lighter vein, and thoroughly amusing, was "L'Oeuf a la Coque" (the boiled egg), a shorter ballet representing a scene in hell. The characters are demons in the form of chefs and chickens who lay magic eggs and are transformed into glamorous, seductive feathered creatures.

Superb Performance

The Sadler's Wells Company gave a superb performance, technically faultless, as they opened a four-week stay at the Metropolitan Opera House with "The Sleeping Beauty." Critics and audience alike hailed them with enthusiasm.

John Martin of the New York Times described the leading ballerina, Margot Fonteyn, as "just about as enchanting a dancer as has come along in a score of years." As for the company, he said it was comforting to watch "an aggregation of dancers so sure of themselves technically, so impeccably rehearsed and so unified in approach."

"The English company has brought back the element of spectacle to ballet in America," said Walter Terry in the Herald Tribune. "It is enormously aristocratic even to the point of leisureliness. . .but it has manner, grand manner."

The Sadler's Wells Company wil be seen later in Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto and in four United States cities outside new York.

Indians Beat Drought Dance To Bring Rain

SINTALUTA, Sask. (CP)—The Assiniboine Indians invoked an ancient rite of their ancestors this summer on their reserve in south-eastern Saskatchewan. With a record acreage in crops threatened by drought they celebrated the festival of the dance to bring rain.

From time immemorial the ritual of the Sun Dance has been the symbol of the red man's tabernacle, a spiritual concept which has its roots in the soil, Indians say.

The structure of the Sun Dance lodge is based on an architecture of mystic designs. The interior of the lodge is draped with multi-colored bunting.

On the sacred tree are carved the symbols of the sun, the buffalo head and the zigzag of lightning.

The Indian dancers perform the ritual ceremony behind a barrier of cherry and saskatoon trees. The wilting leaves of these two fruit trees Indians claim exude vigor to the dancers.

Each dancer has a whistle in his mouth. During the performance the dancers whistle in rhythm with the beating of the drums, turning their eyes to the sacred tree and to the improvised nest of the thunderbird which rests on the apex of the sacred tree.

Within the Sun Dance lodge are seated in a semicircle the veterans of the tribe arrayed in all their finery. Occasionally they rise in a body to join in the dances, lending an air of solemnity.

On the third day after the Sun Dance the Sintaluta district received a drenching rain. Three days later the area got a real soaker.

Pleasant Days

ON MANITOULIN ISLAND

Indians say this, the world's largest freshwater island, is the 'Home of the Great Spirit'. It certainly is the home of fine fish in its many lakes. For families looking for a vacation spot where everyone can have a good time, a letter to the Chairman of Publicity, Manitoulin Island Chamber of Commerce, is a good idea. Accommodation ranges from log cabin cottages to comfortable family hotels. For fun, there's golf and dancing, sailing and swimming, fishing and exploring Indian sites. Easy to reach from Central or South Western Ontario.

Eight By-Elections To Come

On Monday, October 24, eight Federal by-elections will be contested in Canada. Of this number five will be held in Quebec, where the seats of Montreal-Mercier, Montreal-Laurier, Montreal Jacques Cartier, Kamouraska and Gatineau must be filled; in British Columbia there will be an election in Restigouche-Madawaska, in British Columbia the contest will be in New Westminster, and in Toronto the vacant seat is in Toronto Greenwood. Seven of these seats were held by Liberals before they became vacant; the Toronto seat has been Conservative since it was created in 1933. It is not expected at present that there will be much change in the party alignment of the vacant seats.

• • •

However, it will be interesting to see what happens. These are the first by-elections since the Liberal sweep in June, and whatever happens the Liberal party will retain a clear majority of more than one hundred. Particular interest attaches to the Toronto riding, for there J. M. Macdonnell stands for the Conservative interest, and his party needs him badly at Ottawa. Mr. Macdonnell was defeated in Parry Sound-Ontario in June by Bucko McDonald, the hockey favourite; it would be interesting to know how many of the Parry Sound voters marked their ballots for McDonald under the impression that they were supporting Mr. Macdonnell, and vice versa.

• • •

Unless the Liberals retain all the seven seats which they formerly held among those which are being contested, there will undoubtedly be great reading of the auguries and squinting into the crystal on the part of the Conservative press. By-elections are always thought to be full of significance for the future of a Government, and the slightest abatement of Liberal support will be taken as a sign of a decline in Liberal power.

Reasons For Socialist Popularity

Yesterday we said that we thought that there were enough people in Britain who had benefitted personally from Socialism to re-elect the Labour Party. The elections held in Norway on Monday last add point to what we have said; the Socialist government of Einar Gerhardsen achieved an unmistakeable victory.

Why was this? The last time the Norwegians went to the polls was in November, 1945, four months after the socialists had been elected in Britain. The Norwegian socialists were elected, but with anly 76 out of the 150 Seats in the Storting, the Norwegian parliament. Their vote was only 41.8 per cent. of the total. But with this slim support the socialists proceeded to create a welfare state. They provided full employment, food subsidies, rationing, low interest rates, control of dividends, rent controls and heavy taxation. They did everything possible for the workers at the expense of the wealthy and the middle income class. They spent a great deal of money on government schemes, and as a result they have an inflated currency. But, as in Britain, the effects of inflation have not yet begun to pinch the class which benefits most from socialism. These are the moves which make socialism popular, and provide it with strong support.

There comes a time when socialism breaks down. That is the time when heavy taxation no longer yields big money, and when severe controls slow business to the danger point. But that time has not yet come in either Norway or Britain.

The Great Come To Canada

No other modest city receives such a steady stream of distinguished visitors as Ottawa. It is no surprise that the great men of our times should be found among the temples and palaces of Westminster, under the turrets of the Kremlin, in the shadow of the imposing White House, in the boulevards and palaces of Paris, or in marble Rome or Gothic Brussels. But Ottawa has not the trappings of a great capital; it has no palaces, no gorgeous temples, no grand avenues, no magnificent piles, save the Houses of Parliament. Yet to this modest city now come the makers of world history.

During the last forthight, for instance, four foreign secretaries called officially not only to pay their respects but to discuss affairs of state: Count Carlo Sforza, the distinguished Italian diplomat and one of Europe's most courtly and experienced statesmen; M. Paul van Zeeland, former Prime Minister of Belgium; M. Robert Schuman, former Prime Minister of France, and Mr. Ernest Bevin of Britain. Later this month Pandit Nehru, Prime Minister of India, will visit Ottawa.

Ottawa as the capital of a country has always had visitors of exalted rank, but it is only in the last decade that so many persons directing the affairs of their nations and renowned in world councils have come to Ottawa, not only to pay courtesy calls but to transact business and to consult with Canadian leaders. The reason is that Canada has become vastly more important among the nations of the world, that statesmen are personally dealing directly with each other, and that our ministers and officials in Ottawa are valued as representatives of an influential people and for their assistance in international consultations.

Ottawa is one angle of a great international triangle based on London and Washington. The triangle existed commercially before the war, but diplomatically and financially it was of such relatively little consequence that Ottawa was usually by-passed by busy statesmen; Canadian ministers went to London or Washington. Now Ottawa is a new world crossroads.

Nobel Award

Lord Boyd Orr has been awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for 1949. No award was made last year; the American Friends (Quakers) Service Committee and the Friends Service Council of London received it jointly in 1947. The award this year to an agronomist and food expert, is a recognition not only of Lord Boyd Orr's work as director-general of U.N.'s Food and Agricultural Organization (FAO), but also of the place food holds as an arbiter of peace and war. Peace cannot be preserved merely by banning guns and bombs and uniforms. A hungry people will riot before starving; an underfed, underclothed, nation can be led to war by patriots or demagogues. There can be no perpetual world peace until all over the world people have adequate means to sustain life. Lord Boyd Orr has crusaded for "a world food policy based on the needs of the people rather than on trade interests."

Sir John Boyd Orr, as he was known until raised to the peerage last year, has had a varied and distinctive career. He was born in Ayrshire in 1880, studied arts, medicine and science in Glasgow, served in the first war with the Army Medical Corps and won a D.S.O., and has been variously professor, farmer, technical advisor to national and international committees studying agriculture, dairy production and nutrition. His publications include History of The Scotch Church Crisis of 1904; Energy Expenditure of the Infantry Recruit in Training; Essentials of Physiology for Veterinary Students; Minerals in Pastures; Food, Health and Income, and many learned papers in scientific journals. He was Director-General of FAO from its organization in 1946 until he resigned in April of last year.

Bills 15 to 59

As any private citizen may do for a small sum, we subscribe to the official daily reports of proceedings in Parliament. The paper bulk is Hansard, the official report of what is said on the floor of Parliament, but the Bills form a goodly collection by the time the session ends. We were rather nonplussed in sorting out the Bills the other day to discover that they suddenly jumped in their numerical sequence from 14 ("An Act to amend an Act respecting the Revised Statutes of Canada") to 60 ("An Act to amend The Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act. (Enforcement)". Why the sudden jump? Has the Government some pleasant surprise Bills up its sleeve—like an Act to abolish Income Tax?

No. The gap was in our file, not on the table of the House of Commons. On it are to be found Bills 15 to 59, which are so lacking in public interest or importance that they are not given public distribution. Their titles all begin with the same phrase: "An Act for the relief of , . . ".These are the first batch this session of private divorce bills. Sarah S. or John B. is in the process of gaining through costly legal and elaborate constitutional machinery a divorce. Almost all the petitioners are resident in the Province of Quebec, for Quebec, unlike Ontario, does not permit divorce through the courts.

It is a pity and a shame that the Canadian Parliament must deal with such matters. Surely one of the constitutional changes most needed is legislation in Quebec to empower one of its courts to grant divorces, and relieve Parliament of a job for which it is not specially fitted and should not be required to do.

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Samuel Marchbanks, Esq.
Reptile:

Though hardly able to believe my ears, I hear from someone who has had a letter from you that while in Britain you have been seen in a tavern, drinking. Deny this—deny it at once, or never again will you hear from

The Outraged,
(Mrs.) Kedijah Scissorbill.

To Mrs. Kedijah Scissorbill
Dear Mrs. Scissorbill:

In spite of the tempting prospect which you hold out at the end of your last letter, I am writing to say that what you hear is quite true. I have been drinking in pubs, and have met some very nice people in them. You would be surprised at what goes on in pubs, Mrs. Scissorbill, but I do not think that your surprise would add gasoline to the moral flame which appears to consume you!

Only yesterday, for instance, I dropped into a country pub in North Wales, which is where I am at present. It was a nice, clean, quiet place, with a piano in it. On the piano were two books—a book of folksongs and a hymnal. "Much hymn-singing here in the evenings?" I asked the barmaid. "Oh yes, everybody asks for their favourites" said she.

Now I ask you, wouldn't Canada be better off if we had more music—including hymn-singing—in our beverage rooms?

Yours placidly,
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Raymond Cataplasm, M.D., F.R.C.P.
Dear Dr. Cataplasm:

I am sorry to bother you, but could you send me a fresh jug of my indigestion mixture? I would go to a doctor here, but they are all so busy with the National Health Service that they have no time for me.

I am in great distress. I am eating too much, but everybody here is so hospitable that I can't help it.

The big trouble is the tea-cakes. Every race and district in Britain has its own version of a small, flat, flabby yellow pancake which is eaten at teatime with jam and butter. In Scotland they are called baps, in England they are called blips, in Ulster they are flops, in East Anglia they are called bups, and here in Wales they are called crempogs. They are good going down, but after a couple of hours—Send the jug at once.

I am off to Yorkshire tomorrow. I am told that there these strong-minded little scones are called pikelets. And I know that shortly after I have eaten them they will be pikelets with spikelets.

Yours in agony,
S. Marchbanks.

To the Rev. Simon Goaste, B.D.
Dear Mr. Goaste:

I am sorry to hear that your thrombosis has been at you again. How very vexing it must be to a man of your active disposition.

You should come to North Wales. There is no thrombosis here—at least, not under that name. There is a similar affliction, but it moves in three stages. The first of these, usually marked by a coma lasting a few hours, is called a "warning". The next, which usually involves partial paralysis, is called a "seizure". The final stage of the ailment is called a "stroke". I was looking at my great-grandfather's grave the other day, and the message on the headstone was: "Behold I shall take away the desire of thine eyes with a stroke". And that is precisely how my great-grandfather died.

But the usual age for demise here is in the 90s. It is an uncommonly healthy part of the world. The mountain air, I suppose.

Your obedient parishioner,
S. Marchbanks.

To Mrs. Morrigan
My very dear Mrs. Morrigan:

Knowing how fond you have always been of gypsies, I write to tell you that yesterday I saw a tribe of them converging on the ancient and beautiful Shropshire town of Ludlow. As I drove along the road from Wales to Ludlow I passed ten gypsy caravans—surely the most romantic dwellings in the world, shining with brass ornaments, and gay with shawls, quilts and bits of tinsel. Every caravan horse was led by a man, usually an old rascal, but sometimes a handsome, black-eyed lad: in front of the van would be a young woman, nursing a baby; in the back of the van other children tumbled, dirty, fat and lively. The women were all either young beauties or old hags: are there no middle-aged women among gypsies? And how the beauty of a gypsy woman surpasses that of the simpering lollipops of Hollywood! How wondrously they dress, and how they make even their very dirt become them!

A few days ago I was passing through the Welsh hamlet of Penegoes, where Richard Wilson was born. A group of gypsy children were playing around a fire there, outside a queer tent made of skins, and obviously half as old as time. How Wilson could have painted them! Do you suppose that he would have agreed with Augustus John that "it is always worth half-a-crown to have a good look at a gypsy—front or back view"?

Your humble servant;
Samuel Marchbanks.

To Amyas Pilgarlic, Esq.
Dear Pil:

What I like best about England, I think, is that it is a great home of eccentricity. Even now, when a socialist government is doing its best to reduce distinctions between man and man, there are more eccentrics to be seen here in a day than one would meet with in Canada in five years.

Nor are they merely contemptible oddities. Many of them are obviously highly intelligent people who behave as they do on principle. And it seems to me that a country is truly great where principle and individual conscience are allowed to run riot, as is the case here. Canada still suffers too much from conformity—a hangover from pioneer days when it was necessary for every man to be as like his neighbours as possible, to show that he was above suspicion. Only in a fully adult country can there be such individuality of behaviour and dress as I see everywhere here.

Of course, it sometimes reaches extremes. In Edinburgh, for instance, I saw more female paupers with beards than I ever saw before in my life, roaming the streets and fixing the passers-by with their bright and baleful gaze. Quite big beards, too, that sailors would not be ashamed to wear. It is from these crones, I am sure, that Shakespeare got the notion of the Witches in "Macbeth". I almost addressed some of these beldames in Banquo's words:

"you should be women,
And yet your beards forbid me to interpret
That you are so."

I am now quite sure that Shakespeare visited Edinburgh at some time of his life. That theory, however, that he hid in Ayrshire and emerged two centuries later under the name of Robbie Burns is just propaganda put out by the Scottish National Tourist Board.

Yours —
Sam.

Letters To The Editor

NO DR. SHIELDS' BAPTISTS HERE

Sir: It has been brought to my attention that there is confusion in the minds of many people regarding the status of the Reverend Dr. T. T. Shields as a "Baptist". To clarify the matter may I state that there are three distinct and separate groups of Baptists in Ontario and Quebec.

The largest and oldest group is "The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec". It is a voluntary association of 418 churches including Park Street and Murray Street Baptist Churches of Peterborough, and the Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church on the Chemong Road. This Convention, the United Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces, and the Baptist Union of Western Canada comprise the Baptist Federation of Canada, in which there are 1284 member churches. The Convention is also a member of the Baptist World Alliance which is an association of nearly 90,000 Baptist churches and 18,000,000 adult church members. The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec is also a member of the Canadian Council of Churches, and the World Council of Churches.

The second group of Baptists came into being in the late 1920's, when the Jarvis Street Baptist Church and its minister the Reverend Dr. T. T. Shields were expelled from membership in the above convention. Several churches withdrew from the convention in sympathy with Dr. Shields, and he formed them into what he called "The Convention of Regular Baptist Churches of Ontario and Quebec".

Within a few years this group was split and there came into being a third body known as "The Fellowship of Independent Baptist Churches". This group has grown significantly in recent years. The Bethel Baptist Church of Peterborough is a member of the Fellowship.

From the above it will be apparent that none of the Baptist churches of Peterborough and district has any connection whatsoever with the Reverend Dr. T. T. Shields, or with that other Baptist cleric so recently in the headlines, the Reverend Thomas Guthrie of Guelph.

Thank you for this space in which to set the record straight.

IVAN C. MORGAN.

$2 WORTH OF QUESTIONS

Sir: On October 7, I went to a resort meeting for the first time and that done without an invitation. I like many other resort people have never been invited to any of such meetings. I knew opposition to phases of our Stony Lake road service were to be discussed and having always been interested in improvements where needed, I certainly have much interest in this road, so feeling it was in the interest of the people, I invited myself to that meeting by calling on James Frazer and inquiring why only certain people were invited to such affairs. He made it appear that he didn't know we had a resort, that we had cottages or that he had ever been at our place but he did admit he thought we were just farmers and knew that I had been in a way interested in this Stony Lake road. Frazer is manager of the Chamber of Commerce for Peterborough. He has been connected with that for over one year. Just last September a year ago, he came to our tourist home, had a long talk with us, I showed him all over the cottages as an inspector would be shown on request, he looked every where that would be connected with our resort business and he made comments. He gave me his card and told me he would be connected with the Chamber of Commerce and would have an office in their office rooms in the city. That man made the fourth one who came here to our place last year saying, they were inspecting the cottages but I never had the real inspector last year. This year he did come and after I had been fooled four times before by the ones who had no business inspecting, I didn't believe the right one and turned him away telling him he would have to bring a cop before I would let him in, as I would then know I would have protection from fakes. Now how long or how many times does a man in office have to meet customers before he admits having seen them or know his duty toward their business? Before I left that Chamber of Commerce office, I was told three times by the manager, Frazer, that to attend that meeting, I would have to pay $2. I informed him, I was not interested in dinner for I could not eat, owing to dental work but did want to be there only for the meeting. The next day, his secretary too told me I had to pay $2. Not once did I oppose the fee but when I did pull out my $2 before the guests I was told to keep the $2. "I am not a sponger" was my remark and he took the $2 but I had no dinner. When the meeting was proceeding, I asked to speak (on conservation of fish). I was ignored at first but later made about 4 statements. I was told, I was ahead of the program. My question was, "Why not enforce the law represented on the back of the license or remove it where it states . . no fishing after sundown and no fishing on Sundays." The next time, I asked to speak, again I was at first ignored then permitted. I was complimented on my statements. The next time, I was refused time to talk but I stated, "I didn't get to eat but to pay my $2 and I wanted my $2 worth of questions. I was the only woman who offered any comments but several men held the floor so long that others just relaxed and waited for the end. One official bobbed up several times and most every time he did, he pulled out the word damn, with emphasis and no back firing. How much would a man pay for such liberties and still hold his honoured office?

Why not conserve on resort owners rights and invite each and every one to such meetings, see the officials know every one and not deny it, have co-operation instead of opposition between all owners that they may all progress upward in improvements etc. and instead of having just the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce in on such a united organization, why was not even one member of the Lakefield Chamber of Commerce invited to sit in and have co-operation with all the villages in the section too? Conservation of human rights for all resort owners must be considered if this organization succeeds 100 per cent. If all are not invited, why not have an organization of the resort people and omit the Chamber of Commerce as a non co-operative body in the interests of all concerned?

Yours,
(MRS.) JOSEPH HAMILTON.
Stony Lake.

A BRITISH OPINION

"I suppose you've all heard they're going to build a uranium factory at the end of our street."

London Express Service

The 52 Kawartha resort operators who met in one body last week to discuss their problems with Queen's Park officials of Lands and Forests, Highways and Travel and Publicity had one important fact hammered in all through the day. In the matter of existing Fish and Game regulations they learned that the laws were theirs, made by public opinion groups. They were complimented by the Hon. Harold G. Scott for getting together as one discussion group, whereby they would find outsiders less able to interfere with their businesses. Several operators who were interviewed agreed that if they continue as a body to present their problems, changes in local laws would be dealt with promptly and efficiently in future.

Thanksgiving week-end weather was everything to be desired. Temperatures in the 80's made outdoor fun a "must" and brilliant fall foliage was still putting on a great show, although it had reached its peak four days previous to the holiday. In fact, it was so warm that many had thoughts of trying a last swim of the season. Children at my house were playing lumberjacks on a log boom on the Otonabee River. They fell into the water every five minutes, all day long. They chided the Old Man on being old, thoughtless rascals, up to the point where the OM bared his teeth and took one quick dip. No otter ever slid in and out of the water in such record time. It was definitely the last swim of the season for him.

Deer hunters have been issued some timely advice by an ammunition firm warning them to "Sight in your rifle now." It is pointed out that every other piece of hunting equipment is checked except the rifle sights, in many cases. They are easily jarred out of alignment in transportation without its being too obvious. When this happens a whole hunting trip can be spoiled, all for the lack of some careful trial shots and adjustments.

• • • •

Speaking of rifles, hunters will do well to heed Section 37 in the Game and Fisheries Act which says, "No person shall hunt any bird or animal with any repeating, automatic or auto-loading shotgun, which has not been plugged or altered that it is incapable of holding a total of more than three shells at one time in the chamber and magazine." This means that the magazine must be plugged so that it will hold only two shells; an additional shell may be carried in the chamber. Pump guns are included in this regulation.

• • • •

Outdoor writers would gladly have given part of their salaries to be in editor Gord Goldie's boots, in Geraldton the other evening. Someone phoned him at his Times-Star office that a bull moose calf had just passed his front door and had headed into the main business section. Young Longlegs was a cookhouse pet a few miles north of town at a lumber camp. It decided to come to town of the evening to see the bright lights, and set people in a lather of excitement in so doing. Lounging Indians and Provincial Police in patrol cars gave chase but regardless of its ungainliness it made a complete getaway. There is no open season for moose anywhere in the province this year. The incident drew no gunfire.

• • • •

Duck hunters are offering a silent prayer that the weather will cool off quickly before this week-end. The shooting season opens today, hear it? However drastic the change, it still will not have brought the northern ducks down in time for opening day. Local marsh birds will get the same blasting barrage and shy off. All good intentions to open the season later seem to be of no avail, and nobody is to blame. Partridge hunters over last week-end found the same condition—too warm. There were more reports of dead and disabled partridge on CBC's Rural Roundup last Sunday than hunters have turned in. For five minutes the announcer told of grouse that had sailed through home and shop windows throughout the province. It's a safe wager there will be no such cases reported on tomorrow's program. The birds have a way of disappearing suddenly when the season opens.

• • • •

During a short visit to Bewdley on Thursday evening Don and Norman Sidey took me around the local marshes to have a look at duck shooting prospects. They appeared to be excellent. Many small flocks of six and eight black ducks and mallards were startled out of ponds and North Creek at close range. Another flock of about 80 birds, blacks, were trying to decide to come into the marsh on the south-west bay and finally veered off to the Campbellcroft millpond at sunset. Bewdley shooters say this season has been excellent for marsh and pond breeding. We certainly saw the results. Red heads, whistlers and canvas backs will be down soon from the North for wild rice, celery and sharp sand for their gizzards. After that some butterballs, widgeon and greenwing teal can be expected and perhaps a very few few honkers. Duck shooting at Rice Lake this Fall looks good.

Hale Babies, Baggy Suits, Lost Landlords: Some Impressions of Post-War England

By WILLIAM TINKER

(Ed. Note: The writer of this article and his wife have lately returned from a four-months' visit to England. Mr. Tinker is a well-known resident of Peterborough, a member of the Board of Health, and has for many years taken an active part in civic affairs. He was born in England.)

One of the first impressions the visitor has of Britain, is the tremendous number of people there are. Crowds wherever one goes, and each day the thought occurs: how can a comparatively small country like Britain maintain such a large population? The answer, of course, is that the land does not maintain this large population, that it is the export of machinery and manufactured goods as well as investments—insurance shipping and the like—which help to maintain this nation. But owing to capital losses suffered during the last two wars even with these exports, the gap between income and expenditure is widening, and if it were not for American and Canadian aid — chiefly American—the gap would widen still further.

FOOD

There are many ways to consider the British, and I have divided them into sections:—First, Food. Like many other people, we arrived in Britain prepared to see a half starved nation, but, happily found nothing of the kind, which is rather remarkable when one considers the small supply of fats, meats, eggs, etc., they receive on the ration. There were not many fat people, neither were there any signs of any people suffering from malnutrition. We found that people living alone, or having no influence, had to be very careful with their rations which are, per person, per week:

Margarine, 5 ozs per person, per week; butter, 4 ozs; cheese, 2 ozs; lard, 2 ozs; eggs, 1 oz; milk, 2 pints; tea, 2 ozs; sugar, 4 ozs; bacon, 2 ozs, (raised to 3 ozs later); meat, 25c worth.

Now, any person can understand that few, if any, people can live on such rations, so the people supplement them with rabbits, headcheese, sausage; all of which are unrationed. Fish are also not rationed, and they are not only plentiful, but excellent in quality.

Special rations are allowed to mothers, both before and after birth of their children. New-laid eggs and Jersey milk are priority for mothers and children, and here I may state we never saw any bonnier babies and small children than we saw in Britain. They were beautiful, strong, and healthy, and reflected great credit upon all concerned with them.

But—to continue with the food question—the people with some influence were the best off, and wanted for nothing. The Black Market flourishes. In fact the word "flourishes" gives a very slight idea of the state of affairs. "Runs Amok" would be more indicative of the true condition. People in business, say the butcher, will save some extra meat for the chicken farmer, and receive an extra dozen eggs in exchange. The auto mechanic will give quick service to the customer who leaves a couple of pounds of cheese in the back seat "by mistake," and so it goes on. Almost everybody has black market connections, and uses them to the utmost, justifying himself by saying, "Well, if I don't somebody else will."

The bread is brownish-grey in color. Some people like it, others dislike it very much. We found it very palatable, and were rather fond of it.

TRAVEL

While the railways, now owned by the government, give a fairly good service they are quite expensive, and the carriages very dirty; I don't know what the British traveller would say if he saw the new coaches in Canada, with their tilting seats, and clean, white head-rests. Much of the passenger traffic is carried by bus or coach at about two-thirds of the railway fare. Britain is honeycombed with good roads, and the coaches travel everywhere. The best roads in Britain are as good as our Queen Elizabeth highway — although they have no clover leafs—but the ordinary roads are much better than Canadian roads. Roads passing through small towns and villages are good macadam, smooth and firm. Of course they do not have the cold winters, and hot summers we have here, and roads once repaired last much longer. And here perhaps I should mention one point which was very striking to us. People who drive cars in Britain never give a lift to pedestrians and pedestrians never seem to expect one. The hitch-hiker is absolutely unknown. We saw many people, including old folk, walking along country roads in the rain, and car after car containing only the driver, pass without stopping to give any person a ride, and the plodding people never raising their heads as the cars passed, content to be ignored, and apparently never expecting anything else. Perhaps this is due to the fact that working people very seldom drive cars in Britain, as they do in Canada, and there is possibly some "class consciousness" in the car driver' attitude, for class consciousness is still extremely strong in Britain.

Automobiles are very expensive to own and operate, and many people have bicycles instead. Shopping, sports, and business are all done on the bike, and it is not uncommon to see rather elderly ladies going shopping with a basket in the bicycle, or a cricket team arriving on bikes, or man and wife on a tandem, with a trailer, in which are one or two children going for a weekend holiday. At week-ends the roads are simply black with holiday makers on cycles, but there are very few cars in proportion. We felt there were almost as many cars in Canada as there are in Britain with 3½ times the population.

With such crowds on the roads great care must be taken to prevent accidents, and I must state that drivers of cars, coaches and trucks give plenty of signals. One is never in doubt as to what the driver ahead intends to do. This I feel is an improvement on the action of many drivers here, who appear to rely upon mental telepathy when communicating their intentions to the public, or to the driver in the car behind.

Yet even with such efficient signalling, the death toll is very high on British roads, and I will refer to this again.

DRESS

One of the results of the war has been a great difficulty in obtaining good clothes, and British women did not appear to be well dressed, taking them by and large. We noticed that very few women used cosmetics, and very few men have their suits or coats cleaned and pressed. This latter fact applies not only to the working class. Professional and business men like chartered accountants or assistant bank managers appeared to refrain from having their trousers pressed; in fact we felt that the majority of men made the original press last the life of the garment. Baggy knees certainly seemed the rule in Britain.

Many British women appeared to be excessive smokers, chain smoking being fairly prevalent, and it was a common sight to see women doing housework, taking the baby for an airing, or doing the family shopping, with a cigarette dangling from the lips.

HOUSING

Cost of living is higher in Britain than it is in Canada, except for rents. Houses are very scarce there, just as they are in Canada, although thousands of new houses are being built by the corporations, assisted by the government. Various types are erected—semi-detached, terraces and "flats" as apartments are called. All these houses are substantially built—the great majority of brick—with full plumbing, gardens front and back. They are houses to be proud of.

All the water pipes are—unfortunately, in our opinion—placed outside, and when the frosts come, as they sometimes do, the results are disastrous. The Britisher, however is very reluctant to change, "if frozen pipes were good enough for my grandfather, they are good enough for me," and it will be a very long time before this method will change. Rents of the above-mentioned houses vary from $15 to $25 per month, depending on their size and location. Thus the housing is gradually being solved.

Rents of old houses are quite low, and tenants who have lived in the same house, are, in many cases paying the same rent they did 35 years ago, plus a small increase. British people reading this will recall the rows of houses which used to rent for 5/- per week. Well, if the tenant has remained in possession since 1913, the rental has not increased very much since that time, and even if the tenant has changed the advance has not been very great, according to Canadian standards. This is rather hard on the owner, for repairs cost 400% of pre-war prices for repairs, and this is one of the reasons why no houses are being erected by private interests.

Quite a few owners of old houses renting at low rentals would actually give them to any person who would be responsible for repairs of the houses, and cases of owners "disappearing," and not collecting the rents for years, have appeared in the public press. City councils do not like these disappearing "landlords" as it means that the corporation must assume responsibility for keeping such houses in repair.

I well recall a case of this nature occurring in Salford, which was reported in the local press. A deputation from the tenants of a row of houses appeared before the city council and asked the council to make necessary repairs to the houses in which they lived, as the owner had not called for the rent for some six years, and they feared the houses would not last long, unless extensive repairs were carried out.

The tenants stated they had not paid any rent for the previous six years, but were willing, and anxious, to do so if the houses were repaired. One of the city councillors was very much annoyed about the disappearance of the owner, and stated that these

AMONG THE OLDEST PETERBOROUGH HOUSES is the substantial H. A. Morrow home on the Sherbrooke Street hill west of Monaghan Road. Records of the house are scanty, but it is known to have been built about 110 years ago by Stafford Kirkpatrick. It has been in the Morrow family for many years. Mr. Harold Morrow is the present owner—and the man who donated the Exhibition Ground ("Morrow Park") to the citizens of Peterborough. His father, Robert Archibald Morrow may have been the first Morrow to own it. For several generations of children bob-sledding down Sherbrooke Street slope, the hill was known as "Bertie Morrow Hill". R. A. ("Bertie") Morrow was a property owner and gentleman of leisure who bred horses. His father was a general businessman in Peterborough.

New Boatbuilder, Boatman Combine To Outrun the Best

By DAVE WHITE

Long the Canadian centre of canoe building and outboard motor manufacturing, Peterborough may be on the way to another aquatic achievement—the construction of championship class speed boats.

At the Canadian National Exhibition on Labour Day thousands of spectators saw a sleek, 22-hp racing outboard skim over the three-mile course in Lake Ontario to win its event with little difficulty.

The indicated speed hovered at the 44 miles-an-hour mark which may not be competition for Harold Wilson's Miss Canada but it is believed to be a record for its class. Doubt remains on this claim because careful records have not been kept since before the Second World War.

Credit for this championship achievement rests with two Peterborough men, Ross A. Viscoff of Aylmer St., and Harry Oakman of Lansdowne Ave. And the history of their runabout model, nicknamed "Gizmo," goes back to last winter.

In February Harry approached Ross on the subject of building a racing model, suitable for 22 to 50 hp outboards. The design of the craft would be a modification of a standard type as worked out by the two of them.

A veteran boatman for a number of years, Harry showed inspired confidence in collaborating with Ross Viscoff, because, as boat builders go, the latter was a novice.

THE GIZMO made in Peterborough by a novice boatbuilder was raced to top prize money in Toronto by another Peterborough man.

Originally from Bancroft, Ross began to get interested in boats only after he left the RCAF in 1946. As a matter of fact it was not until he joined the air force that he was interested in woodworking at all.

Ross started woodworking while an instrument mechanic. At that time it was just a hobby with him; just a way of spending a few idle after-duty hours. His aptitude prompted airforce officials to ask him to become an instructor in the hobby club at Trenton. He didn't know it at the time but a new phase of his career had begun.

"Previous to the air force I had no experience in wood work," he relates. "None whatever."

Some of the things he made during his term in the service were model aircraft, inlay work and furniture.

As soon as he was demobilized he became employed with Avo Craft on Bethune St. There his former hobby became a full-time job, and he learned how to build plywood boats—car-top models and boats of all sizes.

The next phase of this relatively short apprenticeship was when he switched to the construction of cedar strip boats; 12-foot car-top models; 15-foot fishing boats, and 13-foot-six speed boats.

Feeling he had a fairly good grounding in his new livelihood he left Avo Craft 13 months ago and opened his own woodworking shop on London St. There he did the usual every day jobs such as building and repairing furniture and general woodworking and carpentry.

And it was then that Harry Oakman asked him to help build a boat. The two young men pooled their ideas regarding favorable design, but Ross did the actual building in his workshop.

What modifications they decided on remain a secret, but they readily reveal the dimensions of their champion "Gizmo" 13-foot-six length and a 48-inch beam. It is completely constructed of plywood.

Altogether 10 boats were built by Ross, and all of them were bought by Harry. Two of them were utility models, i.e., the cockpit space, usually large enough for six passengers, was cut down to room for two. This also helped in streamlining the craft.

It is one of the utility types that won the race at the CNE.

Harry, an experienced racer, decided to try out the Peterborough-designed craft. And during the early summer he and his collaborator were delighted as their model outpaced nearly everything in its class.

There were races at Heeley Falls, Tweed, Bewdley, Chippewa, Balsam Lake, Hamilton, St. Catharines, and Niagara Falls. Only at Balsam Lake did the boat disappoint its designers when it dropped out of the money as a result of a piston burning out.

Finally it was decided to enter the big event at the CNE. It was known that this would be the acid test as there were experienced drivers and excellent boats entered from scattered points in Ontario—particularly Eastern Ontario—and the United States.

Residents of Chemong Lake, many of them with considerable exasperation, heard Harry zooming up and down the lake last summer. He was busy testing out "Gizmo" for her real trial against the best of her class.

On the rough waters of Lake Ontario on Labor Day the efforts of the two local boatmen were rewarded when "Gizmo" outpaced all of her nine rivals, including favored entries from Tonawanda, New York and other Ontario centres.

The victory of the specially souped-up Viscoff-Oakman boat was no fluke because the runner-up was "Pop's Best," a similar model driven by Jack Fitzpatrick of Windsor.

Future plans of the two Peterborough boat builders are still obscure; but one thing is sure: they won't give up the outboard racing game now they have experienced such a victory. Harry vows he'll be back to defend the handsome trophy he won next year.

Legion Beats Meteors 7-6 In Rotary Club Puck Fray

Legionnaires yanked out a 7-6 decision over Lindsay Meteors in an exhibition puck fray before a good-sized crowd at Civic Arena last night. The tilt, played under auspices of the Rotary Club, was three-quarters of an hour late starting, due to the late arrival of the visiting players—all of them from Toronto. It was staged in four periods to permit prize draws, and didn't wind up till nearly midnight.

Meteors took a 1-0 lead in a speedy and even first frame, but Legion roared back to gain a 4-1 edge in the second and lead at the halfway mark by a 4-2 margin. The homesters got the only goal of the third, but Meteors outscored them 4-2 in the fourth. They had it tied at 6-all when Dootch Vitarelli notched the winning count with a bit more than two minutes to go. Play was fast and generally clean, 21 penalties being handed out but mostly for minor and accidental offences.

Defenders Star

The local defencemen played a prominent part in Legion scoring with Godfrey counting twice, Doug Mortimer once and Burns having two assists. Rochetta, Montgomery, Parnell and Vitarelli each tallied once, the latter having an assist, as Fred Mortimer, Greenlaw and Coombs also aided on one each. Williams, Sherben and Formica were the pick of the visitors, the whole team hustling to make it a keen contest throughout. All the Ellis crew worked hard, also, and showed plenty of promise for an early tussle.

It was late in the first frame when Williams tallied in close but Legion tore back next heat with Godfrey counting two, once on Coombs' passout, and D. Mortimer getting another. Formica scored from Hill but Rochetta got that back later from Burns. The lone tally of the third was garnered by Montgomery from Vitarelli. Williams scored early in the fourth from Formica and Hill got another. Parnell tallied from Greenlaw, and Formica hit the twine twice later but Vitarelli got the winner from F. Mortimer and Burns.

Meteors—Goal, Lynn; defence, Hill and Hughes; centre, Williams; wings, Formica and Sherben; alternates, Spragg, Mischanik, Bain, Munroe, Brooks, Delaat, Romanik, Buttes and Goodwin.

Legion — Goal, Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and Burns; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and Fryia; alternates, Hicks, D. Mortimer, Free, Parnell, Stewart, Greenlaw, Hill, Coombs, Montgomery, F. Mortimer and Vitarelli.

Referees—P. Calladine and J. Creighton.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The deciding game of the World Series three years ago today between St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox was decided by a tremendous piece of base running by Enos (Country) Slaughter and a dazzling relief pitching job by Harry (The Cat) Brecheen. Slaughter raced from first base to home on a single line drive in the eighth inning with the winning run in the 4-3 St. Louis victory. Brecheen followed it up in the ninth by retiring the last three Boston batters in succession with the Sox' tying and winning runs on the bases.

AUSTRALIAN CHAMP IN MAIN EVENT—Fred Atkins, pictured above, who will meet Toar Morgan in the main event at the Brock Arena next Thursday night. Atkins lost to Lou Thesz in a world's title bout in Toronto this week but only by disqualification. He was out in front, according to sports writers, and had Thesz in trouble before being disqualified. This will be Morgan's first appearance here in about three years. In tip-top shape after his injury, Morgan can be expected to give Atkins a stiff argument. The remainder of the card will be announced Monday.

Proximity Establishes World Trotting Record

WESTBURY, N.Y., Oct. 15 — (AP)—Proximity established a world's trotting record Friday night for the 1½-mile distance on a half-mile track as she won the second qualifying dash of the David McConnell Memorial trot in 3.07 3-5 at Roosevelt raceway.

The seven-year-old bay mare, owned by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst of Victor, N.Y., and driven by Floyd Milton, lowered the record by 3 3-5 seconds, the previous mark of 3.11 1-5 having been established here by Allen Spencer in 1947.

Ald. Doug Miller, manager of the Petes' lacrossers, doesn't like our criticism of the club raising admission prices 50 per cent for its playoff with Hamilton at the season's close. His arguments are that the club didn't reserve any section here all season—at extra cost—that the Petes had longer trips in senior "A" play, and the operating expenses were much heavier than a year ago. He states emphatically: "We were not at all unfair to the fans and most of them were quite satisfied to pay more in playoffs." Maybe so, but some weren't, Doug. We don't think a 50 per cent raise instead of 15 per cent—for the extra OLA cut—was necessary to see the same teams which played in the schedule performing in playoffs.

* * * * * *

We will always publish the other chap's side of it, and we know the Petes had much heavier expenses in '49 than in '48. But why not raise the prices all season, instead of jumping 'em at playoff time when everyone wanted to attend? Petes' ballsters—though in the hole whilst the lacrossers were well ahead—didn't raise their prices, even with a trip to Chatham overnight facing 'em. Doug also tells us our job is to report sports and not try to tell clubs how to operate. We have a two-fold reply to that (a) our column is for comments, praise, criticism, etc., and (b) he shouldn't tell us how to write if he doesn't want us to tell him how to run a club. Yeah, they all love bouquets, but they dislike bricks. We write for fans and readers, not for clubs.

Winding Up The OASA

OASA sends along Bulletin 19, listing softball winners. St. Kitts won senior "A", Toronto senior "B" and Oshawa Pedlars the intermediate "A". Toronto also took junior "A" and "B" while Hastings won the junior "C" title, and Cobourg took the juvenile "B" crown. Oshawa midgets and bantams won their zone finals. There were 421 Ontario playdown games with 1,936 teams taking part—a fine showing. The 1949 teams entered totalled a record 30,933, showing how popular the game is throughout the province. It is popular here, but our winners seldom hurdle the strong Oshawa opposition in the first round of playdowns. Next annual meeting is in Owen Sound.

J. A. Jebson advises us that his Memorial Centre committee has picked four delegates to meet a sub-committee of the city council. The four are Bill Eastwood, Frank Buckland, Ed Riley and Harold Dormer and they're ready to meet the councilmen anytime, the purpose being to get the official feeling of the council and the estimated cost of the George St.-Townsend St. property as a site for the Centre. It is understood that this site has the blessing of the council, and the Centre committee is all for it, too. But the extra cost for foundation work is a problem yet to be worked out before actual construction can take place. As soon as this is arranged, the Centre committee is prepared to go to work.

Legion Looked Okay

Quite a crowd on deck at Civic Arena last eve for the Rotary Club exhibition puck tilt. Legion defeated Lindsay—by way of Toronto—Meteors in a neat 7-6 tussle. Good hockey for so early in the season. The 1948-49 champs look right promising again but, of course, need a lot of work together before they're cliking up to their playoff form of last spring. They'll be tough to beat later, but those Toronto huskies won't be any setups, either. A good exhibition but too late in starting—and it was real late finishing, but they ran four periods and there were a lot of draws for this, that and a car, by the Rotarians. 'Twas okay, with no fog from the ice this time and not too much hot air from the officials.

Oakville Braves rubbed out the local Panthers from further ORFU competition last eve in Morrow Park, using a 13-0 eraser in the process. Thus endeth the Panthers of 1949 with one victory in six starts, a rather sorry showing. They tried hard and came awfully close several games, but just didn't have quite enough this semester. Sorry to see them fade from the picture so soon, as they are a good bunch of fellows, who never quit trying—but both Orillia and Oakville proved superior to them this year. Two PCVS teams play at the Oval this afternoon against Humberside squads in exhibitions, while St. Peter's have a junior group fixture up Lindsay way.

Panthers Lose By 13 to 0 In Last Game

Oakville Braves made it two straight this week over the Peterborough Panthers with a 13-0 victory Friday night at Morrow Park. Monday the Panthers suffered a 23-11 setback at the hands of the Braves in Oakville. Friday's game was the last scheduled fray for the Panthers, who finished with one win and five losses.

A concentrated Panther ground attack twice sent the Braves back to their teepees in the first quarter, but superb punting by the Braves held the Panthers off the score sheet. The scene shifted to Panthers' zone in the second quarter where the Braves took to the air for a major score and a point (a kick to the deadline). The third quarter's play lagged between the 25-yard lines with the Braves once at the Panthers' den. The Braves on the ground attack took the Panthers for a major score and a convert in the fourth with another kick to the deadline being added to make it 13-0.

Pass Starts It

Play started deep in the Braves territory in the second quarter, but a McKay-to-Whitnel pass from the Oakville 29 to the 40 started Whitnel on a run which took him to the Panthers' 25. Kent and Bury carried to the Panthers 10 where McKay flipped to Whitnel for a major score. In the same quarter Oakville recovered a Panther fumble at the Panthers 25. Watson promptly booted for a point well beyond the deadline. Bury's brilliant footwork carried him from the Panthers 35 to the 16 at the start of the fourth quarter. Plunges by Watson and Whitnel took the ball to the 10-yard line where Anderson, formerly of Balmy Beach, plunged over for the touch with the convert being booted by Watson. Late in the quarter Watson again booted to the deadline for a point from the Panther 10-yard line.

Twice in the first quarter the Panthers, led by the plunging of Rip Van Allen and the running of Conlin and Plunkett, were within major scoring distance. Watson's long punts twice put the Panthers back to the centrefield stripe. A Conlin-to-Plunkett pass was good for 20 yards near the end of the first half. Plunkett lateralled to Matthews who carried to the Oakville 15. Watson again came to the rescue of the Braves by intercepting a pass on the 10 and running it out to the Oakville 30 to end the half. A Matthews-to-Plunkett pass near the end of the game was incomplete as Plunkett was over the touchline, but could not hold the slippery ball.

Milligan, McKay and Watson were the standouts of the Braves backfield, with Stirrup, Cooke, Hook, Appleton, and Whitnel the best of the linemen. Rip Van Allen and Conlin went well for the Panthers in the backfield, with Burns, Beatty and Hill good on the frontline.

The lineups:

Leafs, Rangers Make Debuts For New Season

By The Canadian Press.

The last two National Hockey League clubs get into the act tonight.

With the other four clubs already started on the longer-than-ever, 210-game schedule, Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers make their debuts. The Leafs meet Chicago Black Hawks in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. The Rangers tackle the Canadiens at the Montreal Forum.

It's the start of a double stint for both Leafs and Rangers. Both take part in the next matches of the four-game week-end, Toronto going to Detroit to meet the Red Wings and New York clashing with the Bruins at Boston.

Once all six clubs have launched their 70-games-a-team schedules, the railbirds may have some idea of how they compare with the long grind that culminates in the Stanley Cup playoff next April.

So far, by virtue of opening victories, the Canadiens and the Red Wings are top dogs. The Wings inaugurated the season on Wednesday night by edging Boston 2-1 at Detroit and Canadiens followed up at home Thursday night by blanking Chicago 4-0

False Prophet

That Chicago victory incidentally made Canadiens' coach Dick Irvine look something of a false prophet. Irvin had just selected the Hawks bolstered by obtaining goalie Frankie Brimsek from Boston, to win the NHL League championship by 10 points

Irvin conceded after the game, however, that he didn't mind looking bad on that one.

The Leafs won't arrive in Toronto from their training camp at St. Catharines, until a couple of hours before game time tonight. Right winger Bill Ezinicki, out with a swollen ankle, will be the only regular missing action.

Outside of Brimsek, the Hawks will also show a newcomer in Jim Bedard, young rearguard up from Kansas City.

Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario will formally face off the puck for the Toronto contest.

Charles Defends Boxing Title KO's Valentino

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15 — (AP)—Ezzard Charles successfully defended his National Boxing Association heavyweight title Friday night when he knocked out Pat Valentino, mop-haired San Francisco challenger in 35 seconds of the eighth round of their scheduled 15-round match.

Charles weighed 182; Valentino 188½.

The first heavyweight championship battle held in this city in 40 years, it was a slambang right that record crowd of 19,500 fans cheering wildly at times.

Charles, a swift-footed and sharp-punching Cincinnati Negro crushed the title hopes of the latest challenger to his crown with a smashing right to the jaw. Valentino, who had exchanged blow for blow in furious rallies, went back and down with a thud. He tried to stagger to his feet but fell back a groggy and beaten man.

Referee Jack Downey tolled off the count of 10 and Charles had successfully defended for the second time the title he won last June.

The crowd was the largest ever to see an indoor fight in California and the gate receipts of $167,870 established a new mark for the State.

Although he was counted out on the canvas, Valentino went down fighting. He gave Charles a convincing argument during the early part. He had a margin in the second and third rounds when he scored heavily on the champion's midsection.

Tigers Hammer 3-1 Win Over Flying Dutchmen

By The Canadian Press.

A lot of new hockey talent stepped on the ice last night and 12 coaches saw the results of the way they had shifted old players and worked in new ones to prepare for the 1949-50 Ontario Hockey Association season.

Some of them had reason to be pleased after the six games, but others undoubtedly will continue to re-arrange their players.

Hamilton Tigers, in the senior loop, hammered out a 3-1 victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen, whipping in two last-period goals after a tight first two periods. At Toronto, senior Marlboros swamped the Owen Sound Mercuries 7-1.

In the junior series, four games indicated that the team emerging Ontario champions at the end of the season will have to battle through some pretty tough opposition.

Overtime Tie

Toronto junior Marlboros fought to a 2-2 overtime with Guelph Biltmores. Stratford Kroehlers eked out a 4-3 victory over Oshawa Generals in a rough game which saw 15 penalties, including two majors to each team, handed out in the first two periods alone. Even St. Michael's College Majors, who never were serious contenders in last year's race, fought stubbornly before falling 5-3 before Barrie Flyers, 1948-49 Ontario champs.

The only lop-sided junior score of the night was registered at St. Catharines where the Teepees swamped Galt Black Hawks 12-2.

At Hamilton, the visiting Dutchmen took the lead when George Blake beat goalie Art Childs. Tom Smeltz tied it up for Bengals in the second frame on a pass from Blanchard. Tigers took advantage of a Dutchmen penalty to Mike Dzuira in the final frame to whip two fast goals past Bev Bentley. Murray Comfort scored the first and Clare Shillington banged in the clincher.

Marlboros had little trouble with the Mercs. In the final frame with the help of Scotty Mair's three goals, they banged home five unanswered counters. Flash Hollett, Red Johnson, Al Buchanan and Johnny McClellan each scored once for Marlboros. Only Owen Sound goal was by Pat McReavy.

Even Game

Most evenly-fought game of the junior loop was the Marlboro-Guelph game. Guelph tallied first on Don Bellringer's goal but nine minutes later Marlies' Ron Hurst tied it up and in the second frame Sarkisian put the Toronto club one up. Guidolin tied it up again for Guelph a few minutes later and the teams fought out a scoreless third frame and 10-minute overtime.

Barrie Flyers showed a bit of their last season's championship form to take a 5-1 lead over St. Michael's by the end of the second stanza. The stubborn collegians took advantage of Flyer penalties in the last frame to pop in two unanswered goals. Real Chevreflis, with three goals was Barrie's high scorer. Johnny Bobenic and Bill Hagan scored the other two. Irish goals were by Alain, Bill Marshall and Labine.

Generals Beaten

Despite two last-period goals, at Stratford, Oshawa Generals were unable to overcome Kroehler's three-goal lead. Stratford went one goal up in the first frame, saw Generals tie it up early in the second stanza and then banged in two more to take a handy two-goal lead. Oshawa tried to tie the count early in the third frame but scored only one goal before Stratford blinked the light again. Berwick kept Oshawa in the game with a goal at the 13-minute mark, but a tight Stratford defence kept the motor city team from tying it up. Dinny Flanagan, Draper, Jack Ashley and French were Kroehler marksmen while Billy Burwick, with two goals and Sonny Hooper with one goal, scored for Oshawa.

At St. Catharines, Jack McIntyre scored four goals for Teepees to lead the 12-2 scoring spree of Galt. Mullen counted two. Brown, Gord Byers, Obie O'Brien Red Sullivan, Con Switzer and Norm Corcoran added one apiece. Bronoc Horvath, with two goals, was the Galt marksman.

ON CANADIAN TEAM—Bruce Atkinson, Vancouver bike speedster, will be one of Canada's representatives in the bicycle events at the British Empire Games in New Zealand next January. He was picked after the recent trials in Vancouver.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Conny Smythe thinks his Toronto Maple Leafs are a solid playoff club but he isn't saying how they'll make out in the National Hockey League's 70-game schedule.

At a press conference at Toronto Friday on the eve of the Leafs' first home game tonight against Chicago Black Hawks, the Toronto club's boss picked Montreal Canadiens as the team most likely to come charging down in front during the scheduled season, lengthened by ten games this year.

He liked the Canadiens because they have more players of all-star calibre than the other clubs. With more chances to score, a sharpshooting player like Maurice Richard would score often enough to win some extra games. He remarked that the Rocket was a greatly relaxed athlete this year and if "Elmer Lach holds up the Canadiens will come first."

As to the Leafs, unless they produced what Smythe called hockey's "home-run hitters" the team might find the going tough during the schedule.

He put his finger on one weakness of the Toronto team. "No other club is sitting on a blockbuster like we are," he said. "If anything happens to goalie Turk Broda we'll be up against it."

Continuing to unload their second-rate performers at the rate of two a day, Brooklyn Dodgers Friday announced the sale of Marvin Rackley to Cincinnati Reds and Dick Whitman to Philadelphia Phils. Both are outfielders.

"No other players were involved," a Dodger official said in making the announcement. "We received an undisclosed cash consideration."

It was believed the Dodgers collected $50,000 for the 28-year-old Rackley and $25,000 for Whitman who reaches his 29th birthday next month. The Brooks were reported to have received $100,000 from Chicago Cubs Friday for pitcher Paul Minner and first baseman Preston Ward.

At New York Hugh Casey, veteran relief pitcher, got a 36th birthday present Friday—his unconditional release from the world champion New York Yankees.

The Yanks cut loose Casey and sent reliefer Ralph Buxton to Kansas City in a deal by which Paul Hinrichs, righthanded bonus pitcher, moves from the blue to the parent club.

Casey, hero of many Brooklyn Dodger victories, was picked up Sept. 4 after Pittsburgh Pirates let him go. He joined the club too late to be eligible for the world series but appeared in four games and 7 2-3 innings during the last month of the season. He had a 1-0 record.

Fullback Bob Sandberg, plagued by injuries, said Friday at Winnipeg he intends to quit football after this term with Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Sandberg joined the Western Interprovincial Football Union team three years ago and was a standout in the thrilling 1947 Canadian final when Bombers bowed 10-9 to Toronto Argonauts.

A former University of Minnesota player, the towering Sandberg has been bothered through this season with knee and leg injuries.

Confederation Wins

King Edward soccer aggregation lost to Confederation eleven in a senior fixture 2-0 Friday afternoon at King Edward Park. This win puts the winners in a playoff position.

Cautious tactics prevailed in the early stages with King Edward boys sticking to individual plays, while the winners confined their activities to combination that allowed Davis to break away repeatedly to test the custodian. Holland got a poor clearance to score. On resuming, heavy tackling held sway with the players awaiting the break that went in favor of Confederation when Simmons beat three men in a row and finished with a bullet-like drive to find the corner of the upright to make it 2-0.

King Edward—J. Haggart, goal; C. Chalmers and R. Tarkington, full backs; J. Sutherland, J. Hobart and E. Robins, half-backs; N. Johnston, G. Frizzel, L. Ball, B. Hogart and D. Hunt, forwards.

Confederation—M. Bryan, goal; R. Brock and M. Parry, full backs; B. Bryan, G. McIntosh and E. Dunstan, half-backs; B. Davis, D. Miller, R. Holland and C. Simmons, forwards. Subs.: T. Post, A. Rogers, A. Little.

Referee: Mr. Druery.

Say Bankruptcy Grim Threat Facing Britain

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Oct 14 — (CP) — British Financial Authorities watch their country's gold and dollars reserve with the anxiety of engineers eyeing a fractious pressure guage.

If the reserves drop below a certain point, Britain will be bankrupt. Few men, if any, know the exact figure at which the disaster would occur, but it cannot be far below the £351,-000,000 held at the end of September.

The reserves are shared by all members of the sterling bloc. They pay into it their dollar earnings and withdraw their dollar needs. If the pool was insufficient to meet these demands —bankrutcy.

"It would mean that the sterling area would break up; that British imports would fall sharply; and that in the resulting industrial disturbance there would be heavy unemployment and little chance of curing it," the sober Manchester Guardian said in a recent editorial.

The Guardian said there was only one solution: to earn more dollars. In the meantime it recommended a drastic retrenchment in domestic expenditure in Britain.

Blunt Descuption

No government spokesman has described the situation as bluntly as the Liberal Guardian, but a picture of what would happen to Britain if the dollar shortage intensified was drawn a year ago in the official journal of the Board of Trade, a government department.

The article outlined what would have happened in 1947 if dollar grants had not been made through the Euopean Recovery Plan.

"Rations of butter, sugar, cheese and bacon would all have had to be cut by over a third and there would have been less meat and eggs," it said.

"Cotton goods would have disappeared from the home market, supplies of footwear would have been reduced, the tobacco consumption would have been cut by three-quarters.

"Most serious of all, our supplies of raw materials for industry would have been affected. The general dislocation of industrial activities might well have brought unemployment figures up to 1,500,000 and would have become progressively worse as the lower standard of living resulted in diminished productive effort."

Two Showers Given For Telephone Girl

OMEMEE, Oct. 15 (ENS) Miss Jean Rowan, chief operator of Omemee telephone exchange, was twice honored recently at miscellanous showers prior to her approaching marriage.

The first party was at the home of Mr. F. Evans and was arranged by Miss Evelyn Evans and Miss Ruth Smith. The second was in Coronation Hall.

The latter was organized by the commissions of Emily Municipal Telephone Co. H. Deyell, village reeve, was chairman. Other speakers wre V. Fee, Reeve of Emily, and commissioners T. A. McConnell and A. Carroll. The gifts were presented by Mr. McConnell, Miss Rowan's fiance, Mr. Norman Thurston of Lindsford also attended.

After the presentation lunch was served. Chief entertainment was dancing with music by the Spier Orchestra of Bethany.

Strike Alternative

DETROIT, Oct. 15 — (AP) — Ford's 115,000 production workers were told bluntly by their C.I.O. union leaders Friday that the only alternative to the newly-won pension-plan is a strike. The warning was contained in a special four-page edition of the United Automobile Worker. Copies of the official union publication were sent to all U.A.W. members employed by Ford.

None Of Their Business

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 — (CP) — Stanley Knowles (CCF, Winnipeg North Centre) was told Friday in the Commons that the application of the Bell Telephone Company for increased rates in Ontario and Quebec is of no direct concern to the federal government. Transport Minister Chevrier told him the application is before the Board of Transport Commissioners and if "any of the parties" involved have grievances they can appeal from the Board's finding.

May Send Butter

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 —(CP) — Canadian butter now may be included in food parcels sent overseas, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Thursday night in the Commons. In previous years, inclusion of Canadian butter in food parcels was prohibited because of a shortage in Canada. As a result, companies such as Eaton's, Simpsons and others put Danish butter in the parcels.

RAIN CANCELS EVENTS—Sawdust was in big demand Wednesday at the International Plowing Match near Brantford as the tented exhibit area was turned into a quagmire after an all-night rain which forced cancellation of all plowing events. Despite unfavorable weather, crowds swarmed to the site of the big match wearing rubber boots, raincoats and carrying umbrellas. Left photo shows the sea of mud that is the exhibit area. Right is Brig. O. M. Martin of Toronto, Canada's only Indian magistrate, as he took part in the official opening ceremonies. Remarking on the prominent role residents of the Six Nations Reservation are playing in the match, Brig. Martin said "It seems this township is being given back to the Indians once more."

Community Honors Mr. and Mrs. H. Mark

OMEMEE Oct. 15 —(ENS) — Neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Graham, R. R. 3 Omemee, last week to honor their daughter Lorna. recently married to Henry Mark of Little Britain.

Mr. Wm. D. Weir was chairman for the evening's proceeding which included a double presentation, on behalf of the community. Mrs. V. Lang read the address accompanying a miscellaneous shower which was organized by Mrs. R. E. Brooks, Mrs. W. D. Weir, Mrs. G. Ingle and Mrs. V. Lang.

Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt of Trinity United Church spoke of the contribution Lorna had made in the teaching profession and in church life.

On behalf of the choir of which she had been a faithful member, and of YPU of which she was president last year, she was asked to accept tokens of appreciation. These were a large wall mirror and a mantel clock and were presented by Mrs Jean Cavers and Miss Dorothy Connell.

Games and dancing completed the evening's enjoyment and lunch was served.

Missing Actress Reported Seen

SALINAS, Calf., Oct 15 (AP) The missing movie extra, Jean Spangler, was reported seen in Monetery in a 1949 sedan Sheriff Jack L. McCoy said Thursday night.

McCoy said the woman was seen in a drive-in by three responsible persons about noon on Tuesday. He said they delayed reporting the incident until they were "all sure" that they had actually seen the gay movie extra missing since Friday night.

A bulletin sent out by the sheriff said the woman was accompanied by a dark, heavy set man who might have been a "Latin or Mexican."

Motorists See Bear, Two Cubs

MARMORA, Oct. 15 (ENS)— While driving a passenger to the CPR station at Bonarlaw on Tuesday, Mrs. Clara Smith, who was accompanied by her granddaughter Margaret Ann Smith, saw a large black bear and her two cubs wander out on the road. They ambled slowly along an old side road. The mother was large and the cubs were about as big as a medium sized dog. The old bear would stand up on her hind legs and look around.

A few weeks ago, while driving to William Bonter's at Crow Lake, Mrs Smith saw a large wolf leisurely crossing the road.

Vaughn Monroe Tries Westerns For A Change

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15 (AP) —Vaughn Monroe's bobby socked fans wouldn't recognize him. I found him on a western set out Republic way and he looked nothing like his smooth bandstand self. He was rigged up in a western outfit with a set of studio-made chin whiskers that made him look like a Smith Brother (the handsome one.)

The warbling maestro is here to play a cowpoke in "Singing Guns." He is lined up against such formidable talent as Ella Raines, Walter Brennan, Tard Bond and Jeff Corey. I asked asked him how he felt about acting with such competition in his first leading role.

He admitted being worried, but said he wasn't unprepared.

Rides Well

"I haven't done any roles," he pointed out, "but our business is largely a matter of acting most of the time."

He has been riding horseback most of his life, so that's no problem. However, his debut in the picture was almost his last scene. On location at Sedona, Ariz., his horse suddenly reared in the first shot .A hatchet fastened to the saddle slashed Monroe's wrist, missing a tendon "by an eighth of an inch." Three stitches were needed.

Aside from that incident, he finds movie work satisfying. He'd like to make one or two pictures a year, but no more.

No Work

"When I come out here to do a picture, the boys in the band have to lay off," he explained. "I feel an obligation to them."

Another concern is his children. He's not sure how he'll be received at home as a romantic horse opera star.

"I did a test at 20th-Fox last year in which I kissed a girl,' he said. "When I showed the film at home, my seven-year-old daughter thought I shouldn't have kissed the girl. She wouldn't look at the test the second time I ran it."

Unlike most western stars, Monroe gets to kiss the leading lady in his film, smacking Miss Raines twice.

WHALES HAVE IT TOO

Small amounts of ivory are obtained from the teeth of the sperm whale.

DISCUSS GREEK ISSUE—External Affairs Minister Pearson, right, head of the Canadian delegation to the United Nations General Assembly and chairman of the important political and security committee, presides over a meeting of the conciliation committee on the Greek question. Movie Council Guards Morals

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15 —(AP) —The United StatesMotion Picture industry has declared war on criminal elements in the film capital. And it is planned to steer newcomers to the movies on a straight moral course.

The recently-formed Motion Picture Industry Council, comprising nine major Hollywood guilds, labor and management groups representing some 35,000 individuals, announced the new program today.

The council adopted a resolution asserting "the Hollywood area long has been made a special target for extortionists, shakedown artists and other criminal elements who seek to entrap, and prey upon, the unwary and the unwise."

While it said the Hollywood crime rate is "considerably lower than in comparable communities elsewhere," it added this is "insufficient" and promised its cooperation to all law enforcement agencies "to further reduce or completely eliminate this source of notoriety, disrepute and public jeopardy."

Instinct Of Ownership Is Found In Everyone

REV. E. R. JAMES

What woman, having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light the candle and sweep the house and seek diligently till she find it. St. Luke 15; 8.

You gave your daughter a doll. With beaming face she hugged it to her bosom and very probably took it to bed with her that night. Have you noticed the emphasis in her voice when she says:—"My dollie". She is striving to teach you a profound and primitive truth. It is her doll. She is the owner. With the instinct of ownership she holds her doll. A little girl was naughty; her father took away her doll. She flew at him striking him and crying in a tone of intense bitterness. Her father gave her back the doll, marvelling at the storm of passion he had aroused. The instinct of ownership.

The instinct of ownership is found in everyone. It is the gift of God. Who is the owner of us all. This is the fundamental truth in these famous parables; "the lost coin; the lost sheep and the prodigal son". God made man in His own image and gave him His own gift of ownership with its resulting sense of loss. How true to life is the story. Every woman who heard it nodded her head. It is just what she would do. Her sense of ownership would spur her to turn the house upside down till she had found the coin. Christ would teach us that God Who is the owner of us all feels the loss of every individual; every one is valuable to God. You belong to God; you are God's property; His child.

COMPRESSED POWER. Do not forget that coin represents compressed power. It is generally given for value received. Human effort, labour, energy and industry have gone into that coin. It contains something of the life and blood of a man or woman; his energy, enthusiasm and zeal. When a member of God's family is lost. God Himself, as the owner, has lost something of spiritual value, energy enthusiasm and zeal shut up in that individual. A clever American economist remarks that money shut up or lost is money out of circulation. So the lost coin, the lost individual is for the time being out of circulation in God's family.

Moreover The Lord would teach us that a man is out of circulation, lost when he is out of helpful contact with his fellow men. You may be so buried with your business interests that you are out of touch with human life that passes by you; its sorrows and troubles do not touch your mind and heart. To that extent you are out of circulation — a lost coin.

You may be an a excellent house wife, absorbed in the cares and duties of your family circle. Nothing but the family interests you. You are in that sense a lost coin in God's sight. You have no touch or contact with other members of God's family.

This was the sin of the Pharisee, for whom the parable was spoken. He was absorbed in saving his own soul and refused to think of his fellow man in sorrow or trouble. The Pharisee was out of circulation in God's sight. He refused to use his zeal and enthusism to help his brother, a member of God's family. The Pharisee lives in every generation. Are you a Pharisee, a separated one, absorbed in saving your own soul; are you A LOST COIN?

THE LORD JESUS SAITH TAKE HEED HOW YE HEAR.

Old Testament Prophets Realists And Idealists

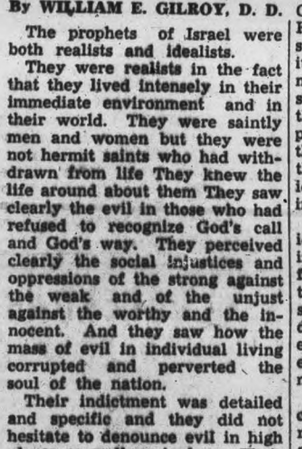
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The prophets of Israel were both realists and idealists.

They were realists in the fact that they lived intensely in their immediate environment and in their world. They were saintly men and women but they were not hermit saints who had withdrawn from life They knew the life around about them They saw clearly the evil in those who had refused to recognize God's call and God's way. They perceived clearly the social injustices and oppressions of the strong against the weak and of the unjust against the worthy and the innocent. And they saw how the mass of evil in individual living corrupted and perverted the soul of the nation.

Their indictment was detailed and specific and they did not hesitate to denounce evil in high places as well as in low. Their loyalty to their God was above their loyalty to the state or its king. In that ancient day they were in the spirit and courage of that Scottish saint who plucked his sovereign by the sleeve and called him "God's sillie vassal."

It is this realism that is the marvel of the Hebrew prophecies as it is of the Bible as a whole. But the prophets were idealists as well. Over against the evil that they saw in individuals and in the nation they portrayed the realities of the good life, the soundness of personal righteousness and trust in God. Such trust is revealed in the 46th Psalm. They saw the vision of a common-wealth established in a people accepting God's choice and God's call. They taught of relationships between men bound in mercy and justice and of a social life strong in its integrity.



There was realism and idealism too as the prophets looked out upon the surrounding nation, ever threatening the morals and spiritual integrity of Israel with their paganism and ever a physical threat as well from their contending and invading armies.

In the tense situation they saw trust in God and devotion to God as the great hope of the Hebrew people's strength and safety. They saw this threat and its impending doom as a judgment upon the nation for its sins even if the mediators of this judgment were themselves pagan and evil. But over against that world of threat and strife they pictured a righteous and ideal Israel leading the nations into ways of peace.

How much of this vision and ideal of the prophets was realized? We known how Israel failed, and came down in disaster and exile—the disaster that swept away the Northern Kingdom of the Ten Tribes and the exile of the people of the Southern Kingdom. It is a story of moral downfall and judgment.

What we do not perhaps so clearly apprehend is the non-realization of the dream of peace and righteousness for the nations. Perhaps the clearest and most definite expression of that dream of peace is in Isaiah 19:23-25. But where is there evidence of that happy issue for Egypt and Assyria, through the mediation of a glorious vision of peaceful Israel? We read the glorious vision of peace in Isaiah 35 with the realization that it is a dream yet unfulfilled.

But the fact that the goal is yet unattained does not make it less great or desirable. Neither does it detract from the greatness and glory of those prophets who in times of violence never lost faith in God, or hope for humanity.

DR. KENNETH BEATON one of the leading ministers of the United Church and author of several books including the present study book of the Church, "Growing Through The Years" who will preach at the morning and evening services of the George Street United Church on Sunday.

Girl, 9, Killed Returning From Roseneath Fair

A trip to the Roseneath Fair ended in tragedy Friday night when Nancy Davis, age 9, of Roseneath, was killed in a car accident at Burnley Corners on Highway 45. Two brothers of the dead girl and the driver escaped with minor injuries.

The vehicle, driven by Harvey Lingard, of Bewdley, had just descended a hill and rounded a sharp curve on the highway, which is under construction at that point, when it crashed into the rear of another southbound car.

After the impact the Lingard car went out of control, veered sharply down a bank and rolled over once or twice. The girl, riding in the rumble seat with her brother Norman, 12, was thrown 15 or 20 feet and killed instantly.

The others remained in the car. Norman received cuts and a minor shaking up, but his brother Kenneth, 15, and Lingard were both taken to Cobourg Hospital where they were treated for cuts and shock.

Coroner Dr. W. E. Wilkins attended the scene of the accident and later released the body for burial. No decision on an inquest has yet been made. The remains were taken to Port Hope.

Driver of the second car involved was Fred Toms, of Garden Hill. Both were proceeding in the direction of Cobourg on the highway, and traffic from the Roseneath Fair was described as heavy.

Provincial Police had a difficult time opening up the highway for traffic because of the large number of motorists who stopped to view the scene of the accident. Eventually they had to threaten to take the licence numbers of those who refused to move on.

Provincial Constable Lyle Lyle Erskine, of Cobourg, investigated.

Accidental Death

MONTREAL, Oct. 15—(CP)—Coroner's court Friday ruled accidental death in the case of Jean Charles Labrosse, 19, a fugitive from St. Jerome Jail who was shot here Tuesday by Special Constable Emile Vottero. Vottero told joint Coroner Pieere Hebert that he surprised Labrosse and two others who had escaped from the jail attempting to commit a burglary.

Heavy Population Increase Good Augury, C of C Told

A favorable attitude towards immigration prevails—with a few exceptions—throughout Canada, H. G. Colebrook, chairman of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce's Immigration Committee, told the members of the Peterborough Chamber Friday night. He was guest speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Chamber in the Empress Hotel. His topic was "Immigration".

Churches and social organizations claim it is the moral duty to help the unfortunate peoples of Europe who have suffered, he explained. Business interests single out the prosperity which has been associated with immigration into Canada in the past, and cast encouraging eyes towards increased immigration. Even labor which has tended traditionally to oppose immigration takes no really antagonistic stand at the present time.

Mr. Colebrook said that in order to formulate any realistic immigration policy the present situation must be investigated. In the decade since 1939, he said, the total population has increased much more than in the previous 10 years. He gave as reasons the combination of war and the high level of economic activity which affected the birth rate considerably. The natural increase annually since the end of the war has been between 200,000 and 250,000. Also the Province of Newfoundland was added last March, which added some 325,000 people to the total population of Canada. Since 1945 there has been a substantial inflow of worthy people from Europe, Mr. Colebrook said.

Canada's population, he said, is estimated at 13,545,000 which compares with 11,267,000 in 1939 and 10,029,000 in 1929. This rate, he said, is as promising as for the first 15 years of this century.

Population Concentrations

The distribution of this population north and south is about the same as 20 and 30 years ago. Over 50 per cent of Canada's population lives within an area which extends 100 miles north of the United States border, he added. At the moment, he continued, nearly 80 per cent of the land has less than one person per square mile. The remaining 20 per cent is populated at the average between 14 and 20 people per square mile. He said this points out that Canada is largely a country of regional population concentrations with widely uninhabited areas.

In the last few years the most rapid expansion has been in the Province of British Columbia and in the St. Lawrence River lowlands. By contrast, there has been an alarming decrease in the population in the Prairie Provinces. From 1936 to 1946 the decrease has been 175,000 people, but the exodus now shows signs of ending.

The problem, Mr. Colebrook said, was "How are we going to keep them down on the farm."

Young boys and girls, Mr. Colebrook explained, brought up on the farms are being attracted by the increasing industrial life. As a result the average age of the farm population is increasing almost every year. The flow of young people away from the land, he added, could easily create a serious agricultural problem.

Selective Immigration

Selective immigration is necessary since the people who come to Canada will be fellow citizens, he explained. He said that Selectivity as a principle in the immigration policy is good but that it could be carried to the point where desirable citizens who would make a real contribution to Canada are excluded.

According to the immigration act there is a priority group of British Commonwealth citizens, Ireland, United States and France to whom admission to Canada is readily granted. There is a secondary group, he added, of close relatives of persons legally domiciled in Canada. The third category is comprised of citizens of non-Asiatic countries who are coming to Canada as agriculturists. The same classification includes miners and woodworkers who are assured of employment here.

Craftsmen Needed

Mr. Colebrook recommended that the immigrants be required to meet certain standards of health, morals, education and skills. Something along this line has been done but more can be done, he said. It is particularly important to get highly skilled craftsmen into Canada and not to worry about getting too many in any particular trade.

"Immigration is a real challenge to our strength, not to our weakness", said Mr. Colebrook in closing. "If we are to reap to the full the greatest potential of this country we must have more people at the right time in the right numbers and there is no reason why it cannot be done."

Lorne Bateman introduced Mr. Colebrook who was thanked by John Broadhurst.

SAW BALL OF FIRE

The one and only spectator report of the mysterious ball of fire which appeared in the sky on Thursday at midnight comes from Chief Constable Garnet Samis of Lakefield. While crossing the bridges at the western approach to the village he stopped to watch the spectacle in the heavens which took place, according to his watch, at 1:04 a.m. DST, Friday. He said that the comet-like light shot from the eastern horizon to the west trailing a blue-purple flame eight times wider than an ordinary comet. The afterglow was brilliant and lasted in the sky for about eight minutes, he estimated.

20 Names Proposed On Directors' Slate

A list of 20 names were presented on Friday night at the quarterly dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce as nominees for the directorate. P. D. Scollard, the chairman of the committee proposed for nomination the following names: James Archibald, Gordon Armstrong, Bert Austin, Blake Bell, John Broadhurst, Lionel Brown, Gordon Dobbin, James Dutton, Jr., J. E. Girven, Harold Inman, Jacob Low, John Madden, Herbert Mason, Rod McDonald, T. E. McKay, William Ovens, Robert Pierson, Charles Pilon, P. D. Scollard and Ross Thompson.

Fifteen directors will be elected to form the directorate, the elections being held in January

School Grounds Parking Area

Peterborough's parking problem has now become so acute that City Council is asking the use of Central School grounds during off hours.

At a meeting of the Board of Education it was decided to turn the matter over to the Property Committee to make a study of the situation and report back to the Board later. The request was from the special committee formed by City Council to go into the problem of parking facilities, particularly in the downtown area.

The special committee has been looking for convenient parking areas and asked the Board to consider possible use of the Central School grounds in the evenings and on Saturdays. It was pointed out in correspondence that the grounds would be lighted and traffic would not interfere with pupils.

When questioned by Chairman Frank Jobbitt whether or not the parking would interfere with pupils, K. S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools, said there was no supervised area on the grounds but children played there from time to time.

After making the motion to refer the matter to the Property Committee, G. Wilson Craw said: "I'd like to meet the city's request but not if it means a playground being used. We have too few playground now especially in the central part of the city."

A FLOWER BELT

Weather may be milder on the south side of Rice Lake and the Trent. It hardly seems possible, but it appears to be the only explanation for beds of bright petunias, giant dahlias and other flowers along the Hastings-Roseneath road. Around Peterborough their first cousins were among the fallen after that September frost. The flower show at Roseneath Fair was a surprising collection of bloom and plants.

Two Safety Measures Placed Before Board of Education

Two safety measures, designed to protect schoolchildren from the hazards of motor traffic, have been discussed by the Board of Education. A communication was received from the City Council asking the Board if it was interested in adopting the system of placing dummy traffic sentinels at crossroads where there were no stoplights.

The sentinels might be in the form of mechanical policemen, made of wood or some other suitable material, placed at intersections at convenient times. Senior boys would be entrusted with the task of placing them at suitable corners during the morning, noon, and late afternoon. After the main rush of children had gone by the sentinels would be removed by the senior boys.

Motorists seeing these dummy sentinels would take extra precautions with their driving.

Kitchener is reported to have purchased 30 of these sentinels for $700, and is finding them useful.

The Board decided to favor the city trying them out at a particular area at the discretion of the police. Superintendent Wightman was instructed to take the matter up with city authorities and make specific arrangements.

It is understood their use would be only experimental until such time as their efficiency was gauged.

Change In Hours

To keep school children off dangerous streets during the periods of heavy motor traffic Robert J. Bolton, principal of Prince of Wales School, proposed an altering of the school day.

The child would go into public school at 8:45 a.m. and work through till 11:30 p.m. with no recess but a break period. The afternons would be form 1:30 till 4 p.m. Senior classes would not get the five-minute break, but would have their morning of academic work punctuated by a period of physical training.

The present school day is from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. with a 15-minute recess; and the afternoon is also 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Mr. Bolton's proposal, also an experiment was approved by the Board. It will only be tried at Prince of Wales for the time being.

Dr. H. G. Carleton queried Superintendent Wightman on the fact that recess would be abolished. He was informed that, particularly in winter, the younger children by the time they struggled in an out of their heavy clothing had about the same around of free time as the break now offered.

The senior pupils would have the advantage of PT periods.

Choralians Sing In Peterborough St. James Church

The Campbellford Choralians, a group of 13 woman singers, presented a concert in St. James' United Church Friday under the auspices of the King's Own Class.

Under the direction of Mrs. A. G. Watson, the choir displayed a versatility and quality of performance which can be achieved only by constant practice under an accomplished conductor.

The singing was at its best in the lilting waltz from Gounod's "Faust" and the Negro spiritual, "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho".

Most outstanding feature of the group singing was the excellence of the diction, as the words rose clearly above the organ accompaniment.

Opening with Handel's "Holy Art Thou" Mozart's "Alleluia," and Monk's setting of "Abide With Me" the choir followed with the 16th centuary air, "The Staines Morris" arranged by Fletcher and there was a group of three Negro spirituals.

Mrs. F. G. DeCarroll, ARCT gave an excellent rendering of Arditi's "Il Baccio" and the rustic song "O Can Ye Sew Cushions."

Perhaps the most difficult choice of the choir was "Mary of Argyle". The sustained breathing treatment which they gave this song calls for exceptionally good control and flaws in the rendering are more noticeable in a small group than a larger choir. The Choralians lacked smoothness necessary to obtain the full effect of such treatment, but this was accentuated only by the high standard of the preceding songs.

A pleasant item in the program was an instrumental trio by Mrs. E. Johnson, violin; Mrs. G. Nicholls, piano and Lenna Snider, ATCM, organ. They played Bendix's "The Dawn of Love" and the Bach-Gounod Meditation."

Snider and Mrs. Nicholls also played "Moonlight Sonata" and Saint-Saens' 'The Swan'.—H.P.

Lawyers, Farmers Have Best Chance For Parliment

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—(CP)—Admission to the bar still is the most promising milestone on the route to parliament. Being a farmer is next best, but there's practically no limit to the number of professions which might lead to the "M.P." after a man's name, or a woman's either, although this is an all-male Commons. A survey of the professions of members of the new parliament shows 81 lawyers in the 262-seat House of Commons. Some 45 are farmers, 20 are merchants and the rest range from gentlemen to plumbers.

Prime Minister St. Laurent in nomination papers for the June 27 Federal Election listed his occupation—naturally enough—as "Prime Minister of Canada." Opposition leader George Drew described himself as "Barrister." M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader marked down "national leader," and Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, party, wrote simply, "gentleman."

Eight others listed themselves as gentlemen. Nine called themselves publishers and managers. Eight were teachers, but one described himself as an educationist.

In the new house there are six doctors, six manufacturers, six "agents," four accountants, four insurance salesmen, and three ministers, civil engineers, salemen, lumber dealers and contractors.

There are dentists, sales managers, mining engineers and miners, and a hockey-coach—Bucko McDonald, the Liberal member from Parry Sound-Muskoka.

Show Versatility

How versatile can a Commons get? Here are some of the other listings:

Secretary, insurance broker translator, textile dyer, chiropractor, civil servant, train dispatcher, business man, organist, administrator, architect, electrical engineer, plumber, fisherman, logger, organizer, broker, motorman, exporter and cashier.

Private Lives

At a press conference, reporters were trying to find out two of the intimate things in the life of Donald Gordon, the Scottish-born, newly-named president of the Canadian National Railways. One was his pay. The other was his politics.

Mr. Gordon said he couldn't divulge his salary. All he could say was that he would start on the same basis as that on which his predecessor departs. "But," he added with a grain, "I understand it changes from time to time. . .I hope. That's a proper Scotch reply isn't it?"

When they questioned him about his politics, Mr. Gordon escaped with the observation: "I've always said my politics are an interest in good government."

The resolution was handed to Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission Chairman Robert H. Saunders, who addressed the gathering.

Mr. Saunders said he would meet within two weeks to discuss the situation with a committee to be named by the association. Also joining the discussion will be representatives of the Georgian Bay district.

District Holstein Championships Here Tuesday — Results of Northumberland Black and White Day at Warkworth—Durham Plowing Match Thursday Next

The cream of the Holstein cattle of ten central Ontario counties will appear in the show ring at Morrow Park Tuesday for the annual Black and White district finals.

Stanley Wood, secretary Peterborough Holstein Breeders' Association, estimated yesterday that probably 160 to 170 head would be paraded before the judge, J. Durno Innes of Woodstock, second vice-president of the Canadian Holstein Breeders' Association.

Cautious with his opinions, Mr. Wood said: "I think this is going to be the biggest show we have ever had for the Central Ontario championships. Interest in all the county Black and White Days throughout the province has been stronger than ever. More breeders have taken part, and they have exhibited more cattle.

From that indication, I think we can look forward to a heavy entry list. The general feeling is that it is going to be a big exhibition of the best Holstein cattle in the ten counties."

Animals elegible for the district finals are those that have been winners in the county competitions. The district comprises Simcoe, York, Ontario, Victoria, Durham, Peterborough, Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox-Addington.

The Port Perry show suggested that there has been no decline in the high level of Holsteins in Ontario county, and those good herds that have been prominent here in the last two years are likely to be strongly represented again.

Breeder rivalry is keen and and friendly, and the Holstein fraternity evidently does not lose anything in the spirit of harmony and co-operation by making competition tough.

Judging begins at 10 a.m. Tuesday with the prospect that the senior male section may be a little lighter than usual, possibly an effect of the artificial breeding development in the last three years.

COMPLIMENTS NORWOOD

Speaking from a recent and painful experience, Norman McConkey said the directors of Norwood Fair deserved a compliment for their farm implement competition stressing skill and safety in the operation of the new machines.

With a wry laugh, Mr. McConkey said he was thankful that his recent accident with a tractor resulted only in severe bruises to one leg. "I was lucky I didn't lose it, and I guess there was some carelessness on my part.

I suppose 75% of the operation of tractors is by juniors. Once some of these young fellows can start and steer a tractor, they get the idea that there isn't much more to learn. It is not so easy to tell them the fine points. I suppose that applies to some of us who are not so young.

The Norwood competition was for junior farmers, and from what I read about it, the Peterborough juniors did a fine job in the way they directed this event. They are to be congratulated, and I hope we are going to have more contests of that kind.

We read about accidents and fatalities in farming throughout the country, some of them caused in the use of tractors, and we are not sufficiently impressed with the possibility that they can and do happen, and especially that they can happen to us. We don't see ourselves as the possible victim. The lesson from those happenings is that there is always the need of care, that everyone using the new farm machinery should be impressed by the importance of safety.

That is why I would like to commest to Arthur Brethen and his directors that this new competition was something we should have been doing long before this. That is one of the helpful things an agricultural society can do I'm glad that our junior farmers made such a good job in handling it.

Mr. McConkey said he might be laid up at home for a month or more. His leg is black and blue from heel to thigh, is badly bruised and the kneecap split. And the Black and White championships are coming up on Tuesday.

"May be I'll be able to get down in the car for half an hour or so," he hoped. "That would be a penalty if I couldn't look in. Besides, I wanted to show some of my own cattle. I guess I can get some one to take care of them."

The reserve senior championship went to Soveregn Mack who stood second for Gordon S. Macklin, Cobourg in this class. However, the reserve grand was taken by the junior champion, Inka Supreme Jim shown by N. Craig Nelson and the winner in the Senior Bull Calf Class. D. C. Hoskin had the reserve junior taking this award on Otonabee Triune Grand, the first prize senior yearling bull.

In the group classes Craig Nelson had a field day winning five out of six. He took both senior and junior get-of-sire classes on gets of Lucky Supreme, the junior progeny of dam on produce of Inka Danure Bos and also had the winning graded herd and junior herd. Thomas J. County Girls Study Club Leadership

Six of the Peterborough county girls who attended their Leader Training School here this week were (left to right): Gertrude Dunford, Lakefield; Irene McIlmoyl, Apsley; Mrs. Marie King, of Belmont township; Eleanor Whitfield, Fraserville; Mrs. G. R. Baker, Norwood; Barbara Cuffe, Warsaw.

Eleven girls attended the two-day sessions. They are leaders of homemaking clubs in their respective areas, and from the training school they obtain ideas and methods to be relayed to their club members. Their project this year is entitled "The Club Girl Sands On Guard."

Miss Jean Noble, district home economist of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, was in charge of the school. Eleven leaders attended.

"There are other centers in the county with groups of girls whom we would like to have associated with us in our club work," Miss Noble told the Examiner. "We have invited them to come into the training school work through selected leaders, and we are hoping that they will decide to accept. It would strengthen our work in the county, and would bring so many more girls directly into our homemaking plans."

The program here this week, keeping in mind the idea of standing on guard, included a talk on public health services by Dr. R. A. Kelly, M.O.H.; demonstration of first aid work, such as resuscitation, bandaging and so on, by three members of the St. John Ambulance Association. Mrs. Betty Warren, Mrs. Alice Thompson and Mrs. F. Wetherup; and an instructive talk on books and library advantages by Miss Muriel Preston of the Peterborough Public Library.

Membership of the local clubs is from six to twelve girls and those who are invited to join are from 12-20 years. It is a rural activity in community life that asists in preparation for the future, is sponsored by the Ontario Department of Agriculture and approved by the Women's Institute.

Freshettes End Trying Week At OAC, Guelph

Countenances will brighten as this week ends at Macdonald Institute, Guelph, where freshettes have been absolutely forbidden, on threat of more drastic punishment, to use make-up of any kind during their week-long initiatory period.

This is one of the restrictions placed on the 31 new students in the four-year degree course by the sophomores. It also marks the first official initiation ever held at the girl's school at Ontario Agricultural College. The degree course was started last year, so that the 25 students in the sophomore class escaped complete initiation in their freshman term.

The Freshettes have been required to wear large white aprons with red frills and tied with blue ribbon. Their heads were adorned with hats with crown of red and white patches and white brim and they had huge placards on their backs which gave their names and addresses. The latter proved quite handy for the men students on the campus, but to make things that much worse, the girl were forbidden to speak to males at all.

Sophomores have been having their beds made, shoes shined and rooms cleaned up each day by the lowly frosh, and have been reciving special courtesy at all times.

The bequests were very gratefully received owing to several thousand dollars having been expended this year on fire escapes and alterations to the building for protection in case of fire which had depleted the capital account.

Male Mannequins First Parade Seen in Paris

PARIS, Oct. 15 (Reuters)—In his dove-grey and gilt salon a Paris tailor today presented the first male mannequin parade in the city's history— and declared war on the tailors of London who have so far thought themselves the kings of men's fashions.

"The art of French tailors yields nothing to that of London," tailor Gaston Waltener said, opening his show. To prove it, five young student actors paraded under the arclights displaying the clothes which Waltener wants the well-dressed man to wear this autumn and winter.

Each male mannequin was accompanied by a professional girl model intended to calm jittery nerves. But the boys self-consciously clung to the arms of their escorts and avoided the gaze of the predominantly female audience.

"Sports wear is the only wear in which men are free to exercise their fantasy and originality," Waltener said.

Well - dressed men should choose a middle way between discretion and elegance of color and line.

In the evening clothes displayed the classic cut of tails remains unaltered, but there was greater variety in the dinner wear.

A cross-section of French tailors who watched the display gave a few rules for the well-dressed monsieur, including:

1. A gentleman should never be remarkable for his clothes — only for his culture.
2. He should aim at dressing correctly and practically. Beauty is a woman's aim, efficiency a man's
3. Beards are out.

Strong Backing Needed for Nursing Education

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (CP) — If Canadian hospital training schools are to keep pace with the rapid development in the field of medicine, strong financial backing is needed to place at their disposal well-equipped teaching units similar to those used in United States hospitals.

That's the view expressed by Gwladwen Jones senior instructor at Toronto Western Hospital, who has just returned from a tour of United States hospitals during which she observed teaching methods in both classrooms and clinics.

"Just as the government assumes partial responsibility for the education of doctors, teachers, lawyers and other professions, so should the expense of nursing education be borne in part by the government," she said.

Vine-covered Trinity Church, in colorful autumn dress, softly spotlighted with October sunshine, presented a charming picture Friday afternoon to approaching tea guests of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary.

Arriving in the tea room they found the decorator, Mrs. R. Burnside, had utilized materials from the outdoors in arranging a delightful setting. Gay Balloons called attention to the sprays of sumac with its bright red buds which were hung about the wall and they nestled on the long and slender pine needles that covered the mantelpiece. Pillars in the room were delightfully twined with clinging vines.

The table for this Thanksgiving tea was laid with white embroidered linen and richly centred with fruits of the season, and flanked with lighted candles in the predominating color of the fall, a deep gold.

Piano selections by Mrs. H. V. Dobson added to the enjoyment of the crowd.

Filling tea cups during the afternoon were Mrs. H. T. Crosbie, Mrs. W. R. Philp, Mrs. H. T. Rehill, and Mrs. J. E. Middleton, and serving were Mrs. C Spearin, Mrs. B. McFadden, Mrs G. Hill, Mrs. A. 54-Carat Diamond Presents Problem

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP)—Princess Elizabeth is faced with a problem most women would enjoy solving—in what setting to wear a 54-carat pink diamond.

The diamond was given her as a wedding gift by Dr. John Williamson, African mining prospector formerly of Montreal.

At first Elizabeth thought it might be fitted into her personal crown but experts considered it might lose its glory among so many other jewels. They have suggested it should be mounted as a single stone in a pendant Evenly cut and polished, the stone measures more than half an inch across. It weighs 54 carats and has a nominal value of £26,000 ($80,600).

Dr. Williamson, a shy bachelor sent it secretly by emissary to the princess. Recently he refused an offer of £10,000,000 for his mine.

"What would I do with all that money?" he asked.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

When Mate Asks for Freedom What Should His Wife Do?

When should a wife give her husband a divorce?

There are as many angles to the divorce problem as there are in the human triangle, and there is no one infallible formula for solving them. Each case has its own individual peculiarities that spring from different characteristics and different circumstances.

Dorothy Dix

Not every man who falls out of love with his wife and in love with another woman is a philanderer or lacking in principle. Generally this is the result of his having married when he was a boy, and then finding when he was a mature man the woman who answered his need for a real mate. Very often it is the result of incompatibility, of two people being tied together who have nothing in common. Frequently it is that tragedy which can neither be forseen nor prevented of a man just losing his taste for his wife and then meeting some woman who is his heart's desire.

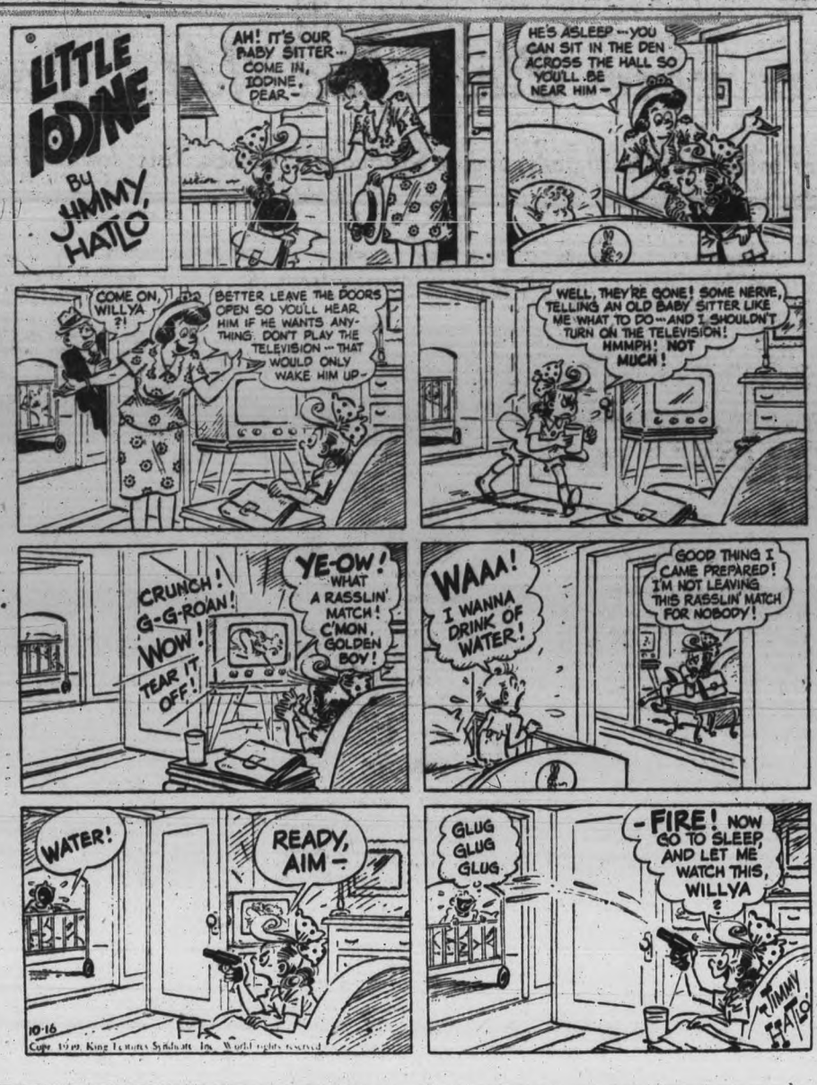
What should a wife do under such circumstances, when her husband comes to her and tells her that he has ceased to care for her and is in love with another woman and wants her to give him a divorce? He is willing to provide for her, but he wants to be free to marry the woman of his mature choice.

Revenge

The wife, of course, takes a sweet and bitter revenge by adopting a dog-in-the-manger policy and since her own marital happiness has been destroyed, prevents her husband from having any either. But revenge is dead sea fruit that turns to ashes between the teeth. Refusing to give her husband a divorce does not restore his love for her. Far better for children to have one parent whom they can respect than two parents they must despise because they are always hurling accusations against each other.

So I think that for the sake of a woman's own self-respect, for the sake of her peace of mind and for the good of the children, she does well when she gives her husband a divorce when she becomes convinced that he has ceased to love her and is honestly and permanently in love with some other woman.

But when the man is a born philanderer that is sosmething else again. The situation is entirely altered. Then whether his wife should give him a divorce or not when he asks for it, depends altogether upon whether she wants to keep him or not and how tired she is of forgiving him. For in the end that sort of man always comes back to Mother after each of his little amatory excursions. He is constitutionally incapable of being faithful and no woman on earth could hold him long.



Say "No"

Whatever of real affection he has given to his wife and if he is otherwise agreeable—and the lady-killer is often as fascinating to his wife as he is to other women—then she is wise to say "no" when he thinks he would like to change life partners. He will thank her for saving his life, and go domestic until the next time.

Many men, flattered out of their senses by a young girl telling them that she loves them, and swept off their feet by the psysical appeal she makes to them, and urged on by the pleas of the siren, try to force their wives to divorce them. But if their wives care anything for them at all they should refuse to do so, because they well know that it would be the ruination of their husbands. They know that young women marry old men for their money. They know that the flare of youth that sometimes comes to a man at middle age does not last and that an old man's infatuation soon passes.

And so whether a wife should give her husband a divorce or not depends not only upon her own feelings in the matter, but whether it wil make him happy and is for his good.

Kelly, Mrs. Kelly and members of their family, who left this week for their new home in Newtonbrook, where Mr. Kelly will take charge of the United Church. Mr. Kelly has been at Lakefield 13 years.

An address was read by Mrs. J. A. Porter and the presentation of a cheque was made by Mrs. Roy Brown.

Mr. Kelly recalled events that had taken place during the passing of the years in the Lakefield charge, and stated that he would ask nothing better of his new congregation than that he should receive the same measure of loyal co-operation he had received here. He extended an invitation to any of the Lakefield congregation to visit them in their new home. Mrs. Kelly also spoke of her happy association in Lakefield.

An address was then read by Mrs. J. A. Murphy and the presentation of an electric kettle made to Mrs. Kelly by Mrs. H. J. Brown on behalf of the Women's Association.

The Missionary and Service Club presented Mrs. Kelly with a silver tray. The address was read by Mrs. S. E. Richardson and the presentation made by Mrs. W. Whetung.

The Lakefield group of the C.G.I.T., of which Mrs. Kelly was a co-leader then presented her with a cup and saucer. Ruth Bullock read the address and Marilyn Fraser made the presentation.

Mrs. W. W. Leonard, on behalf of the Lakefield Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, read an address and Mrs. R. McCracken presented Mrs. Kelly was a member of the executive, with a cake plate.

Miss Beth Kelly was presented with a pen by Miss Ora Dunford, on behalf of the congregation.

Other presentations made prior to the farewell party included a radio lamp to Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and a cup and saucer to Miss Helen Kelly from the Sunday School, in which all three were teachers; a desk lamp to Mr. Kelly, a teapot to Mrs. Kelly, a cup and saucer of Miss Kelly and a leather billfold to Mr. George Kelly by members of the choir.

Mrs. Kelly and Miss Kelly also hymn books given by their Sunday School classes.

Miss Kelly received a fitted plastic pencil box from her Sunday School class associates and a box of stationery from the Mission band.

The congregation of Young's Point church, of which Mr. Kelly was also pastor, presented him with a lazy-boy chair and footstool and Mrs. Kelly with a hand made quilt.

During the evening's entertainment, at which Rev. W. R. Archer was master of ceremonies, solos were sung by Mrs. Ray Jackman. She was accompanied by J. D. Grylls who also played for a sing-song.

Refreshments were served by members of the Women's Association and the C.G.I.T. girls.

Aborigines Keep Tribal Secrets, Scientists Mum

By ANTHONY WHITLOCK
Canadian Press Correspondent

DARWIN, Australia — (CP) — A team of Australian scientists and an American photographer left civilization last August to explore a remote part of Australia's great Northern Territory and to record the social secrets of a primitive tribe of Australian Aborigines.

The party recently emerged from this tropical land of salt pans, crocodile-infested rivers and desert with nothing to show for their journey.

Back at Australia's most northern port, the scientists, headed by Prof. Adolphus P. Elkin, noted Sydney University anthropologist, told the white community that they could not reveal anything of what they had learned about tribal rites because they had promised the natives they would keep their secrets.

Their attitude reopens one of Australia's strangest mysteries concerning life in the far outback. Northern Territory people who have spent their lives in this lonely land know of similar scientific missions which set out to discover tribal secrets but returned with sealed lips.

The Territory people remember the scientist from the Adelaide Museum who lived with the blacks for seven years so that civilization would know the facts about tribal rites. He finally captured the blacks' confidence so much that they initiated him into the tribe. Two years later he returned to Adelaide but refused to tell anyone the secrets he had learned.

Australia's well-known outback poet, William Harney, has written hundreds of poems about the blacks in the territory but has never betrayed the secrets he knows. He says he would never dare discuss them with a white man.

"Sacred" Says Author

Xavier Herbert, who won the Australian 150th anniversary novel prize with his book on the territory called "Capricornia," won't talk about the tribal secrets either. Like Harney he has lived with the natives for years. But to inquirers he says gruffly: "They are too sacred. Mind your own business."

No one knows what it is about the aborigine or his rites which makes scientists, journalists or novelists keep the secret. There are 13,000 full-blooded blacks living in the 523,620 square miles of the Northern Territory. Australians know that they wander through the country without making any attempt to grow crops, that they are the best trackers in the world and that their social code is strict and often harsh.

These primitive men survive in a pitiless land only through their extraordinary hunting skill and prowess with their weapons. With a piece of hardwood like a tapered truncheon the black can knock a goose from the sky. With his killing boomerang he could smash your thigh at 300 yards.

He can track a man over clay baked hard as rocks, over hills, creeks, mud flats and car tracks a month after his quarry has made the trail. The Australian Army used him during the war when they found he could hear and see approaching Japanese planes long before a soldier with powerful binoculars.

Efforts to civilize these black men of the Territory have mostly failed. Frustrated missionaries and anthropologists have called them: "The only black race which sincerely believes that our western civilization has nothing to offer."

PUBLIC SCHOOL CHAMPIONS Frank Hill and Marla Whitney won special awards for grades seven and eight at Havelock field day. Frank won six firsts and three seconds out of 10 events.

Canadian Student's Work Summer At UN

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 15—(CP)—Jean Yves Grenon, 23-year-old University of Montreal law student, had two jobs this summer — as an RCN reserve trainee and an international civil servant.

Last July he received special leave from a naval training course at Victoria, BC, and sped to Lake Success where he had been chosen to represent Canada among a group of 54 students from 28 countries who worked for two months in the United Nations.

He returned to Montreal recently to officially greet DP students from Germany where he visited last summer. Grenon is an officer of the International Student Service.

Douglas Sherbaniuk, 20, of Edmonton, also ends his term of duty as a student worker at the UN. The Canadian students were chosen by the United Nations Association of Canada and their stay here was financed in part by Rotary International.

A similar group will visit the UN each summer so work of the world organization can be spread abroad.

Grenon did research work here since July 11 on the status of stateless children.

Work Together

Sherbaniuk, a fourth-year student in modern languages at the University of Alberta, was an administrative officer on the staff running the UN scientific conference on conservation and utilization of resources.

Both said in an interview they were most impressed by the way persons from far corners of the world could work together on the UN secretariat.

They are looking forward to the round of addresses they are expected to make before school and club meetings where they will tell what they know from a first-hand study of the United Nations.

During their stay, they lived at a residence of Columbia University in New York together with students from many lands.

Keen students of international affairs, they hope to find careers in the Dominion's department of external affairs.

Joint Convention

MONTREAL, Oct. 15—(CP)—The joint annual convention of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards and the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards will be held here Oct. 24-26, it was announced Friday.

Strange Flash Big Fireball Experts Say

By The Canadian Press

That gigantic flash of light in the northern Ontario sky Thursday night remains a problem for top astronomers who believe it must have been "a very large fireball—or meteor."

While the blinding blue-white flash continued a top topic in northern communities, astronomers are awaiting more detailed reports of observers. They seek to chart its course and possibly discover fragments from another planet.

"There is not much doubt about what it was, from descriptions given," said Dr. Peter Millman, the Dominion observatory's top expert on meteors, at Ottawa.

A "fireball" is a large meteor, a piece of stone or metal entering the earth's atmosphere where it is ignited by friction with the air.

Strongest at Timagami

The blaze apparently was strongest over Timagami, a town 50 miles north of North Bay, but it was seen as far away as Toronto and Buffalo, the latter 300 miles south of Timagami.

Walter A. Rukeyser, managing director of the Trebor Mine near Timagami, was on a Timagami tsreet talking to friends when the flash appeared.

"It was a blinding light, and it seemed to be about 60,000 feet up," he said. "The main light lasted for a minute, but there was a fluorescent glow with a corkscrew effect which lingered in the sky for about five minutes."

The bluish-white flash appeared horizontal. It was silent. Others agreed that the big flash was just that—over in less than a second—but that the light in the sky remained several minutes, covering a tremendous area before it died down.

RCMP Cutter Tows Vessel 1,000 Miles

HALIFAX, Oct. 15 (CP)—With three whistle blasts each, two tired vessels parted company in Halifax harbor Friday, ending one of the longest towing jobs in Canadian marine history.

The three blasts—"fare thee well' in mariners language—signalled the end of a 1,000-mile tow for the RCMP cutetr MacBrien. For the 70-ton RCAF supply craft Malahat on the other end of the cable, it was the end of a 6,800-mile trip to the northland, 2,230 miles of it under tow.

The MacBrien took the Vancouver-registered Malahat in tow at Goose Bay, Labrador, where she had been towed by the navy frigate Swansea after developing engine trouble south of Nottingham Island, at the entrance to Hudson Bay.

Report Plot On Tito's Life

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (CP) — A Toronto paper said Friday in a dispatch from Paris that an attempt was made last week to assassinate Marshal Tito.

A time bomb was placed in a motor launch used by the Yugoslav strongman while he was on holiday at his island retreat of Dubrovnik in the Adriatic, says the front-page story by staff correspondent William Stevenson. It adds:

"The time bomb was discovered by the Advenca security police and was followed by the routine mass of arrests. Naturally, in the well-censored atmosphere of Yugoslavia, it has been difficult to find precise details of the plot."

Held Responsible In Sailor's Death

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (CP) — A 39-year-old Newfoundland seaman Friday was held criminally responsible b ya coroner's jury for the death Sept. 23 of a shipmate aboard the lake vessel Mondoc during a fight in the ship's engine room.

Following the inquest, Jack Hanlon of St. John's, Nfld., was araigned before Judge Edouard Tellier on a charge of manslaughter and remanded without bail until Oct. 21 for perliminary hearing.

Hanlon had been held in provincial police cells here since the body of Stanislas L. Verkuleviceus, 39, of (160 Claremonton St.) Toronto, a fireman on the Mondoc, was found floating in the St. Lawrence River here last week.

Urges Commission For Ship Safety Rules

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (CP)—Representative Charles Potter (Rep. Mich.) introduced in the House of Representatives Friday a resolution to create a Canada-United States commission to make safety recommendations for vessels plying the Great Lakes.

He suggested the commission, a six-man body composed equally of Canadians and Americans, study safety conditions of all lake vessels carrying 50 or more persons. The resolution would provide $100,000 as the United States government's share of the expense.

A fire aboard the lake vessel Noronic took 119 lives last month while the Canada Steamship Lines' ship was tied up in Toronto harbor.

Mrs. Carmine Asta Has Large Funeral

A largely-atended funeral for the late Mrs. Carmine Asta, of 456 Rogers St., was held on Friday from the Anglesey Funeral Home to the Sacred Heart Church. The Rt. Rev. J. J. O'Brien celebrated Requiem Mass and the Rev. Drs. F. M. Grant and J. V. Masterson were in the Sanctuary. Pall-bearers were B. R. Strano, Joseph Anthony, Peter De Carlonis, D. and F. Sarracini and John Cupoli. Six grandchildren acted as flower bearers and Dr. Grant officiated at the graveside services at St. Peter's Cemetery. There were many floral and spiritual offecings.

Mrs. Asta died in Toronto on Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Sarracini, following an illness of several months. She was born in Italy and came to Peterborough 60 years ago. She was a member of the Sacred Heart Church and of its Altar Society.

Save Village In Fire

AVON, Ont., Oct. 15 (CP) — Lack of wind was credited with saving this southwestern Ontario village when fire early Friday razed a new $17,000 grist mill. The entire village with a population of 150, was threatened. Volunteer firemen formed a bucket brigade and also trucked water from a nearby factory.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Economizing In Hardware Results In Dissatisfaction

Hardware in the home is called upon to perform three important functions dependably and inconspicuously . (a) to afford protection and insure privacy; (b) to operate movable parts of the home smoothly and conveniently; and (c) to add to the attractiveness of the house. To perform these jobs the hardware you choose must be durable and properly designed for its particular job and the place it is to be used.

Attempts to economize on hardware will always result in dissatisfaction out of all proportion to the small amount of money saved. Cheap hardware, quick to break down and rapidly depreciating in appearance actually costs more in the long run. When you consider that the difference in cost between good and bad hardware in a small home is generally not over $25 . . the cheap product is a very poor investment, indeed.

Style And Design

Many well-designed patterns are derived from styles of the past. The best modern designs are characterized by simplicity and careful regard for proper size, specific use, and easily-maintained finish. Don't forget that hardware in the home is functional in purpose . it's function should never be sacrificed to design.

The trim for all-metal hardware consist of the base metal and its finish (or outside surface). In quality hardware the base metal is of brass, bronze or some other non-ferrous material. Where hardware is of a material not requiring plating it is said to be solid. Solid non-ferrous hardware is naturally most durable.

Iron or steel is used as a base metal only in the cheaper grades of hardware. While its surface can be plated to give its the appearance of very good hardware, this finish is always subject to wear and chipping, followed by rapid rusting and breaking down of the metal.

Make sure whether you are buying "solid" or "plated" hardware. If plated, find out about its base metal. By all means avoid plated steel lockets whose finish wears rapidly due to continued handling. Remember, that hardware of solid brass or bronze will last the lifetime of the house.

Solid hardware if often covered with colourless lacquer by the manufacturers to protect the finish. This will in time likely develop a spotty tarnished appearance as it wears off. It is, therefore, a good idea to either relacquer periodically or have the lacquer completely removed. Although unlacquered hardware may tarnish in time if not kept polished, it will not develop the spotty appearance of worn lacquer.

Finishes Affected By Climate

Hinges (or butts) are a very important item affecting the ease of operation of the door. Always use three hinges on an entrance door, to prevent sagging and warping. The most satisfactory hinges for exterior doors are brass or bronze to prevent the possibility of rust and corrossion. For ease of operation on heavy entrance doors, ball-bearing hinges are desirabe and well worth the extra cost.

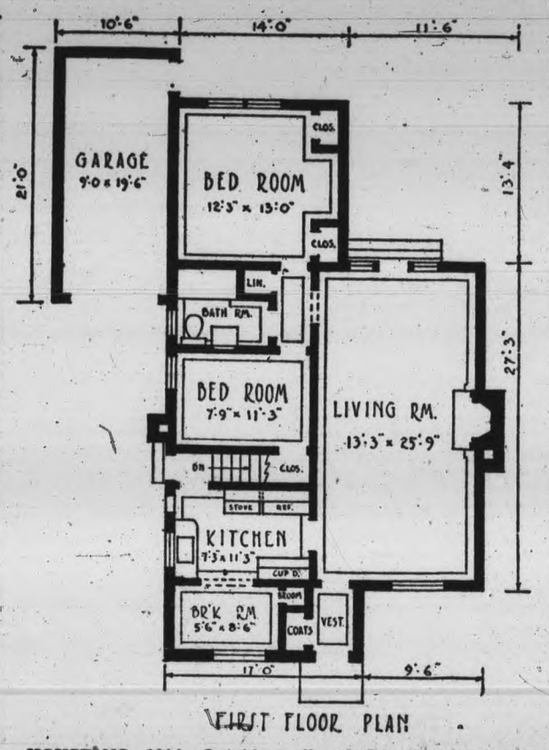
The hardware you select for your front door has a marked effect on its appearance. Colonial or English design homes look well with htumb latch handle although door knobs are frequently used on the latter. Door knobs are appropriate for Georgian type homes . . on modern design, door knobs or lever handles. Make sure to choose a door knob or lever handle of the proper size and design to match the size and design of the door.

Invest In Security

Select a well made, sturdy cylinder lock. It lasts the lifetime of the house if properly manufactured. If your home is to be of moderate cost, you'll do well to consider cylinder locks for not only the front entrance, but also for the rear entrance, garage, basement door and, possibly, one or two interior closet doors, set to, or passed by one key. This is a well worth-while convenience.

Don't instal bit-key locks on rear side dors . . they provide the means for most illegal entries. Many bit-keys can be easily picked or opened with a ten-cent skeleton key. They are not safe for outside doors without a separate dead bolt lock.

Other types of locks that might be mentioned are the thumb latch handle lock, operated by the thumb latch on the exterior and by a knob from the inside. Other locks are operated by the door knobs from both sides. The outside handles or knobs are made inoperative by push buttons in the face of the lock, making the use of the key necessary.



Interior Hardware

Here, again, first consider the hinges or butts. These may be steel or cast iron . . the latter recommended by some manufacturers because of their proven wearing qualities. Hinges should have a prime coat, cut open leaves and button tips . and can be painted to match the surrounding doors and trim.

If the doors or trim are a natural or stained finsih, as so frequently occurs in modern homes, steel or cast iron butts, plated to match the finish of the harware, are obtainable. Plated finishes on butts are not objectionable as they are not handled and, therefore, the finish is not subjected to hard surface wear.

Three butts per interior door are desirable but not always obtainable under limited hardware allowances. Never deviate from the rule that flush doors must always be equipped with three butts to prevent warping.

FIRST FLOOR PLAN

HOUSE NO. 1014—Outside walls of this fine home are of buff brick, with gable ends in wood, stained dark brown. The appearance of the facade is very pleasing, and denotes exactly what it is—a good, honest, solidly built small home. There are no frills or fakes about it. Many of the larger house refinements are incorporated in the floor plan. Notice particularly the unusually large living room and fireplace, with a door leading directly to the back garden. Then, too, there is the fine arrangement of kitchen, breakfast room, and side entrance. This is all quite compact and convenient. The master bedroom has "husband and wife" closets, which is a rare treat in a small home where closet space is always at a premium. The second bedroom is small but has proper provision for furniture and a good room closet. Attached as it is, the garage is convenient to the house, cheaperr to build, yet not a feature of the facade. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Teachers Have First Choice Of Free Trees

Trees from the sub-nursery lot at the Normal school will be thinned out next week. Any teachers in this district wishing to have trees from the nursery may get them either Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday nights from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. Friday during the same hours anyone wishing to have one of the small trees may take his pick.

At present there are about 900 trees of 19 diferent types in the nursery which is on the south side of the school. Each year the graduating class plant a large number of trees in the lot on Arbor Day. Some of the trees are now so large the lot must be thinned out.

Trees now in the nursery include white elm, white ash, silver maple, walnut, yellow and white birch, butternut, red oak, white willow, rock elm, red maple, white oak, black cherry, red cedar, jackpine, white spruce, red pine, European larch, and white cedar.

Students will be on hand each night at the nursery to assist the people in obtaining the trees.

Hale Babies

disappearances were becoming all too frequent, and if he had his way such people should be made an example of, for it was not fair to "evade one's obligations in this manner." Not a word was said to the fortunate tenants who had lived rent-free for six years, and probably would have lived in this manner for another six years, if the houses had been habitable for this period.

To go back to post war houses, however, there are many houses for sale at prices much higher than Peterborough prices. Building societies will lend 90% of the purchase price however, so that the task of financing the purchase is comparctively easy. As prices have advanced very much in the last few years (from £400 to £2,000) people are afraid to buy at present prices for fear of a slump, and houses are not selling very fast.

Bombing during the war was dreadful, and the large cities, London, Liverpool, Manchester, etc., certainly took a pounding. Whole blocks have disappeared, and while re-building is going on at full speed, it will be years before there will be a total clean-up. Around buildings such as St. Paul's in London, the terrible destruction is still very evident. Villages and small towns have not changed much, and apparently did not suffer from bombs or fires. but folk who lived in cities under bombing have some awful stories to tell, and there is no doubt that their whole outlook on life has been warped by the terrible experiences they suffered during the war. Having these facts in mind, I feel we from countries which did not suffer in this way, should not judge the British people too harshly, if they do and say things which appear strange to us.

(The second instalment of Mr. Tinker's account of conditions in Britain will appear on this page next week.)

Marmora Institute Honors Grandmothers

MARMORA, Oct. 15 (ENS) — Grandmothers' Night was observed by Marmora Women's Institute at the October meeting held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. James Thomson. In the absence of the president, the vice-president, Mrs. Percy Gray, presided over a large attendance of members. The roll call, "Something I learned from my grandmother," brought responses interesting and amusing. Mrs. E. C. Prentice drew attention to the Children's Aid Tag Day which will be sponsored by the branch next Saturday and appealed for volunteers to assist her that evening, following the tagging.

Mrs. Prentice distributed wool and material for the making of sweaters and other baby outfits, including diapers. Mrs. L. R Green was named delegate with the president, Mrs. Mabel Brady as alternate to the area convention in Belleville.

An invitation was received from Springbrook Women's Institute for the branch to put on the entertainment, "The Kitchen Band," for a date in November to be later arranged.

Mrs rFank Grant read a paper prepared by Mrs. L. R. Green on the month's motto, "Life is like a garden; it bears the seeds you sow."

Mrs. L. R. Rundle followed with a poem on "The Rich Man and Lazarus," which her grandmother used to recite. An alphabet contest held by Mrs. Edward Poste was won by Mrs. H. P. Nayler. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which the committee in charge served refreshments.

Feudal Estate In Family 600 Years, Sold

DUNSTER, Somerset, England (CP)—Geoffrey Fownes Luttrel, 62-year-old squire of four Somerset villages, called his tenants to 13th-century Dunster Castle and told them: "I have had to sell the castle and most of the village."

The Luttrell family has held the castle and the 8,500-acre estate for nearly 600 years.

The squire blamed death duties, high taxation and the "confiscatory provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act" for what happened.

"I have taken a lease of the castle and some of the land for five years," he said. "Then I must leave the castle but I shall carry on farming."

Included in the estate is the major part of four villages with 1,500 inhabitants—Dunster, Carhampton, Withycombe and Rodhuish.

Buyer is the Ashdale Land and Property Company, with offices in London. No price was disclosed but it is believed to be around £40,000 ($124,000.)

It has bought the estate as a commercial proposition and will get the rents of the farms, stores and cottages. Arrangements have been made to protect old retainers of the Luttrell family, who live rent-free.

Dunster was the last of the West of England Royalist strongholds to fall to Cromwell after a 160-day siege during the civil war.

AFRICAN BISHOP—Msgr. Joseph Kiwanuka, native Roman Catholic bishop of Masaka in Africa, has been visiting church establishments in Quebec province during the past month. Here Msgr. Kiwanuka is shown with Premier Duplessis as he visited the Quebec premier in Quebec City.

MORE ABOUT--

Welch Officially

he had actually used up his concession forms. The books which were filled with receipted payments for space counted 200, "and I don't know how many more there will be added to that total."

Concessionaires were there from Winnipeg to Montreal, all of them using ground space. They were advertising or selling pretty nearly everything from truck loads of Northumberland apples that looked good enough to have a place in the fruit show to sterling silver rings "engraved free while you wait," at a Montreal booth.

Hicks canteen bus was there from Ottawa not far from the De Laval display bus from Peterborough. Three or four bingo games were operating, one of them manned by Norwood branch of the Canadian Legion. The variety of the concessions was a feature of the show, and always has been.

Roseneath does not have to engage a midway. They have their own merry-go-round, brought in a ferris wheel, and let space to several crown and anchor wheels to add the spice of a little gamble. The directors kept control of their establishment.

Miss Eleanor Roche, Port Hope, was awarded the top prize in the beauty show; Katie Moore, of Morganston, second; Astra Eglitis, Cobourg, third. Mrs. Percy Brisbin, of Peterborough, received a consolation prize. The beauty show was a decorous affair.

Races Attract Crowd

The horse races attracted thousands. A new stand was quickly filled with men and women who delighted in the warm sun and the misty atmosphere of autumn. Results were:

2.27 Class—Thor Grattan (Cliffe Hie, Cobourg), 1, 1, 1; Bertha Patch (G. H. McQueer, Hammond, N.Y.), 5, 4, 3; Gale Grattan (J. Adams, Toronto), 3, 2, 2; Jerry Argot (A. Brown, Oshawa), 4, 3, 4; Sunday Boy (Corigan, Kingston), 2, 5, 5.

Time: 2.17 2-5; 2.18; 2.18.

2.21 Class—Dorothy Abbey (Franklin, Port Hope), 2, 3, 1; Flicka 2nd (Samons, Cobourg), 3, 4, 4; Marglewyn (Gilliogly, Kingston), 1, 1, 2; Princess Harvester (McQueer), 7, 2, 7; Ruther Lee (Wannamaker, Consecon), 4, 5, 6; Elmira Boy (Blewett, Peterborough), 6, 7, 3; Grey Von (Hency, Campbellford), 5, 8, 8; Black Pepper (Corcoran), 6, 6, 5.

Time: 2.16 3-5; 2.15; 2.17.

The 2.21 heats were the most exciting of the entire card, being three and four horses to the wire with only heads and necks separating them. An owner was still disputing his placing in one heat after stand had emptied.

Free-For-All

Lucy Lester (Corcoran), 1, 1, 1; Jimmy Brewer (Brown, Oshawa), 3, 3, 3; Victory Hy (Blewett), 4, 2, 2; Peter Aubry (Ingles, Brighton), 2, 5, 5; Jack Sunday (L. Carpenter), 5, 4, 4.

Time: 2.12; 2.09 2-5; 2.10.

Road Horse Events

Roseneath puts on half-mile sprints for good horse teams and singles, hitched to carriages. The entries in each were: Ivan Cochrane, Nestleton; W. H. Lindsay, Campbellford; and Arthur Reycraft, of Roseneath.

In each race the Cochrane and Lindsay horses got away fast, but Cochrane pulled out at the far turn and won both by about 10 lengths.

Hal B. Watson, of Toronto, was starter, using the Brady gate.

Meanwhile, there was a separate variety amateur program going on all afternoon at the west side of the grounds. Ross Beaver, of Alderville, won the fiddling feature, with Harlan Elder and Percy Douglas, of Fenella, second and third.

The junior farmer judging competition was still another attraction. It was conducted by Ralph C. Banbury, of Brighton, agricultural representative in Northumberland, assisted by Robert Bell, assistant representative in Peterborough.

Holstein Cattle

Five Northumberland breeders competed in the Holstein cattle classes. Placing by John Tamblyn, Orono, judge, were:

Senior bull—1 D. C. Hoskin, Cobourg; 2 Eric C. Merrill, Dartford.

Bull, year old—1 and 2 Bertram Hoskin, Cobourg.

Bull calf, Sr.—1 Bertram Hoskin, 2 Thomas J. Convey, Dartford; 3 Eric C. Merrill, Dartford.

Bull calf, Jr.—1 B. Hoskin, 2 and 3 Alex J. Merrill & Sons, Campbellford.

Senior cow—1 D. C. Hoskin, 2 T. J. Convey, 3 B. Hoskin.

UE TAKES STRIKE VOTE

3,000 CGE Workers March To Brock St. Gardens For Mass Afternoon Rally

Take One-Day "Holiday" U.E. Men Say As Work Stoppage Continues; McRae Charges Union Breach of Faith

About 3,000 production workers of the Peterborough CGE plant marched to the Brock Street Summer Gardens for a mass rally at 2 p.m. today. The news they are waiting to hear is that the current dispute with the Company over the latter's alleged refusal to implement the Arbitration Award, has been settled. On Friday afternoon about 3,000 workers downed tools at the behest of their executive and stewards in protest against the alleged violation of this principle. And they demanded a restoration in piece-cut rates for some 30 girls in the Induction Motor Winding Department.

"A one-day holiday" was the careful way officers of Local 524 (UE-CIO) referred to today's work stoppage.

At 2 p.m. it was rumored word would be received of a meeting arranged by Labor Minister Daley to settle the dispute which threatens to involve all locals in the UE-GE Joint Negotiating Board should it continue.

The decision not to return to work today was reached at a mass membership meeting Sunday night held in Brock Street Summer Gardens. Shortly after 6 a.m. today union members began to mass outside the gates they usually enter to go to work. But instead of proceeding further they remained outside to dissuade other production workers who did not attend the Sunday meeting from entering.

Not Picket Line

They explained it was not a picket line but merely a mass demonstration. Office workers, AFL pattern makers, those on essential jobs such as Power, and other production workers who insisted on going through were allowed to pass without difficulty.

By 8 a.m. union officials jubilantly announced that "only a handful" of workers had punched in.

All was quiet at the various gates, each of which had a large gathering of union members sporting UE buttons milling about the entrance. One estimate put the 7.30 a.m. crowd at 2,500—most of them at the Park St. entrance.

Exchange Jokes

The jovial "holidayers" exchanged wisecracks, stamped their feet to keep warm, chatted about the work stoppage, and good-naturedly jeered the odd in-

Union Also Will Decide On Return To Work Tuesday During Talks

Decision To Take Vote Made By Officials From Six UE Locals; Morton Asks Daley Intercede In Dispute

By DAVID WHITE, Examiner Labor Reporter

The mass meeting of 3,000 CGE workers at the Brock Street Summer Gardens this afternoon were in the process at time of going to press of taking a strike vote, and following that a vote to return to work Tuesday morning. Indications were that the voting for both measures would be almost unanimous. Thus the workers would be back to full scale production Tuesday morning, but the union leaders would have the weapon of the strike vote in their hands.

The recommendation to take a strike vote was made at the closed morning meeting of the UE-CGE Conference Board at which Union representatives of the four Toronto, one Cobourg and the Peterborough CGE plants were present. This recommendation was approved by Local 524 Stewards and Executive and passed to the mass meeting.

Thus the work-stoppage picture became brighter this afternoon, and time has been gained for negotiation. Intercession of the Ministeer of Labour has been requested by John G. Morton, president of Local 524 (UE-CIO) in an effort to end the present work-stoppage affecting 3,200 producition workers.

In a telegram to Labor Minister Daley, President Morton stated the Company had refused today to discuss implementation of the award. And he asked for the immediate intercession of the Department to bring about a meeting leading to a settlement.

Already Investigating

Mr. Daley said today his department had been investigating the work stoppage before Mr. Morton appealed for intervention.

"We are taking steps to deal with the dispute," he said, "but first we must ascertain what the situation is."

While nearly 1,000 workers demonstrated at the Reid St. gate at noon Mr. Morton told them he hoped word would be received from Mr. Daley for a conference between 1:30 and 2 p.m.

Backing Demands

Backing up Local 524's demands for a speedy end to the dispute is the solid support promised by other Canadian General Electric locals represented on the UE-GE Joint Conference Board. Standing shoulder to shoulder with the Peterborough president, were representatives from Cobourg and the four Toronto plants—Davenport, Royce, Ward St., and Carboloy.

All stated they would back the Peterborough local in its current dispute to the limit. Should these plants decide to come out on a sympathy strike it would leave more than 6,000 persons idle.

The Conference Board had a closed two-hour session beginning at 10 a.m., but the decisions reached there were not revealed. And it is expected they will not be until later today at the mass membership meeting.

Duck Hunter Bill Hay First Fatality

First victim of the duck hunting season in the Campbellford district was Clarence (Bill) Hay, age 31, of Campbellford who died Saturday night from the accidental discharge of a shotgun at Bradley Bay on the Trent River. Bradley Bay is about six miles south east of Campbellford.

A Hong Kong veteran who served with the Royal Rifles and a Japanese prisoner of war for four years, Hay was returning from a successful duck shoot with two companions, George Stafford and William Nicholas, both of Campbellford.

As he prepared to leave the boat he seized Nicholas' gun by the muzzle, and one hammer of the double - barrelled hammer shotgun caught on the seat of the boat causing it to discharge.

Hay caught the full blast in the abdomen.

He was taken to Belleville and died shortly after entering the hospital. He never regained consciousness.

Dr. C. A. Bright of Campbellford was called and Provincial Officer Arthur Kellogg of Hastings made the investigation. Coroner Dr. W. W. Baker of Campbellford said there would be no inquest.

Stafford, who was an eye witness, said that the hammer of one barrel had caught on the seat of the boat. Nicholas was putting a leash on his dog at the time. Realizing his wound was fatal, Hay told Nicholas: "Look after my wife and boy." He also told his companions that they were not to blame.

He was born in Belleville and educated in the local schools. In 1939 he joined the Midland Regiment and later went to Hong Kong with the Royal Rifles of Quebec.

Hay came from a military family. His four brothers saw active service in the last war. One brother Raymond was killed in Italy and another, Roy, recently returned from Japan where he had served with the American Army of Occupation. His grandfather, who is still living, saw service in the First World War.

Surviving are his wife, the former Irene Flint, and one child, Dennis; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hay, and also one sister and three brothers, Helen, Douglas, Ernest and Roy.

Is It Bird Or Animal? He's Sure It's Not Fish

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP)—Jack Main of suburban York Township caught something which is puzzling him and his neighbors. It looks a bit like a bird, but then it looks a bit like an animal too. One thing he pretty nearly is certain—it isn't a fish.

He caught it at Pickering beach when he saw a pair of small wings sticking out from under a leaf on the ground. It flew a short distance and then he grabbed it.

It is about four inches long. It has a small head with a row of sharp teeth, large ears and coated with fur like a mouse. Its wings are webbed and it has a V-shaped tail and sharp claws on its back feet.

Amateur zoologists said the rust-colored catch isn't a bat.

Daisy Mountain Moonshine Feud Gets 3rd Victim

DAISY, Tenn., Oct. 17—(AP)—Daisy Mountain's moonshine feud bids fair to take its place with the famed Hatfield and McCoy squabble in southern United States mountain history.

Spawned during a dispute over the making of corn whisky and fanned by bitter hatred, the feud flamed anew during the weekend.

Another man was killed on the lonely mountainside—the third to die since the hill country war began two years ago.

Police found William L. (Boots) Parker lying on a muddy slope of the mountain Saturday night, shot three times and bludgeoned with an axe.

Raymond Bell, 29, was found at the scene, two axe wounds on his head. Bell and his brother, Ed, 23, were arrested and Chief Deputy Scott Swafford charged them with murder.

Officers have redoubled patrols on the mountain but have met with the same tight-lipped silence that greeted them after the two previous deaths: no one knows anything about the slaying.

"It's hard to get those people on the mountain to talk," says Sheriff Frank Burns.

Parker was the brother of Theodore (Pap) Parker, reported to be the leader of one of the factions, who is now serving 18 months in a Kentucky prison for transporting illegal whisky. There are plenty of relatives and friends to take up the battle if they choose.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(Reuters)—Britain probably will recognize the Chinese Communist Government within the next three weeks, a usually reliable source said tonight. The informant said the British move, when it comes, will involve full recognition.

Union Breaks Pact – McRae

Thirty-two hundred production workers in the Peterborough plant of Canadian General Electric Company declared a work stoppage today—despite the fact that a Sunday meeting of Company officials and officials of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers had requested an Arbitration Board to clarify its award of a wage rate dispute, Ian McRae, works manager said in a statement today.

"The background of the dispute goes back to November 1947, when the company changed the piece work prices on the jobs of 11 girls in the induction motor winding department on the grounds that new methods of manufacture had been introduced. This was taken to arbitration but the decision of the Board was not clear, for it admitted that a change of manufacture had taken place and that, therefore, the company had the right to reprice the jobs.

"In support of the Company's interpretation, it was revealed in a recent company statement that the girls are at present earning from $1.13 to $1.59 under the new rates as against an anticipated earned rate of 92 cents an hour. If the Union's interpretation were correct and the old rates were restored, some girls doing semi-skilled work would be earning as much as 85 percent more than toolmakers—the highest skilled men in the shop.

'As far back as July 6, the Company offered to settle the whole matter by having the decision referred back to the chairman of the Board, his Honour Judge A. Cochrane, for clarification on Saturday, October 15th, following a half-day stoppage on Friday. The Union requested a meeting with the Company to discuss this suggestion of the Company. Following the meeting on October 16th, telegrams requesting such clarification, were sent to the members of the Board.

"The only point of difference left between the parties at the Sunday meeting centred around the desire of the Union to have the Company give an unqualified undertaking to put into effect the Arbitration Board's award. The Company pointed out, however, that the present agreement between the Company and the Union provides that any arbitration award had to be consistent with the terms of the agreement and could only be applied in a way to be consistent with this agreement.

"In spite of the effort to reach a peaceful and practical solution of the problem, members of the UE Local voted for a stoppage, although this is contrary to the agreement existing between the Company and the Union, and in violation of the Ontario Labour Relations Act.

"The loss to the employees and their families for each day of the work stoppage is reported by the Company to be over $30,000."

Stork Races Ocean Plane Stork Wins—400 Miles Out

SHANNON, Ireland, Oct. 17—(AP)—The stork raced an American Overseas Airlines pilot over the Atlantic ocean today—and the stork won. A four-pound baby boy was born to Mrs. Darinka Parker of New York city while the constellation plane droned 400 miles from Shannon airport. Both the mother and child were reported well. When the crowded transport made its regular stop here, the mother and child were taken by ambulance to nearby Ennis hospital.

The 20-year-old mother, a war bride from Bavaria, was quoted as saying: "I hadn't expected the baby for another month and a half." Her husband, still in the United States Army, is stationed at Wisbaden, Germany.

Flight Capt. John Hennessy of New Town, Conn., radioed the first word of the situation at 5.30 a.m. (1.30 a.m. EDT). He told the startled airlines office here:

"Passenger aboard appears to be in labor. Request have doctor available for arrival Shannon. We have doctor aboard to assist if necessary."

An hour and four minutes later Hennessy called in with the news that the baby was born.

Moves Fast

When it became apparent that the stork was winning the race, Mrs. Parker was taken into the crew compartment of the plane. A fellow passenger, Dr. Fred Henschel, of New York City, attended her. The doctor was assisted by Stewardess Mary Jane Hinckley, 28, of Millville, N.J., a registered nurse.

Miss Hinckley said: I was sitting discussing her with the purser when the bell rang and Mrs. Parker told me she was going to have the baby.

The stewardess said that after the baby was born "we wrapped it in a cook's white apron, padded it round with cotton wool, bedded it down in five blankets and a hot water bottle and gave it to the crew—all men—to take to the galley and look after."

Seek 2 Women In Swamp Death

GODERICH, Oct. 17 (CP)—Two mystery women are being soubht by provincial police in connection with the swamp death of Earl (Ikey) C. Baux, Inspector R. L. Taylor of the provincial police said here today.

The two women are believed by police to have been in the company of Baux and Frank Mills of Tara, Ont., on Aug. 24, the day Baux is said to have disappeared into the depths of the 1,200 acre Saratoga swamp. He was never seen alive again.

Sunday in a surprise week-end move provincial police exhumed and performed an autopsy on the Baux body at Tara.

Baux's badly decomposed body was found in the Saratoga swamp on Oct. 8 by two Goderich hunters. It was buried two days later at Tara without a post-mortem being performed.

City Setting Up Fund To Build House For Quads

SAULT STE. MARIE, Oct. 17—(CP)—Townspeople from the mayor down in this northern Ontario steel centre are planning to build a house for the Hargreaves quadruplets.

Operations will swing into high gear with the opening of a house fund which civic officials predict will be widely supported by the city's 32,000 citizens.

First move was Mayor W. H. C. Brien's announcement last week that the city would give the best available location in the city for a new house to the Hargreaves family.

"At the present time, the Hargreaves are living in a small house and their immediate need is a bigger house," said Mayor Brien. "Naturally, this happy event has come as a big surprise not only to the father and mother, but to everyone in the city and outside.

It was learned that two nurses will be engaged to help Mrs. Hargreaves with her household work and with her babies when she leaves hospital.

Tonight, a special meeting of the Trades and Labor Council will discuss the question of building and furnished a home.

Bank Teller Goes To RCMP

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 17 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation Saturday night took custody of a New York city teller they said had surrendered to Toronto police Saturday in connection with a $5,000-shortage.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police brought Marshall Dwight Fry, 24, here from Toronto. Charged with violating the Federal Reserve Act, he was jailed to await arraignment before a United States commissioner.

Greek Rebel Forces Stopping Civil War

ATHENS, Oct. 17 (AP)—Communist-led rebel forces, staggered by the government's recent big drive on last strongholds near the Albanian border, announced by radio today they have stopped the civil war but won't lay down their arms.

The Greek general staff reported monitoring the rebel radio announcement which came as United Nations moves to settle the Greek-Balkan conflict near a climax.

Fear Election Vote Secrecy Jeopardized

Commissioner Says Entire Federal Ballot May Have Been Violated

REGINA, Oct. 17—(CP)—Chief Justice J. T. Brown of the Saskatchewan Court of King's Bench says the secrecy of the ballot may have been violated in the June 27 Federal election.

Chief Justice Brown made the comment Saturday at the close of a five-day inquiry into the counting of ballots in Regina city constituency and into the conduct of the election. He said:

"If the carbon offset markings which appeared on Regina ballots have been duplicated anywhere else in Canada—and I have no doubt they have—then the secrecy of the whole Canadian vote has been jeopardized."

In Ottawa, Nelson Castonguay, Canada's chief electoral officer, was asked by the Canadian Press if he had received any reports of numbers appearing in carbon on any ballots in the June 27 election. He replied:

"I have received no report of any similar findings from any other judge who officiated at a recount. No carbon paper is used in ballots whatsoever . . . it is impossible to comment on a thing like this: I will have to wait until I receive the official report from the Commissioner and study its findings and the evidence contained in it."

Makes No Comment

M. J. Coldwell, national leader of the C.C.F. party, said he preferred to make no comment or statement until he has studied Chief Justice Brown's official report. The official report is not expected to be made public for about two weeks.

Chief Justice Brown said that if the poll book in Regina City constituency had been open to public scrutiny, numbered ballots possibly could reveal the name of a voter and the candidate for whom he had voted.

He was named to conduct the inquiry after J. Probe, defeated CCF candidate, had protested the disalowance by Judge B. D. Hogarth of 460 ballots which the deputy returning officer had counted on election night. Judge Hogarth conducted a recount, and after it the Liberal candidate, Dr. E. A. McCusker, was declared elected with a plurality of 162 votes.

Mr. Probe, a member of the last House, had requested an investigation of ballots which bore a number contrary to election regulations.

Staff Sgt. H. H. Radcliffe and RCMP handwriting specialists expressed belief that at several polls ballots became marked because a DRO filled in numbers on the ballot counterfoils without first removing the ballot from the pad.

Mild 'Quake Felt Across Ottawa Area

Report Alexandria Hit Hardest Cornwall Feels It Too

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—Eastern Ontario was thrown into a mild state of excitement Sunday night by a window-rattling earth tremor.

Houses creaked, windows rattled and dishes danced on shelves from the effects of the tremor, described by officials at the Dominion Observatory here as a "sharp local earthquake".

The quake recorded on the Observatory seismograph for 50 seconds at 7.33 p.m. EDT, left neither damage nor injuries in its wake. Although recorded on the sensitive seismograph for a longer period, the earth's shaking was noticeable for less than 10 seconds.

Officials placed the epicentre of the quake about 12 miles east of Ottawa, but the heaviest tremors were reported from Alexandria, some 40 miles east of the capital, where one resident said it felt as though a "heavy truck had crashed into the building."

The quake felt in almost all sections of Ottawa, and was also reported at Cornwall, 60 miles southeast. Pembroke residents reported "no tremor at all" at that centre some 70 airmiles northwest of the capital.

William J. Milne, assistant seismologist at the observatory, said the quake was "much heavier" than one recorded here last Feb. 2. It was "nothing compared to the 1944 Cornwall earthquake."

"Very Mild"

At Cornwall, where a violent shaking of the earth early on the morning of Sept. 5, 1944, caused large cracks in walls of buildings and toppled chimneys to the ground, residents described Sunday night's quake as "very mild."

Alexandria apparently bore the brunt of the tremor. A few dishes were broken when shaken from the shelves and, for a distance of some 10 to 15 miles around the town, residents reported the quake as short but severe.

Clarence Ostrom, Alexandria watchmaker who was in his shop when he first noticed his building begin to shake described it this way:

"I ran to the front of the store thinking a heavy truck had crashed into the building. Then I began to realize what was happening. The tremor lasted only a few seconds. It began with a little rumbling that ended with an explosive climax."

Strikes In U.S. Economy Blow

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 17 (AP)—The strike idle in the United States neared the 1,000,000 mark today as 16,000 CIO members struck nine plants of Aluminum Company of America.

The aluminum workers joined 480,000 striking steelworkers and 380,000 striking soft-coal miners.

More than 55,000 workers in allied industries have been laid off.

Some steelworkers' members in the fabricating steel industry—which makes everything from hairpins to refrigerators—struck during the week-end. Other fabricators' contracts expire from now until mid-December.

"There's still no sign of peace in U. S. labor's biggest conflict since the end of the Second World War.

The government is gravely concerned. The walkouts threaten to knock post-war economy into a cocked hat.

No disturbances were reported, and union officials said they expected none.

At the Sunday night meeting attended by nearly 3,000, a steady stream of executives, stewards, and union members took the microphone to say there must be a "showdown" with the Company on the Arbitration award issue.

"If they won't live up to the findings of an Arbitration Board then we might as well go back and tear up the contract," declared one speaker amid rounds of cheers.

Everyone who spoke of presenting a solid front to the company on this issue received sustained applause.

In a union statement handed the press after the Sunday meeting, the vote of workers to continue the stoppage today was declared "unanimous."

Meeting Called

It went on to say a membership meeting had been called for 2 p.m., today (probably in the Brock St. Summer Gardents) to decide on further action should still no agreement be reached with the company.

Purpose of the meeting, the statement read by President John G. Morton of Local 524 (UE-CIO) declared, was "to make a decision on any new position that may arise out of a meeting with the company Monday morning, if such a meeting can be arranged."

These events followed Friday afternoon's action when production was reduced almost to a standstill as an estimated 3,000 workers downed tools in protest over the company's response to an Arbitration Board award.

Last February the Board under the chairmanship of Judge A. Cochrane of Brampton ruled that the company should restore the piecework rates previously paid to about 30 girls engaged on the job of winding induction motors.

The grievance dates back about 19 months. At that time the company claimed there had been a change in method permitting a revision of prices But the Board found in favor of the union and ordered the previous prices restored, together with back pay.

A statement by Works Manager Ian F. McRae on Friday stated that the company several months ago had suggested to the union that the Arbitration Board be requested "to clarify its award."

The crux of the dispute is the failure of the Company to live up to the Arbitration Award, union officials assert. They claim a principle is at stake, not just increased pay for 30 girls.

Meeting Continued

Meetings between the two interested parties continued through the week-end. A special committee of the Union interviewed Company representatives Sunday afternoon, in the words of the Union "to probe the possibility of settlement through the avenue suggested by the Company in the press."

Among the union officials present were President Morton, Joseph Murphy, vice president, the Induction Motors stewards, three girls from among those directly affected, and representing the District—C. S. Jackson and C. R. Sullivan.

"The Company claimed they were offering to jointly approach the Board for a decision which would clarify the Arbitration award," said President John G. Morton in a specially prepared statement. "At the meeting the Company refused to agree to abide by a further clarification by the Board."

President Morton stated that management had been asked to abide by Judge Cochrane's re-interpretation of the existing award, but had refused to sign a paper to that effect.

It was also declared by Mr. Morton that the Union had wired Judge Cochrane for a more specific interpretation but had yet received no reply. And he was of the opinion that the Company had done the same.

A breach of faith, is the way Ian F. McRae, works manager of the Peterborough plant, regards today's walkout involving the 3,000 production workers.

He told the Examiner shortly before noon that when the union and company committees adjourned Sunday afternoon, there was an understanding that no action—such as today's walkout—would occur until a clarification of the Arbitration Board award had been received.

"It was our opinion when we left that both elements would wire to get clarification on the Arbitration issue from Judge Cochrane," he said. "We thought the union was honest in this intention."

At the time of speaking the company had still no word from Judge Cochrane explaining that issue, he declared But the union had nevertheless gone ahead with "a strike."

Noticing that the placard carried by demonstrating workers bore no reference to the Arbitration award controversy, but instead called for a 40-hour week, more pay and other amendments to the present contract, Mr. McRae made this ironic comment: "It looks as though the arbitration award has become a secondary issue. That's how the strike started, but it seems to have been forgotten now."

Strike Engineered

"The strike was engineered on one basis and then moved into another field." And he added: "That is a pretty broad field of double dealing."

"Another tragic thing about it all is, each day the 3,200 employees are out on strike, it is costing them $30,000 in wages. Those wages will never be recovered; they are lost down the drain."

Mr. McRae contended that the approach to the chairman of the Arbitration Board for clarification could have been made by the union as far back as July 6. At that time the company communicated with Local 524, he said, and suggested this move

"And all this could have been avoided," he commented.

He paid tribute to the demonstrators (he called them strikers) for behaving in an orderly manner. None of the salaried employees entering the plant encountered any difficulty getting through the unionists at the gates.

He concluded by saying he hoped that if the strike went on over any length of time it would be orderly and unmarked by any untoward incidents.

Conference Board

Previous to the membership rally at 2 p.m. there was a meeting of the UE-GE Joint Conference Board here in Peterborough at 10 a.m., "to place before that body the Peterborough situation and to discuss with it coordinated action for a speedy contract settlement."

This Conference Board includes representatives of every UE local in the Canadian General Electric Co., including those from Toronto and Cobourg. Present amendments to the continuing master contract between the CGE and the UE are being handled on the Union side by this body. And at the moment the parties are deadlocked in conciliation.

Presence of the Conference Board in this city during this particular dispute raises the speculation that some form of concerted action may be discussed, involving all CGE locals. Union officials have made no comment on this possibility.

A large number of telephone calls to the Examiner office late Sunday night, enquiring as to the results of the membership meeting, pointed to the active interest among the citizens of Peterborough on this present dispute.

The majority of those who called were business men who obviously feared the economic effects on the city should a strike occur.

FIRST HUNTING FATALITY in the Peterborough area occurred Saturday night when Clarence (Bill) Hay of Campbellford was shot in the stomach. He died shortly after.

Sunderland Man Wins Plowing Trip To Britain

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 17—(CP)—Two Ontario plowmen are going to Britain, four to the Tennessee Valley in the United States and two to Chicago on expense-paid trips they won at the 36th International Plowing Match which ended Saturday.

The five-day competition at nearby Burford attracted an overall attendance of 187,000, a record. On Thursday alone, 57,000 persons attended. Saturday events, which included competition for the overseas trips, drew 35,000 persons.

The winners of the trips to Britain, who also received gold medals at a Saturday night banquet at Brantford Airport, were Ronald Marquis, 28, of Sunderland, and Jim Eccles, 30, of Brampton. Marquis won a horse-plowing class with Norman Jarvis of Markham, Ont., as runner-up, while Eccles placed first in a tractor class with Doug Campbell of Cainsville, second. The runners-up each received $150 and a silver medal.

The Chicago trip, given to the winners and runners-up in an inter-county tractor class, went to the Haldimand County team of Earl Fleming and William Walbrook. They will visit the International Livestock Exposition.

Head For Tennessee

Bound for the Tennessee Valley to see soil conservation projects are Haldimand County 17-year-olds Robert Nixon of Hagersville and Earl Bacher of Cayuga, winners in intercounty horse-plowing, and runners-up Eugene Timbers of Milliken and N. Watson of Woodbridge, representing York County.

During their trips to Britain early next winter, Marquis and Eccles will visit plowing matches, study British farming methods and tour points of interest in the British Isles. Both winners have been plowing since they were 11 years old and taking part in plowing matches for more than 12 years. They will be accompanied overseas by Alex McKinney of Brampton, former president of the Ontario Plowmen's Association and a neighbor of Eccles.

V. C. Porteous of Owen Sound, association president, called the 1949 match "the greatest ever held." He said entries numbered 1,185, a record, and the display of farm machinery in the tented city near match headquarters was 25 per cent larger than last year. The match was centred on the farm of Harold Army.

Next year the plowing match goes to Simcoe County. It will be held at Alliston, near the big army base at Camp Borden. It has been suggested that soldiers be invited to put army equipment through its paces as an attraction for match visitors.

Prices Move Narrowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP) — Prices moved narrowly on a slightly easier tone in dull forenoon trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Activity was the slowest in some time as industrial issues slipped fractions from recent strong gains. Base metals and western oils also weakened but gold held firm against the trend.

Market leaders were heaviest hit in the downtrend in industrials. Bell Telephone, Brazilian Traction, Power Corp., and CPR were losers in utilities and papers refining oils and liquors also dipped. Canadian Breweries went against the trend for a gain of ⅛ at a new high at 24.

A few junior golds producers marked up penny advances. Wright-Hargreaves added 10 cents at $2.50 in seniors following release of the annual report. Aunor and Giant Yellowknife were also higher. Upper Canada was under pressure, slipping 10 cents at $3.80.

Anglo-Canadian, Calgary and Edmonton and Royalite—key western oils—showed losses ranging from five to 10 cents.

"OUR BOSS WILL LOVE TO SEE THIS," said three workers in the Industrial Control outside the CGE Albert St., entrance early this morning as they listened to news of their actions from a Toronto radio station on their portable radio sets. They are, Left to Right, Leonard Williams, G. A. Porter and Bill Leggitt.

Reds Can Get 502 Divisions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—(AP)—General Omar N. Bradley Saturday pictured a big Russian Army as able to double and almost triple its combat divisions within months, senators said, as he urged passage of the arms for Europe appropriation.

Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was reported by Senate appropriations committeemen to have told them that:

Russia now has 175 combat divisions in readiness;

She could put 300 divisions into combat within 60 days;

The Soviet could step up its military power to 502 divisions in a matter of months.

Bradley testified behind closed doors to the committee on the $1,314,010,000 foreign arms appropriation bill which the House of Representatives passed Friday by a voice vote. One billion dollars of the money is for the opening phase of re-arming European members of the Atlantic pact as a bulwark against possible Communist aggression.

The balance will be used to furnish arms and equipment elsewhere, including Turkey, Greece, Iran, Korea and the Philippines. The China area may be included at the President's discretion.

German Officials Get Notorious Ilse Koch

LANDSBERG, Germany, Oct. 17 (AP)—Ilse Koch, the hard-faced blonde who once was the mistress of Buchenwald concentration camp, today was turned over to German authorities to face war crimes charges in a German court.

United States army guards surrounded the Landsberg prison to prevent hostile demonstrations by angry Germans as Ilse was released after serving a four-year sentence imposed by an Allied military court.

The former wife of Buchenwald's commandant was turned over to German authorities without incident.

See Red Drive On Chungking As Next Move

CHUNGKING, Oct. 17 (AP)—Canton slipped quietly into the widening orbit of Red China today, and Nationalists asked "where next?"

Some quarters predicted twin Communist drives to knock out the government once and for all—one against Chungking, the new Nationalist capital; the other against Kunming nearly 400 miles southwest.

The Reds already threatened several minor Nationalist positions along the east coast. Official reports said the Communists in a big amphibious operation established a beachhead on the northern corner of Amoy Island, about 300 miles northeast of Canton. About 1,200 others landed at Kulangsu, between Amoy and the mainland.

(The British steamship Anhui, carrying 1,400 passengers, was caught in the crossfire of an Amoy artillery duel Sunday. It returned to Hong Kong with three Chinese dead and 24 wounded.)

The government source claimed only a small number got ashore at Amoy and were being wiped out. Similarly, at Kulangsu, 200 were taken prisoners and the remainder "annihilated."

Representatives Arrive

Three United States representatives arrived here today — first foreign diplomats to reach Chungking since its re-establishment Saturday as the capital. A chartered plane brought U.S. Charge d'Affaires Robert Strong; Second Secretary Robert Rinden and Supervisor of Communications Lawrence Norton. Attaches of other countries are expected to follow.

Britain Faces Greater Curbs

DONCASTER, Yorkshire, England, Oct. 17 (CP)—Herbert Morrison, Deputy Prime Minister, told Britons Sunday their government is about to make some decisions which "are bound to be unpleasant for us all."

The stern measures contemplated, Morrison told a Labor party meeting here, are necessary to prevent a drift into "economic chaos and unemployment."

The government's program to overcome some of the difficulties brought about by the dollar shortage is expected to be considered by the cabinet's economic committee today.

Morrison did not say Sunday what the "unpleasant measures contemplated by the government may be but there is a general belief more belt-tightening is in store for Britons.

Present Shoe Styles Ruining Women's Feet

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP) — Dire things are predicted for feminine underpinnings by one of Canada's 200 choripractors.

If women continue their present shoe styles, says Dr. Robert Smith of Hamilton, "they'l be straight from the knees down;" by 1955 ankles will be "thicker and uglier" and those who wear "loafer" shoes will have "tremendous sizes in feet."

The trend is towards thick ankes and big feet, he said in an interview here.

"Teen-age girls are commonly wearing sizes 10½ to 11 in shoes today," said Dr. Smith. He added that there has been a 30 per cent increase in certain foot troubles among women in the last five years.

"Most tooth loss comes from gum troubles," say dentists.

FIGHT TOOTH DECAY AND GUM TROUBLES } BOTH!

New dental research proves you can help prevent tooth decay as you guard your gums—this doubly-effective Ipana way!

DENTISTS SAY THE IPANA WAY PROMOTES HEALTHIER GUMS!

In thousands of recent reports from all over the country, dentists say the Ipana way promotes healthier gums. That's just as important as fighting decay, for dentists warn that you can't have healthy teeth without healthy gums! Try this dentist-approved Ipana care—for healthier teeth and healthier gums both.

DENTAL RESEARCH SHOWS HOW IPANA FIGHTS TOOTH DECAY!

Scientific research based on daily dental examinations now proves that every time, any time you brush your teeth with Ipana, it helps fight tooth decay by effectively reducing and keeping down the acid-forming bacteria. No other paste or powder is more effective for this purpose. And Ipana helps remove bacteria-trapping deposits that invite decay.

HERE'S THE DENTIST-APPROVED IPANA WAY—EASY AS 1, 2:

The Ipana way is doubly-effective 1. Between regular visits to your dentist, brush all tooth surfaces with Ipana after every meal. (Ipana's special cleansing formula helps prevent tooth decay—leaves teeth cleaner.) 2. Then massage gums the way your dentist advises. (Ipana's unique formula stimulates circulation—promotes healthier gums.)

Dentists warn that if you want to save your teeth, you must protect your teeth and gums both.

For not only does tooth decay cause untold misery and expense. Gum troubles cause even more tooth losses than decay, according to leading dental authorities. And gum troubles can strike anyone—even healthy youngsters and teen-agers—with little warning!

Now you and your family can help prevent tooth decay and gum troubles BOTH—with doubly-effective Ipana dental care.

For new dental research now proves that Ipana's own special formula effectively reduces and keeps down acid-forming bacteria—considered a major cause of tooth decay. Ipana fully meets these standards for an anti-decay dentifrice.

And more—Ipana is the only leading tooth paste specially designed to stimulate gum circulation—promote healthier gums.

IPANA for Both!

HEALTHIER TEETH, HEALTHIER GUMS

And refreshing Ipana leaves your breath cleaner, your mouth fresher, too!

Time To Stop Snarling

Two years after the First Great War Lloyd George had to warn the Allies that they must "stop snarling" at each other, or they would quickly provoke another war; the snarling of that period, however, does not approach the vehemence with which the Allies of the last war are snarling at each other now. For Russia, let it be remembered, was one of our Allies.

• • •

The snarling is not only between nations; it is within nations, and nowhere more than within the U.S.A. It is now common for American officials to refer to Russia as "the probable enemy" in an atomic war. The civilian defence chief, Louis Johnson, has committed the U.S.A. to a heavy program of building B.36 planes, to carry atom bombs; his stand, and that of his advisors, has been strongly attacked by U.S. Navy experts, who insist that long-range, heavy bombers are easy target for fighter planes and those "guided missiles" which the Russians are known to have. They also point out that a huge plane carrying atom bombs must fly at a great height, so that precision bombing is out of the question. Therefore the U.S. is committing itself to a type of warfare in which it will drop atom bombs indiscriminately—a ghastly and inhuman undertaking. Such strategy would not ensure victory, and it would blacken the name of the U.S.A. for centuries. What is more, the Russians now have an atom bomb, and would certainly use it indiscriminately, as the Americans plan to do.

• • •

The naval leaders are convinced that any future war will be won by rival armies, fighting on land; transport and protection for those armies is vital they insist. The concentration on huge planes for long-range bombing they refer to as "a million dollar blunder".

• • •

This dispute among defence authorities has been brought into the open by what is referred to as "a planned indiscretion" by a Navy officer, Captain Crommelin, who is to be court-martialed for it. The result is the present Congressional investigation which has made the dogfight public.

• • •

The American people are caught up in a huge arms race, from which there does not appear to be any retreat at present. It will cost the American taxpayers a great deal of money. But if the snarling—national and international—could be stopped, the world might have a chance to lick its old wounds, and to stop asking for new ones.

Vanished Freedom

One looks back on the Allies which were ours during the war—Russia, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, with wonder for what they have now become to us, and we to them. And what of the expressed ideals which all were supposed to be striving to attain? Where now are the Four Freedoms among our erstwhile eastern Allies? The fate of one in one country tells the story of all. On Friday last the Czechoslovakian Parliament adopted two bills which have imposed absolute state control over religion. All Czech clergy, from bishops to vicars, will now be civil servants, and draw their pay only from the State. A new ministry to supervise church affairs has been set up.

These are the second last steps to end religious freedom. The final step would be to close all churches and forbid all religious observances. During the last year the Czech Communist Government has inexorably pursued the Roman church in particular. There is a certain exact logic in the course of these events, for when two authoritarian systems come into conflict, as the Communist and the Roman Catholic, one or other must be ousted, for no authoritarian philosophy permits of divided authority. The conflict between church and state is not new; nor is the kind of revolution now taking place in eastern Europe. The situation in the England of Cranmer and Henry VIII when the King declared himself head of the English Catholic church was a prototype of the events now taking place in Czechoslovakia.

Will U.S. Senate See Another Filibuster?

We have commented before on the manner in which U.S. Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, had managed to block the bill for liberalization of the U.S. Displaced Persons Act, in his capacity as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. This committee was responsible for reporting the bill to the Senate, and Senator McCarran, with the assistance of Senator James C. Eastland, of Mississippi, had managed to keep the committee in line and the bill unreported.

Senator McCarran, however, took a trip to Europe, in response to an invitation from General Franco. Senator Eastland was later called to attend the funeral of an uncle in his home state. During their absence, the bill was brought before the committee. McCarran cabled his disapproval. Eastland sought to have the vote delayed until his return. The vote was called, however, and the legislation was reported out. The last major controversial bill to be dealt with, it was then sent to the Senate.

Political observers in the United States believe that protracted debate on this bill is inevitable. They even point to the possibility of a determined filibuster against it; friends of Senator Eastland say he will attack the bill bitterly and that he can count on minority support. They expect a well-organized attempt to delay the bill as long as possible, if not "talk it out" altogether.

It is not surprising to find that McCarran and Eastland are selfish reactionaries; they have long had that reputation. Nor is it surprising to see two members of the U.S. Government party doing everything they can to hamstring that Government; McCarran has been doing that for months and Eastland is a rebel from Dixie, where those who bolted from President Truman in the last Presidential election have felt the sting of Truman's discipline. It is surprising, however, to learn that the Government of the United States was unable to get one of its major bills before the Upper House of Congress until these two men were absent from Washington. It is an interesting example of the procedural quirks not uncommon in the legislative branch of the United States Government.

Centenary Of Chopin's Death

One hundred years ago today Frederic Chopin died in Paris. He was thirty-nine years old, and for eighteen years he had been regarded as one of the foremost musicians of Europe. In 1831, when Chopin was only twenty-one, and already famous, Robert Schumann hailed him in the Allegemeine Musikalische Zeitung in these words: "Hats off, gentlemen—a genius!" It was as a genius that he was regarded from that time onward, and his genius has suffered no diminution of regard in musical circles during the past century.

The melancholy which is thought by some people to be characteristic of the Polish race was very well exemplified in Chopin, although he was only half Polish. It is likely, however, that it was less his Polish blood than the tuberculosis which afflicted him during so much of his life which accounted for his sudden depressions, and for the fits of deep sadness which he translated so exquisitely into music. It is interesting though quite useless, to wonder what Chopin's fate would have been if modern methods of treating tuberculosis had been available to him. He might have overcome his disease; he might have been robust; he might have lived to a hearty old age. But he would certainly not have been the Chopin we know in his great piano works.

During his last two years Chopin was so weak that he had to be carried upstairs, but he continued to play in public. His final appearance was at a Polish Ball given at the Guildhall in London on November 18, 1848; it is ironic that the audience paid little attention to him, and the press on the following day did not mention his playing. Shortly afterward he went to Paris, and one of his sisters came from Poland to nurse him.

On October 15 another Polish lady, Countess Potocka, came to call on him; a piano was brought into the passage outside his bedroom, and she sang two or three songs by Stradella and Marcello; then two of his own Preludes (Nos. 4 and 6) were played. It seemed that Chopin was dying, and all who were present knelt to pray. He rallied, however, and died on October 17, 1849.

When Chopin left Poland in 1820 a silver box of Polish earth was given to him, and he carried it with him everywhere. At his burial it was emptied into his grave.

Effect Of The Austrian Elections

From EDWARD CRANKSHAW In Vienna

THE Austrian elections have achieved three things. They have provided the occasion for a strong if qualified vote of confidence in the present coalition of left and right as a symbol of national unity in troubled and frustrated times. They have provided the occasion for a firm demonstration against Communism, which got only a three per cent. vote. And they have exposed the full extent of unrepentant Nazi-ism.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE result has brought no major surprises, although the Socialists with 67 seats, are bitterly disappointed at losing some ground to the Catholic People's Party with 77 seats, particularly in the great cities, usually regarded as Socialist strongholds. But it is precisely these cities, most of them only too close to the Iron Curtain, where fear of Communism is strongest amongst the ordinary people; and there is no doubt at all that the Socialists suffered badly from the defection of Dr. Scharf and from his coalition with the Communists in the so-called Left bloc.

❖ ❖ ❖

THIS was not, as the Communists claimed, because Scharf took many Socialists voters with him; on the contrary, he seems to have taken very few, and he must now be wondering what his own future will be in a party that has no apparent room for him. It is rather because many moderate Socialists were so frightened at the spectacle of one of their party leaders allowing himself quite wantonly to be devoured by Moscow that they moved over to support a party, the People's Party, in which they did not believe, but which was at least in no danger of a drift towards Communism. The result is that the People's Party has strengthened its hand, in spite of the loss of some votes to Dr. Herbert Kraus's neo-Nazi Union of Independents.

❖ ❖ ❖

THE independents captured 16 seats, or just 10 per cent. of the total, which is a fairly accurate reflection of previous expectations. Their appeal was directed mainly to the 400,000 ex-Nazis disenfranchised in 1945 and now allowed to vote for the first time. These were the "little" Nazis, the big Nazis still being debarred from voting. Not all these little Nazis voted for Kraus and his independents, and at the same time by no means all the Kraus voters were Nazis. They included past supporters of the People's Party, disgusted and made impatient with the mediocrity and frequent corruption of so many of its politicians and attracted by the brains in Kraus's party. Thus the strength of Nazism in Austria today is almost certainly less than the 10 per cent. vote captured by the Kraus independents. Whether it will increase or not will depend on the future economics and moral health of Austria and on the wisdom and restraint of the majority party leaders once the occupation comes to an end.

❖ ❖ ❖

FOR the important thing about the new Government is that unless things go very wrong indeed, it will soon be faced with the task of nursing a free and highly vulnerable Austria into independent existence. Under the occupation and in spite of the Communist menace, the Austrians have succeeded very well in burying the differences which split them so disastrously between the wars, which paved the way for Hitler and which still exist below the surface. But once freed from these outside pressures there is no knowing what may happen; and the behaviour of the politicians of both main parties during the election campaign has not been a reassuring augury.

❖ ❖ ❖

WITH the continuance of the coalition pledged in advance the politicians had nothing to lose, except a place here and there, by using the election campaign as a platform for exposing to the people the real and terribly difficult problems to be solved before the new Republic can prosper. But instead of dwelling on the need for national unity, the leaders of the Catholic Right and of the secular Left, who for the past four years have worked in harness, fell to bickering among one another with a venom and recklessness which can only be called irresponsible. Whether they will be able to forget their indiscretions and settle down once more into comparative amity remains to be seen. But they have certainly allowed themselves most dangerously to play with fire in trying to stir up among the people those very passions which brought down the first Republic.

❖ ❖ ❖

HAPPILY, the people have refused to be stirred. They, and the Austrian Press, have behaved with far more dignity, restraint and sense of the occasion than the politicians for whom they had to vote. And indeed, the most reassuring thing about Austria today is the level-headed and commonsense attitude of the people and their refusal to be stampeded.

❖ ❖ ❖

NEVERTHELESS, it is not a long way from level-headedness to apathy, and in the last resort everything must depend on the politicians. The rise of the Kraus independents with their Nazi flavour could and should serve as a stimulus for the two main parties to close their ranks once more. But it can also, if the politicians forget the lesson of the past 20 years, become a most serious menace. If, for example, the People's Party and the Socialists should indulge (as some individuals seem quite ready to do already) in the dangerous game of bidding for Kraus's support, to force through individual measures in the teeth of each other's opposition, this could well be the beginning of the end of the new Austrian democracy and then the Russians will have proved their foresight in encouraging the resurgence of the Austrian Nazis as an element of chaos and confusion.

The Profit On A Case Of Scotch

(CALGARY HERALD)

SIR:—I was very interested to read your article of July 14 on the profits the Alberta Liquor Control Board take on Scotch Whisky. Recently I have been in correspondence with them, as I wish to send a case of whisky as a present to a friend in Calgary.

The ALCB advise me that they are quite agreeable to this if I send the case of whisky to them and pay all charges to their stores in Edmonton. They will then pass on the case to my friend if he pays them $50. The federal tax and duty, I understand, amount of $18. It would appear, therefore, that the ALCB want a profit of $32 on a case of whisky, which they are not called on to pay for. A very extraordinary demand.

I have considerable experience of practically all countries' regulations on this matter and without exception you can send as a present whisky and spirits to any person so long as you pay the prevailing duties and taxes.

P. B. HEPBURN.
67 Blythswood Street, Glasgow, Scotland.

And the Calgary Herald's comment:

THE Scotch whisky distillers have increased their price in pounds sterling, as a result of devaluation. Previously, a case of 12 bottles of Scotch, at the dockside in Glasgow, cost £3. Henceforth, it will cost £3 18s 6d.

At the old rate of exchange, Scotch was costing $12.09 a case — £3 at $4.03 to the pound. At the new rate of exchange, namely $3.08 to the pound, Scotch is still costing $12.09 a case. The price in Alberta stores works out at sums varying from $63 to $90. So somewhere between Glasgow and Montreal, the federal and provincial governments between them manage to collect $50 to $78 profit on a case of Scotch, a rate which represents between 400 and over 600 per cent.

The letter from a Glaswegian which we print is evidence enough of the official gouging which is going on.

The Alberta Liquor Control Board is a monopoly, and the consumer has no recourse against this scandalous profiteering except to keep on protesting in the slender hope that some day the liquor laws of this province can be changed to bear some slight resemblance to common sense and fairness.

What happens to anyone who dares defy the Board's monopoly was illustrated at Red Deer last week by the trial of Chris Larsen, who was accused of manufacturing his own whisky. Mr. Larsen not only made whisky; he made it so strong that his customers started fighting on the premises and furthermore he had the audacity to sell it at $1 a bottle.

He was fined the heavy sum of $300 and costs. The rigor of the sentence, we suspect, resulted not so much from his simple breach of the laws against operating a still as from the unfair competition he was giving the Liquor Control Board, which, as everyone knows, waters whisky down to 70 proof and is by no means content to sell even this emasculated product at $1 a bottle or anything like it.

Of course, the law cannot permit people to deprive the government of its revenue by making their own liquor, but we suspect the authorities were more than usually pleased to see Mr. Larsen's enterprise brought to an end.

Hansard Is Worth While

It is manifestly impossible for newspapers—even for the largest and wealthiest dailies—to publish the text of all the speeches delivered in the House of Commons and Senate. They must rest content with giving as complete resumes as possible. The reading of these resumes should arouse the curiosity of citizens who are interested in public affairs. It is fitting to remind them that for a very small sum they can procure the official account of the debates of the Commons and Senate. The reading is, more often than would be thought, very instructive.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches. In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water. For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years. When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole? The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk. And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath. (John 5: 2-9.)

A young husband realized that it was time to start saving money. He decided that he would not use the bus any more when returning from his office. He ran behind the bus, arrived home gasping, and said to his wife: "Dear, I saved 10 cents this evening by running behind the bus!"

"You're a fool," his wife shouted. "You could have saved half a dollar by running home behind a taxi!"

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night. And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony. (Rev. 12: 10, 11.)

12 Were Hanged

(Brandon Sun)

Murder charges were faced by 56 persons in Canada in 1948, five fewer than in 1947, and 10 fewer than in 1946 when an all-time high number was written into the record. There were 33 acquittals as compared with 30 in 1947, while four persons were detained for lunacy compared with 13. Death sentences were pronounced on 19 persons during the year, one more than in 1948, but down sharply from 1946 when 32 death sentences were passed.

There were four commutations of death sentences in 1947 as compared with six in 1947 and eight in 1946. Twelve persons were executed during the year as compared with 10 the year before, and 14 in 1946.

Besides easing the parking problem, Vancouver's publicly owned parking lots are going to add a touch of beauty to the downtown district.

The new parking lots are going to have nothing of the unkempt or hideous about them. They are to be surrounded with hedging or shrubbery.

This calls for cheers.

Only 10 People Lose Lives In Six Provinces

By The Canadian Press.

One of the lightest week-end, fatal accident tolls in months in Ontario, and Eastern Canada as a whole, was reported today by The Canadian Press.

A survey showed that only 10 persons lost their lives in violent deaths during the week-end in the six eastern Canada provinces. The most occurred in Ontario with five deaths in traffic accidents and two in hunting incidents. There also were two highway fatalities in Quebec and New Brunswick.

William Hay, 28, a veteran of the Hong Kong campaign and a Japanese prisoner of war for four years, died when a shotgun discharged into his stomach. The Campbellford resident had just returned from a duck-hunting trip a few miles from his home.

Jerry Michelutti, 25, of Kirkland Lake, was killed when a shot-gun in the hands of his brother accidentally discharged on a hunting trip near Englehart, sending a full charge of shot into his stomach.

Ann Roblin, 21, of Ottawa, an arthritic cripple died after the station wagon which her father bought to take her driving, went out of control on a curve and rolled over. Her father, mother and aunt were injured.

Petes Capture OBA Crown With 15-1 Victory Over Ottawa St. Anthony

By CEC. PERDUE

With Lefty Bill Dadson southpawing a one-hit game, the Petes rode to the OBA senior "B" championship here Saturday against St. Anthony's of Ottawa on a 17-hit tide. They beat the Saints 15-1 before several hundred fans in Riverside Park in the sudden-death provincial final, after earlier eliminating Toronto and Chatham in the playdowns. It was a loose and one-sided struggle to wind up the locals' most successful season under a warm sun. Never before has this city won a senior baseball crown, either "A" or "B", though it has reached Ontario finals a number of times. Manager Eddie Murphy and his players received congratulations afterward on all sides, the Ottawa players included.

In Great Form

Dadson was in fine form, except for the odd streak of wildness, as he walked seven throughout, while he limited the visitors to one bingle, fanning eight. Just one man reached third and he scored on an error for an unearned run. Four others got as far as second but they were generally handcuffed, most being lefthand hitters, by Bill's portside slants. The Petes had four miscues, but Ottawa were sloppy in the field for seven and they let several cheap hits get by them, too. Three twirlers saw action, none getting good backing, and all three were clouted hard.

Danny Brown led the champions at bat with two doubles and a single in four tries, driving in four runs. Bill Edger played right field and hit safely three times in five, one a two-bagger. Larry Edwardson belted out a double and two singles in six, Joe Stewart and Freddy Garvey each hitting safely twice, one of the latter's being a double, and Joe Lowrey hit a homer. He opened the game with the four-base clout and the next two batters doubled. Every one of the Petes got at least one safety. Paul Ventura got the lone hit in the fifth for Ottawa. The visitors pulled one double-play and Edwardson came up with a smart pickup on a low throw.

Scored a Run

The Saints got their run in the fourth when Corkran was safe when Dadson fumbled his bunt. He was sacrificed by Strelbisky, took third on a bad peg by Menzies and raced in when Al dropped a pop fly in front of the plate. The Petes got six in the first on Lowrey's homer, doubles by Garvey, Edwardson and Brown, a walk to Edger, Estlick's single, and two miscues. They added one in the fifth when Lowrey was safe on a fielder's choice after an error, stole second and tallied on a miscue at second.

Five more counted in the sixth on a double by Edger, singles by Stewart, Brown, Dadson and Garvey, and a two-base error. They made it 14-1 in the seventh on a a two-base bobble, Stewart's single and a solid two-base smash to left by Brown, the latter later being nipped at the plate in a double-play. The final run came in the eighth when Edwardson singled, moved up on a hit by Menzies and crossed the plate on a blow to centre by Edger.

St. Peter's Win By 16 to 15 Against Lindsay

John Armstrong's pass across the line to Tom Cavanagh in the dying seconds Saturday, gave Fred Allore's St. Peter's juniors a fine 16-15 triumph over Lindsay in a thrill-packed football fixture at the Scugog town. The return game will be played here Wednesday.

To achieve victory, St. Peter's came from behind a 14-point deficit as Lindsay scored three unconverted majors up to the 10-minute mark in the second quarter as against Picard's single to the deadline, in the first. Led by Picard, Brioux, Armstrong, McGillen, Cavanagh and Fitzgerald, and ably assisted by their mates, Saints proved equal to the challenge, outplayed their rivals in the second, blanked them and scored three touchdowns to gain the verdict, in a Merriwell finish.

Scored First

McDuffee scored for Lindsay midway in the first, carrying 40 yards to aints 10 and clicking on second down after Maidens gained two more, on a plunge. The latter then made it 10-1 around left on a 40 yard run after McFadden recovered a fumble on Peterborough's 45 but the convert failed. McDuffee scored another late in the second quarter, after Lindsay hemmed Saints in their own end and he and Logan combined to score unconverted, from the 16.

Carl Brioux and Fitzgerald then pulled the neatest play of all, the former tossing a 15 yard cross forward from his own 20 over right end and the latter running 60 yards just inside the touchline to score.

St. Peter's continued to feature forward passing against Lindsay's baffling criss-cross laterals and end runs, with both lines holding well in the second half. Saints completed seven in 25 attempts, three resulting in major scores while the homesters clicked on but three in 10 tries. Frank McGitlen tossed a beautiful cross forward to Brioux from his 30 and the full back duplicated Fitz's feat exactly, to score at the opposite end to make it 15-11, as thrill followed thrill. Conversion failed and the teams fought hard both ways in the final quarter with Saints holding an edge as condition began to tell. Finally, they forced Lindsay to their three where on third down the game winning break came as Saints' line broke through to Trotter's kick, gain possession and set the stage for the pay-off Armstrong-Cavanagh pass.

The well coached victors shone to a man—the line equally as effective as the backfield—in a great game. The same might be said of Lindsay.

St. Peter's—Flying wing, Fitzgerald; halves, F. McGillen, Picard, Brioux; quarter, Armstrong; snap, La Plante; insides, Hull, J. Hickson; middles, Crowley, O'Reilly; outsides, M. Fitzpatrick, Cavanagh; alternates, Jones, O'Leary, Byrne, McMurray, Kirkly, Crough, McCormick, McTeague, Richardson, T. Fitzpatrick, Hickey, Harrington, Clark, C. Hickson.

Lindsay High—Flying wing, Ward, halves, Logan, McDuffee, Maidens; quarter, Trotter; snap, Bellamy; insides, Martin, Pennock; middles, McFadden, Race; outsides, Brown, McLean; alternates, Schenk, Smith, Georgas, Graham, Stoddard, Tozios, Garfield, Teel.

Referee: Jim Burn. Hed linesman: Arnold Kerrys. Umpire: Leo La Plante.

President Announces Retirement At Dinner

Members of the executive of the men's City Softball League, and their wives, attended a windup banquet Saturday night at Gail Park. It was on enjoyable affair to conclude a most successful softball season in which Cosmos won the city title and Uniteds, as well as Cosmos, represented Peterborough in provincial OASA playdowns. Bob Greenlaw, as winner of the most valuable player trophy, was invited but didn't attend, being in Sydney, N.S., for hockey.

President Pat Calladine advised the gathering that he would not stand for re-election next spring. Dave Leether, long-time and valued executive member, paid tribute to the work of various officials and the press, suggesting that new blood might be injected into the executive another year. Brief speeches were made by Bert Bailey, George Dorn, Naish, Fred Griffin and Playford.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Hail, the champs! Our congratulations to Manager Eddie Murphy and the Petes on beating Ottawa 15-1 here Saturday to take the OBA senior "B" championship. Fine work by Lefty Bill Dadson—he threw a one-hitter — Bill Edger (hurling swell ball in recent weeks), Joe Lowery, Freddy Garvey, Larry Edwardson, Al Menzies, Joe Stewart, Danny Brown, Gunner Whitehill, Paul Estlick Pat Wilson (away now for hockey), Howie Dalton, presently doctoring a bad knee, and the rest. They mauled Ottawa plenty in the sudden-death final, earlier eliminating Toronto and Chatham in playdowns. First OBA senior crown, "A" or "B", ever won by a Peterborough team.

* * * * * *

While the city council may see fit to pay tribute to these baseball champs, the boys would probably appreciate it more if the council would forget what is still owed on the 13 per cent gate cut for park rental. The Petes are more than $500 in the hole this season, main reason being an unusually hot summer combined with the fact the covered stands in Riverside were torn down. Fans wouldn't sit and swelter in bleachers. If there's any senior ball here next year, there will have to be lights, whether at Riverside or Morrow Park doesn't matter so much. The club will probably hold a victory dinner later, and then worry about raising money to get out of the red.

* * * * * *

Won Another Game

After beating the Ottawa outfit—not much of a team, at that—Saturday a.m., the Petes hustled off to Oshawa for a Red Jubenville benefit tilt. There, Bill Edger threw nice ball as the Petes defeated the Merchants 4-2. Paul Estlick hammered out a triple. They wanted to help out, as Red once played for the Petes. Yeah, they're an okay outfit and, despite setbacks of one sort or another all the long season, they stuck it out and captured a diamond championship. Good local clubs in the past have made senior Ontario finals before—the late Fred Craig scored some of those memorable melees, and later Ted Outram was scorer—but they didn't quite make it. We're glad to have scored that titular tilt here Saturday.

* * * * * *

Men's City Loop softball executive hit the country roads for Gail Park on Saturday eve and sat down to a fine spread. Marking the windup of their season, the usually neglected wives being in on this phase. Prexy Pat Calladine informed the gathering later that he wouldn't run for office next spring, though Pat has done a fine job the past several years. Dave Leether also felt new blood should be injected, but we don't agree in several instances. When guys do a good job, they should be kept as long as they'll stay. Likely a meeting will be held late in the winter, about a month before the annual meeting, to serve notices of motion re amendments to the league constitution.

SPS Comes Through

St. Peter's High squeezed out a nifty 16-15 grid win over Lindsay in their junior scheduled scrap Saturday on the Scugog field. Coach Fred Allore's lads had to come from behind after Fitzgerald got a touchdown near the halfway mark. Armstrong called a good game at quarter and Brioux was outstanding at fullback. Picard kicked and plunged well, with McGillen's passing okay and Cavanagh receiving in fine fashion. Whole team clicked well in this tilt, their tackling stopping the fighting Lindsayites in the late stages. These same squads clash after four Wednesday aft in the Oval, and another neat number should result.

* * * * * *

Formerly of Peterborough, Don McHoull now coaches Humberside juniors and his footballers swept through the PCVS boys 34-1 in an exhibition here Saturday. Not so with the senior Humbersides, who had to bow 25-17 to the PCI-ers in a hard tussle. First loss of the year for the Humbersides huskies as Collegiate looked real good. The PCVS champs are off to Toronto on Friday night to clash with Sarnia in the opener of the Red Feather tourney of champions. Games are at Maple Leaf Stadium. A two-day tourney as the eight top high school teams in the province vie for honors. A passing competition Saturday when Frank Filchock, Andy Gordon, Al Dekdebrun and Joe Krol see who is the best football thrower.

Butler Gets 4 Goals As Oilers Whip Kansas

By The Associated Press.

Dick Butler of Tulsa is off to a fast start in the race for individual scoring honors in the United States Hockey League.

Butler scored four goals Sunday night in conducting the Oilers to a 7-6 victory over his former teammates, Kansas City Mohawks.

Omaha, the last team to swing into action, won its opener with a rousing 5-0 shutout at Louisville. The Knights got three of their goals in the first 12 minutes.

St. Paul edged Minneapolis 5-4 on Hub Anslow's goal. It was the second straight game he has won for the Saints in the third period.

Louisville broke into league play for the first time Saturday, downing Tulsa 4-1. Minneapolis bumped Kansas City 3-2 in the other Saturday game.

Atkins And Toar Morgan Headline Mat Card At Brock

Fred Atkins, Australian champion and one of the leading contenders for the world's title, will meet Toar Morgan at the Brock Arena Thursday night in the main event. Atkins, at the present time, is one of the best wrestlers in the business and also one of the roughest. Fans all over have taken a great dislike to the Aussie for his ruthlessness. His motto seems to be "win at any cost".

Toar Morgan is returning here for the first time in about three years. Fully recovered from an injury that kept him out of wrestling for a spell, the Lindsay boy, is reported at the peak of his form. If this is so he will give Atkins a real battle. Toar is terrific when in peak condition.

Determined to give fans nothing but topflight matmen, Manager Laidlaw is again showing new faces locally. In the semi-final handsome Frank Taylor takes on Stan Olener, while the opener features Tiger Tasker against Antone Leone.

These newcomers are all highly rated and will be well worth seeing in action.

PCVS Rugbyists Hand Loss To Humberside

Peterborough Collegiate senior footballers turned back the Toronto 1948 champions, Humberside Collegiate 25-17 at Nicholls Oval Saturday. The locals rolled up an early lead and managed to hold a determined Humberside squad rally in the last quarter. This was Humberside's first loss this year.

Displaying championship form the PCI'ers plunged their way to two majors in the first quarter before a reply from the Toronto squad. Northcott booted two singles in the second to make the score 14-5 at the half. An interception and a snap pass accounted for two touches by the Petes to roll up a 25-5 score at the end of the third. Two fumbles by the Collegians gave the Toronto Collegiate boys two touches in the last quarter as they fought to keep from losing their first game.

Good Booting

The educated toe of Al Northcott at quarter for PCVS, pushed the Humberside boys back as they threatened to score in the last frame. In the other quarters that educated toe came through just at the right time to send the Toronto boys well back into their territory. MacKay's booting was only fair. Ted Evans played the best game of the season with his alertness in the Petes' backfield. He came through with six interceptions on Toronto passes and laterals as well as doing some nice receiving on passes from Northcott.

After three offsides on the opening kicks by Northcott Humberside lost possession of the ball at centre. Northcott managed to get a kick away to the Toronto 10 after a poor nap. Irvine of Toronto booted a poor kick out at the Toronto 15. Brown and Armstrong carried to the five-yard line where Armstrong plunged over for the first plus major. Northcott converting. Later, two passes; Northcott to Evans both times, put the ball on the Toronto 5 where Northcott went over on a quarter sneak, converting once more. In the second quarter Northcott booted two points once from the Humberside 50 and the other from the 35. There minutes after the half Evans intercepted a Peace lateral at the PCVS 35 and went for a touch. MacKay of Toronto was trapped on a poor snap on a third down deep in his territory. The first play a Northcott to Coon pass was called back. The next play was a pass from Northcott to Ward who was stopped at the one-yard line. Northcott's third pass was a snap pass to Sergeant for a major. Northcott converted to make PCVS' final score 25.

Two passes accounted for the first Toronto major in the first quarter when Irvine passed to Connell who went to the PCVS 25 and then passed to Sahardak for a touch. At the start of the fourth Osborne recovered a PCI fumble on the PCVS 25 and went to the 2. Tolton went over on an end run. MacFarlane booted the convert. Stephan later picked up a PCVS fumble on the PCVS 5 to go over for a major score with MacKay making the kick good to make the final score 25-17.

Three Senior Toronto Teams Humbled During Weekend Games

By JACK MITCHELL,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It was a sad football Saturday for Toronto—even if it was a Montreal player who ran the wrong way.

The gloom still hung thick over Ontario's queen city today It's been a long time since all three senior Toronto teams—Argonauts, Balmy Beach and Varsity—took beatings on one day. To cap it all, Montreal Alouettes pushed Argos near playoff elimination by beating Hamilton Wildcats 29-16 Sunday.

Things were pretty dismal too, in Winnipeg and Edmonton. Their tail-end Western Canada League teams took trimmings from the top clubs. Calgary's Dominion champion Stampeders swamped Edmonton's Eskimos 31-6 for their 10th successive victory. Saskatchewan Roughriders drubbed Winnipeg's Blue Bombers 47-0.

There was no joy, either, in the Ontario centres of Sarnia and Kingston. Sarnia's Imperials bowed 13-11 in their Ontario Union game with Hamilton Tigers; Queen's Golden Gaels were humbled 16-11 by University of Western Ontario in their inter-collegiate contest at Kingston.

Need Biggest Towel

But Toronto, the only centre with three senior teams, needed the biggest crying towel. The Argos were beaten 24-16 by Montreal as a Varsity Stadium crowd of 18,000 watched; Balmy Beach took a 26-6 pasting from Windsor Rockets; McGill Redmen overpowered University of Toronto 22-13.

Hamilton came close to Toronto's record. While Tigers won, their Wildcats dropped two weekend Big Four contests, losing 12-7 to Ottawa Rough Riders before their Montreal defeat.

When somebody loses, somebody wins—so things were right rosy today in Montreal. In addition to the Als two wins, McGill Redmen helped make it a triple with their first victory in two inter-collegiate seasons.

The 18,000 fans who watched Varsity humbled at Montreal's Molson Stadium could even cheer McGill's wrong-way Corrigan — lineman Johnny Newman who intercepted a forward and plodded valiantly toward his own goalline with both teams in hot pursuit. He got straightened out on his own seven—after a 35 yard "gain" —so no damage resulted.

Pair of Touchdowns

Alouettes earned their victory at Toronto on a pair of touch downs by hard-hitting Virgil Wagner, coupled with touchdown forwards that Frank Filchock pitched to Ralph Toohy and Bob Cunningham. The Argos scored a touchdown by Doug Pyzer and got a 10 point effort from quarterback Nick Volpe—a major, a placement and two converts.

Sunday the Als spotted Wildcats a touchdown by galloping Tom Casey but went winging away on three majors by Cunningham and others by Ches McCance and Toohy. Bob Westlake and Ed Hughes scored two last-quarter touches for Wildcats.

The Wildcats made it close against Ottawa at Hamilton Saturday. Casey, the flashy Negro import, scored all seven of their points on a touch and two singles. But Ottawa won out on majors by Pete Karpuk and Johnny Dengel, Eric Chipper's convert and Howie Turner's single.

At Sarnia, Joe Capriotti kicked seven of Hamilton's 13 points on two placements and a single. Rube Ainsworth added a major on Tom Waldon's forward pass. Touchdowns by Don Knowles and Pete Reeve and Ross McKelvie's took care of Sarnia's scoring.

St. Mike's Hand Barrie A 5-3 Lacing

By The Canadian Press

Ontario Hockey Association senior and junior clubs completed their first week-end of home-and-home doubleheaders, searching searching eagerly for rival clubs that might be considered push-overs in the heavy schedule ahead. They didn't find many.

Barrie Flyers, who hit the Eastern Canada junior finals last season, breezed into Toronto to play Toronto St. Michael's, last season's league doormats, whom they whipped 5-3 at Barrie Friday night. The Irish handed them a 5-3 lacing.

Toronto Marlboros, who had little trouble taking the OHA senior title last year, tripped Owen Sound Mercurys 7-1 at Maple Leaf Gardens Friday night but squeaked through 3-2 at Owen Sound Saturday.

Oshawa Generals evened the score with Stratford Kroehlers in another junior tilt whipping Dave Pinkney's crew 5-1 at Oshawa to avenge a 4-3 defeat at Stratford. Toronto Marlboro juniors, held to a 2-2 tie at Guelph Friday, beat the Biltmores 4-1 in ice return match.

St. Catharines Happy

The only club that felt reasonably happy about its week-end activities was St. Catharines. The Teepees whipped the inexperienced Galt Black Hawks 7-2 in their own back yard after trimming them 12-2 in St. Catharines the night before.

Marlboros dominate the standings in both divisions, the seniors having a two-point edge over the idle Hamilton Tigers, while the juniors pulled into a one-point lead over St. Catharines and Oshawa.

Penalties sank Owen Sound in the senior tilt. All three Marlboro goals were scored while Mercurys' Andy McCallum was off the ice in the second period. Al Buchanan got the first early in the frame and Scotty Mair rifled home two more within less than a minute in its dying moments.

Mercury scorers were George McLagan and Jack Ingoldsby. The homesters had a one-man advantage three times in the final frame but were unable to take advantage of Toronto's penalties.

Run Out Of Gas

Barrie ran out of gas after matching the scrappy St. Michael's club for two periods in which each club scored three times. The Irish ran in five third-period markers to hand Hap Emms' northerners their first defeat in three starts.

The willing but disorganized Galt youngsters couldn't match the scoring punch of the Teepees as George Sullivan scored three goals, set up two more by Jack McIntyre and drew an assist on another by Norm Cocoran. Two majors and two misconducts were among the 28 penalties handed out by referees Pearcey Allan and Larry Heffering.

By contrast, the Stratford-Oshawa tilt was cleanly played—by OHA junior standards—with only seven men being thumbed off. Kroehlers took an early lead on Hal Kewley's unassisted tally, but couldnt match the Generals the rest of the way. Gord Warner led the homesters with two tallies.

The junior Marlboros cracked the Guelph defence in the last period for four tallies by Lorne Pirie, George Armstrong, Ron Hurst and George Aitken. Aldo Guidolin tallied for the losers.

McGill Wins Title

LONDON, Oct. 17 (CP)—McGill won the women's intercollegiate tennis championship here Saturday amassing a total of 10 points. Toronto Varsity was second with nine points. Western third with six, Queens fourth with four and McMaster trailed the pack with one point.

Canadiens Trip Rangers Leafs Win, Tie On Weekend

By VIC MORRIS,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Montreal Canadiens — the dark horse of the new National Hockey League season—are in first place for the first time since they captured the league championship in 1946-47.

The Montrealers have an unblemished record so far with two victories in two games. Saturday night they conquered the New York Rangers 3-1 at Montreal in an action-packed contest.

Toronto Maple Leafs, last year's Stanley Cup winners, are in the runnerup spot with three points made up of a Saturday night 4-4 draw with Chicago Black Hawks and a 5-1 victory over Detroit Red Wings Sunday night. New York Rangers and Boston Bruins, who battled to a 2-2 stalemate on Sunday, are in a three-way split with Black Hawks for the cellar spot.

Canadiens came from behind a 1-0 deficit in the first period to earn their Saturday night triumph. Elmer Lach, Billy Reay and Maurice (Rocket) Richard accounted for Montreal's goals while Pat Egan, former Red Wing defenceman, scored the sole New York marker. Nineteen penalties were handed out with Canadiens getting the edge in this department also with 10.

Two-Goal Rally

A two-goal rally in the third period saved Maple Leafs from a defeat from Hawks. Ted Kennedy and Sid Smith notched the two timely goals after Hawks had taken a 4-2 margin in the second period. Joe Klukay and Harry Watson scored the other Leafs' goals. Bob Goldham, Jim Conchar, Gaye Stewart and Roy Conacher were the big guns for the visitors. The champions outshot Hawks 29 to 21 but goaler Turk Broda of Leafs and Frankie Brimsek of Hawks had few tough ones to save.

Sunday the Leafs showed better form in their game against Red Wings. They raced ahead with two goals each in the first two periods and another in the third. Howie Meeker and Fleming Mackell each scored twice and Sid Smith netted the other. George Gee who has scored three goals in two outings, saved Wings from a shutout.

Litfle Kenny Smith saved the day for Boston with a goal that stalemated the game with Rangers. Smith's marker came after 15 seconds of play in the third period. Rangers sandwiched a pair of goals between a Boston rally during the second session, Edgar Laprade and respectacled Don Raleigh scored New York's goals while Paul Ronty accounted for the other Boston tally.

Before the Boston-New York game, league president Clarence Campbell presented Bill Quackenbush, recently obtained from Detroit by Boston, with the Lady Byng Trophy, awarded annually to the player judged outstanding in sportsmanship. He is the first defenceman to be so honored in a quarter century.

Barons Trounce Providence 6-3

By The Canadian Press.

Cleveland Barons and Indianapolis Capitals remained the only two undefeated teams in the American Hockey League today after a hectic eight-game week-end schedule.

Barons picked up their third straight triumph Sunday night as they defeated Providence Reds 6-3. Saturday night they outlasted Hershey Bears 7-5 at Hershey. Capitals stayed in the undefeated ranks by virtue of their 3-1 victory over Springfield Indians Saturday. They were idle Sunday.

In other Saturday night tilts, Buffalo Bisons walloped St. Louis Flyers 7-4 and Pittsburgh Hornets blanked Cincinnati Mohawks 9-0. Sunday, Springfield edged the Bisons 3-2 while Pittsburgh Hornets and New Haven Ramblers battled to a 1-1 draw. Cincinnati picked up their initial point of the season by playing to a 3-all tie with St. Louis.

Ezzard Charles Starts Exhibition Schedule

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 17 — (AP)—Ezzard Charlesis a money-hungry champion with few if any challengers colorful enough to draw a profitable gate. So the National Boxing Association heavyweight king opens a busy exhibition schedule here tonight.

Charles still hopes for a title defence before Christmas. But with the prospects none too bright, he has a tentative schedule of some 25 exhibitions before the year's end.

The champion's managers—Al Weill and Jake Mintz—had staked their hopes on a title defence in Detroit early in November. The challenger was to be Nick Barone, of Syracuse, N.Y., or Dick Wagner of Oregon City and Portland, Ore. The bout was to be announced after (and if) Charles knocked out Pat Valentino in an Francisco Friday.

But an unpopular decision and a cut eye blasted those hopes. Barone won the official verdict over Wagner in a Detroit scrap. Many sports writers and fans protested loudly that Wagner had won. But with the verdict against Wagner, Weill is skeptical how well he would draw gainst Charles despite Dick's popularity in Detroit.

Blind Institute To Check Eyes Of School Pupils

HAVELOCK, Oct. 17 (ENS)—The National Institute for the Blind has been granted permission by the Public School Board to conduct an eye survey in the schools under the board's jurisdiction.

A letter from E. G. Brown secretary of Peterborough branch of the Institute was read to the Board Wednesday. The letter stated that the children in the counties of Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton do not have their eyes tested regularly by any agency.

Several instances have been found, the letter claimed, where children who are backward in school are considered stupid, but in reality are held back by poor vision.

The Institute hopes to arrange an eye survey for public school children in this area with the help of the school teachers.

The part the teachers would take in this activity would be to make the initial tests through the use of an eye chart. After the tests, the parents of a child who apparently had poor vision would be notified of the read for eye examination by an eye specialist.

Should parents be unable to send their child to a doctor, the Institute would assume responsibility for an eye examination and travelling expenses. In addition it would provide glasses the letter stated.

A report was read from Principal R. D. Buchanan stating that he had visited the four rooms and found the children working hard. All seemed interested and he felt assured that all the classes had made a good start on another successful year.

Referring to the public school field day he reported that the interest was keen and that almost every child entered every event within its age limit. This made the judging more dificult but all the more interesting. All teachers were on duty and he was grateful to R. Sayers chairman of the Board and G. Kemp of Quebec city, for assisting the judges.

Better Sportsmen

On the whole, he said there was considerable improvement in the sportsmanship of the pupils during the year.

Three contestants from the Havelock school have entered the oratorical contest to be held in the town hall on October 25. Chairman Sayers informed the Board that H. Hunter of the teaching staff took charge of the program on field day and great credit should be given to him. Also that Trustee Calnan had assisted with some of the events.

Caretaker Southward reported that window shades were needed for the school, a valve was needed for a fountain in the upper hall and that the eave troughing needed repairs.

On motion of Trustees Marten and Smith the secretary was authorized to write to the chairman of the Board of Health for permission to hire a registered nurse for monthly inspection of public school pupils.

In regard to the observance of Remembrance Day the secretary was asked to ascertain from the school principal if the school has a wreath for the occasion and if not to order one. The Legion was asked to notify Mr. Buchanan of plans for the observance of that day. The secretary presented the following financial statement: Receipts to September 30, 1949, 14,024.82; Estimated for balance of year, $1,360,000; Total, $15,384.82.

Expenditures to September 30, 1949, $14,024.82; Estimated for 1949, $9,727.77; Estimated for balance of year, $4,875.00; Estimated total expenditure, $14,602.77.

Estimated balance on hand, December 31, 1949. $782.05.

COALITION AGAINST COALITIONS—Progressive Conservative Jack McDowell, left, and Liberal-Progressive Edmond Prefontaine, two leaders of the new Manitoba Democratic Movement, plot campaign strategy for Manitoba's provincial election Nov. 10. Both were elected to the last house as members of the coalition government but withdrew from it in protest against the continuation of the two-party administration. Together with four other members, they formed the new group as a temporary alliance to fight coalition government, formed originally to combat the CCF.

Gets Longer Sentence

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 17—(CP)—British Columbia's appeal court Friday increased to four years a two-year sentence imposed on Lloyd Presley, convicted of possessing and circulating $10 bills. Crown counsel Gordon Scott, appealing the two-year penalty, complained it was not severe enough to deter others from doing the same thing.

Ask Legion Auxiliary To Assist In Tagging

MILLBROOK, Oct. 17 (ENS)—The ladies auxiliary to the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. Millbrook Branch 402 met in the Legion Hall on Oct. 13th with Mrs. K. Blair, president in the chair. The roll call was answered to by 24; there was one new application for membership, and one new member was initiated.

The draw for the crocheted basket was won by Mrs. Ed. Bredin.

Comrade W. Richards won the overseas box this month and has the privilege of sending it to a person or family of her own choosing. A letter was received from the Deyell family in London, England, thanking the auxiliary for the August parcel.

A delegation from the Legion Branch asked that the auxiliary attend the Remembrance Day services on Nov. 11, and also that they do the tagging on Nov. 5th.

It was decided to start a new series of euchre parties in November to be held this year in the waiting-room. The draw on the bow-tie quilt is to be made at one of these parties.

Refreshments were served by Comrade E. Sloan, convener, and the other members of the social committee.

The present rates quoted above are those applicable where hand telephones are provided. The proposed rates are for services provided with any standard type of telephone supplied by the Company. Until such time as the supply of hand telephones is sufficient, temporary rates apply for most of the services which are provided with desk and wall telephones at the time the proposed tariff revisions become effective. The temporary rates are, for desk sets, 15c per month less than stated; for wall sets, 35c per month less than stated.

METROPOLITAN AREA SERVICE PLAN

This is a new service which the Company proposes to introduce as soon as the necessary facilities can be made available. It will apply between certain large city exchanges and most of the suburban exchanges contiguous thereto as shown below. With this service plan all customers in the suburban exchanges will pay the basic rates applicable in the contiguous city exchange and, in addition to being able to communicate with customers in the exchange by which they are served, may, for the same rates, communicate with the customers in the city exchange and also with the customers in those suburban exchanges which are included in the plan and are contiguous to the exchange serving them and also to the city exchange. For the appropriate basic rates applicable therein, customers in the city exchange, in addition to being able to communicate with other customers in the city exchange, may communicate with customers in all the suburban exchanges included in the plan. Upon the inauguration of this plan of service, suburban zone, foreign exchange and long distance services will not be required between contiguous exchanges within the metropolitan area plan. Until the Metropolitan Area Service plan is introduced the proposed new rates for local exchange service in the suburban exchanges to be included in such plan shall apply. The rates for suburban zone service are increased by the same amounts as are the local exchange rates.

US Medical Groups Support Mutual Health Programs

Co-operative health enterprise has advanced in the United States to the stage of maintaining and operating hospitals, George W. Jacobson, St. Paul, Minn., said here Saturday night at the convention dinner of Ontario Co-Operative Medical Services Federation.

Mr. Jacobson said that a year ago representatives of his association, Group Health Mutual, had worked out a program covering twenty points as a basis of conducting health clinics with the approval of the American Medical Association. This was an essential step in securing the goodwill and assistance of local or county doctors for co-operative health service extension.

Jacobson referred to the implementing of state medicine in Britain, and suggested that the profession on this side of the Atlantic appeared to be more favorably disposed to co-operative health services as a preference to government control and direction.

It was fully recognized, he said, that the lay person had no place in the practice of medicine, but he did have a place in the efficient operation of hospitals and also in their financing through the steady income of co-operative medical service associations.

Officers Elected

Officers elected at the Saturday sessions in the Empress Hotel were: President, J. Edwin O'Dell, Corunna, Lambton; vice-president Samuel McFarlane, Hamilton; directors, Mrs. O. G. Anderson, Wingham; Mrs. J. G. Bald, Carleton Place; Michael Boychyn, of Whitby; W. W. Dawson, Peterborough; Lorne Evans, of Paisley; Mr. Paul McPhatten, of Kimble, Bruce; Paul Meehan, Toronto. The secretary-treasurer is G. Douglas Hughes, Toronto.

Edward O'Meara, research economist with the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, said the development of the co-operative movement in Ontario was a distinguishing activity and achievement.

Quebec was known for its advancement of credit unions, British Columbia for its co-operative transportation and fisheries, Alberta for rural electricity, Saskatchewan for its grain pools, the Maritimes for its co-operative education and fishing. The people of Ontario, Mr. O'Meara said, had already moved far in the extension of co-operative practice into business insurance and now in medical health services.

Fee-For-Service Basis

Mr. Jacobson expressed the opinion that it was impossible to carry on co-operative medical work on a fee-for-serve basis or on a "perception" basis.

The preferable method as it was emerging in experience and conviction was the salaried doctor, engaging of him on a basis that would appeal to him and provide for the health needs of the co-operative membership.

William McCarthy, of Rosemont, Dufferin, was chairman of the convention dinner. Thirty-two counties of Ontario were represented in the dinner company of 125 men and women from all parts of the provice.

The Federation decided to set apart $2,000 for research work on all matters affecting rates for group membership and reasonable economy in operation.

The intention of the Federation is to arrive at uniformity of details available to all groups. A uniform system of bookkeeping is now in effect. It is felt that it could be extended by having one audit manager.

R. A. Stewart Almonte, past president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said he hoped that the medical health services would always remain closely integrated with the Federation which had given the project a great measure of support. He suggested that it might be advisable to divide the Services Federation into zones identical with those which had been marked off by the Federation of Agriculture.

Mr. O'Meara said that enquiries have been received here, about the practical working of the co-operative health services, from England and elsewhere. Another was from Dr. Raymond Miller, Washington, D.C., consultant with F.A.O., Federation of Agricultural Organizations.

Doctors Much To Learn

One of Mr. Jacobson's comments was to the effect that doctors as a class had a great deal to learn about the management of hospitals. The public paid the profession all the credit that was due to its members for the advancement of medical science in these later years. They had made great achievements on limited expense basis.

Management of hospitals was mostly carried on by lay people, in directorship and also in the details of supervision. Mr. Jacobson said that some millions of people in the United States and Canada had already adopted the pre-paid plan of medical service. It appealed to them as a method of insurance to provide them with medical attendance in any need that might arise. This movement was steadily growing, and it was the hope of the laity that the medical profession would expand its outlook in co-operation with its prospective patients.

Scout Lad Hurt Apple-Selling

The success of the Boy Scout Apple Day Saturday was somewhat overshadowed by a street accident which resulted in a fractured skull for eight-year-old Earl Danes, 590 Patterson St., while he was selling apples at George and King Sts.

The lad had been to the truck from which the Scouts were replenishing their baskets and then ran from the south of King St to the north side behind a parked car and into the path of an oncoming car.

D. D. Covert, 487 Albert St., driver of the car, was unable to pull up in time and the boy was knocked down. He was picked up by Bruce Mills, an employee at De Carlonis fruit market and driven to the clinic in Mr. Covert's car.

From the clinic young Danes was transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital, where Dr. W. S. Fitzpatrick found he had a fractured skull. He is reported to have had a "fair" night and his condition was reported today to be satisfactory.

Three Skeletons Found At Indian River
Indian Braves Of Century And Half Ago

Three complete skeletons of what he believes to be Indians buried at least 150 years ago, were discovered last week by Morris Mead, lot 1, concession 4, Douro, and Jim Devlin when they were digging for building sand. They were found only 2 feet below the surface on Mr. Mead's land half a mile west of old Indian River.

Mr. Mead believes that if investigations were made in that vicinity more Indian remains might be found and he is hoping his discovery will attract the attention of people more qualified to handle such finds without causing damage.

The skeletons were intact when the two men found them, but as they were touched, the skulls broke up, Mr. Mead says. The jaws still contained teeth and the bodies were lying side by side.

Mr. Mead feels sure the Indians must have been buried before the second half of the 19th century. His grandmother's second husband Michael Burke, bought the land in 1858 and he apparently knew nothing about the buried Indians.

Charles Cummer Bank Manager Here 30 Years

Expansion of the business of banking in the economy of the people was the sharpest impression in the reflections of Mr. C. S. Cummer, bank manager in Peterborough 30 years today.

"The bank used to be regarded by the general public as a somewhat aloof institution," Mr. Cummer remarked to the Examiner in his office at the Bank of Montreal this morning. "The average man looked upon it as a place to be approached by him only when absolutely necessary. In his thoughts the bank was patronized only by people of substance. I think it is a general observation today that the average man himself is a customer, and the average woman, too.

"The war years had a great deal to do in correcting that old idea. Nearly everybody bought Victory Bonds, war savings certificates, cashed pay cheques, dependents allowances, and arranged for the safe-keeping of their securities.

Expanded Services

"Safety deposit boxes were rented by new customers who found that this service was cheap, and that it was something the bank alone offered. Family allowances were another medium of extending business at the bank. As a result of these dealings, the public discovered that the bank was available and useful to them, and that the banker had a welcome that did not in any way depend on size of deposits."

"People have become more conscious of money and security," Mr. Cummer said. "The monthly savings plan used during the Victory Loan campaigns for the purchase of bonds out of salaries and wages over a period of time proved to many a customer that a bank account could be built up by regular deposits."

And like most other habits, saving became a settled practice in the personal economy of a great many people. As a result of this increase in business, the banks increased their staffs and were forced to turn to the mechanization of old practices in getting the day's work done.

"In our branch we have six adding machines, three bookkeeping machines, and a proof machine," Mr. Cummer said. "This proof machine is an ingenious affair that sorts and lists cheques on twenty-four tapes at the rate of 1,200 cheques an hour.

Another machine photographs cheques, the details of which had to be written by hand in former years in our business record books."

Banks Are Barometers

Volume of bank business, Mr. Cummer said, was a barometer of prosperity, and it was a great satisfaction to the banker to observe its expansion, and particularly among the general public.

"Some Parents take their children to the bank and open small accounts for them as an early lesson in the importance of saving. And there are mothers who are using all or part of their family allowances for education funds in the future.

One of the deep satisfactions of a bank manager is to see in the results of loans the confirmation of his judgment of character. To help a young man in getting a start in business a young farmer in buying machinery or stock or a farm, and then to hear reports of successful effort and industry, and finally to see loans converted into deposits, that experience was something a banker would carry with him all his days.

Present staff of the Bank of Montreal is 47. Thirty years ago today, Mr. Cummer opened a branch of the Merchants Bank on the north side of Simcoe St. He had one assistant. Two years later his banking headquarters were between Simcoe and George St., half way in the block between Simcoe and Charlotte Streets. And when the Merchants Bank was absorbed by the Bank of Montreal, Mr. Cummer was retained as manager.

Eighteen years on George St. were followed by ten years at Simcoe and Water Streets, following the retirement of Mr. T. A. Mackay. That location reaches back to the early years of the Bank of Montreal in Peterborough when its first agent was Robert Nicholls, whose widow subsequently endowed Peterborough with a hospital and several parks, one of them, Nicholls Oval, bearing their name in perpetuity.

Recalls Growth

Mr. Cummer recalled today that the population of Peterborough had doubled since that hopeful morning when he assumed his first responsibility here. In the years between, nearly all the heads of industrial and retail business have been replaced by the effects of time. Some remain virtually as contemporaries of Mr. Cummer.

The service of banking has more than kept pace with the growth of the city. It reaches out into the district of which Peterborough is the centre. Total deposits, bank loans, securities held for safe-keeping, and clearing house figures have been increased tremendously in those thirty years and now stand at an all time high figure.

Community Interests

Mr. Cummer has been actively engaged in many of the community affairs of Peterborough outside his office. He is a past president of the Rotary Club, Peterborough Golf Club, the Lacrosse Club, and Y.M.C.A. He has been treasurer of the Children's Aid Society for 29 years and a member of the board of Trinity United Church for the same time, and is still engaged in those two offices. He has been treasurer of the Peterborough hockey club and is also treasurer of the Community Memorial Centre.

This section of the province, and especially this city, has known Charlie Cummer as a friendly, considerate bank manager on whom the years have rested lightly. He holds a high and warm place among the public of Peterborough, and apparently is well regarded in the head office of the Bank of Montreal.

Electrics Lose Soccer Go To O'Hallorans

O'Halloran's soccer eleven rapped home a smashing defeat on the CGE in a league engagement by a 5-1 count at King Edward Park Saturday afternoon. Best for the winners were Byers, Duffus and O'Halloran; for the losers, Featherstone, Craig and S. McGann.

Right from the kickoff, O'Halloran's were more aggressive with Duffus being prominent throughcut. Goodhew broke away fast for CGE and passed to Featherstone who hit the upright with a terrific drive. Byers replied with a sizzling effort as he dribbled his way right through the opposition but fell over the ball while in the act of scoring. Then Scott, at the other end saved a smashing drive from McGann. Eventually O'Halloran's got the break when Art O'Halloran, on the left wing, placed a perfect ball into goal where the CGE custodian palmed the ball through his own goal. CGE replied with a series of raids that brought success when Chamberlain headed the equaliser after two smart efforts with his head.

On resuming, CGE failed to nullify the concentrated attack of the winners as Smith lobbed the ball over the head of the CGE goalie who was too far out. Then Craig carried the ball too far up the field and lost it to Duffus who shot it up to Foster to enact the same performance as the previous goal to make it 3-1. O'Halloran's consolidated their margin with a constructive defensive system with Buchan awaiting the opening that found a line drive finding the back of the net. Towards the finish, CGE lost all ambition to finally concede the defeat when H. Foster made the final count read 5-1.

CGE—R. Titshall, goal; S. Murduff and R. Tollerton, full backs; F. Booth, J. Craig and S. McGann, half backs; F. Attard, H. Steel, R. Strong, A Featherstone, and J. Goodhew, forwards.

O'Hallorans—T. Scott, goal; J. backs; J. Byers, J. Duffus and H. Hutchinson and A. Downer, full Lathem, half backs; H. Foster, A. Murduff, A. E. Smith, M. Buchan and A. O'Halloran, forwards.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Ex-Jockey Frank Doughtery's McGill won Canada's richest horse race Saturday at Toronto, beating 12 other Canadian-bred two-year-olds in the 13th annual running of the Orpen Cup and Saucer handicap with a total value of $16,850.

The winner and pre-race favorite stepped the mile and seventy yards in 1.46 over a lightning fast track before 19,000 fans.

McGill had a margin over Mrs. H. Giddings' Brazen Buz and Harry Hatch's top-weighted Unionville. Ridden by Chris Rogers, the winner did most of his previous racing at New York tracks and paid $4.10 to win.

Frank Doughtery, who trains the colt for his wife, picked up $10,850 and a 14-carat gold cup and saucer.

Some 156 horses were entered at birth two years ago and 52 were kept eligible by payments over the period until Friday night when the field dwindled to 13.

Czechoslovakia Sunday wrecked its world champion amateur hockey team with a political purge, and leaders of the Sokol, national sports organization, said this is only a start in the policy of putting Communist political ideology ahead of sports prestige

The hockey team, which defeated Canada at the world championships in Stockholm last winter, was purged with the barring from international play under Czech colors of three players constituting its outstanding forward line.

They are Vladimir Zabrodsky. Stanislav Konopasek and Vaclav Rozinak. The three were held "politically unreliable."

More than 20 former players turned up at Winnipeg Saturday for the Winnipeg Football Club's "reunion day"—an saw the 1949 edition of the Blue Bombers take a 47-6 trouncing from Saskatchewan Roughriders in a Western Interprovincial Union game.

Edward Gallagher, 39-year-old coach of the London, Ont., majors midget baseball team, has been charged with assaulting Umpire Joe Murphy during the Ontario Baseball Association midget final baseball game at Toronto Saturday between London Majors and Toronto Rolarks. Rolarks won 6-1.

Juniors Beaten In Rugby By Humberside

Led by triple-threater Obal, the Humberside Collegiate Juniors of Toronto trampled the 1948 COSSA junior champs 34-1 Saturday at Nicholls Oval. The Humberside boys showed the power which took them to the Toronto city championship last year. Working behind a firm line, the Humberside backfield went smoothly through their plays.

The PCI'ers managed to eke out their sole point at the start of the first quarter with a kick into Humberside touch territory. Immediately Humberside tore up the field for a touchdown to make the score 5-1 at the quarter. On the ground and in the air the Humberside boys coasted through the PCI'ers in the second quarter to run up a score of 21-1 to show the PCVS crew they were not fooling Play sagged in the third quarter with the offensive work of the Toronto boys slipping and the plunging of Peterborough improving. A single point, two majors and two converts at the first of the fourth quarter put the game in the bag for Humberside.

uarter Sneak

Obal and Pinkney set the scene for the first Toronto touch which carried the ball to the PCVS 3-yard line. Hart whipped across for a major on a quarter sneak. Rome broke through the PCVS line at the first of the second quarter to go from the Toronto 32 for a touch. A 20-yard pass from Obal to Chorestecki put Chorestecki in the clear for the second Toronto touch of the quarter. Later the same combination and play gave Chorestecki the ball at the PCVS 32 when he escaped from Stewart's clutches to go over for another try. Obal booted the convert to make the score 21 for Humberside.

Their offensive play lessened in the third and PCVS held them off. Colter fumbled on the PCVS touchline at the beginning of the fourth and the ball bounced across with Peterborough recovering and giving Humberside one point when the play was smeared by Humberside. Tolton kept the pressure on the PCI'ers by intercepting a Young pass at the PCVS 15 and went over for an easy touchdown. Obal booted the extra point to make the score 28 for Humberside. On the second last play of the game Obal intercepted another pass at the 15 PCVS and went to the one-yard line. On the last play he went over standing up. Obal passed complete for the final point.

Peterborough's only point came at the start of the first quarter when they worked the ball into Humberside territory where Young booted into touch zone. That was the last time they threatened to score although the plunges by Fortner, Fowler and Langhorne took the ball to the Humberside 20 twice in the third quarter.

Obal with his booting, passing and running was the most effective man on the field. Hart and Tolton went good for the Toronto team with Dill, Biddie and Scoble good on the line Fowler, Fortner, Langhorne went well for the PCI'ers backfield, with Facendi, Galley and McIlraith trying hard on the PCVS line

The lineups:

Even then the Toronto relay team of Brown, Fraser, James and Pinn cut through the 160 yards in a quick 1:21.2 minutes.

Tieft Too Soon

In fact the Toronto club went on to take four more of the remaining medley and relay races, being disqualified in the 13 years and under 160-yard free style relay when the third swimmer left the mark to soon. Peterborough's only win in the medley and relay races was in the 13 years and under 120-yard medley race when they won by half the length of the pool. NEW PRE-COOKED RICE
MEAL-MAKING SENSATION

Delightful Desserts—
Wonderful Main-Courses
by Frances Barton

To illustrate the easy, delicious desserts and main course dishes that Minute Rice makes possible, here are some of my favorite recipes.

PEACH-LEMON RICE
Combine ¾ cup Minute Rice and 2½ cups milk. Bring to full rolling boil. Remove from heat, cover and let stand 10 minutes. Combine 1 egg (slightly beaten), ⅓ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Add a small amount of the hot mixture, stir well, return to saucepan. Add 1 tablespoon butter. Cook slowly 4 minutes, stirring constantly. Serve warm, with canned peaches and their juice. Makes 6 servings.

APRICOT RICE
Combine ¾ cup Minute Rice and 2 cups juice from stewed dried apricots. Bring to full rolling boil, cover and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat, cover, and let stand 10 minutes. Add 3 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon (each) salt and cinnamon, and 1 tablespoon butter. Serve warm, with plain or whipped cream. Makes 4 servings.

SALMON CASSEROLE
Prepare 1 package Minute Rice according to basic package directions. In greased casserole, arrange in alternate layers the cooked rice, 1 cup flaked canned salmon, 1 cup grated cheese; sprinkle each layer with a little salt and pepper. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Do Not Cook Like Ordinary Rice — Just Dump Into Water and Bring to the Boil!

Women everywhere are acclaiming the new, amazing, time-saving meal-maker — Minute Rice.

Now on sale at your grocer's, this entirely new kind of rice is already appearing regularly on the menus of countless homemakers who appreciate time-saving, sure results—and thrifty "extenders" for more expensive foods!

All the Tedious Work Done
It's almost miraculous. Minute Rice — the only rice of its kind on the market — is pre-cooked. All the tiresome, time-consuming work is done. So it's ready in minutes, to serve with steak or chops or fish . . . with a favorite stew or curry . . . with fried chicken — or as a dessert.

You just add the Minute Rice to water, and bring to the boil. No further cooking is needed. No washing, no rinsing, no draining, no steaming. Only one pan required — no sticky pot or sieve to wash.

Brand-New Menu Planning
Minute Rice gives you a perfect basic menu dish in far less time than it takes to cook potatoes, macaroni or spaghetti. It saves you so much time and energy! So it will inspire you to a brand-new kind of menu planning.

For such favorites as rice pudding and Spanish Rice, it cuts cooking time to a fraction. And Minute Rice gives surer, more satisfying results, every time.

Ten Year Old's Cooking Delights Family
The youngest cook — the newest bride—can serve fluffy, delicious rice that folks rave about. "It's easy", says one ten-year-old. "I measure the water and dump in the rice. When the water bubbles, I take it off the heat. That's all there is to it."

Canadian Red Cross Closes Its Headquarters In London

By WILLIAM ROSS.

LONDON, Oct. 17 (CP) — Its last parcel delivered and its work done, the Canadian Red Cross has closed down its London headquarters.

Ten years' work in the United Kingdom and on the continent has been accomplished through millions of dollars' worth of contributors by Canadians from coast to coast.

Primarily organized for welfare work among Canadian troops overseas, the Canadian Society broadened its task to include British servicemen and civilians in Great Britain struck by the adversities of both war and peace.

After the 1947 floods which ravaged much of England, it contributed $1,500,000 to the Lord Mayor's national food distress fund as well as lending help and giving clothing.

The Canadian Red Cross hospital at Taplow, on the grounds of Cliveden, the Astor estate, remains as its memorial in England.

Turned Over To British

Built by the society as an army hospital during the war, on ground loaned by the Astors, the $1,000,000, 600-bed hospital was turned over to the British Government in 1946, fully equipped for research into rheumatic cardiac complaints among children.

Between the arrival of the first 41-case consignment from Canada in 1941, and the finale, the organization distributed 13,448,387 articles of clothing and hospital equipment.

More than 16,000,000 parcels were sent to Canadian and British prisoners of war and 50 trucks were presented to the International Red Cross for its delivery runs to the concentration camps

The Times, noting the withdrawal of the society from Britain, observed editorially:

"All this work had its source in thousands of local committees and small work-rooms scattered throughout Canada, and on this side of the Atantic thousands of men and women remember gratefully benefits received through this great spontaneous welling up of Canadian generosity."

It said, "no better instance of practical friendship could be found."

PROVING HER POINT — Mary Goodfellow, Montreal-born hat designer, demonstrates her contention that every woman looks better when she wears a hat. Miss Goodfellow, who has an exclusive hat salon in New York, says that if she were younger she would start all over again, taking advantage of the opportunities for young designers in Canada.

Elected President

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—Lt.-Col. J. W. G. MacDougal of Moncton, N.B., was elected president of the Canadian Military Intelligence Association at the annual meeting of the organization here Saturday. He succeeds Col. Peter Wright of Toronto. Lt.-Gen. G. G. Simonds, commandant of the National Defence College, Kingston, outlined for Association members his own interpretations of world conditions.

Sees 20-Hour Week

SUDBURY, Oct. 17—(CP) — The coming generation of young people will work a 20-hour week, says the Rev. Daniel Lord. In a talk Sunday on how to enjoy "fun in the family," Father Lord said: "Your grandfathers worked an 80-hour week. Ontario now has a 48-hour week, and Philip Murray (president of the C.I.O.) wants his union to work only 35 hours a week, because machines will do the rest."

Lauritz Melchior, Famous Tenor Will Sing In Peterborough

Lauritz Melchior will bring residents of Peterborough o musical thrill-of-a-lifetime when he sings at Summer Gardens on Friday night. Called by critics "the most fabulous figure in contemporary music," Mr. Melchior is outstanding in not one but five separate careers—opera, concert, motion pictures, radio and records.

Since making his debut at the Metropolitan Opera House in 1926, in Wagner's "Tannhauser," Mr. Melchior, singing to a long succession of Isoldes, has attained a virtual monopoly in the field of Wagnerian opera. Holding the world's record for number of performances, Mr. Melchior has sung 220 Tristans, 177 Walkueres, 144 Tannhausers, 128 Siegfrieds, 107 Gotterdammerungs, 104 Lohengrins and 80 Parsifals. It is extremely doubtful that this record ever will be equalled.

But more, Melchior has maintained a concert schedule which would exhaust the average man. His astonishing record of singing 56 concerts in 56 cities, some as many as 600 miles apart, in 56 days is also without equal.

Yet, opera and concerts are not enough. His fourth motion picture, in the same number of years, "Luxury Liner," recently was released. Under contract to MGM pictures, Mr. Melchior is scheduled to make two motion pictures during 1950. Critics and audiences alike have acclaimed his previous appearances in the motion pictures "Thrill of Romance," "Two Sisters from Boston," "This Time for Keeps" and "Luxury Liner."

LAURITZ MELCHIOR

He also greatly enhances the entertainment value of radio and television with his frequent guest appearances both in classical—as with the NBC Symphony and "Carnegie Hall"—and in comedy roles as Duffy's Tavern, the Edgar Bergen Show, the Milton Berle Show, with Eddie Cantor, Danny Kaye, Jimmy Durante, Frank Sinatra, and of course, his annual visit with Fred Allen.

Added to all this, recordings absorb more of his energy, making his great voice and charm available to millions through the medium of the "record-player."

Melchior believes that each of these mediums, which present small or larger doses of serious classicals music to the American public, will do their share in interesting more people in his kind of music. Gradually, the public will come to demand increasingly more good music for entertainment.

Colleges Should Study Film Making

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 17 AP).—A fair deal for the movies in the seats of higher learning is advocated by top director William Wyler, just back from an encounter in the Ivy League.

Last week-end Wyler addressed drama students at Yale and showed them his latest film, "The Heiress." He reports that he was neither heckled, booed or stoned, as a Hollywoodian might expect on invading the upper cultural reaches.

"On the contrary," he said in his studio office, "there was no heckling. The boys were courteous, and their questions were quite intelligent. I'll admit I was much relieved; I was prepared for anything."

Wyler emphasized that more universities should take up the study of the motion picture, as a few are now doing.

"The colleges have schools of 'drama.' Even though they are called that, they include the study of comedy, but not of the motion picture. I think the course should be renamed 'Schools of Dramatic Art' and include all mediums.

"Colleges prepare students for working on the stage alone. But there is much more opportunity for work in other fields, such as radio and motion pictures."

Room For Talent

Wyler's last two pictures — "Mrs Miniver" and "Best Years of Our Lves" — have won something like 16 Academy Awards, including two for himself. So his words of advice might well be heeded by students of the cinema. He offers these:

"Try to please everyone and offend no one.

"You can't do this by appealing to the lower intelligences. Nor can you do it by appealing strictly to the higher ones; I don't want any 'artistic successes.'

"But I think you can have a success if you give people something that is better than they expected."

Freighter Launched

MIDLAND, Oct. 17—(CP)—The Coverdale, co-queen with her sistership, The Hochelaga, of the Canada Steamship Lines fleet of lake freighters, was launched at Midland harbor Saturday. The 29,000-ton vessel, capable of carrying 18,000 tons of cargo, is expected to begin operating early next year. She will carry ore and grain from the head of the lakes to Lake Ontario ports. Most of the Coverdale's work will be taking ore from Duluth, Minn., to Hamilton.

Dangerous Driving

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—A charge of dangerous driving has been laid against Jean Charlebois, of Navan, Ont., in connection with the death in a traffic accident here last Sept. 26 of Mrs. Mary Kidd. At an inquest held last Friday into the woman's death, the jury returned a verdict that the 72-year-old Gananoque woman was killed after being struck by a bus and that greater caution could have been exercised by the driver to avoid the accident.

Water Supply Cut

WALKERTON, Oct. 17—(CP)—The water supply in this Bruce county town is again low and Sunday it became necessary to have a water cutoff for the first time since last Sunday. Councillor Irwin Lobsinger said there was ample water to take care of any serious fire outbreak, but the water in the reservoir, which serves the daily needs of the community, has been dwindling steadily.

Approve Co-Operatives

TORONTO, Oct. 17—(CP)—Thirty-one Ontario farmers and officials of rural co-operatives, who returned Sunday night from a week's tour of Farm Bureau projects in Indiana, said they were impressed by progress of mid-west United States' Agricultural Co-operatives. The tour was sponsored by the United Co-operatives of Ontario.

Milk Up Cent

GUELPH, Oct. 17—(CP)— The price of milk will rise one cent a quart today in the southwestern Ontario cities of Galt and Guelph, W. G. Toner of Guelph, zone director for the Ontario Milk Distributors' Association, said Sunday. He added that a rise in production costs had caused the increase.

University Women At Luncheon

Miss E. McVannel, Miss N. Parks and Mrs. J. Watters, executive members of the Women's University Club of Peterborough attended a luncheon at the Toronto University Women's Club on Saturday. Dr. Charles Peaker, well known Toronto organist and teacher, addressed the club. Dr. Peaker stated that in the field of music when one played a composition one must be faithful to the composer's interpretation and not put into the composition too much of his own personality. In other words, a good musician, as an interpreter, must also be a good reflector or a good 'mirror' as he chose for his metaphor. Dr. Peaker also made a plea for higher standards of musicianship in the teaching field that would adopt the instinctive rhythm in children rather than stifle it.

"It may look a trifle informal, Rossiter, but it's worth it for the extra civility and courtesy I get!"

St. Paul's WMS Given Summary

Regular meeting of St. Paul's Auxiliary of the WMS was held in the guild room Friday afternoon with President Mrs. D. T. Diplock presiding.

The devotional period was taken by Miss M. Lees. Mrs. J. McLeod delighted with a beautiful solo. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. L. Mitchell.

A paper based on the final chapter of the year's study book was prepared by Mrs. Dickson Hall, and because of her absence was read by Mrs. T. J. Carley. This pictures the comparatively new field of missionary effort undertaken by the church, along with the Church of Christ in China, in the province of South Yunnan, which is when translated "South of the Clouds." Yunnan has been a very backward province, but since the war many changes have taken place. Industries have been established and communication has improved.

The missionary work, which is of a new type, being directly under the Chinese church, is, of course, a pioneer work and has made decided progress in the brief span of years since it was started. Churches, hospitals and schools are gradually coming into being, and despite much that is gravely discouraging and disheartening for the missionary, the outlook gives promise of a bright future.

Home and School Association News

GROVE SCHOOL

Mrs. F. Sanders, president, was in the chair for the regular meeting of Grove Home and School Association.

Dr. Ross Matthews, guest speaker, first showed a film called "Over-dependency" which depicted a man who could not decide anything for himself and in trying to get out of difficult situations used his health as an alibi. The doctor endeavoring to treat his ailment traced it back to childhood when he was made the centre of attention by a doting mother and sister.

In a short talk following, Dr. Matthews stressed the following three main factors to watch in deealing with children; over-concern that might cause mental weakness; over-attention; lack of affection all the time which tends to make the child feel insecure and unwanted. He also warned against frustration of the child when he is hurt or otherwise upset.

Four members of the YWCA gym class presented acts under the headings: Daunish fundathe headings: Danish fundamentals, wand drill, relaxation and eurythmics. They were Berta McBride, Marjorie Banks, Viola Wilson and Mrs. Price, with Mrs. M. McBride at the piano.

Introduction of the speaker was made by Mr. J. Barnard, principal, and of the gymnasts by Mrs. W. Higgins. All were thanked by Mrs. S. Whitfield.

Mrs. W. Hargreaves presented a report on dental health. The next executive meeting was announced for October 26.

Lunch was served by the social conveners.

Victorian Nurse To Get New Bag

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—(CP). — The "little" black bag — trademark of the Victorian Order nurse for more than a quarter century—soon will give way to a streamlined shoulder-strap model, as up-to-date as Dame Fashion's latest hat.

Word of the change was made known at the close of a four-day conference of VON district superintendents and national supervisors of the order.

The bag is black leather, fastens by zipper and has a large strap for wearing over the shoulder.

Ask Top Positions In Civil Service Opened to Women

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—Ontario's career women want top positions in Canada's civil service opened to their ranks.

More than 270 delegates representing the business and professional women's clubs of Ontario, Sunday urged the government to make women "eligible and qualified" for top civil service posts.

At the final session of a two-day annual convention they passed a rsolution asking the government to consider women, as well as men, "elegible and qualified citizens for positions as civil service commissioner and (or) chairman of the civil service commission of Canada."

The convention also adopted a resolution asking the B. and P. clubs to institute citizenship classes for new Canadians and those of foreign birth."

The resolution, brought forward by the Leamington club, called for holding of classes on the English language and on the history and organization of the Canadian government.

At the opening sessions Saturday, delegates heard Miss Ruth McGill of Regina, president of the Canadian federation of B. and P. clubs, report that the organization now had "more members andmore clubs than ever before." She said the federation looked to the Ontario branch for leadership in its affairs.

Miss Margaret P. Hyndman, K.C., of Toronto, vice-president of the International Federation of Clubs, also addressed the gathering.

Guest speaker at the Saturday seession was Mrs. Liu Chien, wife

—— —— —— M.D.
(Name and Address on Request)

Mr. David Fingard,

Dear Mr. Fingard:

As requested, I am reporting on the progress of some cases I have seen for you recently.

1st. Miss K. :- Asthma and allergic to many foods for 33 years. This patient has been under treatment for 16 weeks with the small electric cup. She can already eat all foods that she was previously allergic to. She now has very few attacks of asthma, and has gained in weight from 88 to 100 lbs. and looks very well.

2nd. A. McF. :-Hay Fever, Chronic Bronchitis, and Asthma, which according to the records of Dr. A. G. McPhedran, he suffered with from early infancy. He was considered cured after 16 weeks' treatment. On recent examination he was found to be in excellent health. He has had no recurrence in 10 years.

3rd. J.A.L. :- Age 79. Bronchitis and Asthma for 30 years. After taking treatment for 8 weeks consisting of inhalation from the small electric cup, for 2 hours each day, all symptoms disappeared. He has been without recurrence for the past 4 months.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Love Stood Test of Time Stronger Through Trials

DEAR MISS DIX: We firmly believe that what the older generation calls love is merely sex.

Dorothy Dix

Our elders try to convince us that the affection that they hold as man and wife is love, but we maintain that it is merely friendship. We believe that the only true love which exists is the love a mother has for her children. Please give us your unprejudiced opinion as to whether love is or is not just sex.

TWO MODERNS.

ANSWER: Of course the love of parents for their children is perhaps the most unselfish love in the world because, as a general thing, it gives all without asking return, and it forgives all and endures all.

But even mother love does not always stand the test for pure affection. For it is a not uncommon thing for a mother to ruin her child's life in order to keep him or her with her.

The love between a man and woman is even more a combination of mixed emotions. Undoubtedly sex plays a large part in it. Probably the first thing that always draws a man and women together is physical attraction, and sometimes this physical attraction passes.

Dull Affair

Young people who think of love only in terms of fiery passion think the love of a middle-aged married couple is a dull and drab affair. They see a man and a woman growing old and stout and commonplace-looking, who make no outward display of their feelings toward each other, and the youngsters think that the fire is out on the altar. They think that Darby and Joan have ceased to love each other and that the tie between them is merely one of habit.

They do not know that such a couple is still living in a romance whose colors have never faded, and that their love for each other compared to a boy's and girl's love in as wine to water. The sex attraction they had for each other to begin with has grown into the spiritual and intellectual need that they have for each other. Their love has stood the test of time and it is stronger because it has lived through trials and tribulations, through tempests and stress that no lesser passion could have survived.

And that, my children, is the love of the middle-aged that you scorn. Heaven send it to you when your time comes.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am fat and 47. Have worked hard, scrimped and saved so that my husband and I might have comfort in our old age. Well, we have arrived. The strain has lessened, life easier, nest egg laid aside and I find myself an unwanted wife. For the last three years my husband and I have been continually together day and night, and while he isn't mean to me and tries to hide the fact that he doesn't love me any more I know he is tired of me. Should I try to harden myself so as not to care or get out? We have children but they are married and gone.

MISERABLE WIFE.

ANEWER: Get out, but only temporarily. Have no foolish talk of divorce or separation or dead love or what-not. For what ails you and your husband is that you have been together too much and too continually, and you are fed up on each other. Any woman and any man would feel that way about each other if they were together day and night for three years without a break or a respite. Human nature simply cannot stand it.

The indication for your case is plain. It is railroad or steamship ticket for yourself and a job for your husband. Go off for a couple of months yourself and when you come back you will have a new honeymoon.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young girl in my early 20's and for many years I have sacrificed everything to make a home for my father. I have never regretted it, for I love him more than anything in the world. Many have told me that I must think of doing something for myself, that I should go to college, etc., but I must admit that as much as I love my father life does get monotonous.

TIRED DAUGHTER.

ANSWER: The love of a father and daughter is a very beautiful thing, but you must not let it fill your life because the chances are that you will long outlive him, and if you have not made other ties or got started in some occupation by which you can support yourself, you may find yourself at middle age left lonely and destitute.

Let us hope that your problem will be happily solved by marriage, so that you can have a full life of your own and still make a home for your father.

Answer (to "A Friend" cont'd from last week):

Scalloped squash (for large family).

Measure 4 cup mashed cooked squash (any variety of squash will do), mix together 1 cup fine cracker or breadcrumbs and ½ cup melted margarine (or butter). Put half of the squash in buttered baking dish, sprinkle salt and ½ teaspoon sugar and half of the buttered crumbs. Repeat. Pour over ½ to 1 cup cream or top milk and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for about 20 minutes or until crumbs are brown and squash is heated through.

SQUASH WITH PIQUANTE SAUCE

Two lbs. summer or Hubbard squash cut into ½-inch slices about 2 inches square. Cook this by boiling or steaming until nearly tender. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in top of double boiler and stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1½ cup milk and stir until thick. Add 1½ teaspoons salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Just before serving time add 2 more tablespoons butter. 1 beaten egg yolk diluted with 1 tablespoon cold water and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Heat through and pour over hot squash in vegetable dish. Garnish with browned buttered crumbs and paprika.

(Almost any fruit may be used in place of apples.)

If winter apples are used for this they should be cooked in top of double boiler for 15 minutes after they are pared and cored and sliced very thin. For 9 people you will need 6 cups sliced apples. Steam or precook these in anyway you choose — they could be sliced into dish in which cobbler is to be baked and prebaked while you are mixing batter.

Batter: Sift together 1½ cups flour, 2¼ teaspoons baking powder, ¼ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt. Work in 1/3 cup shortening with finger tips or 2 knives. Stir in 1 or 2 beaten eggs mixed with a scant ½ cup milk. Sprinkle top of precooked apples top with ½ teaspoon cinnamon lemon juice, ½ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg and 2 or 3 tablespoons melted margarine. Spread batter over this. Sprnikle Spread batter over this. Sprinkle mixed with 1½ tablespoons granulated sugar. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 45 minutes. Serve with Hard Sauce or pouring cream.

Do you remember reading my suggestion on this page to use shin beef to make a boiled dinner of shin beef with noodles?

I think it is delicious and because these noodles can be made very economically at home (see below). The meat is flavoured with 2 bay leaves (which are boiled with it throughout entire cooking time) and salt and white pepper. Boil about 3½ hours or until shin meat is tender. Add the noodles about 15 minutes before serving time.

HOMEMADE NOODLES

Two eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, about 1 1/3 cups sifted flour. Beat the eggs, then add the salt and enough of the flour to make a very stiff dough. Knead for three or four minutes on floured board, then roll out to paper thinness. This sheet of dough is about 1 yard square if rolled thin enough and should be rolled out on a table to give you room. Cover with a towel and let stand 20 minutes. Then roll up tightly as you would a jelly roll, cut into slices like a pinwheel which are not more than 1/16th inch thick. Unroll and lay out to dry thoroughly. Add to stew or boil in boiling water 10 to 15 minutes.

A different and delicious way to serve noodles is with margarine or butter and poppy seeds: boil the noodles until tender, then drain and rinse once with boiling water. Add ¼ cup melted butter and 1 tablespoon whole poppy seeds, and stir in gently and serve at once.

A rice dish that I think you might enjoy is called.

SPANISH RICE

Wash 1 cup rice in strainer and cook until tender by adding to it exactly 1¾ cups boiling water. ½ teaspoon salt and 1 tablespoon butter, cook uncovered until it boils, then stir well, then cover and reduce heat as much as possible until all of the water is absorbed. Saute 1¾ cups sliced onions in 4 tablespoons fat until tender. Add 3½ to 4 cups tomatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, 6 tablespoons diced green pepper, 4 whole cloves, 1½ bay leaves and 1 tablespoon sugar. Add the rice after these ingredients have simmered 15 minutes and you have fished out the bay leaves and cloves. Serve "as is" or turn into large buttered casserole and bake at 375 for 30 minutes.

Note: Ground leftover cooked or raw meat may be added to Spanish Casserole to make a One-Piece Supper Dish. Cheese may be sprinkled over if you wish to increase the protein content if no other protein or not enough meat is used.

A new cook book I am enjoying is called the Antoinette Pope School Cookbook, by Antoinette and Francois Pope, published by McMillan Co. of Canada Ltd. Toronto. It has very different recipes that are intriguing to try and that a vouch for to restore your husband's and you appetite.

Write again,—often.

Expect Green To Refuse Lewis Proposal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17—(AP)—Most United States Labor leaders today expected William Green to reply with a polite "no thank you" to John L. Lewis's proposal that AFL unios help finance the CIO steel strike.

At the moment, Lewis and the United Mine Workers are independent of both the AFL and CIO.

Green, president of the AFL and a former coal miner himself, is not as angry at Lewis as some AFL leaders who have tangled with Lewis in the past, so he may temper his reply to the Lewis plan for a $2,500,000 weekly "war" chest.

The proposal was made by Lewis in a letter to Green. CIO President Philip Murray, running the steelworkers' strike, stepped up Saturday with quick endorsement of the idea that unions "pool their resources for the common defence and general welfare of the Labor movement."

Grand Stand Play

That wasn't exactly what Lewis was talking about. He suggested that at least nine AFL unions were rich enough to join with the United Mine Workers in contributing $250,000 a week towards the mine workers."

Murray, in a carefully-worded statement, also suggested that the steelworkers to the last man would "lend help and assistance to the mine workers."

Lewis's critics said he was making "a grand stand play" to boost the morale of his own miners, who have been on strike since Sept. 19. The union, although it had more than $13,000,000 in its treasury at last report, pays no direct strike benefits.

All available AFL leaders said they were doubtful of Lewis's proposal. They called it a "publicity stunt" and said that if he meant it, the UMW boss could have called a unity meeting before making the proposal public.

Shoots Brother To End Suffering

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(AP).—Police today said that a 15-year-old boy killed his 10-year-old brother who lay groaning from an accidental bullet wound suffered only moments before—"to put him out of his misery."

Dead with two bullets in his head was Robert James Elliott, 10. His brother, Richard Manning Elliott, 15, is booked on suspicion of murder.

Police gave this account:

The two brothers, alone in their home last night, watched a western movie on television. Afterwards, the older brother showed his brother an old-fashioned .32-calibre revolver he had bought from a school friend for $6 and had kept secretly in his room.

As he took the gun from a drawer, it went off.

"Robert fell down groaning," Richard said, adding:

"I couldn't stand to see him suffer like that. I backed up two or three steps.

"I shot him again in the head to put him out of his misery."

Richard then called police.

Scott Asks Hunters Be Careful Of Fire

TORONTO, Oct. 17 (CP) — Now that the hunting season has opened Ontario Lands Minister Harold Scott today coupled an appeal to hunters to be careful of fire with a review of fire damage in Ontario forest and bushland this year.

A total of 1,760 separate fires burned over an area of 59,140 acres he reported. The number of fires was 616 higher than the average during the past five years.

The largest blazes were in the Trent forestry district, 15,270 acres. Other Provincial forestry stations reported fires as follows: Sioux Lookout 122, Kenora 193, Fort Frances 55, Port Arthur 115, Geraldton 38, Kapuskasing 33—all held to one acre or less—Cochrane 79, Sault Ste. Marie 167, Chapleau 45, Gogama 37, Timiskaming 76, Sudbury 248, North Bay 129, Parry Sound 143, Algonquin 86, Trent 88 and Quinte 97.

Devaluation Sees Wave Prices Rising

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

There is good news for commonweath growers in the upward trend of wool prices since sterling devaluation; and, accordingly, diminishing encouragement for those who may have expected a drop in prices of woollen goods.

The Canadian situation is dealt with in an editorial in the current issue of "The Canadian Wool Grower," published by the Co-operative Wool Growers, Ltd. Commenting under Sept. 30 date, it says:

"Two weeks after the announcement of devaluation the situation remains confused, though there are some clear indications that the grower of wool in Canada has no undue cause for alarm.

"Australian wool prices have strengthened about 15 per cent, thereby cancelling out about a third of the 30 per cent sterling devalution.

Reflected in Canada

"There is little doubt that raw wool inventories in all domestic hands are extremely low and if the markets at the main sources of supply — Australia and New Zealand—continue to show firmness, such firmness, and even some improvement, is bound to be reflected here in Canada.

"Sales of Canadian wool have continued throughout the summer in normal volume and at fair prices. A healthy proportion went to the United Kingdom market." Also:

"We are fortunatae in that all our grades of Canadian wool are well known and well presented in the United States where sales are transacted in U.S. funds to give a 10 per cent premium on the Canadian dollar."

Similar word of firming prices comes from The Wool Bureau, Canadian division, Toronto, which issued a report from an international wool secretariat correspondent at Bradford, England. He comments on the post-devaluation fortnight:

"Dominion wool prices have advanced 10 to 15 per cent—some estimates place the figure higher — since devaluation, but part of this advance merely offsets a decline which had taken place in immediately preceding weeks, and wool prices today have only recovered some of the level ruling earlier in the year. The difference seems to be that prices today appear to command more general support than did similar prices some months ago."

New Chemical Aids Some Clots

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17—(AP)—Dr. Alton Ochsner, of Tulane University, said Saturday he doubts that a chemical which offers some hope of preventing dangerous blood-vessel clots in surgical patients will be of any value in preventing clots associated with heart disease.

Several days ago, Ochsner and several associates were incorrectly quoted in an Associated Press dispatch as saying there is some hope the chemical substance may help prevent clots associated with heart disease. Their statement was restricted to saying a hope has arisen with respect to clots sometimes forming in blood vessels following surgical operations.

The doctors made their original report to the 13th congress of the International Society of Surgery which closed Saturday.

The chemical referred to is called "Alpha Tocopherol Phosphate" and is one of the components of Vitamin E.

Dr. Ochsner said in an interview:

"We don't think that with this method we can do anything for people having blood vessel clots as a complication of heart disease.

"In the presence of diseased blood vessels, I doubt that this substance will prevent clotting."

Work Overtime In Emergency CSL Agreement

TORONTO, Oct. 17—(CP)—Under a company-union working agreement, unlicensed personnel were bound to work without being paid overtime in an emergency, the Noronic disaster inquiry was told today.

A copy of the agreement, between Canada Steamship Lines, ship's owners and the Seamen's International Union, (A.F.L.) was produced by C.S.L. counsel Frank Wilkinson as the inquiry entered its 13th day.

The agreement said crew members would perform any work at any time necessary for the safety of the ship and passengers and that increasing of the watch at any time was left to the discretion of the ship's master.

Mr. Wilkinson told Mr. Justice R. L. Kellock, the Commissioner, he had no idea why Capt. Taylor should have felt diffident about asking the crew to stay aboard if he had thought it necessary to increase the overnight watch.

Wheelsman J. E. Pepper of Sarnia, concluded the testimony he started last Friday, said he and two bell boys kept three hoses in operation on E deck, playing them up to C deck in efforts to halt the fire.

Near Linen Closet

The witness said he figured the fire was "just aft of the linen closet on C deck." Evidence of earlier witnesses was that the fire was located in the port side, C deck closet.

John S. Graham, CSL truck driver from Sarnia, described his flight from the ship in his underwear after being roused by what he termed a "flash of fire running down a hallway."

The witness said he had been given overnight accommodation on the Noronic pending unloading the next day of supplies he had brought up from Sarnia by road He said he heard no alarm until after reaching the dock when the ship's whistle started to blow.

Graham told Mr. Justice Kellock he thought his main concern after the fire was moving his truck out of danger. He said he left the ship "walking smartly" and did not think of warning a group of persons he saw chatting in a corridor as he went.

Frederick B. Bonnell, 53, of Sarnia, said he had been the Noronic's chief engineer for three years with a staff of 23 working under him.

No Previous Fires

Bonnell said he had heard of no previous fires aboard the Noronic in 1949.

"Are you sure of that?" asked J. T. MacQuarrie, Assistant Commission counsel. "What about rumors?"

"Well, I heard about one about a week or so after it happened, and it was nothing," said Bonnell. It was in a bell boy's room and a pail of water put it out.

Cost Of Newsprint To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17 (AP)—The House of Representatives small business committee is looking into complaints from small newspapers about the cost of newsprint.

Announcing this Saturday, Chairman Wright Patman (Dem. Tex.) told a reporter:

"We have had a substantial number of complaints, and we are looking into them to see whether a full investigation by the committee is called for."

Patman said approximately 90 per cent of the 2,000 daily and 10,000 weekly newspapers in the United States are classed as small business.

He added that newsprint, most of which comes from Canada, costs $100 a ton. Patman said complaining publishers feel price concessions should be made in line with the recent devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

Forced Down

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—(CP)—Two persons missing since Friday morning aboard a single-engined plane in the British Columbia interior were reported safe Saturday night. The R.C.A.F. said 39-year-old pilot Max Sheridan of Yakima, Wash., and Mrs. Dorothy T. Terry of Portland, Ore., had been forced down at isolated Chilco Ranch, near Williams Lake, B.C., about 200 miles northeast of Vancouver.

Report On Canada's Navy May Have Some Dynamite

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP)—A document some 60 pages long will be handed to the government this week and probably will be made public within the next few weeks. It may or may not contain dynamite for Canada's Navy. It is the report of a Board of Investigation named six months ago after a series of "incidents" among sailors aboard several R.C.N. warships. The Board's powers were broad enough to allow it to make a searching inquiry into Navy life and methods generally.

The report, it is understood, is a unanimous finding by the three members, Rear Admiral E. R. Mainguy, the Navy's Chief of the Atlantic Coast, L. W. Brockington, Ottawa lawyer, and L. C. Audette of the External Affairs Department, a naval reservist.

A-Bomb

Appointment of George McIlraith, 41-year-old parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, as chairman of the Commons' First Committee on Atomic Energy is considered likely in informed circles.

Mr. McIlraith, an Ottawa lawyer and Liberal member for Ottawa West, has had most to do with preparations for a committee which is expected to act as an outlet for a considerable mass of material.

The committee will be small and should be operating within the next week or so.

Mr. McIlraith, as aide to the cabinet's atomic expert, has had considerable experience in that field whereas few, if any, members of parliament know much about it.

Senate Business

The Senate, quiet since parliament opened, may erupt this week when the Senate's transportation and communications committee opens heacings on a bill to incorporate a natural gas pipe line from Alberta to the Vancouver area.

One of the pipe line companies —Westcoast Transmission Company—is represented by Senator J. W. de B. Farris (L, British Columbia). He acted as counsel when the company started its case before the Board of Transport commissioners last month. The case was postponed until Dec. 17.

The bill incorporating Westcoast Pipelines was passed last session. Two other prospective companies now are in the field, seeking incorporation at this session.

Because the Vancouver area—comprising Portland, Ore., Seattle, Wash., and area points—can support only one such pipe line, there will be a battle to see who does it.

Young Liberals Ask Exclusive Canadian Flag

MONTREAL, Oct. 17 (CP) — Canada's Young Liberals have proclaimed their unanimous approval of an exclusively Canadian flag and anthem and a "Canada Day" holiday.

At the final session of its three-day biennial convention, the young Liberal Federation of Canada Friday night decided to establish a 10-man committee to select an exclusive design for a Canadian flag and an exclusive Canadian National Anthem.

The committee will be required to report back to the Federation's National Executive within six months and publicize its choice in the provinces.

A Quebec resolution, approved by the convention, called for the flag and anthem as a means of strengthening national unity and promoting development of an essentially Canadian patriotism.

The flag should not bear "any symbol of dependence or any colonial characteristic, the resolution stated, and the anthem should glorify Canada as it is today.

The Union Jack and the present anthem, "God Save the King," represent Canada's association with the commonwealth, the motion added.

Elect Officers

The 500 registered delegates had dwindled to little more than a quorum of 50 when the resolution was approved after the election of officers.

William Trebilcoe of Winnipeg was elected president for a two-year term succeeding Charles Duranceau of Montreal.

The small remaining group Friday night also approved a "Canada Day" holiday and urged the national body to ask the Canadian government to proclaim July 1 a national holiday.

Order Lawyer Return $250,000 Shares

TORONTO, Oct. 17 —(CP)— James J. Gray, Toronto lawyer, was directed in a judgement to return $250,000 worth of shares in several mining companies to new Augarita Porcupine Mines. The value of the shares is estimated on Saturday's market quotations.

Action was brought by New Augarita against Grey for damages alleged to have been suffered through certain transactions which took place between the plaintiff and defendant during 1936-42, at which time Gray acted as an officer, director and solicitor for the company.

The decision came two years after the trial was heard and five years after officials of the company initiated the suit.

'Flying Saucer' Piece Of Furnace

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 17 —(AP)—An army officer said Saturday a doughnut-shaped disk found near here that revived "flying saucer" reports was the top of a hot air furnace.

"It was somebody's joke," said Maj. George Stephens of the nearby Susquenhanna army sub-depot after examining the device.

"It is the top of a hot air furnace which somebody cut off with an acetylene torch," Stephens told a reporter. He made it plain that he was voicing a personal opinion.

The disk was recovered from the town park at Laporte, Pa., about 25 miles northeast of here. Witnesses said the disk fell flaming from the sky last Aug. 5 and landed in the park where it burned a 10-footswath in the grass.

Havelock Conducts Survey Of Waterworks Project

HAVELOCK, Oct. 17 (ENS)—A survey of Havelock for waterworks was the decided on at a special meeting of the town council.

The question also arose as to whether the survey should be for waterworks only or waterworks and sewage desposal. Councillor D. McColl was not in favor of the sewage survey because he said even if the ratepayers sanctioned the project he did not think the Department of Municipal Affairs would allow the village to take on the two projects on account of the heavy cost. Councillor B. Curtis favored both surveys being made so that the cost would be known even if the ratepayers were not asked to sanction both plans.

Councillor McColl moved for a survey for waterworks only His motion received no seconder and he withdrew it to second a motion by Councillor Curtis that a survey for both waterworks and sewage be made providing the cost did not exceed $500. If this is completed immediately the ratepayers may be asked to vote on the matter at the next municipal election.

Community Welcomes Mrs. Trevor Pollock

HAVELOCK, Oct 17 (ENS) — Mrs. Fred Bennett and Mrs. Robert Melville were hostesses on Thursday evening for a social gathering at the home of the latter, to welcome to this community Mrs. Trevor Pollock, formerly Miss Marguerite Rainholt of Calgary, Alberta, whose marriage took place recently in that city.

The guest of honor was presented with a tri-light floor lamp, the hostesses making the presentation. Court whist was played and Mrs. Harry Pollock was the winner. Mrs. Pollock was also accompanist for the community singing.

As a special token of welcome for the guest of honor, the junior members of the Havelock Pipe Band assembled in front of the Melville home and serenaded the gathering. A lunch was served at the close of the festivities.

Those present were: Mesdames R. Jones, H. T. Mathison, J. Wilde, J. Hoffman, H. Pollock, H. Hubble, O. Parcels, D. Rylott, C. Toms, D. Scott, R. Rumney, W. Forsythe and Miss Shirley Bennett.

Four schools were represented in the contest and the Highland lassies from Havelock were chosen winners by unanimous decision of the three judges. Second place was awarded to the entry from Marmora who performed an Irish jig in Irish costume. In third place was the Norwood entry with their performance of Three Blind Mice. The fourth group consisted of a close-harmony trio from Madoc.

Pension Help Asked For RCMP

OTTAWA, Oct. 17—(CP) — A plea by Progressive Conservative and CCF members to help RCMP pensioners in economic distress was made Friday in the Commons as Justice Minister Garson introduced a bill designed to increase pension refunds to certain RCMP veterans.

Mr. Carson explained that the bill would only affect some "six or seven" Mounties who had joined the service from provincial forces and had served beyond the retirement age of 65.

J. G. Diefenbaker (PC, Lake Centre) said he would support such a bill but he believed other measures had to be taken to assist Mounties with the same kind of hospital and medical care given Canada's armed forces.

In Prince Albert, Sask., where he lived, there were a number of RCMP veterans who had joined prior to 1900. Two former members now were 78 and 82 years of age. They found it impossible to live on the pension the RCMP has given them.

Canadians To Advise UK Exporters

Industrialists Ready To Help Britain, Form Sterling Board

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP)—Canadian industrialists are entering the ring to help fight the United Kingdom's dollar battles.

Answering an urgent appeal from Britain, the industrialists are banding themselves into a sterling-dollar board to advise UK exporters on how to make greater sales in Canada.

James S. Duncan, president of the Massey-Harris Company, has been named chairman of the board. He is expected to announce names of his associates today.

At the same time, Trade Minister Howe is expected to make a statement on the board's functionings either in the Commons or at a press conference.

Chief function of the board, it is understood, will be to co-ordinate the work in Canada of Sir Graham Cunningham's export dollar board in the UK.

Advise Exporters

Giving generously of their knowledge of the Canadian market, the Canadian sterling-dollar board will advise British exporters of the kind of goods Canadians are likely to buy, the prices they will pay, how to sell in Canada and how to make the best use of advertising schemes.

The odd part of the plan is that in many cases Canadian industrialists will be advising their British counterparts how to sell in markets that for the most part they would like to keep for themselves.

Yet there appears to be a realization in Canadian industry that unless the UK is assisted out of her economic plight, Britain will be unable to earn dollars with which to buy Canadian goods—and thus Canada will lose a vital overseas export market.

A similar move is afoot in the United States, where suggestions that American industrialists establish the same kind of advisory board that Canada is planning, are being studied.

Moves Fast

Canada, it appears, took the bit between her teeth to press forward with plans while the US still was in the pondering stages.

Sick Man Shoots Brother, Then Kills Self

HAMILTON, Oct. 18 (CP). — Police said today they found "a lot of cash" when they searched a house where one man was killed and his brother seriously wounded by shotgun blasts Monday night.

Frank Sylvester, also known as Frank Ross, 52, died of an apparently self-inflicted wound in the head. Antonio, shot three times in the stomach, was reported in "poor" condition.

"A lot of cash" was found later in a wallet hidden in a piano in the house, police said. The money was in bills of large denomination. A large amount of silver was discovered in various other hiding-places.

Police declined to say whether money was the object of their search. Both men were carrying a quantity of $100 bills when the shooting occurred.

Frank is the brother of Mrs. John Durso, of Hamilton, whose husband disappeared mysteriously five years ago. Durso's automobile later was found submerged in the old Welland canal.

Constable Bernie Arbour, who was first on the scene after residents called police, said Frank Sylvester was sprawled at the foot of the front stairs in his large brick home on MacNab St. North.

Later police found Antonio had arrived at hospital before their arrival, driven there in a private car. Dr. Joseph Grodzinski, hospital interne, said Antonio was shot possibly three or four times through the stomach.

When they reached hospital Frank had $2,600 in $100 bills and Antonio $5,000, police said.

Another Sylvester brother, Angelo, 61, was visiting here from Sault Ste. Marie. Last night he and Antonio went to visit Frank, sick in bed. He did not answer their greetings, climbed out of bed, put on his trousers and went downstairs.

When Antonio descended the stairs, Frank pointed a gun at him and shot Antonio in the stomach. Then he fired two more shots into the ceiling over the staircase and put the gun to his own head.

Should Pull Up Sox Now Tourist Industry Told

HALIFAX, Oct. 18—(CP)—Director D. Leo Dolan of the Dominion Travel Bureau said today the man selling Canada to tourists should know his business better. In an address prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaux, Mr. Dolan warned, however, that United States friendship was a more important goal for tourist boosters than United States dollars.

He urged his listeners not to rest on the 1949 record—"possibly the most successful tourist season Canada has ever enjoyed." Rather, they should tackle resources still requiring improvement—notably accommodation, eating highway travel facilities.

Other Attractions

Devaluation of foreign currencies "is going to make far-distant lands more attractive from a price standpoint" to the American traveller. Although this picture "may seem dark" limited transportation would forestall any threat to the Dominion's tourist industry for at least another year.

This season, American visitors spent some $300,000,000 in the Dominion.

Part of a national tourist policy should be "continued improvement in the highway system of this whole country." Any other policy would further existing criticism. Historical areas had not been developed sufficiently and greater care was needed in forest and wildlife conservation.

He proposed the following program for "a national tourist policy." It urged:

1. Increased private and public tourist budgets to meet increased competition.
2. Improved highways.
3. A nation-wide drive to give the visitor more for his dollar than he can get anywhere else in the world.
4. Public awareness of the importance of the industry.

Plane Plunges Into Sea—3 Dead

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Oct. 18—(AP) — A small chartered plane plunged into the sea off this town at the tip of Cape Cod Monday, taking the lives of three adults and possibly two babies.

The dead were identified as Pilot Daniel Lacey, 26, of Westwood, Mrs. Harold Keppel, about 30, wife of a New York Times photo-engraver, and Mrs. Edward S. Davis, about 40, of Provincetown.

Mrs. Keppel's two children, Paul, 2½, and Bruce, about one year, were listed as missing.

The bodies were recovered by the coast guard cutter Acushnet about four miles off Race Point. The coast guard resumed search for the babies today—but doubted they would be found alive.

The plane, a Piper Clipper, was flying the 45-mile over-water route from Boston to Provincetown when the pilot radioed he was in trouble.

The craft was about 10 minutes from its destination at the time.

Planes of the Cape Cod Flying Service, operators of the Clipper, spotted survivors in the sea shortly after the pilot sent a message indicating he was going into the water.

Finnish Recognition

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (Reuters) — Finland today gave de facto recognition to the East-German republic by signing a trade agreement in Berlin with the trade ministry of the new government. The treaty provided for the exchange of $4,000,000 worth of goods during the next 12 months.

Red Troops Capture Amoy And Swatow

CHUNGKING, Oct. 18—(AP)—Communist amphibious troops completed Red control of the China coastline from Canton north today by seizing the old treaty port of Amoy.

(Chinese Communist newspapers in Hong Kong reported the Reds had also taken Swatow, another big port about 115 miles south of Amoy).

In gloomy Chungking, the new Nationalist capital, acting president LLi Tsung-jen called desperately for political reforms to spark new life in the dying government.

Li, speaking at a civic reception in his honor, blamed past setbacks on failure to reform the government. He charged anew that the Reds, under Soviet direction and leadership, intended to turn China into a Russian vassal state.

Have Foot Of Snow

WINNIPEG, Oct. 18 (CP) — Winter made its bow today across the prairies as residents scurried to dig out their ear muffs and overshoes. Cities and towns in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan were hardest hit as storm conditions prevailed. Nearly a foot of snow covered the ground this morning at Lethbridge, Alta. In Saskatchewan, the town of Swift Current also has been buffeted by blizzard conditions.

Sarah Churchill Now Engaged

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Oct. 18—(AP)—A British society photographer has won the hand of his actress-model—Sarah Churchill, daughter of Britain's wartime prime minister.

Miss Churchill and Anthony Beauchamp Monday told reporters they will be married here today.

The couple disclosed that they have beeen secretly engaged for a week and said that the parents of each have been notified.

Beauchamp, who arrived in the United States only three weeks ago, said he had consulted with Churchill before he came here; and received his permission to propose.

Memorial Beacon Planned For Noronic

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Mayor H. E. McCallum said Monday that a memorial beacon in memory of those who perished in the fire may be erected on harbor lands overlooking Toronto bay.

The city is willing to erect such a monument, he said, as a token "that Toronto shares with the United States its grief over the traffic loss."

However, the Province of Ontario has informed the city it will bear all expenses in connection with the tragedy "so if the province pays for erection of the memorial, the city will supply the site," said the mayor.

Braves Storm To Save 17 Fleeing Flaming Ship

SEATTLE, Oct 18 — (AP). — A United States government vessel carried out the dramatic rescue of 17 seamen in stormy weather Monday night after they had abandoned their flaming wooden schooner.

The officers and men were picked up in the North Pacific by the US Fish and Wild Life Service vessel Black Douglas just as one of their two lifeboats was awash and sinking. The schooner the Salina Cruz, caught fire on Monday.

The Douglas reported today all of the sailors had recovered from their ordeal, and she was proceeding to her home port of San Francisco. Arrival there was expected Thursday.

The dramatic rescue a few hours after nightfall, 140 miles west of Gray's Harbor, Wash., was carried out in heavy seas kicked up by a 25-knot wind. Coastguard search planes that had been circling overhead throughout the day guided the Douglas to the scene.

Ten of the men in one of the open lifeboats had managed to keep afloat without difficulty. They were the first ones spotted by the Douglas. An hour later, after the second boat had sent up direction flares, the seven remaining survivors were pulled from their foundering craft.

Two Vessels Crash In Bad Gale

Lifeboats Searching For Survivors; Coal Carrier Sinks

BERWICK, Northumberland, England, Oct. 18 — (CP). — The aircraft carrier Albion and a small coal freighter collided in a gale in the North Sea today. The freighter sank swiftly and eight hours later only three of the 24 crew members aboard were known to have survived.

Lifeboats fought the foaming waves hunting survivors near the Farne Islands off the north-east coast of England.

The newly-built 18,300-ton Albion was manned by a civilian crew and was in tow to drydock for completion. The collision rammed a hole in the carrier and she was reported taking water.

The Albion had aboard three surivors from the freighter, the 2,025-ton Maystone, carrying coal to London. A spokesman for the owners of the Maystone, said the lifeboat crews at sea had some hopes of picking up other survivors.

The collision occurred eight miles off England's northeast coast, near the English-Scottish border port of Berwick-Upon-Tweed, lifeboats from the Berwick Coast Guard station put out into rain and wind-tossed waves to hunt for survivors.

Three of the Maystone's crew were reported picked up by the Albion and press association said some others were rescued by Coast Guardsmen.

The Albion, being towed by a tug, was on her way from a shipyard at Jarrow to a drydock at Rosyth, Scotland.

Aldermanic Fists Fly At Council

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 18—(CP)—Only a chair which separated two aldermen at a city council meeting here Monday night prevented a fight from breaking out as the meeting adjourned.

The aldermen—Albert Bettam and Earl Nichols—were arguing about who had received the most money in expenses for trips away from the city.

The argument started when Ald. Nichols said he would not be able to attend a special meeting next week as he would be attending a meeting at New York in his capacity as chairman of the local health board. Ald. Bettam objected to Ald. Nichols being voted expenses for the trip and Ald. Nichols recalled a trip Ald. Bettam made to a Timmins convention several years ago. He said Ald. Bettam charged the city for loss of wages from his job.

Ald. Bettam took a swing at Ald. Nichols but missed because Ald. Cameron Wilson was seated between them. Other councillors kept the two separated until things quieted down.

Reds In Berlin Woo Socialists

BERLIN, Oct. 18—(AP)—Communists of the Russian zones openly attempted today to woo Socialists and Nationalists into a bloc against the Western Powers in the developing struggle for mastery of all Germany.

Berlin's peculiar status as a divided city furnished ammunition for the Communists' heaviest propaganda guns.

Western commandants have broken off negotiations with the Soviet commandant on "normalizing" the city's life, but they have not yet produced economic relief for the Germans in the isolated Western sector.

Friederich Ebert, Eastern Lord Mayor, seized in this situation. He offered economic help to Socialist politicians and trade unions in the Allied sector if they would form an "all-city economic committee" in collaboration with East-zone Communists.

He proposed that any West Berliners who play ball will not have to "pay the price of compromising their political or religious convictions or their economic principles."

Asked For Freedom

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18—(AP)—A quixotic, mild-mannered man who combined petty crime with composing, has asked the State of Tennessee to free him from a life in prison. Frank Grandstaff, the man who scribbled the notes to a 75-page cantata on his cell wall while serving a life sentence under Tennessee's Habitual Criminal Act, has asked for a pardon. He petitioned the Pardons and Parole Board yesterday. He said he had tried to improve his "thinking and outlook" while in prison and that "opportunities in Texas and elsewhere for employment will redeem and put me on a plane of high endeavor."

Window Barred On Noronic Passenger Says

TORONTO, Oct. 18 (CP)—R. C. Rodgers, survivor from St. Catharines, told the Noronic disaster inquiry today "chemical fumes burned my eyes and nose" during the fire which swept the cruise-steamship here Sept. 17.

Mr. Rodgers, who occupied a C deck cabin, said no rafts or floats were provided for passengers who jumped into the water from the ship. He said he stood "20-30 minutes" on an anchor before he was taken off.

Rodgers said he did not become alarmed about the fire until he saw First Mate F. G. Wood remove his shoes in the bow B deck.

"I thought he was preparing to dive overboard and got to thinking it was serious," the witness said. He said the first mate had been putting ropes over the side but "quite a few passengers jumped without even looking where they were going."

Alfred Hertel, another Canadian survivor from London, was the first witness called as the 14th day of the inquiry opened.

He said that about six or eight minutes before learning of the fire himself he had seen a bellboy running "very fast" in a hallway a confused expression on his face.

Something Wrong

"I thought something was wrong and was going to ask him but he moved on after hesitating momentarily on a stairway," the witness said.

A. H. Miller of Hamilton, another Ontario passenger, said he opened a window to escape from his cabin "but there were brass bars across it." On D deck he saw a crew member directing passengers on the centre stairway.

Charles W. J. Coleman, also of Hamilton, and a member of the Canadian party who boarded the Noronic at Detroit told of seeing six-inch long fire sparks "flying down the corridors."

"There must have been a powerful draft," he said.

The witnesses Miller, Rodgers and Coleman told of seeing Mr. Hertel kick on cabin doors to rouse passengers.

All said they heard no alarm except the ships steam whistle.

Union-CGE In Conference This Afternoon; 3,000 Return To Jobs

Hint Settlement May Be Reached Today As 5 Other Plants Affected; Other Strike Votes To Be Taken Soon

Peterborough's 3,200 production workers went back to their jobs early today after a two-day work stoppage that began Friday afternoon with a sit-down and ended Monday with a complete walkout. First workers to clock in were Monday night's shift. Settlement of the Arbitration Award dispute may be reached later today when a special committee of the Union meets with Management at 4 p.m. Industrial peace in six CGE plants in Toronto, Cobourg and Peterborough may depend on arriving at an early amicable agreement. About 6,000 production workers would be involved should there be a general CGE strike.

But even when this local issue has been solved a much larger one remains. A strike threat affecting all six plants arose out of Monday's decisions of both the UE-GE Joint Conference Board and Local 524.

Local 524 took a strike vote and it is expected the plants in Cobourg and Toronto will follow suit within 48 hours. This will be a weapon in the hands of the Joint Board which may be used in its negotiations with the Company.

A shutdown of all union-organized CGE plants remains as the ultimate threat.

Take Strike Vote

At a mass meeting Monday afternoon attended by 2,900 members of Local 524 (UE-CIO) a general recommendation of the UE-GE Joint Conference Board calling for the taking of a strike vote was approved. And a follow-up recommendation from the local's stewards and executive to take a strike vote and return to work today passed unanimously.

Ian F. McRae, works manager of the Peterborough Works had previously stated the Company was ready to continue discussions

Russia Has Returned Nine U.S. Frigates

YOKOSUKA, Japan, Oct. 18.—(AP).—Russia today returned nine frigates to the United States navy. They were the first of 27 lend-lease escort ships scheduled to be turned back here by Russia.

The ships appeared to have stood idle for years. They had been stripped of everything Russian except a half-dozen soup plates. There were no tools or fittings.

Corrosion was general. One of Decker's party said mirrors were broken and plumbing apparently was stopped up.

Guns and depth charge equipment appeared in excellent condition, however. The 304-foot, 1,100-ton ship carry three-inch guns and 20-MM. anti-aircraft as their heaviest armament.

Princess Scolds Britons For High Divorce Rate

LONDON, Oct 18 — (AP). — Princess Elizabeth today scolded the British people for what she called a high divorce rate and falling moral standards.

It was the strongest public statement by any member of the Royal Family in years.

Speaking to a rally of the Mothers' Union, the 22-year-old Princess said:

"I would go so far as to say that some of the very principles on which the family, and therefore the health of the nation, are founded are in danger.

"...When we see around us the havoc that has been wrought, above all among the children, by the break-up of homes, we can have no doubt that divorce and separation are responsible for some of the darkest evils in our society to-day."

The Princess said this is an age of "growing self indulgence, of hardening materialism, and falling of moral standards."

Princess Elizabeth called upon the Mothers' Union and similar groups to "give a lead to our contemporaries in the re-establishment of a wise and well-balanced code of right and wrong."

The address was the Princess' first really outspoken public speech. Elizabeth told the mothers it is wrong to be too tolerant in the matter of national morals.

"I believe there is a great fear in our generation of being labelled priggish," she said. "In consequence, people are sometimes afraid to show disapproval of what they know to be wrong, and thus they end by seeming to condone what in their hearts they dislike.

"I am sure it is just as wrong to err on that side as it is to be intolerant and over-critical."

The Princess added:

"There will, of course, always be unhappy marriages, especially when, as in time of war and housing shortages it is so difficult to live normal married lives."

London Waits Answer From Peiping

LONDON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Foreign Office still awaits an answer from the Communist authorities in Peiping to a request for establishment of temporary working relations.

A spokesman who told press conference questioners this today said the British request, made at the beginning of the month, "is without prejudice to the question of recognition."

Britain, he said, so far has taken no decision "one way or the other" on the Communists' call for full diplomatic recognition.

Britain has a big financial stake in China and tthere have been reports that she intends to protect it by according quick recognition to the Communist regime.

The spokesman confirmed reports that the British Consul General in Peiping had sent a communication to the Reds "with a view to establishing working relations."

When this happened, according to other informed diplomatic sources the United States expressed the view to Britain that the move could be construed as regime — in other words an acde facto recognition of the Red ceptance that the Communists are in fact the effective rulers of China.

Britain then hurriedly sent an assurance to the United States and other western powers that it does not intend at this time to grant any kind of recognition to the Red regime, the source said.

Another General Dies In Russia

LONDON, Oct. 18 — (AP) — Moscow radio today announced the death of Marshal of the Soviet Union Feodor I. Tolbukhin.

He was in command of the Soviet troops that succeeded in conquering Hungary. As commander of the Fourth Ukraine Army his troops seized Sevatopol in one of the epic battles on the eastern front.

Moscow radio said the marshal died Monday after a prolonged severe illness. Its nature was not specified.

He was 63 years old.

The announcement of his death was made by the Soviet Council of Ministers and the central committee of the Communist Party. It referred to Tolbukhin as "one of the outstanding army leaders and builders of the armed forces of the USSR and a famous hero of the patriotic war."

Stewart Has Lumbago May Not Play Game

DETROIT, Oct. 18. — (CP). — Jack Stewart, Detroit Red Wing defenceman, has lumbago and may be out of tomorrow night's National Hockey League game with the New York Rangers.

Wing club officials said Stewart was suffering a back ailment when he played against Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night. He has not turned out for practice since and has been undergoing treatment by club doctors.

He may be replaced temporarily by Al Dewsbury, 190-pound defenceman from Indianapolis, who has had several trials with the Wings.

U.K. To Buy More Cheese But Will Reduce Amounts Of Bacon, Eggs

Hannam Says Farmers Getting Anxious About Prospects Of Contracts; Report Britain Looks To European Suppliers

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, Oct. 18—(CP)—An important British food ministry statement is expected within two weeks, outlining what Britain will purchase from Canada during austerity-bound 1950, informed sources said today. The statement likely will disclose the amount of dollars the United Kingdom will spend for such commodities as bacon, eggs and cheese. Prices are expected to be worked out later at Anglo-Canadian food conferences to be held both in Ottawa and London. They are expected to be lower than in 1949.

The U.K. statement may not be made public by the Canadian Government until the Dominion-provincial agriculture conference meets in Ottawa Dec. 14.

However, it is understood reductions are in store for purchase of bacon and eggs, but that Britain will continue to buy large quantities of Canadian cheese.

Getting Anxious

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said western farmers are getting anxious about the prospects of selling to Britain. He would be glad to hear of early completion of Anglo-Canadian negotiations.

The informed sources said Britain next year will depend to a great extent on Denmark and other European areas for bacon, hoping to obtain sufficient supplies from these sterling area sources to maintain the three-ounce weekly ration.

Indications also were that Britain considers she can do with "even less" Canadian eggs than Canadian bacon, but finds herself unable to do without Canadian cheese. Other Commonwealth sources of supply—such as Australia and New Zealand—appear insufficient to fill Britain's entire cheese demands.

Unstabilizing Effect

Smaller British food purchases at lower prices may produce an unstabilizing effect on the Canadian farm-price structure. Previously, the bulk-buying by Britain in the Canadian food market at fixed prices had a strong stablizing effect—similar in nature to a government floor price on farm commodities.

Here, in brief, is the way the Anglo-Canadian food contracts shaped up for 1949:

Wheat—Canada has a contract to sell 140,000,000 bushels at $2 a bushel to the U.K. during the 1949-50 crop year ending next July 31.

Bacon—160,000,000 pounds at $36 a hundredweight. Shipments are expected to fall short by more than 100,000,000.

Cheese—15,000,000 pounds delivered at 30 cents a pound.

Eggs—About 46,000,000 dozen at approximately 43 cents a dozen. The entire contract is expected to be filled, with the exception of a small section of it which the U.K. switched to the U.S.

on the Arbitration Award dispute only after "all employees return to work."

His reaction to the news that a strike vote had been taken was that it was violation of the provisions of the Ontario Labor Relations Act. He added that the UE have frequently used the strike vote as an instrument which "is supposed to impress the companies with the seriousness of their demand."

Two Trump Cards

When Local 524's negotiating committee sit down at the table with management they will have two trump cards: the strike vote threat and a favorable interpretation of the controversial Arbitration Award handed down in February.

This is the majority report that ordered the Company to restore previous piece-work rates paid to —originally 11 and then about 30 —girls engaged in induction motor winding.

The principle of the company's not implementing the findings of that majority report filed by Chairman Judge A. Cochrane of Brampton and Drummond Wren of Toronto sparked off the present Peterborough work stoppage union members contended.

CGE claimed the ruling needed clarification but it was not until Sunday that the two parties each agreed to ask the Board for this clarification.

Endorse Decision

It came by telegram, Monday afternoon, part-way through the membership meeting held in Brock Street Summer Gardens, and read: "We must find in favor of the Union and direct that all work done since the change of rates out of which this grievance originated shall be paid at the former rates. This means that the standard rates previously in effect shall be re-established as of Nov. 1947 and paid for on that basis."

Complete recommendation of the Joint Steward and Executive "in face of the overall situation outlined in the Joint Board Report" follows:

"We take a strike vote.

"We endorse a recommendation of the UE-GE Joint Board for a strike vote in all plants of GE.

"We return to work tomorrow morning.

"We send our committee in to the Company tomorrow morning to again press the issue of the award with the overall strike vote threat on the table.

"We agree that the strike action will be on the basis of local decision based on a recommendation of the Joint Board to all GE Locals."

It was hailed by an enthusiastic membership and passed, unanimously.

Not Local Matter

Presence of the Joint Board representing four Toronto plants —Davenport, Royce, Ward and Carboloy—Cobourg and Peterborough, was an indication that the dispute had become more than a local matter.

The grievance of the girls in the Induction Motor Winding Dept. had assumed its union perspective as part of the larger picture of UE-GE contract negotiations.

That this did not pass unnoticed by Company officials is indicated by the remarks of Mr. McRae when he spoke to the Examiner Monday noon. He observed that the walkout which originally was over the piece-work rates of 30 girls had now become "something else."

Demonstrators outside the plant were carrying placards calling for a 40-hour week with no loss of take-home pay, higher pay, better vacation provisions and better union security. Those are the demands of the UE-GE Joint Board now trying to negotiate amendments in the continuing contract.

The Joint Board has been negotiating with the company since last May for these amendments but without success. In August the contract dispute was taken to conciliation but up until the present there has been small prospect of immediate settlement.

Next meeting of the Conciliation Board is October 28.

Long Preamble

Recommendations of the Joint Board followed a long preamble of grievances against the company that included charges of speed-up practices, wage cuttings, transfers and layoffs.

The Joint Board's recommendation was that all CGE locals "immediately take strike votes in their plants, and that we inform the company that unless there is concrete evidence of genuine bargaining in negotiations, either with or without the aid of the Conciliation Board, we will be forced to implement these strike votes in the immediate future."

It goes on to declare: "We notify the company that we are ready to meet with them at any time, in continuous session if necessary, for he purpose of concluding a satisfactory settlement on our requests for improvements in our contract."

The motion stated the implementation of the strike vote should be by decision of the Locals on recommendation of the Joint Board. It passed 1,746 to 289.

(Reason for the discrepancy in the number voting was that many had left the hall).

To Take Strike Votes

Centre of attention in the larger contract dispute now switches from Peterborough to Toronto and Cobourg where strike votes in those plants are expected Wednesday and Thursday.

Officers feel they have the company in a favorable position for satisfactory negotiations for the first time since talks began in May.

Should a strike develop it would affect about 6,000 production workers in the three localities.

Hall Clarification

Clarification of the Arbitration Award restoring previous rates to about 30 piece-work employees at CGE has been hailed by Union officials as a vindication of the Union's stand on the issue.

"It shows that the Company had no logical excuse for not having implemented the award sooner and thus averted the drastic action caused by their refusal," Cyril O'Donnell, recording secretary of Local 524, told the Examiner today.

"The key issue was the failure of the Company to put into effect an arbitration award as stipulated in the contract whereby each party agrees that 'the decision of the Board will be final and binding upon both parties'."

O'Donnell and C. R. Sullivan, district representative, both stated the Union was disturbed by Company statements to the press claiming that re-establishment of the old rates would enable some girls doing semi-skilled work to earn 85 per cent more than toolmakers.

They contended the Company was unable to prove that the average weekly wage of a girl engaged on this job would be so much larger than that of a toolmaker.

Dr. T. H. Young of Thorold, Ont., said he was warned of the fire by Mr. Rodgers. He told of escorting a woman and two small children to an outer deck.

"I thought of throwing them overboard but considered that might be the wrong thing to do as the fire department would arrive soon." He was unable to say what happened to them.

Dr. Young said the heat from the fire grew so intense as he stood in the bow of the ship on B deck, he considered jumping overboard "but it seemed a long way."

Forward hawser lines were thrown over the sides, and he eventually went down one of them he said.

The next witness was Percy Ames Gordon of Holstein, Ont., the Noronic's 29-year-old fourth engineer.

Fire Station Order

Gordon testified the only instructions he received during the fire came from the chief engineer who told him to send the engine room staff to their fire stations.

He said he heard the klaxon alarm sound for about 30 seconds. He also heard the ship's whistle.

When he left the engine room to go to the next deck—D deck—several women fleeing down the stairs knocked him off the steps. He told of guiding several women through the engine room and to the dock off E deck.

"At the time I thought they were waitresses," Gordon said. "Now I find the persons I thought they were were not aboard the ship."

Boat Aflame

The witness said when he left the Noronic she was aflame from end to end and the dock was on fire.

Gordon said two of the ship's four water pumps put into service were adequate because the pipe system could not have handled any more. He described the movement of both pumps as "a little faster than normal."

Cloid Ranel, 43, of Sarnia, said in 13 years on the Noronic he served as fireman, water-tender and oiler before becoming third engineer. He was on the 12 midnight to 4 a.m. watch the night of the fire.

Randel said an inspection of equipment showed all was in order when he reported for duty. One boiler was being cleaned. When the fire started the steam pressure reading was 190 pounds.

Let U.S. Have Bid

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—United States producers will be permitted to bid against Canadians next year on chemical pulp supplies for the United Kingdom, Representative Henry Jackson (Dem. Wash.) said today. William Foster, deputy economic co-operation administrator told Jackson that representatives of the British supply mission have agreed to give the Americans the opportunity to bid.

Verbal Battle Erupts In House OverConstitution

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP) — A stand-off battle on government methods of giving Canada power to amend the Constitution broke Monday in the Commons.

Lawyer members had a field day as they tangled in a lengthy debate on the Constitution and the effects of a resolution introduced by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The resolution would ask the King to give Canada power to amend the Constitution on purely Federal matters. At present the Constitution (British North America Act) cannot be changed without consent of the United Kingdom Parliament.

Progressive Conservative and Social Credit members were opposed to dealing with the resolution now. They wanted it shelved until after the forthcoming Dominion-Provincial conference on the Constitution.

That conference, arranged by the Prime Minister and scheduled to be held at conclusion of the current session of Parliament, will attempt to find a method of procedure for amending the Constitution on matters in the provincial field or of common concern to the Dominion and Provinces.

Supports Liberals

The CCF, with their leader, W. J. Coldwell, as spokesman, supported the Liberals.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit Leader, led off the opposition attack on the measure.

Mr. Drew proposed an amendment which would call for a Dominion-Provincial "Constitutional conference" before any action is taken.

The amendment, however, was ruled out of order by Speaker W. Ross Macdonald. He said the amendment was so different from the original resolution that it was, in reality, a resolution itself. His ruling was not appealed.

The theme of opposition debate was that the government was going at the whole question in "piecemeal" fashion. Both Mr. Drew and Mr. Low used that word.

Mr. Drew's argument was that the resolution divides the Constitution into two separate parts—one covering matters under so-called Federal jurisdiction; the other covering affairs within the realm of provincial authority.

Constitution Indivisible

He contended thatt he Constitution is indivisible and that before proceeding to gain the power to amend it on federal matters, the provinces should be consulted and agreement reached on the future procedure of amending it generally.

Before the debate began, Prime Minister St. Laurent tabled letters received from 10 provincial premiers replying to invitations to attend a constitutional conference late this year.

The replies indicated general acceptance, although three provinces—Ontario, Quebec and Alberta—took exception to the Federal decision to go ahead before consultation to obtain the powers of amendment on federal matters. This decision is the one contained in Mr. St. Laurent's amendment.

Nine provincial Premiers said definitely they would attend personally or send representatives to the conference.

The 10th, Premier Duplessis of Quebec, said "provincial authorities in Quebec are always ready to participate in a Canadian intergovernmental conference seeking to study beforehand and apply subsequently the most appropriate and most just methods to give effect to the rights, prerogatives and liberties of the central authority as well as the provincial authorities." This is as far as Mr. Duplessi went in his reply.

No Provincial Subsidy This Year On Cheese

TORONTO, Oct. 18—(CP)—There will be no provincial government subsidy on premium quality cheese this year because of the outright grants contemplated by the government to the cheese industry, C. D. Graham, Ontario's deputy minister of agriculture, said Monday.

The government intends to spend up to $1,000,000 for cheese storage and curing plants to be located at strategic points in Ontario to provide adequate facilities for the industry. The first plant will be located at Belleville and the second is expected to be in the Cornwall area.

Report Patient Psychotic Case

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 18—(CP) —The patient, still unnamed, who attacked and killed an Ontario hospital attendant Friday night, "is definitely psychotic from a medical and legal standpoint," Dr. G. H. Stevenson, hospital superintendent said today.

His phsychotic condition, he said, would bar him from legal responsibility for the death of Charles Yelf, 63-year-old attendant he is said to have battered across the head with a heavy rubber floor sweeper.

Coroner Dr. Emerson Hodings said Monday night that severe hemorrhage and shock caused Yelf's death. The results of a post mortem conducted at Ontario hospital Saturday were delivered to Coroner Dr. Hodgins yesterday.

In the meantime Crown Attorney C. C. Savage said that decision on an inquest would be delayed for "two or three days" to allow consultation with Dr. Stevenson on the legal responsibility of the 34-year-old mental patient. The man has been in Ontario Hospital for 10 years.

Believe Actress Still Alive

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18 (AP)—Police opined today that actress Jean Spangler is "missing" of her own volition while convalescing from an illness.

A detective spokesman said that investigation has disclosed grounds for the belief that the 27-year-old movie bit player is recovering from an illness that she wishes kept secret. He did not elaborate.

Miss Spangler was last heard from the night of Oct. 7. Two days later, her ripped handbag was found in Griffith Park. It contained a note which read:

"Kirk, Can't wait any longer. Going to see Dr. Scott. It will work best this way while mother is away.'

Since then police have interviewed scores of "Dr. Scotts" and "Kirks"—even actor Kirk Douglas—in vain. On Sunday, 200 police reservists, many of them on horseback and with dogs, made an inch by inch search of Griffith Park but found no clues to the baffling disappearance.

Lieutenant George Banta, who directed the park search, said its failure convinced him that the girl is alive. Mrs. Florence Spangler, mother of the actress, also held the same view.

4-Month Strike Settled At Bell Plant

BUFFALO, NY, Oct. 18 (AP).—A State Board of Inquiry Monday announced tentative settlement of the four-month-old Bell Aircraft Corporation strike, marked by frequent violence and scores of arrests. The board stepped into the dispute only a week ago It refused Monday to divulge terms, pending ratification by Local 501, United Auto Workers (CIO). The union represents 1,700 production workers at the Bell plant near Niagara Falls.

Union leaders immediately announced they will urge the membership to accept the agreement at a meeting tonight

Original issues in the strike, which started June 13, were the wages and pensions The union scaled its wage demand down to 10 cents an hour, and sought full pensions pand for entirely by the company.

These terms the company termed exorbitant, claiming that the first quarter of 1949 was the first period during which the firm had shown a profit in four years The company said the average wage was $1.78 an hour, and called it the highest in the industry.

During weeks of negotiation, however, both independently and under the direction of the State and Federal mediation services, the principal stumbling block became the status of a group of unionists the company called subversive. These men, the company said, were responsible for the frequent outbursts of violence which accompanied the strike — first in Bell's 15-year history.

The violence reached a peak early in September, when so-called "flying squads" of unionists waylaid non-strikers on their way to the plant. The resultant fist and club fights ended in dozens of arrests on riot charges.

U.S. Competition Doesn't Worry This Exporter

By MICHAEL O'MARA

CHEADLE HEATH, Cheshire, England, Oct. 18 (CP).—The bogey of United States competition frightens many British business men in these dollar-short days—but some of them just laugh at American production methods and point to balance sheets that prove Britain still dominates some world markets.

J. F. Lockwood, head of the milling department of Henry Simon Limited's engineering group here, is one exporter who says he has nothing to fear from United States producers. His organization builds and equips flour mills.

Backward methods in most North American mills "would horrify" most European millers, he told a visiting group of Canadian reporters.

"We're 30 years ahead of the United States—and we can maintain that lead indefintely."

Only One Mill

The proof? Only one American-built mill is operating outside the United States. This in China where there are several British-built mills. Britain produces 10 tfmes as much mill equipment as the United States.

The world's greatest producer of milling equipment, Simon ships to 40 countries; and the firm claims that, working at top capacity, it could set up every month enough new mills to provide flour for 100,000 persons.

"We are now getting substantial orders from Canada, where we hope to become the leading milling engineers," he said. It was not possible to say where the new Canadian mills would be built—that would be a breach of confidence to the Canadian purchasers.

Simon already held orders to re-equip at least one in every three Canadian mills with a recently-developed device for "mellowing" wheat prior to milling.

In 1939, the company switched to war production. Tanks, anti-aircraft guns and Mulberry harbor equipment were poured out. In addition, mill-building on a reduced scale was continued.

Freight Rates Too High–Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 18 (CP)—Newfoundland is paying "millions of dollars" annually above its confederation understanding in freight rates, Premier Smallwood told the legislature Monday.

Under the terms of confederation, freight rates in Newfoundland were to be the same—as possible—as those in the Maritimes. This would include the 20 per cent reduction in rates for freight moving within the Maritimes, as provided in the Maritimes Freight Rates Act of 1927.

The union terms did not specify the schedule of rates. Canadian National Railways took over the Newfoundland Railway at union March 31. It drew up a schedule which, the Newfoundland government believes, is not in line with the terms of union, the premier said.

Mr. Smallwood said as a result of this schedule, Newfoundland is paying "millions of dollars" annually more than it should.

The premier said the government is investigating the matter and will submit a brief on it to the Royal Commission on Transportation.

An Increase In Telephone Rates

The Bell Telephone Company has applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners for permission to increase its rates. So far as we can judge, an increase is justified; there has been no change in rates since 1927, and in the past 22 years operating costs in all businesses have increased sharply. The Company's claim is that operating costs have risen 153 per cent. in the past nine years, and that the revenue from operations has increased only 125 per cent. It seems probable, then that the Board will permit an increase, and will examine the Company's proposed scale closely.

• • •

The heaviest increase in rates would apply to business telephones. The increase here amounts to more than fifty per cent. Business firms, of course, cannot get along without telephones, and many businesses make extensive use of the phone. Perhaps it is justifiable to place so much of the increased cost upon business, but we hope that the Transport Commissioners will examine this proposal carefully.

• • •

Peterborough will be moved into a new classification, if the revised scale of charges is passed, and will be in a group which includes Brantford, Kingston, Oshawa, St. Catharines, Sarnia, Sudbury and Sherbrooke; these are the cities which have between 10,000, and 20,000 phones. The increases, particularly on business phones, are steep, although the charge for extensions is lowered, which should make quite a difference in large plants. The increases generally are graded according to the size of cities, and the biggest increases in rate are laid upon the biggest towns.

• • •

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada is a firm with a fine record of management and public service. Last year Parliament granted the Company permission to increase its capital stock from $150 millions to $350 millions—a striking proof of public confidence. Judging by the Company's past record, we would be greatly surprised if its new scale of charges is much revised by the Transport Commissioners. However, in the public interest, a thorough study will be made of the new rates.

The Scourge Of God

In some recent editorials on the present state of affairs in Britain we ventured the opinion that it was as much the self-righteous behaviour of the Labour Gavernment, as its strong measures of control, which exasperated its opponents. In illustration of what we mean we call attention to a statement made by Aneurin Bevan, the Minister of Health, on Sunday. The millionaires, he said, were worse off "and we intended that they should be; further redistribution is to take place, because redistribution is also retribution."

This is hardly the talk of an economist. It sounds much more like the talk of a revengeful man who has decided to use his power as a minister of the Crown to visit judgement upon people whom he dislikes. Mr. Bevan fancies himself as the Scourge of God. Now we hold no brief for millionaires, but we feel that they should be regarded as honest men until someone presents undisputed evidence that they are not honest. Contrary to a widely held belief, not every man who becomes rich does so because he is craftier and less scrupulous than his fellows; it is just as likely to be because he is more intelligent and industrious than his fellows. Talk like Mr. Bevan's gives the impression that the Labour Cabinet contains more than its share of power-drunk cranks, who have not the faintest notion of the many different elements which go to make up a large and powerful nation.

It is no doubt delightful for Mr. Bevan to say to large crowds that he wants to beggar the rich. But when all the money has been scooped in from that source, what will he say to the crowds then? "Redistribution" is a fine word until it comes to mean "higher taxes on the lower wage levels."

Porcupine Journalism

The newspaper which attempts to agree with the Brantford Expositor is likely to find itself in the position of the kindly picnicker who tries to feed a sandwich to a porcupine; the porcupine will eat the sandwich but it will probably leave a few barbs in the hand of its would-be friend. A few days ago we wrote a commendation of an editorial which the Expositor had published on the subject of prolonged Daylight Saving. On Saturday last the Expositor reprinted most of what we said, with this charming and gracious acknowledgement:

One suspects the Examiner of having a local bias in this case, and of sticking up for Standard Time mainly because its "inventor", Fleming, has some association with Peterborough. Perhaps it would be as well to point out that Daylight Saving Time is no more artificial than Standard, that neither is "natural" time. As for never having heard any office or factory workers speak in favor of Daylight Saving Time, well, this could conceivably be a case of there being none so deaf as those who do not want to hear!

However, the conclusion is right enough. For the Expositor's information let us say that we have no special bias in favour of Standard Time, nor do we stress unduly Sir Sandford Fleming's association with Peterborough; actually he only lived here about as long as Alexander Graham Bell lived in Brantford, and thus cannot be regarded as a local possession. We do not think of Standard Time as "natural" time, though it would doubtless oblige the Expositor if we were silly enough to do so. Further, we have never had a single letter in support of Daylight Time from anyone, though we have had plenty of letters against it.

Finally we offer the Expositor thanks for a full heart for its generous admission that our editorial agreeing with it was not complete nonsense, as contained in the final sentence quoted. This is really white of the Expositor, and encourages us to struggle on, in the hope that we too may someday be a great, big wonderful newspaper, with pretty manners and a winning style.

Outdated Airfields

Some interesting points were made at a conference of the International Air Transport Association in The Hague last month, when seventy airline companies from forty nations were represented. One point discussed was the delays and inconveniences caused at airports by immigration and customs regulations. The companies' representatives claimed with justice that obsolete rules requiring visas, customs inspections and multiple form-filling were needlessly handicapping passengers touching down on countries along international air routes. A greater uniformity, and much simplification of procedure are required.

The most interesting point was that governments and corporations were lacking foresight in the provisions being made for airfields. The delegates expected that within ten years jet planes will be in regular transport use, for although jets are more expensive to operate than planes now in use, they can make at least twice as many trips in the same time, and so reduce costs and increase services. Yet airports are still being built and planned which make no provision for jet plane traffic. It is said that some of the airfields may not even be completed before they have become all but useless for the traffic they will have to handle.

This point may have a local application. Can it be that the delay in building an airport in Peterborough is the result of uncertainty as to whether to provide for ordinary four-engine transports, or for jet plane traffic?

East German Republic

We have discussed in these columns the formation of the West German Republic, and our news sections have told of the elections and the first parliament. Now we have to remark on the inauguration of the German Democratic Republic on Tuesday last. It includes the five states of Brandenburg, Mecklenburg Saxony-Anhalt, Thuringia and Saxony, but its constitution provides for the inclusion of other German states. The new Eastern German state has a population of 17,000,000. Its president is Wilhelm Pieck, its Premier is Otto Grotewohl. As West Germany is politically in accord with eastern (Soviet) "democracy", so its leaders are "social democrats" or Communists. The power behind the Frankfurt Presidential table is American dollars and food; the power beside the Berlin presidential table is the Red Army. It is, incidentally, noteworthy that Berlin is the capital of the new Soviet Germany, and that leaders of the two German states publicly hope for the reunion of both into a single Germany again.

Frederic Chopin

By EDWARD SACKVILLE-WEST

THE centenary of Chopin's death is a reminder that the spectacle of a tragic life may on occasion fill us with a sense of glory. For Chopin was one of the saints of Art—a lyric genius whose music at once exerted, and still exerts, the powerful and indubitable spell which is usually the privilege of physical beauty. Chopin's music is the expression of unadulterated feeling; and the experience which nourished his creative faculty was chiefly, if not indeed solely, that of love—love of Poland, and a kindred passion for two or three women.

◆ ◆ ◆

ALTHOUGH he was half French (his father migrated to Poland as a young man) the circumstances of his boyhood—the upsurge of Polish nationalism, fostered by the arrogance of Russia—combined with self-imposed exile to develop in Chopin's mind the image of an ideal country. Absence made his heart grow fonder, year by year, until, what with the disillusionment caused by the breach of his engagement to Marie Wodzinska, and the catastrophe of his affair with George Sand, brought about largely by the heedless and unscrupulous behaviour of her children, nothing remained to Chopin save the nostalgic dream of a country he had not seen for nearly twenty years.

◆ ◆ ◆

AS a nation, our part in the tragedy consists in the fact that we did not discover Chopin until he was already beyond the reach of help. He visited London for the first time in 1837, but remained almost incognito and played only once, at the house of the piano manufacturer, James Broadwood. When he came again, at the pressing instance of his Scottish pupil, Jane Stirling, he was at the end of his tether. Betrayed (or so he thought) by George Sand, mortally ill with consumption, and deprived of his livelihood in Paris by the revolution of 1848, which had scattered his pupils, Chopin was beyond making the most of his opportunity.

◆ ◆ ◆

HE gave a number of public and private concerts in England and Scotland—notably one at Stafford House, in the preesence of Queen Victoria—but the receipts on the public occasions were small. The "Daily News" published a remarkably perceptive notice of his playing, and when he reached Scotland the devoted Jane Stirling and her numerous friends all took the greatest trouble to ease his sufferings. But it was of no avail; the strangeness of the country, and the feeling that his art was not understood over here, deepened his wretchedness and apathy. He returned to Paris and died a year later.

◆ ◆ ◆

IN connection with his English visit it must be remembered that Chopin was not really a concert pianist at all. He had realized, as early as 1835, that his style of playing was too delicate and intimate for a large hall, and after that date he appeared in public only under pressure of circumstances. In London, Manchester and Glasgow the relative failure of his concerts was due to the fact that the audience could not hear him properly.

◆ ◆ ◆

WHEN we consider that Chopin was in full possession of his genius for rather less than twenty years, the rapid enrichment of his musical style seems all the more astonishing. It was achieved by a devotion to his art which the ravages of extreme sensibility must have made increasingly arduous. Hence the sudden changes of mood, the veiled sadness, the savage outbursts, that strike us so forcibly in his later music.

◆ ◆ ◆

THE aristocratic young dandy with the dreamy eyes, the innocent mouth, the high nose and the long, fair hair no doubt existed; it is the Chopin of the Rubio portrait and of the Nocturne in E flat; if we turn to the daguerreotype made in the year of his death, we receive a shock. The eyes look morose and there are pouches under them; the mouth has widened and coarsened with pain; the whole face is deeply lined with illness and the embitterment of good faith betrayed. This is the Chopin of the Sonatas, of the last Nocturnes and Mazurkas, of the Fantaisie and the F minor Ballade; passionate yet reserved; melancholy yet full of nervous energy; astonishingly single-minded; the possessor of technical resources entirely adequate to his purpose; the acme of musical taste, yet seething with the imaginative frenzy of a poet who is obscurely conscious that time is short.

◆ ◆ ◆

CHOPIN is, indeed, the greatest of all composers for the piano. In this sphere at least his inventiveness is as astounding as Beethoven's, and the result more rewarding because it never strains the capacities either of piano tone or of the player's ten fingers. The best exponents of Chopin's music have been those who adhered closely to his precepts.

◆ ◆ ◆

HIS own style of playing appears to have been strictly inimitable. We know that he preferred an upright piano to a concert grand, because the tone was more intimate. He insisted on strictness of rhythm—especially in the left hand; his dynamic range was kept within narrow limits—not so much because he disliked forte playing as because illness diminished his muscular strength. Every note was given in exact value, and the tune was made to sing; he never hurried or indulged in senseless brio.

◆ ◆ ◆

PERHAPS, for reasons of temperament, the great Chopin players of the past have been Russian, Polish and French, but not (except in a very few cases, of which Clara Schumann seems to have been one) German or Austrian; and the division still holds good. Today there are perhaps half a dozen front-rank interpreters of Chopin. Teutonic pianists are apt to be too pedantic and, on the other hand, too much inclined to emphasis and heavy bravura. They sentimentalize Chopin, which will not do. Again, the hell-for-leather style, of which we hear so much nowadays, is even more ruinous. Pianists who are determined to play difficult passages impressively fast had, better leave this music alone.

◆ ◆ ◆

CHOPIN belongs to the small but select band of artists who have achieved perfection through exact knowledge of their scope and determination not to go outside it. Having discovered his world, he explored it from top to bottom, and from end to end—or very nearly—for, as in the case of Mozart, there is no warrant for supposing that when disease claimed him he had written himself out. Of course, compared with Beethoven's and even Wagner's, Chopin's world is a small one; but it is more comprehensive than it looks, and everything in it is displayed with the clear proportions and the subtilised features of an ideal beauty. In the whole range of art there is very little to which we can properly compare the mature music of Chopin — except, perhaps, the Odes of John Keats, whose proud spirit and whose tragic end were both so like his own.

THREE MEN ON A HORSE

The "Package" – A Dubious Device

(MONTREAL STAR)

"A PRESCRIPTION which cures fits, a book containing 100 popular songs, an oriode gold ring, a deck of Easy Winner playing cards and a liver pad—all for the sum of one dollar." Such was the "package" in the spacious days of the Gentle Grafter. Since then it has grown more sophisticated but it remains the same old coney-catcher. The purpose of the "package" is to create an illusion; to dispose of the unwanted on the strength of the wanted.

It is not so common in the shops and markets nowadays, but sometimes during seasonal gluts or shortages a customer who wishes to buy a melon is compelled to take some potatoes in order to get it; or vice versa. Instead, it is frequently encountered in wholesale transactions. If a theatre manager wishes to book an attractive film he usually is obliged to take whatever he is offered in the line of supporting pictures. This constitutes a "package" program, which is parcelled on the principle that once in their seats audiences will endure anything. In certain mass production industries the "package" is employed in a more coercive manner. The customer must buy the entire range of products or else he will get nothing at all. In still other instances the reward of accepting the "package" is exclusive distributorship. Whatever the approach gambit, the original parasitic intent remains unchanged.

A foolish use of the "package" recently has been noted in labour-employer negotiations, in which hours and conditions of work, wages, pensions and welfare provisions were destined to be embodied in a single working agreement. Instead of examining each subject on its merits and thereby arriving at a fair compromise both parties submitted "package offers" which obviously were no more than attempts to make up on the swings what was lost on the roundabouts. Naturally such horse-coping tactics defeated their ends; the negotiations deteriorated into a sort of swindlers carnival in which fresh hoaxes were contrived continuously. The conference dispersed in distrust.

The "package" is an adolescent toy—a poor tool for a serious purpose. Whatever its guise it is just as phoney as in O. Henry's day.

JUST IN CASE

A man, lunching in a crowded restaurant, broached to his waitress the subject of a second lump of sugar, and was sternly refused. When she had gone he felt a tug at his sleeve and looked up in to the eyes of an old lady who had been sitting at the next table.

"Here you are, young man," she whispered, and pressed into his hand a lump of sugar she had dredged up from the bottom of her handbag. "I always carry some. In case I meet a horse, you know."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem.

And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning-hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord. (Isa. 2: 2-5.)

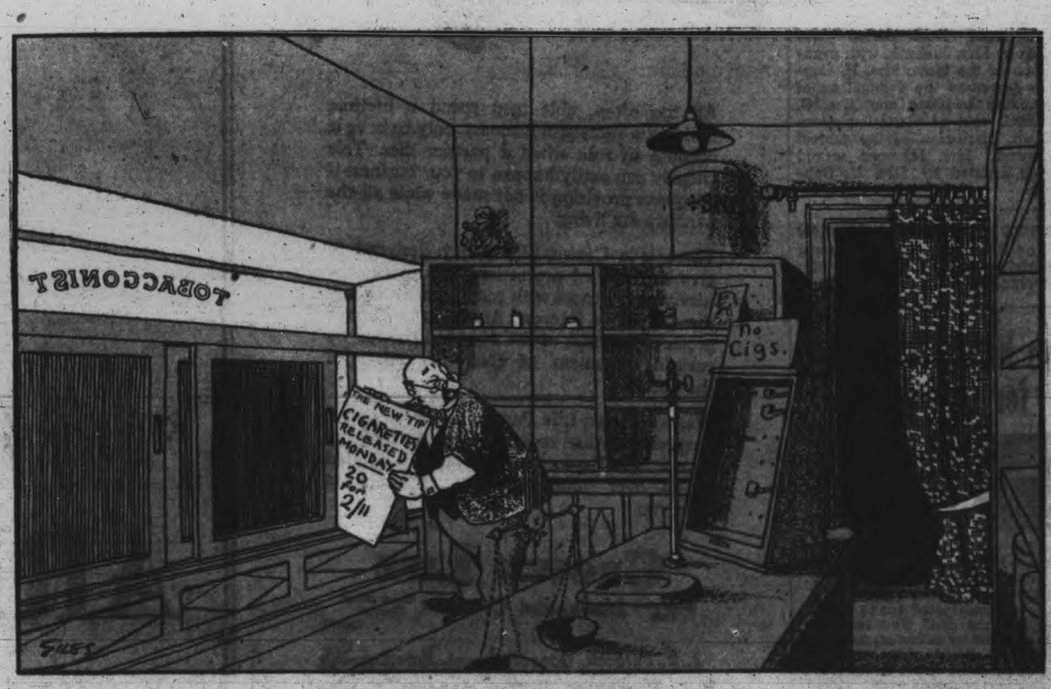
Letters To The Editor

SUPPORTERS OF BOYS' TOWN

Sir,—I would like to address myself to the parent who wrote to the executives of the Optimist Club in regard to Boys' Town. Boys' Town is one, in fact the finest organizations that could have been brought to Peterborough. The boys are so enthused about it that you can't keep them away. They are not asked or expected to be there every evening of the week, and the evenings they are asked to be present, are told to leave not later than 9.15 p.m. If your boy gets there at 7 and home by 9.30 p.m. I don't think there should be any room for complaints. Our son is on the executive. He also spent time in rehearsing for the concert, and also gets A1 reports from school. Even if the boys did spend a few extra nights before their concert, they don't have a concert every night. And the boys certainly deserve a lot of credit for the grand performance and the talent they showed in their concert, due to the short time Mr. Bent had to train them. You also mentioned about leaving everything to the boys in regard to raising their funds. Well it's their Town and they love to work to support it.

Dear parent, don't you think it much better to have the boys where you know where they are and under good supervision, than roaming the streets making a nuisance of themselves? As for the Teen-Town dance, that is definitely for the senior citizens and has been arranged for two dances a month.



Boys' Town is definitely not intended for a second home, but to be honest it's a first home for the boys who are not shown any home life by their own parents.

So far I have checked with quite a few parents and none have received any complaints from school Teachers. There are over 150 boys on the waiting list, so if you are not satisfied with your boy give some of the other boys a chance.

Sincerely yours for the success of Boy Town.

PROUD PARENTS.

Two At Church Anniversary Saw Cornerstone Laid 1874

MARMORA, Oct. 18—(ENS)—Parishioners of St. Paul's Church observed the 75th anniversary of the laying of its corner stone on Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Lough, now in her 90th year and Jessie Barlow, were present at both the cornerstone service 75 years ago and the anniversary Sunday. Mrs. Lough was formerly Isabelle Bailey.

The church was artistically decorated with chrysanthemums and dahlias, the former being a gift of Marmora AF & AH 222 and the latter were the gift of Dr. G. Hammond.

Another feature of the installation on loan of a Wurlitzer electric organ by Mr. A. F. Sparks, representative of Cherney Bros. of Peterborough.

The morning choral celebration was conducted by the rector, Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, LTH, STh, when 86 persons communicated.

The letter of Most Rev. John Lyons, MA, DD, Archbishop of Ontario, which appears at the commencement of the historical booklet issued at this time was referred to by the Rector.

It reads: "Congratulations to St. Paul's Church on this very important occasion in the history of their parish. May God's choicest blessings attend you in your united endeavours in His church as you face the future in these very difficult days."

The rector also read a letter from Rev. Philip Caiger Watson of Galetta, rector of the parish 1923-1926. After expressing regret that his health did not permit him to be present, the letter continued "May God bless you all and give to St. Paul's a long and happy service for Him among men. I shall think of you all on the 16th and remember you at my altar here. Kindest regards and best wishes. I do wish I could be with you."

Two Rectors

During his sermon the rector said it was apparent to all that they worshipped in a lovely little parish church. He also touched upon the 44 years of service of its first rector, the late Canon C. M. Harris, who he said, with the late Rev. A. B. Caldwell, rector for 17 years, had given the parish the unique distinction of having only two rectors for over 60 years of the full period of the ministrations at St. Paul's. The anniversary, he felt, should constitute a great act of reconsecration.

At choral evensong, at which the rector officiated, the special preacher was the Venerable Archdeacon F. A. Smith, BA, of St. Thomas, Belleville. After touching upon the significance of sacred stone in Holy Writ, the Archdeacon mentioned that the stones of churches—such as St. Paul's—speak of three things:

"They speak of stability and suggest loyalty to the church.

"They have a message of sacrifice and of Him who fulfilled all foreshadowing of Himself as the Great sacrifice.

"They also speak of that faith that we should fight and strive for as the faith of our fathers."

Former members of the congregation attending the services included Mrs. M. Taft, Kingston; Mrs. G. Hill, Madoc; Mrs. H. Melville and Mrs. Percy Melville, Campbellford; Mrs. Leroy Abrams Napanee; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones, Norwood.

Masonic brethren of AF & AM 222, with visiting brethren from Prince Edward Dstrict lodges, are attending the special service tonight at which Right Rev. W. L. Wright, DD, Bishop of Algoma, will be the preacher. An informal reception follows in the town hall.

Concluding the celebration is the anniversary chicken supper in the town hall on Thursday evening.

Millbrook-Cavan Church Board At Stag Supper

MILLBROOK, Oct. 18—(ENS) The joint board of the Millbrook-Cavan charge held a stag supper in St. Andrew's Sunday school rooms on Friday evening. Without doubt the board had been prepared by their wives at home, but the men did their own serving and the dish-washing afterwards.

Rev. T. G. Hussen, acted as chairman and led in the singsong. A worship service followed. Hymns were thrown on the screen by a lantern operated by by the Rev. A. Heywood of Bailieboro.

The appointment was confirmed of P. I. Bentley as recording steward for the united charge.

The missionary and maintenance committe which had been appointed at a previous informal meeting was approved. The members of this committee are J. A. Powell, B. E. Ingham and Fred Fallis from Millbrook and L. Pritchard and Wm. Armitage from Cavan.

One project of the church is the distribution of the book "Growing with the years," the story of the progress made by the United Church of Canada for it first 25 years.

The second project was the personal visitation of every adherent by the church elders. This had already been planned for the Millbrook congregation.

Members were recommended to listen to the program over CHEX at 7.45 p.m. Tuesday which is connected with the 25th anniversary of the founding of the United Church.

It was moved by Mr. Carley and seconded by Mr. Bentley that Mr. H. Oulleette's offer of the use of his tape recorder for the reproduction of programs, services etc. be accepted.

A committee consisting of Mr. Husser, Mr. Ouellette and Mr. Carley was given full power to proceed with the purchase of a duplication and also to secure information regarding a lantern of the type used by Mr. Heywood at the meeting.

Mr. H. Ouellette was given authority to extend the use of the chimes and to include at his own discretion music other than hymns.

Mr. White of Cavan is to continue as representative to Presbytery.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

In a five-week, 18-game exhibition tour of Europe this autumn Hull Volants of the ECHL will fly about 10,000 miles. This is the longest tour ever undertaken by a travelling hockey team, J. F (Bunny) Ahearne, secretary of the British Ice Hockey Association, said at London.

The team is due to arrive at Prestwick, Scotland, Oct. 30 and will play three games in Scotland —at Falkirk, Oct. 31, Air Nov. 2 and Paisley Nov. 5.

They will have one game in England—against Harringay Racers at London Nov. 8—before flying to the Netherlands. There they will play at the Hague and Amsterdam, move on to Belgium for a game at Antwerp and then play five games in Sweden.

They will fly to Switzerland for five more games and return to London Dec. 6. Another game at London will round out the tour before the Volants — in French Volants means "Fliers"—fly back to Ottawa Dec. 8.

Except for internal travel in Switzerland, every inch of their journey will be by air.

Emile Collette, president of the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association, announced at Montreal Monday receipt of an invitation from Antonio Correa, president of the Mexican Golf Association, to Canadian amateurs to participate in the Mexican Amateur Golf Championship.

The Mexican Amateur will be held at Mexico City Oct. 29-Nov. 2.

Mr. Collette, who is also an honorary director of the United States PGA, has notified the Royal Canadian Golf Association of the invitation.

The invitation includes all Canadian amateur golfers who are associated with RCGA-member clubs.

A crowd of 3,225 paid $4,512.07 to see the game, proceeds of which go to Bastien, former Hornet goalie, whose ice career was ended when he lost an eye in a training camp accident a month ago. He had been voted the best goalie in the AHL for 1948-49.

All players, as well as employees at the Gardens, gave their services without charge. In addition, Baz was given $700 in gifts from other AHL clubs.

Arthur King, Canadian and British Empire lightweight champion from Toronto, will make his first London appearance tonight against Tommy McGovern of England.

Ranked fourth among the contenders for the world lightweight title, King is heavily favored to gain the 10-round decision. He met McGovern once before in Toronto and won easily over eight rounds.

On the same card will be a 10-round bout between Elis Ask, the Finnish featherweight who was sponsored in the United States by Jack Dempsey, and Solly Cantor, a lightweight from Toronto

The Dutchmen, Senior Ontario Hockey Association club, announced at Kitchener two new players will join them. They are former National Hockey League star Bobby Bauer and Art Herchenratter, formerly of the American Hockey League.

Montreal Canadiens announced Monday that defenceman Roger Leger has been sent to Cincinnati as a temporary fill-in for the American Hockey League team.

B.C. Resident Casts Light On Dickens' Tale

By DON GILBERT

LONDON, Oct. 18 (CP). — An octogenarian Vancouver woman's childhood memories have cast new light on the "Six Jolly Fellowship - Porters," the London waterfront tavern Charles Dickens wrote about in "Our Mutual Friend."

Mrs. Emily Ferris of Vancouver sent a letter to the proprietor of the Grapes Tavern, which has as good a claim as any to have been the pub that Abbey Potterson ran in Dickens' novel.

Dickens described the Six Jolly Fellowship-Porters as "a tavern of dropsical appearance, long settled down into a state of hale infirmity." In its whole constitution, he wrote, "it had not a straight line, but it had outlasted and clearly would yet outlast many a sprucer public house."

Inside the sawdust bar, where Rogue Riderhood used to scowl at the Sinector and Bob Gliddery, the pot-boy, made eyes at Lizzie Hexam, there were "corpulent little cacks, lemons in nets and biscuits in baskets."

Forgotten In Blitz

Mrs. Ferris was 84 when she wrote her letter in Vancouver. It arrived at the height of the German blitz and lay forgotten, among other papers under the bar, until this month.

The Vancouver woman recalled that when she was five her father took her to The Grapes, where Dickens used to sit in the big room upstairs.

But, Mrs. Ferris wrote, it was in another public house across the street, the Barley Mow, that Abbey Potterson worked. Her real name was Mary Ferguson, and Dickens, for literary purposes, first brought her across the road and placed her behind the bar of the Six Jolly Fellowship-Porters.

In those days Mrs. Ferris' aunt, Emily Judge, was the "serving maid at The Grapes.

Mrs. Ferris' grandfather was a close friend of Mary Ferguson, whom Dickens turned into Abbey Potterson, but she thinks the Six Jolly Fellowship - Porters may have had bits of the Two Brewers public house at the corner of Duke shore in it as well.

The semi-annual meeting of the Curling Club will be held this evening in the club's parlors at 8:00 p.m.

While all curlers are entitled to attend, it is most important that a skip or his vice be present.

The main object of this meeting is to choose schedule rinks for the season.

The committee announces that they have 70 rinks lined up, the largest in the club's history, and those 70 rinks will be divided into five groups of 14 each.

We could tell you more of the set-up for this season, but be out tonight and hear it all from the floor of the meeting.

And once again, make sure that either a skip or a vice be there. This is quite important.

Television Protest Marked Off Calendar

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (CP) — A motion by Joseph J. Balaber of New York to prevent the National Broadcasting Company from televising certain Mack Sennett comedies to Canadian audiences was marked "off the calendar" Monday before Justice Benedict D. Dineen, of the Supreme Court.

In his papers, Balaber said he owned the rights to the Sennett comedies and Aug. 7, 1946, entered into a contract with NBC permitting them to televise the two-reel films "only within the continental United States."

He claimed that the comedies were transmitted over network stations in Buffalo, Detroit and Cleveland and reached Canadian viewers in Southern Ontario.

The case will come up again but has not been put on the

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Another right promising pro mat card is being offered grapple fans Thursday night in the Brock arean. Fred Atkins, hard-hitting Australia heavy champ, tackles husky Toar Morgan in the main bont. Morgan makes his home in Lindsay, though he's from Tennessee—and, like Sam McGee, of Tennessee, he has been roaming around Alaska for some time. Recently returned from the far north and is ready to lick his weight in grizzlies, or something. Semi final has handsome Frank Taylor in against a tough newcomer here, Stan Olener. Tiger Tasker takes on Antone Leone (sounds poetic, eh-) in the prelim. Ought to be action aplenty in these three bouts.

* * * * * *

Along the grid front, we note where Lindsay Collegians play St. Peter's High after school tomorrow aft in the Oval, a return group match. The Saints eked out a 16-15 win in Lindsay last Saturday, so this tilt should be another hot struggle. Junior PCI-ers go to Lindsay-on-the-Scugog this week-end, and the junior schedule winds up a week later. Calling it the high schools' "show window," Toronto scribes are working up a lather o'er the coming two-day Red Feather tourney of champions in Maple Leaf Stadium on Friday and Saturday next. Eight of the best senior school grid squads in Ontario participate, the affair being opened Friday evening with PCVS playing Sarnia. It will be a real test of strength.

Screening the Juniors

Coach Bun Kingdon of the OHA junior "B" Oddfellows expects to have his team picked this week for sure. They drilled last p.m. and go again at nine Thursday night. Some 30 prospects still battling for berths. Birch, Floyd, Wyatt, Millar and Doris—and maybe we missed one or two more—are left from last year's good squad. Some newcomers likly on this year's lineup, including husky defencemen. The IOOF will ice the strongest possible squad, no matter where the players hail from, and plenty of time is being taken on the screening process. Likely an exhibition a week from Friday. Executive is working on a possible grouping of North Toronto, Oshawa, Belleville and here.

* * * * * *

"Dear Sir—After watching the junior hockey practices, the idea came to me that in town we could have a fine junior league for the gang that was left over, and who should have a chance to play. Get a club in each section of the city and, if there isn't enough material, say, in the south end, East City maybe could give them a hand. These clubs could play on junior hockey nights from 6.30 or so, playing two 20-minute periods. I am sure that this league would swell the junior OHA gates sufficiently that the hockey club could donate perhaps $20 a night, which the two winning clubs could split. At the end of the season, the East City crowd could have a turkey dinner, and the others get enough for a bean and doughnut get-together. Why not give it a try?"

Something On Soccer

Some soccer notes to hand. O'Halloran's play CGE at 2.30 sharp Saturday aft in King Edward Park in the annual challenge match for the Father Phelan Cup. This will wind up soccer for the season in that circuit. Yesterday, King Edward won the intermediate public school soccer crown and the G. N. Gordon Trophy by blanking Queen Mary 3-0 to settle that section of the school loop. We don't believe the junior victor has been declared yet. Senior school schedule continues tomorrow with Central playing Prince of Wales at the Oval, Queen Mary at King Edward, and Confederation at King George. Play finishes up a week tomorrow, with playoffs following.

A letter to hand from the Chatham sports editor with congrats to the Petes on taking the OBA senior "B" title. Says: "Your Peterborough team is a well-balanced aggregation and we were particularly impressed by the play of Edgar, Brown and Stewart. In the series the Petes were the best team all the way and played a steady brand of ball. Incidentally, they drew the biggest Sunday crowd to witness a game in Chatham this season." The Oshawa writer expresses appreciation to the men o' Murphy for their showing in the Motor City on Saturday when they helped make the Red Jubenville benefit sports day a big success. It drew more than 2,000 fans.

Lawn Bowlers Choose New Directors

With about 40 shareholders present, the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club, Ltd., held its annual meeting in the club house on Monday evening. President Robt Gamble occupied the chair.

In his address the president thanked all who had helped to make the season a success. He thanked the board for electing him president, saying what a great honor it was to be president of such an organization.

The secretary-treasurer, Fred H. Dearborn, read the financial report and this was well received

R. Gamble and W. W. Jeffries were appointed a nominating committee and Geo. Soulby and John Hickman auditors.

The nominating committee then announced that the 1950 Board of Directors would be elected by acclamation. Of last year's board, H. Beatty, A. Black, J. Fitzpatrick, S. Shields and K. Shadgett were elected with W. Moorehead and W. Perks the two new members W. W. Jeffries and R. Gamble retired.

A vote of thanks was tendered the outgoing board for the fine job they did during the season.

After the prizes had been distributed and it was announced that the new board would meet in a few days to elect a president and other officers, the meeting adjourned.

Marmora Lodges To Push Winter Sport

MARMORA, Oct. 18—(ENS)—Crowe Valley Lakes Association held another representative gathering of resort owners in the Canadian Legion Hall on Friday evening. Joseph Bard, president, occupied the chair.

Further consideration was given to detail for the proposed advertising folder for the area.

Discussion then turned to the matter of the development of winter sports in the area.

Secretary-treasurer James Cumming said he had ordered equipment for a ski tow for the Belmont Lake Ski Club.

It is also understood by the association that Vern Caverly of Glen Allan Park is going ahead with a similiar project which will be underway in the winter of 1950-51.

The association also went on record to give support to winter sports under the various sponsors in the area covered by them.

Information offices will be established in Marmora and Havelock next summer.

The final matter dealt with was that of encouraging more hunters to the district. The idea was held that the deer population is being depleted more than it should. It was recognized that the game wardens were performing their duties well, but that with the territory to be covered their number should be increased. The motion was carried that the Government be written in this regard.

The next meeting will be in the same hall, November 4.

Assault Heads For Farm To Enjoy Life of Idleness

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP) — Assault, one of the gamest and best of modern race horses, today was on his way back to the Texas farm where he was born to complete his days in the idleness he richly earned.

The crowd's roar, the straining drive to the wire, the sensing of victory—all are over for Robert J. Kleberg's little chestnut six-year-old, fourth biggest money winner in turf history with $672,520. Two years ago, Assault twice headed the golden list.

Trainer Max Hirsch announced Monday that his famed charge has been retired permanently to Kleberg's vast King Ranch farm after starting six times in a comeback campaign this year.

The announcement came as no surprise. It became obvious only last Saturday at Jamaica. Assault, far from his former brilliant self, finished a jaded eighth in the Grey Lag Handicap.

As a yearling romping on his owner's farm, he stepped on something akin to a spike. It left him with a malformed right forefoot.

As a three-year-old, he became the first thoroughbred to win $400,000 in one season—his total was $424,195. During mid-summer that year, he fought off a kidney ailment.

The following season he was voted the top handicap horse. That fall, splint trouble developed in his left foreleg. It bothered him intermittently long afterward.

He was on the road to a comeback in February, 1948, when he went to pieces in Hialeah's Widener. The courageous colt suffered a recurrence of the splint ailment, a popped osselet and left foreleg, wrenched ankle — all in the same

The only horses with bigger earnings than Assault are Stymie ($918,485), Citation ($865,150), and Armed ($809,950).

English Musicians Rapped Told Work Very Mediocre

By WILLIAM BOSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

English musicians, still riding the crest of a post-war boom, have just had a bit of a shock. They've been told—and by a reputable body—that their work is largely mediocre.

The Arts Enquiry, a body set up by a private trust to investigate the state of various arts in Britain, has a national music policy.

Every branch of musical life was scrutinized and most found wanting—the opera, the orchestra, chamber music, music in schools, professional training, concert talent.

Only the composer came out well.

The report said young English composers have too steep a hill to climb. "Composition is at a level unknown since the end of the 17th century," it said, "but composers find it discouragingly hard to get themselves a hearing."

Their works "have an unparalleled power of emptying a concert hall." Impressarios built concerts of "safe" works, daring only occasionally to include an unknown composition.

The result was that orchestra playing became hackneyed and "it is not surprising that orchestral playing, in London particularly, has never been more lifeless."

The report asked for greater support from public funds for symphonic and opera organizations, and for professional teach-

A special plea was made for successful establishment of the opera in Britain. "Our poverty has caused cultural prestige of this country to suffer for long enough," the report said.

The opera would offer scope for composers, singers, conductors, players, coaches, producers, designers, choreographers and librettists — in all of which departments England was insufficiently stocked to put on a first-rate performance by any standards.

The report criticized the Musicians' Union for preventing displaced persons from establishing in Britain, despite the country's lack of first-rate musicians.

Great Continental teachers found refuge in England before, during and after the war and their services would enrich the country, says the report. Yet no attempt was made to use them and, "discouraged here, many went to America."

Get Invitation

KITCHENER, Oct. 18 (CP) — J. G. Becker, president of Kitchener Legionnaires, said Monday night Buffalo interests recently invited the Kitchener club to link up with an international Class "B" baseball circuit. He did not identify the interests. He said the suggested hook-up would include Brantford, which along with Kitchener is in Ontario's Intercounty Senior League, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Welland and Niagara Falls N. Y., along with two other United States teams.

King Edward Takes School Soccer Cup

King Edward soccer eleven of the intermediate division of the south zone defeated the winners of the north zone, Queen Mary, 3-0 in the final for possession of the G. N. Gordon cup which is emblematic of the championship a. King Edward Park on Monday afternoon.

Keen tactics prevailed in the opening exchanges with each team testing the custodians repeatedly. Sutherland scored on an offside decision which was not allowed, but Dugan made amends a few minutes later when he landed a 20-yard drive below the cross-bar to open the scoring. Towards the interval, McArthur and Beggs broke away fast on the wing with the former sending a perfect pass over to Curtis who measured the flight with precision to register the second tally. On resuming, Queen Mary came into the picture but lacked finish around goal; while King Edward rallied to get the third counter when Curtis slammed home a low grounder inside the upright to make it 3-0.

King Edward — R. Halcrow, goal; W. Rowe and R. Keeting, full backs; G. Hunt, F. Mills and R. Rowe, half backs; A. Beggs, A. McArthur, D. Sutherland, P. Dugan and A. Curtis, forwards. Subs: R. Lauchlan, F. Ball.

Queen Mary—G. Finn, goal; D. Hillier and G. Harris, full backs; J. Dafoe, K. Beck and P. Jones, half backs; R. Dubay, R. Wilfong, R. Brown, D. Fair and D. Peacock, forwards. Subs: J. Plunkett.

Knockout Specialist Notches 18th Victory

TORONTO, Oct. 18 (CP) — Heavyweight knockout specialist James J. Parker of Barrie notched his 18th consecutive victory by the dreamland route Monday night when he dropped Killer Riggs, of Stratford, early in the second round.

Highlighting the Oakwood Boxing Club's autumn bill, Parker, 45 pounds lighter than the 240-pound Riggs, floored the Killer in the first round. The Bell saved him, but the Barrie boy took only one minute and 25 seconds in the next outing to clinch the bout.

In another feature clash, Ronnie Muir, of Toronto, who two weeks ago won the Canadian Amateur flyweight title at Port Arthur, staggered to a close points win over Kid St. Louis of London.

A three-round 118-pound bout between Max Males, Toronto, and Ted Heffernan, London, saw the Toronto boxer take the decision on points.

Rookie Smith Leading NHL Scoring Race

MONTREAL, Oct. 18 (CP) — Sid Smith, a Toronto Maple Leaf rookie who captured the American Hockey League scoring championship last season, has moved in front of the National Hockey League point-race by a slim one-point margin.

Official statistics released today show that the 24-year-old left winger with Pittsburgh Hornets last season has four points —two goals and two assists. Seven player are grouped for second place with three points each. They are: Maurice Richard and rookie Gilles Dube of Montreal Canadiens, Paul Ronty and Johnny Peirson, Boston Bruins; Fleming Mackell and Howie Meeker, Toronto Maple Leafs; and eorge Gee, Detroit Red Wings.

The next spot is divided among 10 players, each with two points

Richard and Gee are tied for first place in goals with three each while Peirson leads the assist department with three.

Toronto's Ted Kennedy and Montreal's rugged Kenny Reardon lead in the penalty division with 10 minutes each spent in the cooler.

Durnan First

Big Bill Durnan of Canadiens is the first netminder to register a goose-egg. The all-star goaler chalked it up against Black Hawks in Montreal's first game of the season. Durnan also leads in the goals scored against column with only one puck passing him in two outings.

Montreal, who finished third in the NHL schedule last year, are on top of the pack with a perfect record—two wins and no defeats. They are closely followed by Toronto Leafs with three points made up of one victory and one tie. Detroit are third with two points, the result of a week-end victory over Boston. Boston, Chicago and Rangers are in the cellar with one point.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP) — Cleveland Barons, showing the results of active off-season reorganization, led the American Hockey League at the end of the first week's play, including games through Sunday, Oct. 16.

Cleveland topped the western division with three victories and no defeats.

The Eastern Division found New Haven Ramblers and Buffalo Bisons leading with one victory and one less each.

Esther Williams Says Baby Swimming Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18 (AP).—Esther Williams admits this may not be believed, but her two-month-old son is swimming already.

"It sounds fantastic, I know," says the swim star. "But Benjie actually swims in his bath. All I do is keep his chin above the water and he paddles right along on the surface. In fact, he has nearly kicked a hole in his bathinette." The child's nurse confirms this feat of heredity.

Does this mean Benjie will challenge other Hollywood tots, such as the James Masons' Portland, who paddled about the family pool at six months?

"No," says Esther. "I don't believe in tossing babies into pools and letting them swim underwater."

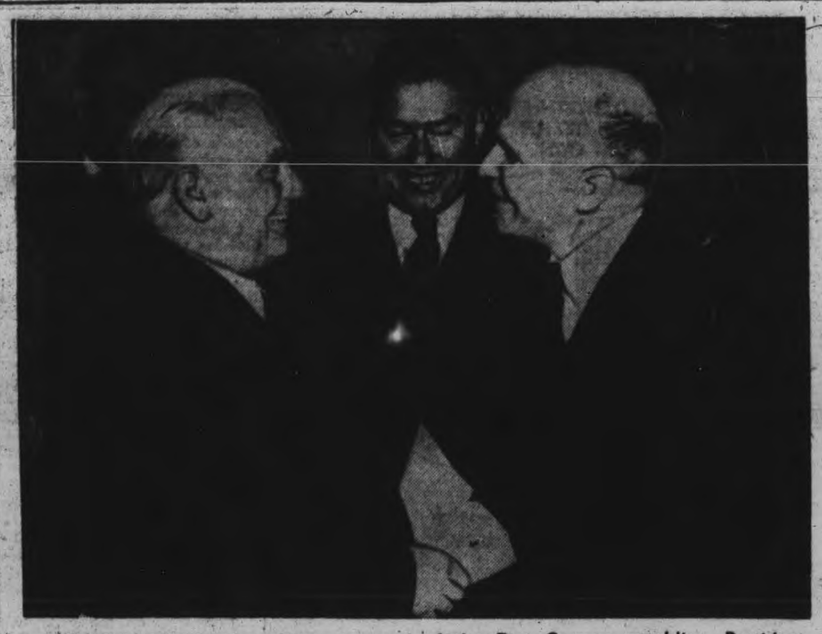
American Tragedy

Theodore Dreiser had to die before he was immortalized on the screen. Montgomery Clift and Elizabeth Taylor are making "An American Tragedy" (now called "A Place In The Sun") for George Stevens. And Stevens' partner, William Wyler, will start "Sister Carrie" this Winter.

Watch out, Frankie and Perry! Robert Mitchum is invading your field. When he finishes "Carriage Entrance," he'll make an album of popular songs with his sister Carol, who is singing at a Hollywood cafe. Mitchum has already made an album of folk songs.

The Powells

June Allyson and Dick Powell were discussing the latest Hollywood scandals. "Hollywood today is like a Presbyterian church compared to what it was 20 or 30 years ago," said Dick.



The Powells are doing "The Reformer and The Redhead," her first film in eight months, during which she mostly cared for her young daughter. Her only scheduled film is "Royal Wedding" with Fred Astaire next Summer.

Recapture Prisoner

EDMONTON, Oct. 18 (CP) — Companion of convicted murderer Mike Zachariuk in a break from the Ponoka Mental Hospital Saturday, Howard Otman, 22, was recaptured in Edmonton Monday. Zachariuk was caught at Two Hills, 60 miles northeast of here, Sunday night. Otman was arrested at a downtown Edmonton rooming house where he formerly lived.

Bus Runs Off Cliff

CHILPANCINGO, Mexico, Oct. 18 (AP)—A bus ran off a 300-foot cliff Monday, killing 10 passengers and severely injuring four others. There were 30 persons on the bus, all Mexicans.

Queen Mary Students Get Olympic Senior Crowns

The Kiwanis Little Olympics grade school track and field meet was successfully staged at the Exhibition Grounds Saturday afternoon. The meet had been postponed twice because of the condition of the track and was finally run on the grass.

The meet produced some excellent competition and good time and distances were recorded. Girls were included in the meet for the first time last year and this year they numbered fully one half of the competitors and showed great school spirit.

All competitors winning a place received crests. There are special shields for the champion of each class. These shields will be presented at a Kiwanis dinner; the winners were: Girls under 12 yrs. of age, won by Meredith Morgan of Queen Mary by virtue of a tie for first in the high jump and a second in the broad jump which gave her four and a half points to edge out Beverley Thompson who had four points with a win in the dash and a third in the high jump. Alec Burfield was third in the class.

J. Kearns Led

Joanne Kearns of Sacred Heart won the championship for girls 12 and 13 years with firsts in the 50 yard dash and the high jump. Carole Dorrington of King Edward was 2nd and Lorraine Bullied, Carole Scully of Central and Gail Burfield of Confederation were tied for third.

Elizabeth Green of Queen Mary won top honors for girls 14 years and over. She finished with firsts in the 50 yd., running high jump and third in the standing broad jump. Dorothy Dunk of King Edward was next with a first in the broad jump and a second in the 50 yd. dash. Dorothy James was third.

In the boys under 12 yr. class, Lorne Hale, King George, turned in a notable performance by placing in every event for a total of 12 points. Jack Rose of Confederation was second having led the field in the running events. Bill Douglas also of Confederation was third.

Gord White of Queen Mary is the 12 and 13 year old champion. Gord won the 95 yd. dash, the 440 yd. run and placed second in the standing broad jump. He was closely followed by Dennis Hale, who had firsts in the running high jump and the running broad jump. Harold Pullyblank was third. Probably the outstanding race of the meet was the 440 yd. dash in this class when Gord White established an early lead and they staved off a challenge by Harold Pullyblank in the home stretch.

Bill Watson of Queen Mary showed real versaility in the 14 year class and was either first or second in all events to win the championship. M. Parry of Confederation was second and Ron Dunn of Queen Mary third. Dunn was impressive in the half mile.

RCAF Officers Attend 'Show'

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP)—Canada's chief of air staff and the head of the RCAF training command will go along for the show this week-end when the RCAF reserve joins the United States national guard in a mock bombing attack on New York City.

U.S. bombers and fighters and eight RCAF Vampire jet fighters will take part in the "attack" and interception over the city in a joint reserve force exercise dubbed "operation metropolis."

Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, the Canadian air chief, and Air Vice Marshal C. B. Slemon, air officer commanding training command, will be spectators. The Canadian forces participating will be drawn from Montreal's 401 and 438 reserve squadrons and No. 1 radar and communications unit, also in Montreal.

The RCAF said in a statement the New York scheme will be the first of "other similar exercises with American reserve forces."

Mr. Scott was aged 88. He leaves his wife, two sons and one daughter, one brother Herbert V. of Cavan and Mrs. Lottie Truscott of Chemong.

Rent Controls Worrying Federal Government

MONTREAL, Oct. 18 (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities said in a statement Monday that Prime Minister St. Laurent had told them that the federal government was doubtful about its legal right to maintain rent controls.

Mr. St. Laurent met the federation's executive at a closed session here Saturday.

Of the prime minister's remarks on rent controls, the federation statement said:

"He stated that the federal government had been giving much thought to the matter of rent controls. He conceded that in those cities where there was a large housing shortage that some measure of rent control should probably be maintained. It was for this reason that the federal government had invited the provinces to take over responsibility for rent controls a year or more ago. To date, however, no province had indicated its willingness to do so. The federal government was mindful of the problem and while it had every desire to protect the people against exorbitant rent increases there was some question as to the federal government's legal right to maintain controls over a matter which, normally, did not fall within the jurisdictional sphere of the federal government. The federal cabinet had the matter under study and, in due course, would take whatever seemed the most appropriate steps to deal with the problem."

YOUR ANSWER TO THE MOUNTING COST OF MOTORING

While automobile prices and motoring costs have been soaring ever skyward, many people have expressed the hope that some manufacturer might produce an inexpensive car that is economical to operate, but which fulfills the single primary function of an automobile — that of safe, comfortable, dependable transportation.

The Austin A40 Devon is just that. Its purchase price is lower than you'd expect for such a generously proportioned car.

Note its economy of operation with greater mileages — up to 40 m.p.g. — and lower maintenance costs. It's a style standout modernly streamlined with just a suggestion of continental influence. Its top performance will be appreciated when you get behind that Austin wheel — greater manoeuvrability, easier parking, a compact, powerful, valve-in-head, engine with an unusually high compression ratio for "first from the light" starts and high touring speeds.

NOTE GENUINE AUSTIN A40 REPLACEMENT PARTS AND SPECIALIZED SERVICE ARE READILY AVAILABLE THROUGHOUT CANADA AND UNITED STATES.

You'll like EVERYTHING about this astonishing new Austin — especially the big savings that bring motoring costs down to pre-war levels. But see it — drive it yourself and be convinced. The friendly Austin Dealer in your locality will be happy to arrange a demonstration. See him without delay!

Supreme Court Fall Sittings, 8 Divorce Cases

A true bill on a charge of attempted rape was returned by the grand jury against Leo Webb Monday afternoon, the first day of the fall sittings of the Supreme Court presided over by The Hon. Mr. Justice P. E. F. Smily.

The grand jury had only one charge to consider. Webb will now be tried by a judge and petty jury. The jury reached its majority decision after a short secret preliminary hearing.

When the court resumed this morning the case was stood over to the next assizes. This was done despite the strenuous objections of Crown Attorney John Bradshaw. The accused was without legal representation until J. C. N. Currelly, on request, moved on Webb's behalf that the case be set over until counsel could be secured.

Witnesses Duties

In his charge to the grand jury, Mr. Justice Smily pointed out the importance of people fulfilling their duty to act as witnesses despite the inconvenience the service often caused. He said witnesses performed a key role in the administration of justice which was a bulwark in defense of the freedom enjoyed by Canadians.

Four of the eight divorce actions scheduled for hearing at this sitting were presented Monday afternoon. Three of the divorces were granted and the decision of the fourth was withheld until proofs of marriage were filed. All those heard were not contested.

MANY RUBBISH FIRES

Too many rubbish fires. That was the verdict of firemen after dousing five of the troublesome little blazes Monday afternoon. Chief complaint of the Fire Department, however, was that local residents still do not know they must obtain permission before starting a rubbish fire. Permission must be obtained before burning rubbish, leaves or starting any sort of bonfire in the city. The Fire Department business number is 5713. Do not phone 5711 as that is the emergency number. At no time will permission be granted on Monday because that is the day traditionally set aside for women to do their washing.

$5,000 High For House

The sum of $5,000 asked of the city by George Rutherford for the house he owns and occupies at McKellar St. on the west side of Monaghan Road is too high, the council decided Monday night. Some one said $3,000 would be more like an attractive valuation. A motion by Aldermen Sands and Raine will be answered in the strain that the city is interested, but not at that price. Eventually it may be acquired by the city, and the old house demolished. In the meantime the council will have it appraised.

Cobourg Loses Ferry Fight To Keep Ships Operating

COBOURG, Oct. 18 (ENS)—Council heard the bad news from Mayor Joe Smith last night that his weekend conference with R. C. Vaughan, president of the CNR, produced a statement that both car ferries here will be taken out of service before the end of the year. The Mayor commented that Mr. Vaughan's observation by no means ended the matter as far as the town was concerned.

The Mayor pointed out that Rochester Chamber of Commerce were not satisfied to let the matter drop. Furthermore Dr. Fred Robertson, M.P., for Northumberland was going to bring the matter up in the House. It was possible that a definite decision might be deferred until Mr. Donald Gordon took over Mr. Vaughan's office.

The Mayor commented to the council as follows. "In company with Dr. Fred G. Robertson member for Northumberland, John James, member for Durham and Frank Follwell, member for South Hastings we met Mr. Vaughan, president of the C. N. Railroad. Also present was Mr. Fairwhether vice president in charge of research of development for the Canadian National Railways. The decision of Mr. Vaughan is that both ferries will be discontinued before the end of this year."

Board Recommended Stoppage

This decision was reached apparently on the basis of a report turned in to Mr. Vaughan by the Board of Directors on the Ontario car ferries with an unanimous decision on their part to recommend the discontinuance of these ferries. This Board of Directors consist of two appointed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and Mr. Fairwhether of the Canadian National.

"It is interesting to note," Mayor Smith said, "that this report was made with the decision to recommend the discontinuance of the ferries on November 8th, 1948. The summation may be explained briefly as follows: the ferries at one time built up a reserve fund and these funds have over a period of years been spent to cover recurring deficits.

"It is the contention of Mr. Fairwhether that what they term the Niagara frontier is the entry into Canada for all rail freight. He further contends that the two ferries serve a very narrow stream of traffic and that the discontinuance of these ferries will harm no industry in the central Ontario region.

"On our plea that the matter be thoroughly investigated he was obdurate insisting that the matter had been thoroughly gone into as late as last year and that he could see no future for the ferries.

"The problem is made worse by the fact that their reserves have been spent and both ferries are in need of overhauling. When Dr. Robertson inquired of Mr. Vaughan what would happen to the employees involved Mr. Vaughan stated that every consideration would be given them but that the CNR did not guarantee life-time jobs. I would like to report to the council that this matter is not yet closed as far as we are concerned. I have appointment on Wednesday with the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, who are still insistent that they want further investigaton of the facts in this matter and are prepared to take action in an effort to stop what at the moment seems to be a forgone conclusion according to Mr. Vaughan's statement.

"I would like to point out to the council that our Federal member, Dr. Fred G. Robertson, has taken a great deal of time and trouble over this matter and will continue every effort as we are doing to prove Mr. Fairweather and his associates in the Ontario Car Ferries Company wrong in their strong recommendation to Mr. Vaughan to discontinue these ferries.

Great Big Dane Bites Small Girl

An eight-year-old girl, Linda Allen, was bitten in the back by a Great Dane dog Monday afternoon about five p.m. as she and two other little girls were running home from the playground at St. Mary's Convent.

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford said the dog belonged to Doug Ferguson. The child was saved from more serious hurt by Mrs. Harold Crowley, 376 Rubidge St., who attacked the dog with a rake and drove him off.

Mr. Dunford said Ferguson had taken the dog to the playground just before the girls left. They apparently were running away and the dog came after them, jumping on the Allen girl. There were teeth marks on her back.

Linda Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Allen, 380 Stewart St.

Romaine St. Lot Levelled

Board of works has made a rough job of levelling the corner lot at Romaine St. and the west side of Monaghan Road. It is a bulldozer job to allay the criticisms of the people living in the neighborhood. Presumably, the parks department will have to take charge of it next year, do some further soil work, and get some grass planted. This lot was bought to provide a long view of approaching C.P.R. traffic. It is an investment in public safety and is to be converted into a green plot.

Apsley Victim Of Polio Dies In Toronto

Four days after admission to a Toronto hospital, Mrs. Herbert Lean of Apsley died on Monday from acute anterior poliomyelitis in her 41st year. She was the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. A. G. Spence of St. George's Anglican Church, Apsley, the former Cicely Clare Spence.

Besides her parents and husband, she leaves a son Douglas, aged 12, and three sisters, Mrs Doris Shewen of Lakefield, Mrs. Christabel Kilborn of this city, and Mrs. Phillis Hester of Apsley. There are two brothers Rex and Roy Spence, both of Toronto. Before moving to Apsley 15 years ago, Mrs. Lean lived for 10 years in Peterborough.

Funeral service was held today at St. George's Anglican Cemetery, Apsley, and was conducted by the Rev. Canon F. J. Fife of St. Aidan's Anglican Church, in Young's Point.

Pallbearers were Rex and Roy Spence, George and Rodney Kilborn, Claude Shewen, and Donald Hester.

Apsley hospital reported today that there were no other cases. It was the first instance of polio in Apsley in 40 years.

Plan New Stop Sign At Chemong Rd.-Entry

Two accidents this week at the junction of Reid and Stewart Streets and Chemong Road prompted Ald. Herbert Young last night to ask for immediate action in placing a traffic stop sign on Reid St.

To reduce delay, the council is going to reverse the usual and slower procedure. The sign is going to be set up at once. Then the council will pass the bylaw authorizing it and finally submit for approval to the Ontario Department of Highways.

Ald. Young said there was now a stop sign on Stewart St. for northbound traffic into Chemong Road, but accidents were still happening.

A month or so ago, the council mentioned that forking of the two city streets from the Chemong Highway. It has been recognized as a hazard to traffic, particularly to drivers from the north unaware of the right-hand turn into Reid St. For that reason it has been suggested that a block should be set on Reid St. for traffic from the south. Ald. Young proposed that the stop sign be placed there now.

Committee Appointed To Study Centre Site

A joint committee to consider the merits and conditions of the proposed site of the Memorial Community Centre at Rink-George-Townsend Streets was completed by the council Monday night.

Representatives of the Centre committee as reported in a letter from J. A. Jebson are: W. P. Eastwood, Harold Dormer, Ed. Riley and Frank Buckland. The four members of the council named by Mayor Swanston are: Alderman Sands, Doug Miller, J. E. Gillespie and H. Dodds.

These nominations followed the recommendation of the meeting of members of the Centre committee and city council last week.

The joint committee is authorized to make a thorough investigation of dimensions of the property, proposed location of the Centre, footing conditions and effects on the Miller Bowl, leased and used by the Lacrosse Club and its followers. The general commission is to obtain all the facts required for the information of the Centre committee to whom the council has offered the property.

10 Counties Show Holsteins In Morrow Pk Championship

The Holstein championships at Morrow Park this morning brought together 175 purebred cattle from the ten counties of Central Ontario from Simcoe to Lennox-Addington.

Ringside estimates pronounced it the greatest cattle show in the history of this district.

In the number of entries it exceeded the Black and White championships of last year by 25 head. It lacked the great Marksman bull of the J. J. McTague herd, outstanding animal here a year ago, but the best blood lines of the Holsteins of this section of the province were strongly represented.

Winning animals at the Black and White shows in the constituent counties this fall were eligible for today's regional finals, and the success of the competition was emphasized by the total of 175 head.

Prominent Breeders Present

Many prominent breeders were present for this event, and the large morning attendance reflected more international interet extending to South America and Italy.

This group of visitors were: Dr. Luigi Rinaldi of Portogruaro, Venice, Italy; Dr. Hector S. Astengo of Rosario, Argentina and also of Rosafe Farms, Brant county; Herara Carizosa, Bogata, Columbia; Rolf Meyerheim, Montevideo, Uruguay and Dano F. Meirelles, Sao Paulo, Brazil.

Judge for today's show was J. Derno Innes of Woodstock. Chairman of the show committee was George W. Henry of York county, and the fieldman-secretary was F. Roy Ormiston of Brooklin.

County distribution of competing herds was: Ontario nine; Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham and York eight each; Lennox-Addington five; Prince Edward seven; Hastings three; Victoria four; Simcoe two.

Former Premier

George S. Henry of York county, former Premier of Ontario, and one of the best known Holstein breeders in the province, said the Black and White championships for Central Ontario was an indication, in the number of participating breeders of the sustained interest in the Holstein breed.

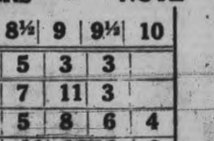
Builder To Say If Time Ripe For Federal Bldg.

City council is asking J. H. Eastwood of Eastwood Construction Company for an opinion as to the advisability of urging the Dominion government to proceed now with the long deferred erection of a postal-customs building here.

Mayor Swanston said the Allied Labor Council "was not too well satisfied with the explanation we gave them on this question. Their attitude is that we should make representations to the government to get things started right away. The other side of the question is that quite a lot of building is going on here, and it would probably be a handicap to present work is there was additional demand for competent builders by the government's beginning the work now."

Mayor Swanston said it was felt in some quarters that the new postal-customs building would be desirable when builders caught up with the work that is now in hand. It would provide employment in the building trades when it might be needed more than at present.



The motion by Ald. Hugh Waddell, seconded by Ald. J. E. Gillespie, is a request to Mr. Eastwood as a responsible contractor actively engaged in construction enterprises for his opinion "as to the advisability or otherwise of the Council taking steps to press on the Dominion government for early construction of the federal building in this city."

Big Telephone Brief

None of the members of the city council showed any eagerness to take home the 120-page book of the Bell Telephone Company setting forth their case for increased rates.

The application is being made to the Dominion Board of Transport. City council has been notified that if it wished to oppose the company's petition it should file objection within twenty days from receipt of the notice. This communication was left on file for the next meeting of the council.

New Power Cut Means Stricter Hydro Rules

TORONTO, Oct. 18 (CP)—Ontario Hydro officials, announcing a cut in power deliveries from Quebec, asked the public again Monday to help avert cut-offs and blackouts this winter.

Effective next Monday, the supply from the MacLaren-Quebec Power Company will be reduced by 3,385,000 kilowatt hours a week—about 560,000 each working day, Monday through Friday.

Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electic Power Commission, said it will be "imperative" for municipalities and individuals to comply strictly with all hydro regulations.

The regulations, announced Sept. 26, are similar to those in effect during last year's power shortage. They went into effect Oct. 1.

The cut announced Monday does not mean cut-offs or blackouts are inevitable. Mr. Saunders said.

"If the public gives us the voluntary savings we request and complies with the regulations affecting consumption, I expect no action of that kind will have to be taken," he said.

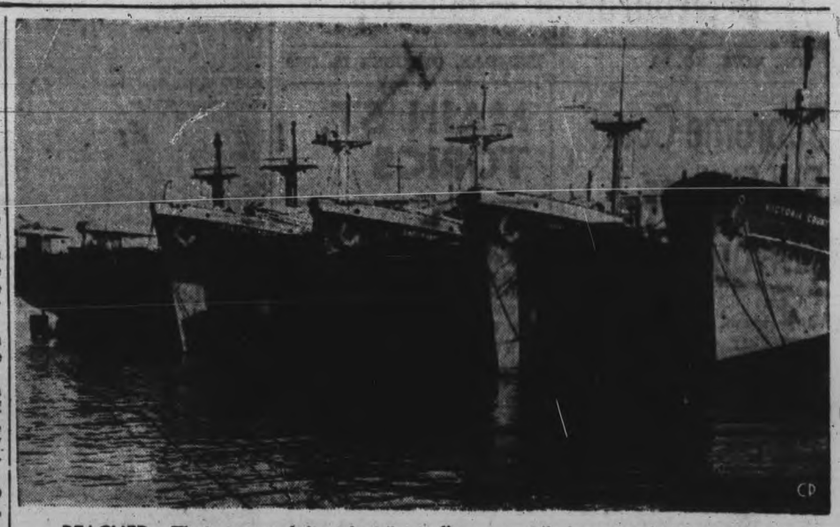
The Quebec company was forced to make the cut because of a deterioration of water storage and run-off conditions, Mr. Saunder said in a statement.

DOUBLE HARVEST—Two golden crops are harvested in the Woodbend oil field near Edmonton. Stocks of grain dotting the valley of the North Saskatchewan River tell of the golden wheat harvest. The oil derrick in the foreground speaks of another harvest—crude oil—below the wheat field. The well is near Canada's biggest producer at Gold Spike, Imperial Oil's Schoepp No. 1.

U.S. Car Industry Near End Of Steel Supply

DETROIT, Oct. 18 (AP)—The United States automobile industry is operating on borrowed time as far as its steel supplies are concerned. Shutdowns of three weeks and more starting early next month are not unlikely.

This was the word today from an authoritative source inside the industry.



The car and truck makers had a four to six week inventory of steel when the steel strike began. But they have been eating deeply into these stocks and replacements have been cut off.

A top industry executive, who asked that he be not identified, said:

"An important thing that seems to be overlooked is that if we keep going and use up all the steel we have on hand it will take three or four weeks to store up enough more to permit resumption of car and truck output.

"Shutdowns of three weeks or more are inevitable for many of the car companies if steel does not start to come through again by next Monday."

No one auto maker wants to admit his steel position is any worse than that of his competitors. But most car and truck companies, especially among the "big three" of General Motors, Chrysler and Ford, have been producing at record levels for many weeks. Most of the G-M and Chrysler division have been working overtime to complete their 1949 model runs.

BEACHED—Their cargo of derricks idle and only a skeleton watch aboard, these are six of a fleet of 12 Canadian ships "on the beach" at Halifax for lack of cargo. These six—all but one flying the Nova Scotian flag—are idle because their operation cost is about 25 per cent higher than those of other countries. Transport Minister Chevrier said the government was given immediate and urgent consideration to the matter.

India Doing Nice Trade Business With Canada

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada has been doing a nice trade with India, one of the most interesting markets in the world, with a huge population seeking to raise its standard of living.

For instance, in the first seven months of the year Canada sold to India goods worth $50,228,000, compared with $14,791,000 in the same period last year.

Unfortunately, in the same time, we cut down on our purchases from India from $23,053,000 to $16,030,000 and that, of course, is a threat to India's ability to buy from us.

However, in the last month reported, July, we both bought and sold more than in July, 1948.

Important items sold to India are wheat, locomotives and parts, automobiles, copper, ingots, bars and billets.

The current number of India Commercial News, issued by the India government trade commissioner in Toronto, carries the following comment from the Reserve Bank of India for the year ended June 30:

Show Stability

"While the progress of recovery in Asia has been exceedingly slow . . . India presents a picture of great internal strength and stability. . . .

"With the reimposition of controls and the adoption of an anti-inflation program, the rise in prices witnessed in the first half of 1948 has not only been halted, but to some extent reversed . . . Nevertheless, prices and costs still are high.

"India needs larger production and larger exports. Production has somewhat improved during the year, but shortages of capital goods and technical personnel are serious handicaps. Imports of machinery have been on a fairly large scale during the last year or two, but they are small in relation to needs.

"India's resources are large, but the immediate problem is the financing of heavy imports of grain for feeding the country. At the same time an effort to increase her exports will have to be continued and even strengthened."

For those interested in showing their goods in the Indian market, or looking at Indian goods they may wish to buy, a manufacturers' industrial exhibition will be held in New Delhi in February.

Break Deadlock

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The Senate and House of Representatives Monday night broke a long-standing deadlock and agreed to provide funds for a 58-group peacetime air force for the United States. The action came shortly after the Senate appropriations committee had approved the full $1,314,010,000 program to help rearm friendly countries. Senate passage is expected. The House already has voted a similar sum.

Injured Farmer Knows Value Of Neighbors

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 18 (CP). — Clarence Hagerman knows what it is like to have good neighbors.

Hagerman, a farmer living on the 4th Concession of Tyendinaga Township, was recently scalded by water. Unable to work, he fretted about his plowing, so one morning his neighbors turned up with 11 tractors and plowed 50 acres. They refused to accept pay for their work, but Mrs. Hagerman "fed the boys" during their stay.

Toronto's waterfront buzzed with excitement as all eyes turned to the men who worked with tripod-mounted instruments. On this June day, engineers began the initial survey for the first official plan of Toronto. The harbor survey line they plotted ran from the Gooderham & Worts Windmill to the Fort Point, and has ever since been known as the "Windmill Line."

These were indeed the challenging times, as the frontier pushed Westward from Upper Canada, and the pulse and power of growing nationhood was felt across the wilderness miles. On coasts and prairies, on mountain foothills and in fertile valleys, soon would grow cities planned under the whiplash drive of far-seeing men with unbounded faith in this new country : : : men inspired by freedom of action guaranteed by the freedom of the secret ballot.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

"Catholics who are against Communism are also against Christ and St. Peter. My play has been hailed by all believing Roman Cth aoisctahlse rSTHMA Roman Catholics as the first true and fair presentation of the church's role in the excommunication of Saint Joan.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Take Last Fling At Settlements

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18—(AP)—Government labor officials decided today on a big, final fling at trying for voluntary settlements in the United States steel and coal strikes.

It was strongly indicated that if Cyrus S. Ching, the federal mediation service chief, fails in the various moves he has planned for this week, he will turn the two big strike problems over to President Truman as hopeless.

Then it will be up to Truman to decide if and when he wants to employ the emergency powers of the Taft-Hartly Labor Law, including strike-stopping court injunctions, or industry seizure under the Selective Service Law.

As one step in his planned all-out drive to get strike settlements without more drastic government intervention, Ching arranged to meet in New York Wednesday with officials of the U.S. Steel Corporation.

Ching said he wants "to get a better idea" from U.S. Steel "of what the position of the company is at this time in regard to the dispute."

Song-Writing Contest

MONTREAL, Oct. 18 (CP) — The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation announced Monday it is launching a song-writing competition, with total prizes of $2,500, "in an attempt to overcome the scarcity of distinctive Canadian songs." The announcement was made by Ira Dilworth, general supervisor of the CBC's international service which is sponsoring the competition, open to composers domiciled in Canada. Prizes will be $250 each for the 10 best songs entered.

Find Missing Hunters

LITTLE CURRENT, Oct. 18 — (CP)—Reached by a searching plane whose pilot dropped gasoline and food, two hunters returned to this Manitoulin Island town Monday night. The two, R. H. (Curly) Cunningham, Little Current garage man and his son, William, 20, were discovered on the shore of a Lake Huron island by Dave Brand, rescue pilot. The men had reached their outboard motor boat after it ran short of fuel Sunday night.

Winning Approval

DETROIT, Oct. 18 (AP)—Membership approval of the new Ford pension plan is running about 8 to 1, the United Auto Workers (CIO) reported Monday. In an official statement, the union leadership said rejection of the contract would mean a strike.

60 YEARS OF ACCOMPLISHMENT

1889 1949

In place of the old wooden tub, wash-board and wringer the modern washing machine and the commercial laundry have come to the assistance of the housewife of today. "Monel," an alloy composed of ⅔ Nickel and ⅓ Copper, is today in general use for washing machine tubs, and for washers and other equipment in modern laundries. Being rust-proof and corrosion resistant, it eliminates trouble from stains and verdigris. Its hard, glass-smooth surface removes all danger of injury even to the most delicate fabrics. Because it is strong and tough as steel, "Monel" equipment is unusually durable.

Canadian Nickel sold Abroad brings in U.S. Dollars

Since more than ninety per cent of the Nickel produced in Canada is sold to the United States and other countries, it brings a constant flow of dollars back to Canada. In fact, Canada's Nickel industry is one of our chief sources of U.S. dollars so essential at the present time to maintain our foreign trade and make available products not produced in this country.

These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees, and help provide the dollars which make it possible to pay millions in freight to Canadian railways, to buy timber, steel, coal, machinery and supplies amounting to many millions each year.

These millions, flowing into all industries through the length and breadth of Canada, help create jobs for Canadians.

DOROTHY DIX

Signing of Legal Document Detailing Marital Duties

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: Would there not be more and happier marriages if the marriage vows were altered in such a way as not to throw all responsibility on the man? What would be an ideal marriage contract which would be equally fair to the husband and the wife and place equal responsibility for the success of their marriage on both parties? Is it legally possible to make marriage contract? A young man and myself are anxiously awaiting your answer. ENGAGED.

ANSWER: You can make a legal marriage contract that will cover the money question, what part each shall contribute to the support of the home, what interest each should have in the other's estate, etc.

But, of courhse, you cannot make a contract that could be enforced that would cover the intangible things that really make a marriage a success. The party of the first part hereinafter to be known as John, and the party of the second part hereinafter to be known as Mary might bind themselves with miles of legal red tape to be tender and affectionate and considerate and never to quarrel or nag or criticize each other's families or to say mean things about the cooking or fishing trips.

Can't Enforce

Still and all, even though a marriage contract could not be enforced, I am sure that it would be a fine thing for every young couple to have lawyers draw them up one in due form so that they could see set forth in black and white just what responsibilities they were undertaking as regards each other, and what each covenanted to do in the marriage relationship. It is one thing for a man to say, for instance, "with all my worldly goods I thee endow," and another for him to agree to give his wife a definite allowance to run the house on and for her own personal use. It is one thing for a woman to promise to love and cherish a man, and another for her to agree to get up and get breakfast every morning for him.

And perhaps it would save many a fight if, instead of arguing a point, the husband and wife could get out their marriage contract and see what they agreed to do and not to do.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a boy 21 years of age. Have been going with a girl for three years and think I am in love with her. My problem is this: If I am away from her for three or four days I am just crazy to see her, but if I am with her for three or four days in succession I tire of her and she bores me. How can I overcome this feeling?

J. J. R.

ANSWER: You can't overcome it and you shouldnt' try to to do so because it is Nature's warning to you that she is not your predestined mate, and that if you marry her you will spend the balance of your life regretting it.

For consider, son, that marriage means spending not two or three days in succession with a woman, but many weeks and months and long, long years that will seem longer if she gets upon your nerves and fails to interest you. The happiness of every marriage depends more upon the congeniality of a husband and wife than upon anything else.

This girl has a physical attraction for you but no mental attraction. The physical attraction draws you back to her and the mental attraction sends you scurrying away to save yourself from being bored to death. Don't try to convince yourself that the physical attraction is the more important, because it isn't. That lasts only a little while, but congeniality endures to the end.

DEAR MISS DIX: What do you think of a husband who prides himself on being an excellent husband, who on the afternoon of their first wedding anniversary calmly goes out to dinner with some men? This when the wife has a special dinner all ready, her hair waved, and her prettiest frock on. Of course, he says he forgot, but if he loved his wife, would he forget? R L.

ANSWER: Being a man he probably would, because anniversaries mean nothing to the average man. I admit that any wife would be sore whose husband treated her as yours did on this great and sentimental occasion, but it is no indication that he does not love you. It is just that he is not romantically minded, and so the wise thing for you to do is to recognize the fact that reminding him that the momentous occasion is about to take place or else just forget it yourself. After all, if a man is good and kind to you 364 days of a year, it does not matter whether he sends you roses on the 365th or not.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You receive a telephoned invitation that includes both you and your husband and you do not know whether or not he has plans for that evening.

WRONG WAY: Accept the invitation, figuring that you can call back later and say you can't make it if your husband has other plans.

RIGHT WAY: Ask the person inviting you if you can check with your husband to see if he is free and call her back.

One Hot Dish For Lunch

By MARY MOORE

My family loves soup for lunch and I work it for all it is worth.

But I know from you people who are so kind as to write to me, that soup just does not go down very well in many households. —you must provide solid food. I think too, that there are folks who are too impatient to take time to eat soup.

A new way to serve cheese and a new way to make a sandwich are combined in this recipe for

BAKED CHEESE SANDWICH

Make white or Graham bread sandwiches putting a generous slice of cheddar or processed cheese between 2 slices of trimmed bread. Cut in halves diagonally. Place in a single layer close together in a baking pan. Beat 2 or 4 egg until foamy and add 2 cup whole milk and 1 tablespoon melted butter, ¼ teaspoon prepared mustard and ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce Mix well and pour over the sandwiches. Liquid should cover tops. Let stand 1 hour. Stand in pan of hot water and then bake at 350 deg Fahr. until quite firm. This takes about ¾ to 1 hour Cut between the sandwiches for the portions. This is good—with tomato or mushroom sauce or with apple butter,— or with unsweetened applesauce.

VARIATIONS: I may have mentioned to you that I had a very elegant lunch at a large department store in Oregon. This version of a cheese sandwich reminds me a little of the French Toast turkey sandwich I was served that day. I tried the Baked Cheese sandwich idea using leftover sliced ham, and put some grated cheese in the custard that was poured over. It was good too. Hot cheese dishes are almost universally popular.

(I learned to love this dish years ago when I was convalescing from a digestive ailment; it was the one food I could comfortably digest. Of recent year I have served it as a luncheon dish with an interesting green salad for lunch and have earned many a friend for it.)

To serve a generous amount to six people for lunch or supper combine 2 cups raw rice which has been washed. with 4 cups boiling water, 2½ teaspoons salt, 6 tablespoons butter and cover tightly. Cook over very low heat for 30 minutes without uncovering. Water will be completely absorbed. When ready to serve add ½ cup finely chopped parsley and ½ to ¾ cup shredded blanched almonds.

Rice with almonds is delicious served as a vegetable for dinner with veal or chicken dishes.

ITALIAN STYLE EGGS

Mix together in saucepan or iron frying pan 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon or less prepared mustard, 3 tablespoons catsup, 1 teaspoon each salt and paprika; when bubbling drop in 6 eggs without breaking yolks Cover, reduce heat as low as possible and cook until set. Serve on buttered toast, pouring sauce over eggs.

TONY'S CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP

(Serve this with toasted cheese sandwiches—the combination is very satisfying.)

To 1 No, 2½ can tomatoes add ¼ cup chopped parsley, 1 small bay leaf, ½ small onion stuck with 3 cloves. Simmer 10 minutes covered. Force through strainer Add ¼ teaspoon baking soda and 1, 4 or 6-oz. can Italian tomato paste. Mix well. In a saucepan melt ¼ cup butter or margarine and stir in ¼ cup flour, then stir in 2 cups hot whole milk (or milk and cream) until thick. Add 1½ teaspoons salt. Add tomato to mixture, very slowly, stirring constantly. Add 1 tablespoon sugar; heat to simmering point and serve at once.

BARRICK—In loving memory of a dear Father and Grandfather, who passed away one year ago, October 18, 1948.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
but never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind—
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by son William, daughter-in-law Elizabeth, and grandson Don.

BARRICK—In loving memory of a dear husband, William Barrick, who passed away October 18, 1948.
I seem to see in the soft, dim light
A face I loved the best,
And think of him when the sun's last ray
Goes down in the far-off west.
I miss you no less as the time passes on
Than I did on the day of your going.
—Lovingly remembered by his Wife Annie.

FOSTER—In loving memory of Raymond Foster who passed away on October 18th, 1944.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day.

Fired Shotgun Sunday

An Ajax, Ontario, man, Fred E. Tanner, was fined $10 and costs, by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in Police Court Tuesday on a written plea of guilty to a charge of firing a shotgun on Sunday where game is usually found. Conservation Officer C. Stanley Windsor said Tanner had been shooting October 2 between Little and Big Cedar Lake in Burleigh Township.

Lakefield Man Gets 2 Months

A two months jail sentence was given to Chester Windsor, Lakefield, who pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entry and theft in police court Tuesday morning before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

Garnet F. Samis, Lakefield Chief of Police, testified the apartment of Charles Birch in Lakefield had been broken into Sept. 3 through a rear window and a Belgian automatic pistol stolen.

The gun was traced to Young's Point where it had been sold for $15. The following Tuesday, the gun turned up in the cellar way of the house, where Birch has his apartment.

Windsor also lives in a room in the house which is owned by his father. He admitted having taken the gun, sold it and later returned it where it was found.

10 Counties

"This is a much bigger show than last year," Mr. Henry said. "Its importance is reflected in both the number and quality of animals from so many fine herds. The individual breeder recognizes his county and regional shows as an opportunity of finding out where his own animals stand in such strong company. It is an education to him in the quality and value of his own stock."

Mr. Henry recalled the first county Black and White Day at Port Perry back in 1937. It was inspired and organized by the late Robert Holtby.

"I was there that day with George Clemens," Mr. Henry said. "I think we had about 60 head at the show. That was the seed of these championships, and it would be difficult to estimate their value to our breeders."

"There must have been more than 30 county Black and White Days this fall, and we have four regional shows, of which the Central Ontario at Peterborough is one. Any breeder can come here, but in almost every case the competing animals were winners at their county shows. The interesting fact to the breeder is that this kind of show is a real test of his Holsteins. He finds out where they stand."

More Holsteins Registered

Mr. Henry said: "We are registering more Holsteins every year than all the otther dairy and beef breeds combined."

Dr. Rinaldi of Italy was here in the interests of Count Morzotto, textile manufacturer, with a farm of 4,000 acres about 50 miles from the city of Venice. He established a Holstein herd about 15 years ago on the basis of cattle bought in Holland, but has in the last few years been switching to Ontario Black and Whites.

Dr. Rinaldi recalled to the Examiner that a year ago he bought five Ontario bulls including two sons of Marksman, and 234 females. On this trip to Canada he is again interested in Holsteins.

Albert Stagg of Oakville, head of International Exporters, said the four visitors from South American countries were further evidence of the rating Ontario Holstseins have gained among their breeders.

The male classes were largely filled in the junior brackets. Fifteen senior bull calves was the largest group paraded before Mr. Innes this morning. In the female classes on the afternoon program some of them brought out 24 and 23 entries.

conference that Mr. Fairweather belittles the potentialities of Central Ontario and regardless of our long conversation with him feel that he is not accurately informed regarding Central Ontario and its possibilities. We shall continue our efforts to block the stopping of this service based on our faith in Central Ontario and the fact that Cobourg is a year round port."

The mayor concluded his statement to the council by saying: "I cannot too strongly emphasize my appreciation to Dr. Fred G. Robertson and Mr. John James, Mr. Followell, the Rochester Chamber of Commerce and the Rochester civic officials who have all shown an understanding of our Central Ontario problems which is very gratifying. My only regret is that our own national railroad do not see eye to eye with us. May I also say to council that Peterborough, Lindsay, Oshawa, Port Hope, Belleville Chamber of Commerce and officials have all helped and I am certain that you will agree with me we should express to them our appreciation. We are by no means finished despite Mr. Vaughan's decision, said Mayor Smith.

16 Ford Locals Okay Contract

DETROIT, Oct. 18 — (AP) — The United Automobile Workers (CIO) reported today that 16 out of 17 Ford locals have approved the new Ford pension contract.

The single rejection came from Ford's Mayhood, Calif., plant, a small unit with 600 employees.

The vote, so far, the union said, is running about eight to one in favor of the contract. Chief issue in the membership referendum is the pension plan negotiated with Ford. It would allow workers to retire on $100 a month.

The 17 plants from which returns have been announced employ more than 15,000 workers. The vote still hinges, however, on Local 600 at the Reacdon Rouge plant, where more than half of Ford's 115,000-man production force is employed. Balloting is expected to be held there within the next week.

Mayors Discuss Telephone Rates

MONTREAL, Oct. 18—(CP)—The Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities is urging the Transport Board "carefully examine" the application of the Bell Telephone Company of Canada for increased rates.

The Federation's executive, in a statement Monday, said it was unable to express itself either way on the company's recently-announced proposal. But it urged careful examination by the Transport Board "particularly with respect to the causes which have led the company to make an application for increased tariffs at this time."

"And, moreover," the statement said, "it (the Federation) urges that the hearings before the Board of Transport Commissioners be made public and that the press of Canada be asked to fully report the matter so that the public may be adequately informed with respect to it."

The company announced Oct. 14 that it was seeking an overall increase of 20.6 per cent for services in Ontario and Quebec.

Prices Move Narrowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Oct. 18 (CP) — Prices moved narrowly, tending to steady from yesterday's declines, in the forenoon on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Several key industrials cntinued slipping into fractionally lower ground but scattered moderate gains balanced the losses.

Base meals were in a quieter downward movement and golds were practically at a standstill. Western oils tended lower.

Volume for the first hour was 215,000 shares, about 103,000 shares more than yesterday's first hour.

The brisker activity was spread over a wide list of industrial stocks. Winnipeg Electric was a standout, gaining a full point at 34¾. Algoma Steel slipped ⅞ at 51⅛ following approval of a four-for-one stock split by shareholders.

Lake Shore was ahead a fraction in senior golds and losses ranged up to 20 cents in a few base metals.

Business As Usual In Chinese Red Areas

VANCOUVER, Oct. 18 (CP)—It's "business as usual" in Communist-occupied areas of the Far East, T. C. Davis, Canadian ambassador to China, said on his arrival here Sunday night.

The former Prince Albert, Sask., resident said in an interview that the Communist advance through China is almost entirely without incident and business areas, residential sections and industrial installations are left strictly alone by the well-disciplined, Red troops.

On his way to Ottawa for consultation with External Affairs Minister Pearson, Davis was tight-lipped about the possibilities of Canadian recognition of the Communist government.

"What I have to say on that I must report to the government," he said.

Juvenile Delinquency Parents' Fault—Canon

ROSENEATH, Oct. 18 (ENS)—Parents are directly responsible for 99 out of every 100 cases of juvenile delinquency", was the statement made by Canon C. R. Spencer, rector of St. James' Anglican Church at a special Children's Day Service Sunday.

"Who are the culprits" was the subject chosen by Canon Spencer at this special service, stressing the necessity of parents duties and responsibilities to their children in building their characters, flaying the cheap books read in some homes, as a poor substitute to the Holy Bible and moral laws. He also said overpampering was as harmful to a child's character as lack of attention. In conclusion he challenged the parents "to provoke not your children to wrath."

Britain Charges Russians Bringing Pressure On U.N. Against Yugoslavia

Soviet Threatens Consequences if Members Elect Tito To Security Council, U.K. Prepared To Vote For Czechoslovakia

LONDON, Oct. 19—(AP)—Britain today rapped a Russian claim that election of Yugoslavia to the United Nations Security Council would be unlawful and unjust. A Foreign Office spokesman, commenting on a statement made by Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky of Russia at Lake Success Tuesday, charged Vishinsky with trying "to bring pressure" on United Nations members to vote against Yugoslavia. Russia is backing the candidacy of Czechoslovakia for the seat on the Security Council being vacated by the Ukraine.

The spokesman told a press conference Britain still intended to vote for Czechoslovakia, but added:

"It is the view of His Majesty's Government that the Soviet attempt to bring pressure for the election of Czechoslovakia is to be deprecated and is likely to produce most unfavorable effects."

He would not elaborate.

The foreign office spokesman said Britain's decision to support Czechoslovakia "was the result of a practice of long standing, and which is related to article 23 of the United Nations charter."

This article says the non-permanent seats on the council should be at the disposal of clearly-defined geographical regions.

Makes Threats

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 19 (CP)—Russia has threatened "painful consequences" for the United Nations if Yugoslavia is elected to the Security Council over Soviet-backed Czechoslovakia.

And Soviet sources said today that Russia is lining up new strategy in her last-ditch battle to prevent a Yugoslav election.

After Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky's angry blast at the Yugoslavs and their American supporters Tuesday, Soviet sources said Vishinsky might try to carry the battle to the floor of the 59-member General Assembly

Woman Denies Noronic Captain Drunk

TORONTO, Oct. 19 (CP) — A woman survivor told the Noronic disaster inquiry today she noticed nothing unusual in the behavior of the ship's master, Capt. William Taylor, with whom she had spent the evening ashore on the night of the fire.

Miss Josephine Kerr, a school teacher from Onstead, Mich., said she and Capt. Taylor returned to the Noronic "quite late" after spending the evening ashore with friends.

Miss Kerr was a member of a party of six which included her brother, his wife and their three children, two girls and a boy. Kerr, his wife and the son died in the fire.

The witness said she and the captain returned to the ship by taxi about 1 a.m., EST.

"Was there anything about his (the captain's) actions, or speech that would indicate anything out of the ordinary?" asked commission counsel J. W. Pickup.

"No, sir," said Miss Kerr.

"I have in mind a rumor that he was under the influence of liquor . . . and you might be able to tell us something of his actions. . ."

Noticed Nothing

"I noticed nothing whatever," replied Miss Kerr.

Capt. Taylor testified two weeks ago that he had had but one small drink on the night of the fire. He denied the report he was under the influence of liquor.

Miss Kerr said her nieces Kathleen Kerr, 11, and Barbara, six, occupied her stateroom. She had

Sign Harris For Senators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP)—President Clark Griffith announced today Bucky Harris has been signed to manage the Washington Senators baseball team for the next three years.

Harris will succeed Joe Kuhel who was fired on Oct. 3. Under Kuhel the Senators finished last in the American League.

Terms of the contract were not announced. However, there were reports that Harris will receive about $25,000 a year.

This is the third time that Harris has served as pilot of the Senators. He led them to pennants in 1924 and 1925 and returned as manager from 1935 to 1942.

Nobody Quite Knows Who's Related To Who

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa., Oct. 19 (AP)—The character in the song "I'm My Own Grandpa" has nothing on Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Gardocki.

The bride married her sister's stepson and here's what happened:

The bride's sister became her stepmother-in-law. The bride's brother-in-law, who is the bridegroom's father, became her father-inlaw. Her sister's two children, the bride's nephews, became her brothers-in-law.

As for the bridegroom, his stepmother also now is his sister-in-law, his father is his brother-in-law and his two half-brothers are also nephews.

Mrs. Poctor and two other children, Wilma, 12, and Eugene, 13, survived although all three suffered burns and shock. Mr. Proctor was not home when the fire broke out shortly after 3 a.m.

Union, Company Deadlock Still Remains

By DAVE WHITE

The controversial Arbitration Award on piece-work rates affecting girls in the CGE Induction Motor Winding Dept. has still not been accepted by the company. A meeting Tuesday afternoon between the Union and the company ended in deadlock.

An emergency meeting of the union executive was held at 11 a.m. today to plot the next course of union action. No anouncement on decision reached there has yet been made.

A strike vote was taken at noon today at the Davenport Works of CGE where 1,700 persons are employed. The recommendation of the UE-GE Joint Conference Board which met in Peterborough Monday was that all CGE locals take a strike vote. The Peterborough works took their vote that same day before deciding to return to work Tuesday. Union officials said voting in the six plants at Toronto, Cobourg, and Peterborough would be completed by Thursday.

During the mass membership meeting Monday afternoon following the work stoppage, a clarification of the award was telegraphed by the chairman of the Arbitration Board, Judge A. Cochrane of Brampton, and the union nominee, Drummond Wren of Toronto.

It confirmed the board's original findings, ruling that piecework rates paid to the girls engaged on an induction motor winding job were "standard" and not "estimated" as alleged by the company.

Since then the company has filed a grievance against the work stoppages on Friday and Monday which took place in violation of the agreement.

Another grievance has been filed with the union over the interpretation of the arbitration award issue.

Award Said Inconsistent

The company is refusing to recognize the award on the grounds it is inconsistent with the terms of the present contract between the two parties.

Ian F. McRae, works manager of the Peterborough plant, commented as follows: "At a meeting with the Union on Tuesday, the company re-affirmed its position that it is not prepared to apply an Arbitration Board award when it is inconsistent with the terms of the present agreement between the company and the union.

"In the opinion of the company the interpretation which the chairman and union members of

Beverage Room Curfew Denied

TORONTO, Oct. 19—(CP) — Rumors that a 10 p.m. curfew might be placed on Ontario bars and beverage rooms received scant support Tuesday night from the men who set the province's drinking rules.

Provincial Secretary Welsh told reporters:

"We're always discussing these things. Nothing new is planned for the present."

Judge W. T. Robb, of Orangeville, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Licence Board, said changes in closing hours are being considered, but he added:

"We have decided nothing on this situation yet."

Cocktail lounges and beverage rooms now close at midnight and dining lounges at 2 a.m.

Attlee Faces Demand To Cut Arms

Report Ministers Consider Slashing Their Own Salaries

LONDON, Oct. 19 — (CP). — Prime Minister Attlee was under heavy pressure today to reduce defence costs of Britain.

Attlee and his Cabinet are trying to shape a new economy program to cut Britain's costs and save dollars.

The Liberal London Evening Star hinted that Attlee's hunt for ways to save money might bring about a Cabinet crisis The newspaper said: "There were rumors in Whitehall today of some disagreement inside the Cabinet over the new economies to be announced by Attlee on Monday."

"If agreement cannot be reached inside the Cabinet there might be government changes," the Star added.

Demands for paring Army, Navy, and Air Force spending are coming from some sections of the 8,000,000-member Trades Union Congress and Left-Wingers inside the Labor Party.

Defence costs this year are about £760,000,000 ($2,356,000,000) almost a quarter of the government's annual budget. The defence costs are about £67,000,000 more than the previous year.

Cut Own Salaries

The top ministers in the Cabinet held a late meeting Tuesday night at which, it is believed, various new proposals to expand the scope of the emergency economic program were put forward. Defence Minister A. V. Alexander was called to the meeting.

One idea said to have been considered is that ministers should give a lead to governmental retrenchment by accepting a cut in their own salaries.

Prime Minister Attlee receives £10,000 ($31,500) a year. Most of the other cabinet ministers are paid £5,000.

It was reported that Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, believes the program of cuts still is not large enough to meet the dollar crisis.

The biggest figure of total saving mentioned in speculation is £400,000,000 ($1,260,000,000) which includes the £100,000,000 import cuts agreed at the recent Washington financial talks. Included in this figure also are proposed cuts in capital investments

One of Britain's biggest problems is the heavy cost of defence, due partly to her commitments under the North Atlantic Pact and western union.

Alexander To Resist

In the present state of international tension, Alexander is expected to resist any sectional pressure for cuts in this department which would weaken Britain's ability to fulfil her international obligations.

Within the last few weeks there have been growing pressure from newspapers of different political opinion to end Britain's policy of military conscription.

Though these have had no support from official labor, certain left-wing elements in the party

Duplessis Vows To Defend Constitution

QUEBEC, Oct 19 — (CP). — Premier Maurice Duplessis has vowed to defend his stand on the Canadian constitution "as long as I breathe."

"It is a matter of life and death," he said of the current constitution dispute between the Federal and Quebec Governments.

In an address Tuesday to a County Council convention, he described his government's position regarding Federal legislation which would enable Parliament to amend the constitution so far as Federal matters are concerned without recourse to the Privy Council.

The dispute over the nature of the British North America Act had previously been limited to exchange of letters between Prime Minister St Laurent and Premier Duplessis.

The Federal Government holds that the BNA Act is a law which can be amended in Federal matters by the Federal Parliament. The Quebec Leader maintains it is a contract between the provinces and cannot be modified in any way without the consent of the provinces.

Vital To Existence

Mr. Duplessis told convention delegates the amendment question is "vital to the existence of municipalities, the Province of Quebec, all the provinces, and the people of Quebec."

"It is my duty to sound the clarion in the face of the assault of centralizers and I will continue to do that as long as I breathe," he said.

Confederation was the result of studies by statesmen of different races, parties and religions, over a period of years.

If they had known the constitution was not a pact, he said, they would never have left "their language and religious rights to the whims of a law which can be changed by any Parliament"

Wintry Blasts Strike West Ontario Likely To Escape

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—(CP)—Warm air moving from the Gulf of Mexico may shield Manitoba from the icy threat poised on the province's western doorstep. Expecting the worst after sudden wintry blasts at Edmonton and Calgary, Winnipeg Tuesday night expected snow on the heels of a howling wind and rainstorm. But it didn't snow.

The weather bureau said the cold mass of air is holding firm at Neepawa, Man., to the west. The warm wave now is on a line extending from Fort William to Grand Forks, N.D.

It is still cold at Edmonton, where the temperature Tuesday fell to five above zero. Calgary, at 10 above, had two inches of snow; Medicine Hat three inches.

Hardest hit was the southern Alberta centre of Lethbridge. Snow began falling at noon Monday, and piled up to 20 inches Tuesday night.

The temperature at Calgary was expected to drop to zero, but wind whipped snow into four-foot drifts in other parts of southern Alberta centres had dropped.

Storms Lessen

Storms in vast areas of the North Atlantic lessened slightly today after pounding shipping from the British Isles to the northeast coast of the United States for two days.

The U.S. weather bureau predicted at least two more stormy days.

Two tiny tugs won their battle against a North Sea gale and pulled the damaged British aircraft carrier Albion into the protected Firth of Forth.

The newly-built carrier was holed on the aft portside Tuesday in a collision with the 2,025-ton British collier Maystone. The Maystone sank quickly with loss of 20 of her crew of 24.

For a time the gale edged the 18,300-ton Albion out of sea despite the straining of the tugs, which had been towing her when the collision occurred.

Rain fell steadily over most of Britain during the night and this morning some roads around London were 18 inches deep in water.

Toronto Defence Plan Drafted

TORONTO, Oct. 19 (CP)—An extensive report on civilian defence of Toronto, in the event of attack on Canada by any foreign power, will be presented to Toronto's Civil Defence Committee Thursday, it was announced today.

The report, prepared by Maj-Gen. Churchill Mann, deals with 21 phases of civilian defence.

It is intended to keep the city functioning as normally as possible in the event of air raids or artillery bombardment.

The report was prepared at the request of the city's defence committee, set up Oct. 14, 1948, by Defence Minister Claxton and representative labor, service clubs, church groups, the board of trade and industry.

Crown Seizes Jewels Purchased By Guay

QUEBEC, Oct. 19 (CP)—A high police source said Tuesday that the Crown has seized jewels valued at $1,500 which were bought by Albert Guay, Quebec jeweler charged with the murder of his wife in the crash of an airliner Sept. 9 at Sault au Cochon, Que.

The jewels, contained in two boxes at Baie Comeau, Que., ultimate destination of the Canadian Pacific Airlines plane when it crashed killing 23 persons, were seized by the company which sold them to Guay. They had not been paid for.

The two boxes, containing watches, diamond rings, and other jewelry were part of Guay's Sept Iles, Que., jewelry shop which he operated until shortly before the crash.

Need Community Planning—Winters

House Building Plan Not Enough—Should Fit Into Municipality

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 (CP). — Reconstruction Minister Winters today termed sound community planning one of the most urgent requirements of Canada's large-scale housing program.

"A large house building program by itself is not enough," Mr. Winters said. "Houses should be built on adequately sized lots, in well-planned subdivisions, and provided with all facilities. The housing program must be integrated into and form part of a conceived plan for the development and improvement of the community itself."

Canada's past record of planning and development "is not as good as many of us would like to see it," said the Minister in an address prepared for delivery before the City Improvement League in Montreal.

Many urban centres across Canada furnish examples of "haphazard and unsatisfactory" development due to lack of planning, said Mr. Winters He blamed lack of interest on the part of citizens in such areas as the cause.

Need Encouragement

"Unless more encouragement is given to those who are attempting to develop and implement community plans, the large scale housing program and the rapid growth that will take place in the years immediately ahead will only serve to aggravate the unsatisfactory conditions that exist today and greatly increase the cost of correcting them at some future date."

Adequate community planning, said Mr. Winters, is primarily a provincial and local responsibility. The Federal Government, however, was interested and willing to co-operate within limitations imposed by the constitution.

He said the government, under provisions of the National Housing Act, already had set standards for house building and lot size to "prevent shoddy construction and avoid unsatisfactory land use." It also endeavored to induce private builders and developers of large housing projects to adopt and apply modern community planning principles.

The Minister outlined Federal legislative proposals designed to provide a basis for Dominion-Provincial co-operation in the housing field

Broadly speaking, he said, the proposed Dominion - Provincial proposals call for the provinces to assume responsibility for the acquisition of land and arrangements of services. The Dominion would be responsible for the planning, design and construction of projects. Where desirable, joint management of development of projects would be possible.

4 Large Drug Caches Figuring In Trial

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP)—Four large drug caches, hidden by an alleged Dominion-wide narcotics ring and uncovered by the R.C.M.P. here, figured Tuesday in the trial of 10 men on charges of conspiring to distribute narcotics.

A photograph of Nick Agostino, one of the accused, was introduced as evidence by members of the R.C.M.P. narcotics squad, who allege it was taken as he picked up one drug cache from the base of a telephone pole.

Police officials testified they made a recording of a conversation of some of the accused as they hid next door to them in a Vancouver hotel.

They said at one point they jiggled a light cord, causing static on the radio next door, to force the suspected "peddlers" to tune it down so conversation could be more easily heard.

Dogs Sport Radio Receiver Under Skins, Aid Science

CHICAGO, Oct. 19 (AP)—Dogs sporting built-in radio receivers beneath their skin are working for science.

And they're doing a good job—although they got off to a bad start by helping interfere with radio reception in Albany, N.Y.

The American College of Surgeons was told today by an Albany doctor that tiny radio receivers are buried beneath the dogs skin between the shoulder blades.

These sets are located beneath the approximate area where a St. Bernard carries the jug that consoles snowbound explorers.

The general idea of the set-up is this:

The radio receivers are tuned to a particular frequency, enabling scientists to stimulate the dogs' nerves by remote control.

When the radio signal is received, it is converted to electrical energy which is then transmitted over a wire in the dog's body to any nerve the scientist wants to study.

The researchers are using the method to try to match the electrical stimulation of nerves that goes on under both normal and abnormal physiological conditions in the body.

The actual radio receiver is only one-quarter of an inch in diameter.

When the dogs were all set, the scientists started broadcasting to them on a frequency of 1,000 kilocycles — a frequency which happens to be right smack in the middle of the commercial broadcast band.

"We found," reported Dr. John J. Farrell of Albany Medical College, "that we were interfering with the reception of one of the local radio stations."

U.S. Speeding A-Bomb Production

Cost 300 Million At Two Plants, Senate Eases Curbs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP) —The United States is going to speed up its atomic bomb program.

An accelerated expansion of facilities and operations at two key plants, Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Hanford, Wash., will cost in excess of $300,000,000, it has been learned from authoritative sources.

Two moves in the Senate late Tuesday paved the way for the program.

One was the disclosure by chairman Brien McMahon (Dem.-Conn.) of the Senate-House of Representatives atomic committee that President Truman had authorized the atomic energy commission to use some of its budgetary reserves "to get started on this proposition." The reserves to be used amount to approximately $30,000,000.

Lift Spending Curbs

The second move was Senate approval of a measure by Senator McMahon to lift some of the spending curbs imposed on the AEC earlier in the session. This still is subject to house approval.

McMahon refused to answer when asked by reporters whether the speed-up action is the result of recent disclosures that Russia has had an atomic explosion.

McMahon while saying that a "major expansion effort" is being undertaken, emphasized that it is "an acceleration of planned production that has been in the planning stage since last spring."

He would not disclose any details of the program, or say what facilities and operations are to be accelerated.

Hanford is the centre of the plutonium operations, while Oak Ridge turns out uranium—both key materials for atomic bombs.

Spy Network Watching Czechs

PRAGUE, Oct. 19 (Reuters) — Confirmation that Czechoslovakia is abolishing its middle class and establishing a Socialist society came Tuesday in the disclosure that networks of "confidants" are being organized in Prague to report on their neighbors.

The announcement, in the national trades union newspaper Prace, said that intention of these groups, organized by local union committees, is to transform Prague into a Socialist town of working people

The new organization, paralleled by the Communist Party's own system to check reliability, will inform about people with too large houses or apartments or who seem hostile to the regime. The announcement was taken partly to explain the large number of arrests, mainly among property owning and capitalist classes in the country, since early September.

A purge of the famous national physical culture organization, Sokol, also was foreshadowed. A meeting of Sokol officials said it was necessary to remove inefficient and reactionary officers, to devote all activity to the masses and to be sure not to spoil prominent individuals who failed to understand the times.

2 Belgian Officers On Canadian Tour

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP)—Two top Belgian military officials took off today on a tour of Canadian training camps.

Lt. Gen. Etienne Baele, Belgian chief of general staff, flew to Camp Borden, Ont., for an inspection of the big army-training centre and Maj.-Gen. Lucienne Leboutte, chief of Belgian air staff, will inspect the RCAF station at Trenton, Ont.

The two officers, who arrived here Monday, will return to Ottawa tonight and leave for New York tomorrow.

Canadian Trade Specialists On New Board To Assist U.K. Exporters

13 Industrialists Volunteer Services To Seek New Markets For Britain, Have Approval, Support of Government

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—Top Canadian trade specialists, drawn from various spheres of industry, are embarking on a journey which may see a greater flow of United Kingdom goods into Canada. Volunteering for the role, 13 industrialists —including one woman—will sweep the Canadian horizon, seeking new markets for United Kingdom exporters. They are banded together under the non-government dollar-stering trade board, looking after Canada's welfare.

Foremost is the thought that unless Canada buys more from the U.K. that country will be unable to earn the dollars with which to buy Canadian goods.

James S. Duncan, 56-year-old president of the Massey-Harris Company, Toronto, heads the Canadian Board, formed with the approval and support of the government.

Others on Board

With Mr. Duncan it is composed of John David Eaton, president of the T. Eaton Co.; H. R. MacMillan, president H. R. MacMillan Export Co., Vancouver; Wilfrid Gagnon, president Aird & Son, Montreal; J. B. Ward representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; H. H. Hannam, president Canadian Federation of Agriculture; W. A. Mackintosh, vice-principal and Dean of the Faculty of Arts, Queen's University, and at one time Acting Deputy Minister of Finance; N. R. Crump, vice-president CPR; A. T. O'Leary, president A. T. O'Leary & Co., Halifax; Walter Gordon of Clarkson, Gordon & Co., Toronto; C. A. Massey, president Lever Brothers Ltd., Toronto; Miss Byrne Hope Sanders, editor of Chatelaine; Raymond Dupuis, president Dupuis Freres Ltd., Montreal.

Additional names will be added to the board later, one of them probably representing Canada's heavy industries. There may also be a representative of the grain trade.

Mainly, the Board's task will be to advise its British counterpart, Sir Graham Cunningham's Dollar Exports Board, on how to make greater sales in Canada

But, as Mr. Duncan said Tuesday in a joint statement with Trade Minister Howe, the Board did not "intend to be consultants only."

Active Ideas

"Our intention is to pursue actively every avenue of mutual trade which will place dollars in the hands of the sterling-area countries," said Mr. Duncan. Thus these countries will be able to "buy the products of our farms, our mines, our timber limits and our manufacturers."

He said he had "grave fears" for the economic future of Canada if dollars were not made available to Canada's customers. And when it came to buying food Britain was one of the best.

Mr. Duncan explained at a press conference that the aim of the Board was not to encourage undercutting of Canadian prices by Britain; nor was it to encourage any grabbing of Canadian markets, which Canadian producers were trying to develop.

However, since Canada banned some United States goods as a measure to protect dollar and gold reserves, there was a market available to Britain to fill those markets normally available to the US.

But War Minister Shinwell frequently has emphasized the importance of conscription. It is likely that he echoes cabinet feeling. The opposition also backs the conscription policy.

Britain's social services are expected to be affected by the cuts, though possibly only on the administrational side.

There would be fierce opposition from Health Minister Aneurin Bevan and sections of the Labor party if there were any curtailment of the £260,000,0000 a health or other social service benefits.

the board have given to their award makes it inconsistent with the agreement. We cannot see our way clear, therefore, to implement the decision."

(According to Article 18 Section 5 of the CGE-UE contract signed June 30, 1938, the Arbitration Board cannot make any decision inconsistent with the provisions of the agreement "nor . . . alter, modify, add to or amend any part of this agreement except as provided and/or its memorandum.")

Here is the how Mr. McRae summed up the company's view of the award in a letter sent to the employees today:

"The Arbitration Board made a ruling which the company believed was contradictory. It stated that the piece-work prices in question were standard, that there were changes of method on the jobs, and that when method-changes are made the company may change a standard price."

Union officials talking to the Examiner today scoffed at this interpretation. And they accused the company of continually shifting its ground.

John G. Morton, president of Local 524 (UE-CIO) stated that the Company when it first appeared before the Board argued on the basis that prices were "estimated" not "standard". And he quoted the findings of the Board which posed this question as the "main consideration".

Board Statement

In rendering his decision Judge Cochrane said:

"If the prices or rates were 'standard' as alleged by the Union, then the Company could, . . . have changed them if there had been 'a change in the method of manufacture'; but while the Company in its brief calls attention to the fact there have been a number of general changes, the Company nevertheless takes the position that the prices were in fact 'estimated' prices; and in my opinion therefore it is not necessary that we should consider at length the question as to whether there had in fact been 'a change in the method of manufacture'."

As a result of both parties agreeing to ask for clarification, Judge Cochrane and Drummond Wren made this reply after considering their majority report: "We must find in favor of the Union and direct that all work done since the change of rates out of which this grievance originated shall be paid at the former rates. This means that the standard rates previously in effect shall be re-established as of Nov. 1947 and paid for on that basis."

Union Contests Claim

Mr. Morton ridiculed this claim of the Company, saying previously it had failed to implement the Award on the plea that clarification was needed.

"The Union believes the true position was shown by the Company officials when they said that they could not live with a situation where a group of girls were making $3.00 an hour, or from twice to two-and-a-half times as much as the highly skilled toolmakers."

President Morton continued: "This statement was made in face of the Company's continued insistence that each new contract have inserted the words 'As in the past the Company expects each employee to take full advantage of the piece-work system and to earn and turn in all he can'."

"What the Company really sought from the Board," declared Morton, "was a reconvening of that Board in the hope of a new decision. They had consistently denied this but were forced to admit it at the Tuesday meeting."

before the Security Council blaloting tomorrow.

A hectic assembly session tomorrow was promised if Vishinsky carries his anti-Yugolav fights to the floor during the election to fill 11-member security-council vacancies.

In the security council Tuesday Russia cast its 40th and 41st vetoes to kill French proposals for an approach to worldwide arms reduction.

Bitter Over U. S. Support

He was particularly bitter over United States support of the Yugoslavs, saying it showed "the intention of moving further along the path of deepening the split and reducing even the minimum degree of agreement in the work of the United Nations."

He said this was a challenge to the Communist countries and it "cannot fail to lead to complications inside the United Nations organization and to have painful consequences on the state of affairs in the organization."

Vishinsky contended there is a "gentlemen's agreement" that each of six geographical regions in the world decide which countries fill the six non-permanent seat on the security council. Britain, United States, Russia, France and China hold permanent seats.

Find Pious Man, 80 Dead In Synagogue

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—(AP)—A pious 80-year-old man was found dead in a pool of blood Tuesday in a synagogue where he had gone to pray before sunrise.

Homicide squad detectives investigated the possibility that the old man, Isidore Einhorn, a retired real estate dealer, had been murdered.

Rabbi Simon Blumenthal, of the Ohel Jacob Congregation reported finding the body at 6.30 a.m. He said Einhorn customarily went to the second-floor house of worship to read the Talmud before the sunrise service.

The body, with heavy bruises on the face and a laceration on the back of the head, was found near the rear of the auditorium. The black skull-cap which Einhorn always wore in the synagogue lay nearby.

Ontario County Breeders Show Best Composite Herd

Holstein breeders of Ontario county showed the best composite herd at the Central Ontario regional Black and White Day finals here Tuesday, winning for the fourth year in succession the banner of the Canadian Holstein Breeders' Association. The banner was presented to Lynn Fair, agricultural representative in the county, by Mr. M. C. MacPhail, pincipal of Kemptville Agicultural School.

The Ontario county herd was selected from the entries of nine breeders, headed by a strong group of Holsteins from Elmcroft Farms, owned by George R. M. Laughlin, Oshawa, supported by Orvan Chambers of Wilfrid, Robert T. Flett of Oshawa, Hugh Ormiston of Brooklin and others.

"This is my first visit to your regional show," Mr. MacPhail said. "I want to congratulate the many exhibitors of Central Ontario who have brought their good animals here today. I have been greatly impressed by their quality, and also by the management of this show. I should like to congratulate also the members of the Peterborough Holstein Club and regional directors on the facilities they have provided."

District Directors

The district directors are: Jas. T. Brown, Newcastle; George Henry, Todmorden; C. J. Cerswell, Beeton; N. W. McConkey, Peterborough; and George R. McLaughlin, Oshawa.

Premier breeders of the Black and White finals was George R. T. Brown, Newcastle; George W. McLaughlin with a score of 60 points on the basis of the winnings of his entries. Stanley Wood of Peterborough was next to him with 24 points.

Revised total of the entries was 182 head as compared with 155 animals last year. And the number of exhibitors from the 10 counties of Central Ontario, Simcoe on the west to Lennox-Addington on the east, was 63. These figures attested the success of the year's show. Roy Ormiston, fieldman, said the response and attendance was fresh evidence of the active interest of the Holstein breeders. At the conclusion of the show he thanked them for their co-operation in every way, arriving on time and bringing their cattle in splendid condition.

"Captain Taylor opened the door to my cabin with his key," she said. "I went in and I don't know where the captain went."

She said that smoke curling up under the cabin door made her conscious of the fire aboard and she immediately roused the girls.

She said her chief concern was to get the girls off the ship, but she made an attempt to rouse her brother on the way to the bow of B deck.

Still In Hospital

Kathleen suffered burns and still is in hospital here.

She and her nieces jumped overboard.

Miss Kerr testified she heard no alarm during the fire.

J. L. Gerard of Montreal, the inquiry's 61st witness, said he was on duty as a fireman in the engine room the night the Noronic burned. He had been employed on the ship six weeks.

Gerard said an oiler told him of the fire, and he was ordered to his station on A deck by the third engineer. Smoke prevented him from getting beyond the kitchen on C deck.

The witness said he could not read English, so he was unable to read instructions for drills on a company-issued card when it was given to him. However, he insisted he knew the location of both his fire and boat drill stations.

Jean Cote, 20, of Montreal, testified he was one of four bell boys on duty. His work included cleaning up, and he started to clean out the social hall after the dance at midnight, EST.

He said it was the practice to dump contents of ash trays into a pail. The pail was kept in the bell boys locker on deck near the social hall.

Sees Reflection

Cote said he first knew of the fire when he saw the reflection of flames in the water standing on the port side of B deck. Leaning over the rail, he saw flames on C deck, a bit aft of amidships.

He said he grabbed a hose and tried to play a stream of water onto the flames but it wouldn't reach. He dropped the hose on a stairway.

Cote said he crossed over to the starboard side, and lowered himself over the railing down to C deck. There were two women there in night attire, and he lowered a Jacob's ladder. He said the women claimed the ladder was afire, declined to use it and jumped to the dock. He followed by the rope ladder.

Joyride To Belleville Cost Youth $50

Joyriding to Belleville cost Robert Young, 18, 41 Jackson Ave., $50 and costs in police court Wednesday morning presided over by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC.

Young was charged with taking a car about midnight Saturday without the consent of the owner, Frank Blair, Sunderland St., who is Young's uncle.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw told the court Young had been in the habit of borrowing his uncle's car. Recently Blair had forbidden Young to take the car.

The night Young was charged with taking the car, he had left a note saying he had borrowed it and left $5 rental. Blair had wanted to drop the charge but the crown attorney said he pressed the charge because Young was already on a suspended sentence.

Young was on two year's suspended sentence after being found guilty of stealing a diamond ring during the summer.

Constable Gordon Trennum testified he had investigated the incident with Constable D. S. McKay. They had questioned Young who admitted taking the car.

Old Arguments Get New Twist On Constitution

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP)—Parliament plodded through its second successive day of constitutional controversy Tuesday.

Old arguments, some with new twists, were the order as members attacked or defended the government's proposed method of amending the Constitution on federal matters.

The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit positions remained the same. They are opposed to the government resolution asking the United Kingdom Parliament to give Canada the power to amend the Constitution on affairs wholly within federal jurisdiction.

The Liberals continued to defend the action as it stands. The CCF accepted the principle with reservations. Result was an amendment to the resolution, proposed by Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), asking assurance for Canadians that a session of parliament would be held at least once a year and that an election would be held every five years.

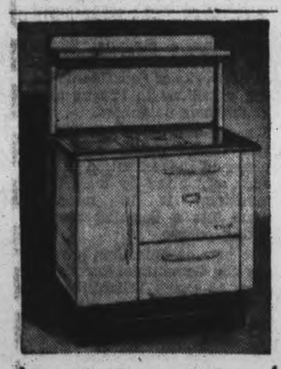
John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre) came up with a new suggestion. He urged that the whole question be discussed by a committee of the whole house.

Set Precedent

Mr. Diefenbaker said the way the government is going about amending the Constitution (British North America Act) is one that will set a precedent for any future amendments. It was an extremely important step and should be discussed fully and in detail before any action was taken.

Forty-five Quebec divorce bills were adopted in second reading—approval in principle—although their mass passages met oposition in all parts of the Commons.

At conclusion of debate on the touchy topic—one that cuts across party lines—a number of members rose to ask for a formal vote. They discovered the bills had already been passed. There was no objection to the Speaker's ruling.



In the Constitution debate, Mr. Diefenbaker accused Prime Minister St. Laurent of disregarding pre-election promises to the people.

Town Has Enough Fire Hydrants Council Assured

COBOURG, Oct. 19 (ENS) — Tests conducted on Monday night by Cobourg fire department, to show the pressure at hydrants from the 12 inch and six inch mains, were satisfactory in every respect, council was informed at its regular meeting.

Stating that he had reference to the recent McKinnon Matting factory fire which did some $50,000 damage, Councillor Harvey Brent observed that there had been some curiosity voiced as to why the pumper was not used. Fire Chief Jim Campbell explained that the factory was only a one storey building and that there was more than enough pressure without the pumper being connected.

Councillor Frank Lapp asked why the Port Hope pumper was sent for and the fire chief said that his department did not send for it as the fire was under control. Apparently a former councillor had telephoned for the Port Hope pumper because he became unduly alarmed. Councillor Lapp then asked if there were enough hydrants in the area if there were a really bad fire in the business section. The fire chief assured him that there were sufficient.

"What about the House of Refuge? What is the pressure up there?" asked Councillor William Cooper. The fire chief replied that it was 16 pounds at that remote point of the town, about six more than before. The institution had a reservoir of water to handle fires, he said.

Turning to a discussion of the foundry fire which took place a little over a year ago, the fire chief said that one of the hydrants was inside the fence and the gate was not wide enough to let the fire truck get in to connect the pumper.

"We should see about that fence at the foundry," commented Mayor Joe Smith.

In regard to asking the Port Hope brigade to assist, the authority to call the Port Hope fire department would lie in the hands of the mayor or the chairman of the fire, water and light committee or if they were not available, it would be up to the fire chief or whoever was in charge of the fire, council decided.

Truck Breaks Posts Hits Swampy Land

COBOURG, Oct. 19 (ENS) —A tow-truck driven by L. E. Blakely of Gore's Landing, left the highway near Bewdley Tuesday, taking out seven guard rail posts and snapping off a telephone pole.

The truck landed in the swamp without damage or injury to the driver. Blakely told police that he was forced off the road by a car. Provincial Constable C. Meadows investigated.

Mrs. Charles Keating of Fort Erie was treated for minor injuries at Port Hope Hospital Tuesday as a result of an accident which occurred when her husband's car left the road just east of Port Hope. Provincial Constables Meadows and W. Baluk investigated.

Skunks Invade Town

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 19.—(ENS).—During the past week dozens of skunks in full battle dress invaded the town. Some have taken up imposing positions under verandahs, while others roam lawns and back yards in platoon formation.

On Saturday night David Vice practically drove business from Front St. when he gave one the coup de grace behind Post's meat market.

Conservation On A National Scale

Parliament has before it at present an act respecting Forest Conservation (Bill 62) which has so far met with the whole-hearted concurrence of both sides of the Commons. The purpose of the Bill—which is to be known as The Canada Forestry Act—is to bring about a closer co-operation between the Ministry of Mines and Resources, and the provincial ministries which deal with forestry and conservation—in Ontario, the Ministry of Lands and Forests, of which our own M.P.P., Mr. Harold Scott, is the Minister. The chief purpose of the Act would be to protect the forests against fire, insects and blights, and to further the study of the diseases and pests which attack trees, the proper planting and care of forests, and means of protecting forests against fire.

• • •

The Bill has been introduced by the Minister of Mines and Resources, Mr. Colin Gibson, and it appears to have been drawn with special care, to prevent any feeling that the Dominion was moving in on a provincial prerogative. The provinces are understandably touchy about their forest preserves, and would resent any federal interference in provincial parks. But there are obvious advantages in having the federal department interested in local problems. Blights and fires do not observe provincial boundaries; the blister rust which afflicts the white pine is not an exclusively provincial matter, and neither is the Dutch elm blight. Any advice and experimentation which can help to deal with these problems is welcome. It seems reasonable, also, that federal laboratories, like the forest laboratories which have worked so successfully in Ontario, should add anything they can to the general sum of knowledge available to Canadian forestry experts. Federal help and federal protection in forestry can do much good, and we see no reason why they should do any harm to existing provincial work in this field.

• • •

This Bill is welcome also as a sign of a growing realization at Ottawa of the great importance of forest conservation in Canada. This country was magnificently wooded when it was first settled and now, 150 years later, large areas of it are suffering from serious erosion. It is plain also to anyone who drives along our highways that forests which have been cut have not been properly restored, and that the wood which is now growing on their former sites is worthless stuff. In our rush to make Canada an industrial country we have neglected a very great source of wealth in our forests. Intelligent planning on the national as well as on the provincial scale could work wonders in fifty years to undo the damage that has been done, and to give us a program of forest growth, conservation and cutting which would enrich and beautify our country for as many centuries as we choose to keep it up.

Should Immunization Be Compulsory?

In a debate in the Commons last week on the establishment of a committee on public health Dr. W. G. Blair (Progressive Conservative member for Lanark) proposed that a coroner's inquest be held every time a child dies from a disease against which it could have been immunized; he suggested also that if the parents of the child were found guilty of neglect in this matter, they should be prosecuted accordingly.

There is a good deal of merit in this proposal, though we confess that we do not like it. Understandably, a physician like Dr. Blair has strong opinions on such a matter. He has doubtless seen children die of diphtheria, for instance, who would not have died if they had been given protective injections against it. In such circumstances it is difficult to restrain a feeling that parental neglect killed the child. Nevertheless, we think that compulsion in such matters should be adopted only when every means of education and persuasion have failed.

There are people—a minority—who have religious objections to immunization. We think that these people are mistaken, but that is beside the point. Canada offers them religious freedom, and compulsory immunization would be an abridgement of that freedom. If people kill their children through ignorance, or stupidity, or wrong-headedness it is regrettable, but we must beware of giving the state too much power to interfere in family life.

There is one point, however, upon which we do not think that any two opinions are possible: if people, by refusing to have their children given protective injections, thereby endanger other children who (because they are too young or too weak) have not yet had those injections, their scruples should be overridden. To endanger one's own child for a dissenting opinion may be permissible, but to endanger other children is wrong.

Immunization is not a new fad. It has been proven effective in some of the most dreaded diseases of mankind. In suggesting compulsory immunization Dr. Blair has brought an interesting and potentially valuable point to the attention of our chief law-making body.

It Is Not Easy To Be Funny

From time to time our members of Parliament reveal their ambitions and frustrations on the floor of the House in an engagingly naive manner. Last week, for instance, the Rev. E. G. Hansell, member for Macleod, Alberta, told the Commons that he had once created a comic strip, but had not made a million dollars out of it. He explained why this was so: "It was not sexy enough," he said, "and it contained no crimes; any man who can put enough sex and crime into his drawings or his writings can make a million dollars any time he cares to get away with it".

This remarkable statement, we feel, demands some comment. In the first place, we think that Mr. Hansell is quite wrong if he imagines that even the most popular comic strip artists make a million dollars out of them; they make a very comfortable living, but not such a fortune as that. And secondly, it takes talent of some sort to create a comic strip which can go on holding the attention of millions of readers for years on end, and it takes a degree of persistence and industry which he may not have considered to produce a comic strip for every publication day in the year.

As for sexiness and crime, let us look at the record. The most popular of all comic strips on this continent is Blondie; no disagreeable sexiness and no crime are ever apparent in it. Li'l Abner contains some pretty girls, and some crime on the farcical, turnip-stealing level, but we would not say that it relied upon either sex or crime for its popularity. Several of the adventure strips have pretty girls in them, and deal with crime, but the girls are very well-behaved, and the criminals are always shown to be in the wrong. No comic strip which dealt with sex or crime in a gross or deleterious fashion would be published in any newspaper of repute.

The road to success in the comic strip field is not the road of salaciousness or moral turpitude. It is a road which demands peculiar talents, including a talent for being either funny or exciting every day. These are talents very rarely observed among members of Parliament.

Idle Ships At Halifax

Halifax seems to be a boom-or-bust place. In times of war it is "an Eastern Canadian port" so busy that there is hardly time or room for ships to turn around. In times of peace and really prosperous export trade—as in the first four post-war years, it flourishes. But there are in-between times, when trade slumps or when there is a return to normal conditions. Then the great mechanism of the harbour slows down. Many ships' screws are now turning idly.

Of all Canadian cities, Halifax is immediately struck by changes in world diplomacy and economy. This is its fate as a port; it also was its fate as a shipbuilding centre in the last century. When steel replaced wood, and engines sails, the Haligonian shipwrights were without occupation, and the industry collapsed.

The recent boom times for Halifax could not be expected to continue indefinitely. The port is geared for greater business than Canada can normally provide. Even a return to normal will make a great difference to Halifax. It is to be hoped that the idle ships and sailors now in Halifax will not become more numerous, but the Government should not be expected to subsidize Halifax and its shipping at this moment. It should not be called on to keep the port at the abnormally high levels of business which obtained during the last decade. Only if Canadian shipping is threatened with a complete collapse, and Halifax with it, should the Government intervene.

A California man predicts that the world will end on December 24. Probably some stingy beast, preparing an excuse for Christmas morning.

THE PLANT IN MY WINDOW, by Ross Parmenter (Ambassador Books)

This book tells the story of a man who found a neglected plant in a flat which he had taken. For no particular reason, except that the thing was alive, he did not throw it out, but put it in his window, and gave it a little water from time to time. This elementary care so cheered the plant that it took a new lease on life. One day Parmenter drew a picture of the plant; a few days later he drew it again, observing with minute care the changes which had taken place in it. Then he became curious about the plant which chance had given him, and made some enquiries about it. This opened up to him a new world of plant-growers and of botany. He now began to cherish and feed the plant and in the course of time he began to feel toward it something which might be called love—a mingling of affection, protectiveness, awe and respect.

This simple story is told in an admirably simple style, which charms and beguiles the reader by its seeming artlessness. But this is far from being a simple or artless book. It is a story of spiritual development, told with fine insight and quite without affectation.

Ross Parmenter is a Canadian, now on the music criticism staff of the New York "Times." When Canada is desperately short of good music critics it seems a pity that we should export one of Parmenter's ability to the U.S.A. A Canadian paper able to afford a music critic could do this country a good turn by bringing him back. He is one of our expatriate writers of whom we may be proud.

"The Plant in My Window" is a book of unusual quality and interest, and I am happy to recommend it. R. D.

TWO AND TWO by P. C. Armstrong (Dent.)

This is a 127-page book which sells for $2.50 on Canadian financial and economic conditions of the present time. Its chapter headings indicate its range and timeliness: The Theory of Price, The Theory of Subsidies, The Problem of Housing, Some Theories of Profit, The Theory of Foreign Exchange Control, etc. (twelve chapters in all). It is written by a man who is by profession a civil and mechanical engineer, who has been a manager of an industrial firm, later a farmer, and for quite a few years now, an economic consultant in Montreal. He has no academic qualifications as an economist. Neither has this reviewer, so he will not attempt to criticise the book from an economist's point of view.

It supports orthodox capitalism and "free enterprise." Some of its passages read like propaganda for the Conservative Party in Canada. It is written in lively style, has cartoons, and, one suspects, some important fallacies. It has a "common-sense" approach, if such is possible with such complicated matters.

The chief fault I have to find with this book is its format. It should be a tract for the times, in cheap pamphlet form, and not be glorified into a $2.50 book. Canadians need controversial and timely treatises like these, to stir them into agreement or disagreement. Mr. Armstrong is serving his country by it, but not as well as he could have, if it had been published at 25 cents instead of $2.50. The pity is that there are not enough Canadians to make commercially possible a 100-page pamphlet at 25 cents. Some sort of subsidy is needed, and Mr. Armstrong does not approve of subsidies. T. J. A.

REASONS OF HEALTH by Douglas Reed (Clarke, Irwin & Company).

As one who has not read Mr. Reed's political non-fiction, this reviewer cannot possibly make any comparisons with such a book as "Insanity Fair." Judged solely on its merits as fiction, "Reasons of Health" is poor stuff indeed.

The narrator gives us a god's-eye view of the hero, Jan Farmingham, a British version of the self-made man, and comments with god-like indifference on this unsavoury character. Part one, in which Farmingham's career gets its up-start (he is a plantation overseer in South Africa and there are certain implications that he has had his immediate superior murdered in order to further his own interests) strikes a Maughamish note and promises interesting resolutions which are not carried out.

Later, having amassed a fortune, he goes to London and becomes a power to reckon with in "the City." Here also there are implications of double-dealing, but Farmingham continues to rise in prestige and popularity to become an important political figure. Again the writer presents us with a double view.

Either Farmingham is a strong, courageous, law-abiding leader of men, always at an advantage in the public eye, who dies in the resolute service of justice, or he is a murderer, a shady manipulator and a potential political traitor. The evidence is perhaps slightly loaded on the latter side, but since we never get inside this character, and neither does the author, we shall never know.

This equilibrium, without any final resolution, transgresses the laws of good novel-writing. Maybe a life could be just like this. Maybe a political career can be based on corruption and redeemed by ability, but a mere recital of a series of compromises is morally and artistically pointless.

So this novel is realistic without seeming real, like a poor stage setting or a pedestrian painting. It is, one supposes, a man's story, with its background of business and politics, but it cannot be recommended to those with taste. H. T. K.

THE PORTABLE MILTON, edited by Douglas Bush (Macmillan).

The excellent 'Portable' series is now augmented by a good volume of Milton, containing the major poems at full length, and a good selection of the minor ones. Two of the polemic pieces, "Of Education" and "Areopagitica", are printed complete, and there are other shorter examples of Milton's prose. The editing takes advantage of the best modern Milton scholarship, and the editor, Douglas Bush, prefaces the book with a study of Milton which puts the best construction on a life which must always be, to some readers, repellent in its peevish self-righteousness. It is not for his life, however, but his noble verse, that Milton is remembered. R. D.

Letters To The Editor

OPPOSES PROLONGED DAYLIGHT SAVING

Sir,—I heartily agree with "The Bystander" re Daylight Saving Time. I hope many more will write you about it, as I am sure the majority of the people are against it, especially at this time of year. At the beginning we had Daylight Saving Time only during July and August, then June, July and August. Next it was June, July, August and September. Now it looks as if we are going to have it willy-nilly for an indefinite period, which could or could not be, all winter, depending on what Toronto does! Why do we have to ape Toronto? The wishes of the people in Toronto were over-ridden, too, as evidenced by numerous letters in "Voice of the People" in the Daily Star. The manager of the Hydro in Toronto stated that the saving in power is very slight. So the majority of us have to be inconvenienced just to suit a few Council members in two cities. If there were something vital gained through D.S.T. it would be a different thing, but it is to no purpose. The hour earlier in the morning makes a big difference before nine o'clock. I have noticed that on most days the sun only starts to break through the cold mists around 9.30 D.S.T., which of course should be 8.30 o'clock. Therefore when the children leave for school about 8.30 D.ST they have to go out into the damp morning shivering on their way, whereas if we were on Standard Time the sun would be starting to come out.

I say, as "Bystander" does, let the people vote on it every year. I know one thing. I certainly know which aldermen I'm not going to vote for again.

Yours truly,
"ANOTHER BYSTANDER"

BLOSSOM FOR THE CBC

Sir—May I add a blossom to the bouquet you tossed CBC-wards in your recent editorial, in which you praised the CBC Wednesday Night Series? It is pioneer, beyond doubt, in the struggle to recognize that there is talent and originality in Canada, and it has been genuinely courageous in the face of criticism, in trying new Canadian-written plays and music, as well as fresh techniques in radio production. But in addition, its producers have dared to defy the common argument that the general public likes its "schmaltz", that the "highbrow" stuff has no listeners, and they have persisted in bringing to the air both drama and music that is, like Shakespeare, "not of an age, but for all time". And they have listeners — plenty of them!

They have recognized that radio has a unique position, in being able to reach so many people, and can therefore introduce those people to the wonderful words and music they might never have known otherwise. We do not need to like everything they do. But we ought not to go through our lives without hearing these plays and poems and compositions—without judging for ourselves why they have survived the ages, and become "classic".

CBC Wednesday Night is always an interesting evening—worth breaking other appointments to stay home and hear. Theirs is a pleasant education, a first-rate entertainment; we should be both humble pupils and a critical audience. Sincerely,
JILL BURRIDGE.

Seven Timely Thoughts

(Brantford Expositor)

Under the heading, "Seven Timely Thoughts," the following are having an increasingly wide circulation in English-speaking countries, and it might be a good idea, also, to have them translated into a number of other languages (including, of course, the Scandinavian):

1. You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.
2. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.
3. You cannot help small men by tearing down big men.
4. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.
5. You cannot lift the wage-earner by pulling down the wage-payer.
6. You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.
7. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

The St. Catharines Standard which got them from a British newspaper which, in turn, secured them from newspapers in Australia and New Zealand, remarks that they have a special significance in Socialist Britain at this pre-election time, and that they have an applicability in Canada, too. They have.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch...and believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.).....There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one. (Acts 5: 12, 14, 16.)

Paul and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ. We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers; remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father; knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.

For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost. (I Thess. 1: 1-6.)

Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen. (Eph. 3: 20, 21.)

Western Oil Story Told Across Country

By FORBES RHUDE, Canadian Press Business Editor.

In Alberta it may seem an old story, but elsewhere it takes a lot of telling, this story of oil.

W. Frank Prendergast, who knows more about it than most, had a word to say about it Tuesday to an American audience — specifically the Mid-continent Development Agencies, meeting at Denver, Colo.

What he was telling, in brief, is that Canadians next to Americans, use more oil than any other people in the world; that they have been buying about 90 per cent of it from other countries; and that, at last, there is a good chance that they may be able to produce a good part of it themselves.

Frank Prendergast is assistant to the president (public relations) Imperial Oil Limited, which means that he is responsible for much of the telling of the story of Western oil. Not that Imperial Oil is the whole story of oil in Alberta, far from it, but they will always rate a big hand for the discovery of the latest and, at present, biggest fields.

Good Story

Alberta oil is such a big thing that person after person gets up and tells its story and there is a temptation to quote them in full. Here is some and a very little of what Prendergast says:

"Until recently Canada has been producing only eight per cent of her oil requirements and last year her United States dollar cost for imported oil, despite the fact that indigenous production supplied 11.4 per cent of the needs, was $301,000,000 or the equivalent of nearly 17 per cent of all her expenditures for merchandise imports from the United States. . . .

"This year production from the recently discovered fields in Alberta will reduce Canada's United States dollars need by some $90,000,000 and it is estimated that in addition the activities of the many United States interests now engaged in oil exploration and development on the prairies will result in expenditures of another $60,000,000 in Canada."

Pearl Farmer In Japan Becomes Very Rich Man

By O. H. P. KING

TATOKU, Japan, Oct. 23 (AP)—The man who found it paid to irritate oysters now lives only to please people.

He does it by giving them pearls.

Kokichi Mikimoto's pearl "farm' dates back to 1878.

By dint of patient experimenting, Mikimoto as a young man perfected a way to make sure every oyster would produce at least one pearl. The process itself is simple enough. A tooled ball of clam shell is inserted in a young oyster and the oyster then is returned to the bay. When it is retrieved years later, a pearl has grown around the irritating piece of shell.

As a result, Migimoto is one of the wealthiest men in Japan.

Cultured pearls are bought by the thousands, the largest costing from $6 to $10 each. Pearl farming is a thriving industry.

Mikimoto, 90-odd years old likes people and he likes people to like him. He has hundreds of guests each May to October season. Each is given one or more oysters containing from one to four pearls. To some favored guests Mikimoto also gives pearl necklaces.

Most of the pearl farm's several hundred employees are women and girls. Even the pearl divers are girls.

The ambition of the happy pearl king is not to add to his wealth, but to make his name well-loved.

Mikomoto's exact age is uncertain—he was born in Toba, the town nearest his pearl farm, Jan. 25, 1858 or 1859. Japan's "who's who" says 1859, but no one is sure. To this confusion is added the Japanese practice, soon to be discarded, of regarding an infant one year old at birth. But his voice is firm and strong and his vitality amazing.

WRONG HAND STIRRING: "My husband loves to cook but has one bad habit—he stirs from right to left. I know this is wrong — feel it should be from left to right. Will you please advise which is the correct way? Also does it make any difference in the finished product?"

This weighty problem we took to every expert we knew. They disagreed among themselves, but the majority are with you. They claim that doing what comes naturally from left to right gives a smoother product

SPINNING WHEELS: "Where can I purchase a spinning wheel which will really work? What will it cost?"

Mrs. Margaret MacPherson, 96 Duplex Ave., Toronto, will have spinning wheels for sale in about six weeks time Cost will be $18.50

MAGNESIUM ROD: "Can you tell me, please, where I could buy a magnesium rod for our hot water tank? Local dealers will not take an order for one without buying a tank too, and our tank is only a little more than two months old."

Plumbing experts tell us that the standard tank is not tapped to receive a magnesium rod. If you wish to use one you would need a specially built tank tapped to receive the rod.

VENETIAN BLIND TAPES: "Can venetian blind tapes be cleaned on the blinds? I washed one set and they shrank up too short."

Venetian blind manufacturers advise this treatment. Stretch out the blinds on a long table. Make a solution of mild soap chips and boiling water, about the same density as you would use for blankets. Scrub the tapes with the soap solution using a clean toothbrush. Say our experts. "Clean tapes and no shrinkage."

Prince Of Wales Ties Central In Soccer Go

Two smart school soccer teams —Prince of Wales and Central— battled to the limit in an endeavor to break a 1-all tie in a league game. This decision now puts four teams in a play-off position.

Perfect combination was in evidence by both aggregations, accompanied by accurate defensive systems on each half-back lines, producing clever tactics. Delahey, Gardner and Rowley kept up a steady offensive, while Prince of Wales' half-backs, Pagett, Speirs and Lowell, battled brilliantly on the defensive, the latter being outstanding. In the second half, Downer evaded two men to hit the upright. Central hemmed West-enders to their own area until Evans broke away on the left wing to centre into goal where Pagett made a snap drop shot into goal as the ball hit the ground. Over-confidence in POW camp proved a detriment to the team because Central revived the close-passing combination to see Delahey breaking into goal to kick the ball past the upright a few feet out, but he made amends later as he shot the ball over to Gardner who picked the far corner to get the equalizer and make it 1-all.

Central — R. Grey, goal; R. Rowe and J. Murrie, full-backs; D. Noble, S. Brooks and J. Heffernan, half-backs; R. Delahey, D. Patterson, B. Gardner, L. Mongraw and J. Rowley, forwards. Subs, C. Craymer, D. Bye

Prince of Wales—D. Coit, goal; H. Bowes and J. Heron, full-backs; B. Speirs, G. Pagett and K. Lowell, half-backs; W Downer, B. Fairs, P. Evans, L. Barrie and H. Pullybank, forwards. Subs, B. Chamberlain, E Heigh, D. Lovingston, G. Speirs.

Referee—Mr. Weir.

Eye On Gate Sales

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—(CP) — President E. A. Armstrong, of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, said Tuesday that Coach Annis Stukus, of Edmonton Eskimos, apparently had his eye on the possibility of increasing gate sales for Edmonton's next game when he charged that Bombers had "made it easy" for Saskatchewan Roughriders last Saturday. Stukus maintained that Bombers, who lost 47-0 to the Riders, "must have laid down."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

Aside from the tuneless drumming of the punching bag Slasher Schwartz was beating and the monotonous voice of the Kid talking to a few in the corner, all was quiet in the gym. A bit early for the regulars to stop by for the daily workout. The Kid was there, of course; he worked there. Not hard work. Just swabbing off sweaty bodies, washing dirty towels, sweeping up butts and gum wrappers, mopping ring boards of blood spatters and crushed teeth guards. Stuff like that. And he got free room there and 15 fish a week. The odd buck, also, as a tip, but not many.

* * * * * *

"No older business in the world than fightin'," the Kid was expounding to the broken-down ring remnants around him. They came in daily to keep warm and smell the resin. "Guys always fought—it's the oldest profession of all." Harry the Hump grunted: "Nuts it is. What about two-timin' women?" Willie and Bomber Hall cackled. Willie was washed up before Firpo came north. The Bomber was just a colored youngster yet but he'd had nearly 200 fights—about 50 too many. Got the odd buck sparring on account of he was fast and could take it. Commish stopped him fighting when sport scribes started calling him the Bummer. Awful good lightweight once, though.

* * * * * *

Just About a Draw

"Maybe a draw," the Kid (who would be past 50) conceded; "always shady molls and always guys to fight over 'em." They cackled at that, too. It was warm in there and nothing else to do anyway. Kid said: "Yep, fightin' goes back to Roman days like they show in the movies. Probably the press or purses not too good then, and no Dempseys around." Golden Boy Barry ambled in and stopped for a minute. A fine blond slugger pointing for the middle crown. But he'd been overmatched too much. Still blond and handsome—but over the hill. Got the odd bout for two or three C's, but most of it went to a sawbones. Trying to clear up a singing in the ears and a head that throbbed like an outboard motor. Especially toward evening.

* * * * * *

"The Kid says they fought back in Roman days like the movies." Harry the Hump offered. He might later nick Golden Boy for a deuce. Like for a loan. "Sure they did," Barry replied, "I read it somewhere. Used to fight to the finish. Used cestus, I hear." "Naw, that was in Mexico," the Kid snorted; "I beat Young Pancho by a kayo in five down there in '28. They all took siestas every day." That seemed to settle that. Golden Boy glanced at the Slasher shadow-boxing now on the other side of the ring. His head throbbed a bit once more. But the Kid's expressionless voice kept reaching him—like light taps on a strong body, like waves washing a rock. Seemingly futile, yet inevitable.

* * * * * *

He Was Quite a Guy

"My old man used to tell me about some guy when I was a kid. Can't say his name now, but he used to fight back in them old Roman days. Musta been quite a gee with his mitts, maybe a heavy champ like the Mauler or the Brown Bomber. Anyway, they went for him and the Eyetalian sheets gave him a big play, accordin' to the old man." Harry the Hump argued: "Only Eyetalian that ever was a champ in the ring was Carnera, and look at him now—just a rassler." Willie and Bomber Hall cackled. They seldom spoke in the company of superiors. But they listened good, and kept warm.

* * * * * *

"Well," Kid went on, "my old man said this guy was a big shot and he kind of changed the history of Rome or something. I just forget." Golden Boy's ears were ringing a little—or maybe it was the spat-spat-spat of the rope on the floor as Schwartz started skipping—and his head chugging. But he snarled: "What the devil you talking about—what pug ever changed the history of Rome or anywhere else?" Still thinking of that deuce, Harry the Hump said: "Ah, pay no attention to the Kid, he must be gettin' punchy." The Kid pondered: "Punchy? Hmmm. Yeah, now it comes to me. But his name was Pilot, and that don't sound Eyetalian. Maybe he used a ring monicker, huh? Anyway, that was it—I remember now—the old man said his name was Punches Pilot." Golden Boy's head was throbbing as he shuffled toward the street.

Canadiens, Leafs Tangle Tonight For First Time

By The Canadian Press

All six clubs take the ice tonight in the first full-scale night of National Hockey League warfare since the new season started exactly one week ago.

The card includes the first clash of the season between the big-time's two Canadian foes—Montreal Canadiens versus the Maple Leafs at Toronto. The other games match New York Rangers against the Red Wings at Detroit and Chicago Black Hawks against the Bruins at Boston.

With only three points separating all six teams, the standing may be well scrambled by the verdicts.

Dick Irwin's Canadiens, victors of their two starts, will be meeting another unbeaten team in the Leafs, three-time Stanley Cup champions. Hap Day's Toronto team whipped Detroit 5-1 in their second start after tying Chicago 4-4.

The Leafs, after only two games of their 70-game schedule, are depleted by injuries and will need help from the liniment-and-tape department to dress nine forwards.

Four Forwards Injured

Toronto has four forwards on the injury list. They are centre Bob Dawes, out for several weeks; winger Bill Ezinicki, whose weak ankle may respond to treatment in time for the game, right-winger Howie Meeker, whose ankle is still swollen from a stick slash received in Detroit Sunday night, and left-winger Harry Watson, whose gimpy knee is reported on the mend.

In addition, defenceman Gus Mortson has a leg injury.

Defenceman Bill Juzda, the erstwhile New York Ranger, may be moved up to forward against Canadiens. He went well on the front line in a trial at Pittsburgh Monday night, when Leafs beat Hornets of the American Hockey League 4-0 in a benefit game for Baz Bastien.

Canadiens will introduce Rookie Gilles Dube to Toronto fans. The N.H.L. newcomer plays right wing on a line with Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Elmer Lach, who changed his mind this fall after retiring last year. They'll also have Grant (Knobby) Warwick, obtained from Boston in an off-season deal.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Curling Association, held at the Granite Club, Toronto, on Tuesday, Thomas McArthur, past president of the Peterborough Curling Club was made an honorary life member of the Ontario Association. This is an honor that comes to very few and not only does it bring great honor to Mr. McArthur but also to the local club. We believe that this is the first time that Peterborough has been so honored. We join with Mr. McArthur's friends in extending congratulations. W. M. Cruthers and R. P. Bert represented this club at the meeting.

Well over 100 members of the club attended the semi-annual meeting in the club rooms Tuesday evening. The main object of this meeting was to choose schedule rinks for the coming season. It is a long and tedious business, but the boy stayed on the job and were all through around 10 o'clock.

At this meeting the skips voted for Tankard skips and District Cup skips with the following results:

Tankard skips—C. Giroux and Dr. R. Clark.

District Cup skips—F. Green and V. Brown.

The ladies' club held an important meeting on Monday afternoon. They, too, chose their rinks for the season. They intend holding their big meeting on Friday, Oct. 28.

ON SENIOR CHAMPS—Isabel (Tommy) Bullock of Peterborough is shown above demonstrating the pitching form which helped Toronto Fuels win the senior girls' softball title recently at Sunnyside. She pitched three of the six playoff games (Fuels won out four to two) and her 4-1 triumph in the last contest won the championship.

Flyers Clip Mohawks

By The Canadian Press

St. Louis Flyers made it a three-way tie for second place in the Western Division of the American Hockey League Tuesday night as they trounced the hapless Cincinatti Mohawks 6-4 in St. Louis. The flyers now share runner-up position with Indianapolis Capitals and Pittsburgh Hornets one point behind the front-running Cleveland Barons. Cincinnati, the league's new entry, is still without a victory after four starts.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

The seven-year-old Australian wonder horse, Bernborough, met his first defeat in 10 months on a Melbourne track three years ago today. The "Toowoomba Terror"— loaded under 150 pounds—failed at the end of a 1½-mile race to catch four horses carrying from 24 to 46 pounds less. Bernborough was later purchased by Louis B. Mayer of Hollywood and retired to stud.

Oshawa Downs St. Michael's As Mercuries Trip Tigers

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Junior Marlboros are still on top in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race after blanking Galt Black Hawks 8-0 in a doubleheader in Toronto last night. In the other game of the doubleheader Oshawa Generals moved into second place, one point behind the Dukes, with a 4-2 win over Toronto St. Michael's College Majors.

In the only senior O.H.A. game last night, Owen Sound Mercuries won their first game in three starts, defeating Hamilton Tigers 4-2 at Hamilton. Hamilton and Owen Sound now are tied with two points apiece for second place, two points behind Toronto Senior Marlboros.

The Junior Dukes had little opposition from Black Hawks, blanketing the Galt team with superior speed and tight defensive play. Galt's best period was the second when they limited the Dukes to one goal. Marlies collected four goals in the first frame and cleaned up with three more tallies in the final stanza.

Marlboro scorers were Lorne Pirie and Murray Grenke with two goals apiece and Files, Jack McKenzie, George Armstrong and Bill Mitchell who each blinked the red light once.

Irish Try Hard

Bob Shropshire starred in the Oshawa goal against St. Michael's. Generals scored one goal in the first frame although the Irish continually carried play into the Oshawa end. Generals pressed Howes for two goals in the second period and Sandford, leading the Irish offensive later in the period, put St. Michael's back in the running. The College's offensive continued into the third frame, but Hastings beat Howes with less than a minute remaining to cancel Dineen's goal for the Irish a few seconds later.

Louie Jankowski, Ted O'Connor, Gord Warner and Graham Hastings were Oshawa marksmen while Sandford and Dineen each scored once for St. Michael's.

It was a mild surprise for Tigers when Owen Sound Mercurys opened the scoring after a goal-less first period. A few minutes later Doug Gillespie put the visitors two up and it wasn't until late in the period that Liscombe gave the Bengals their first goal.

Jack Ingoldsby put Mercs two goals up in the third frame when Johnny Conick, leading the Hamilton attack, cut down the visitors' lead with a goal with a little more than a minute remaining. Bruno Favero, however, killed the Tigers' chances with a goal at the 19-minute mark.

BASEBALL TRADE

Chicago White Sox Tuesday announced trade of catcher Joe Tipton to Philadelphia Athletics for second baseman Nelson Fox in a straight player deal.

Boat Outruns Airplane, Tries For Record

SEATTLE, Oct. 19—(CP) — A boat that outruns airplanes on Lake Washington is being groomed for an assault on Sir Malcolm Campbell's world record of 141.74 miles an hour.

Just how fast the "Slo-Mo-Shun IV" actually travelled in its first semi-secret tests the owner, S. S. Sayers, would not reveal today.

"We were flyin' low," he grinned.

Friends of the Seattle automobile dealer and his designer and builders have been sworn to secrecy, but among themselves they agree the water-walking streak of noise is ready for an official crack at Campbell's record. The pilot of a small seaplane landed in a hurry and taxied to the "Slo-Mo-Shun IV" after a test run.

"Do you know how fast you were going?" he shouted.

Sayers laughed. "We have an idea."

"I hit a hundred-ten and dived at you," the pilot marvelled. "You weren't there."

Sayers is not falsely modest about his boat. In fact, he's about to burst with excitement and the urge to get the craft into competition. But the experience of other speedboat fanatics has him bending over backward to avoid a build-up.

"Whatever you write," he said, "underline the 'if.' Many a man has thought he had the world's fastest boat, has seen it perform phenomenally in trial runs, then had it fail completely when the chips were down. I'm not going to make any claims for this boat. It will have to do its own talking."

Ducks Start South

The ducks and geese are on their way south. Ducks Unlimited international conservation organization, received word Tuesday from its Canadian agents that the annual migration began "in real earnest" early Tuesday, and should develop today in a spectacular movemnt.

United Counties Set Stage For Plowmen

MILLBROOK, Oct. 19 (ENS)—Durham and Northumberland Counties Plowmen's Association has the stage set for the last big agricultural event in the district which takes place Thursday on Leonard Henderson's farm, three miles west of Millbrook.

A good list of entries is expected for both horse and tractor classes. A special feature is the tractor rodeo donated for the juniors by the Lions' Club of Millbrook, and for the seniors by Frank Stinson of Brading's. The local ladies' Orange Lodge is serving refreshments. Announcements will be made over a loud speaker system.

London Arena Plans May Get Shot In The Arm

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 19 (CP)—Construction of London's all-purpose Civic Arena, which has been hanging fire three years, may be nearer a reality today if Mayor Ray Dennis' latest plans materialize.

Answering mounting criticism, he said in a radio address there are good prospects of getting an extra $100,000 from both the Dominion and Provincial governments. Also he thought that ratepayers should vote a second $400,000 toward the project.

Cost of the arena at Queen's Park is estimated at upwards of $1,000,000 today. It is aimed to return bigtime hockey to London, provide for an annual winter fair, as well as agricultural and other shows throughout the year. Queen's Park is the home of the Western Fair.

Lack of financing with increased building costs have prevented a start on the arena to date.

Below Expectations

Also, government grants fell below expectations.

The Dominion Government granted $200,000 and it was matched by another $200,000 from the province, but the federal grant was earmarked for agriculture-stock purposes only. A stock building is now under way next to the arena site.

Mayor Dennis said that after talking with Premier Frost and Alex. Jeffery, M.P. for London, he had new hope of additional government grants. But he warned it still might be necessary to reduce the seating capacity to some 5,000 to keep within the budget.

"It must be remembered, however, that all contributions to this project come from the Department of Agriculture and they will only contribute in so far as the buildings benefit and serve agriculture in western Ontario.

Immigrant Racket

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct 19.—(Reuters).—The Sydney Sun today reports that special commonwealth investigators have discovered a large-scale plan to bring into Australia hundreds of Central Europeans on false immigration permits. The Sun says it was alleged that the names of officials were forged, that persons in Australian government departments had accepted money to sign entry permits, and that intending migrants were required to pay large sums to "racketeers."

The Canadian Family owes much to... Ireland

MUCH OF THE STRENGTH and vitality of Canadian life and the rich quality of its democracy stems from the blending of racial and cultural heritages from many lands. Few countries draw more strength from more nations than does Canada.

Canadians are justifiably proud that so many races, without sacrificing their national characteristics, have united themselves into one great citizenship—the Canadian Family.

Probably no race has produced more emigrants than the Irish. A century ago, the Irish formed half the population of Canada and today, in every town and village from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island, one can find a son of the Emerald Isle. The Irish brogue echoes through all of Canada's history.

Blessed with the "gift of the gab", their industry and ambition, coupled with an imaginative humour, are qualities which have won friends and enabled them to contribute much to Canada's progress.

Renews Attack On Changing Constitution

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP)—E. D Fulton (PC-Kamloops) Tuesday renewed in the Commons the opposition's attack against government plans to obtain for parliament the power to amend the constitution.

He charged that the government has progressively departed from the procedure followed by other governments in obtaining amendments to the constitution The present government, he said, was not following the former practice of consulting the provinces on proposed amendments.

In 1947 there was passed an act redistributing the seats in the Commons. The provinces were not consulted before that change was made to the constitution. The provinces were not consulted on terms under which Newfoundland entered confederation.

More recently the government had not consulted the provinces on legislation abolishing appeals to the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

Mr. Fulton said the government should have tabled earlier replies from the provinces to an invitation to a dominion-provincial constitutional conference. He noted that Premier Macdonald of Nova Scotia in a letter dated Sept. 27 had urged that abolition of appeals to the Privy Council not be undertaken until the matter was discussed at the constitutional conference.

That letter, he said, was received before the Commons passed the bill abolishing the appeals.

Gov't Experts Streamline Art of Counting Noses

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP)—Government experts are primed for a trial census among 120,000 Canadians this Saturday which will mark the begining of streamlined and revolutionary changes in the official art of counting noses.

It will test new machinery and methods being groomed for the regular Canadian decennial census in 1951 but its results will be watched all around the world. Officials hope it will cut census costs by half and produce the main facts in from six to nine months, less than half the traditional period.

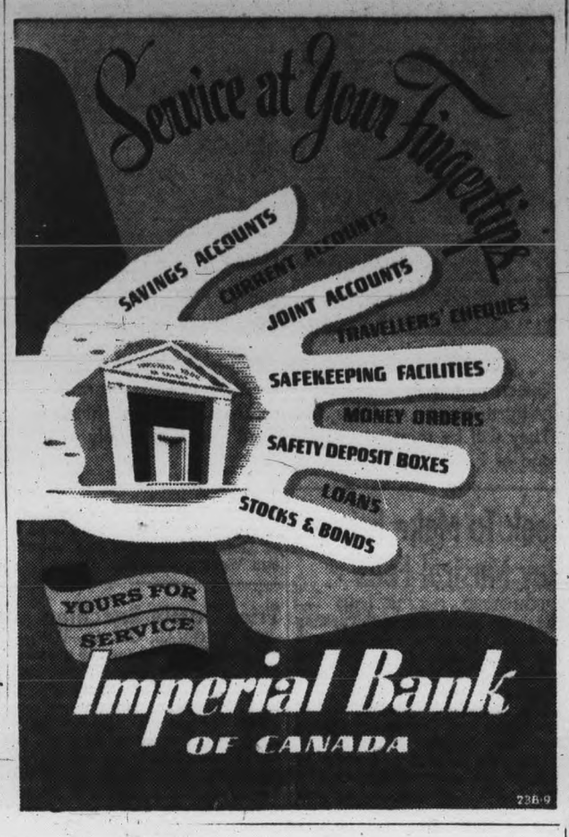
Seven areas have been singled out for the trial run, including the Lunenberg, N.S., parts of Montreal ;a portion of Toronto Rosedale electoral district; parts of the Winnipeg area; parts of the Taber, Alta., area; and a portion of Vancouver. A test will be conducted later in Eastern Ontario's Russell County.

It will make use of new high-speed, labor-saving machines for the first time in any census anywhere in the world.

First the trial census will use the "mark-sense" method. For a long cumbersome form it substitutes a seven-inch card bearing 31 questions about the individual and his or her home. With special ink in a ball-point pen the enumerator who knocks on the door will mark down the facts he obtains.

This card becomes the permanent "punch-card" from which the census of 13,500,000 Canadians will eventually be compiled. It goes into an electronic machine where brushes, on making contact with the special ink, cause holes to be punched at the right spots and prepare the card for tabulation.

That means that a machine will do in a flash what used to be a laborious chore by hand.



Another electronic machine will cross-tabulate the results.

Canada also is decentalizing her census. It will be handled regionally where it formerly was directly controlled from Ottawa.

Customer Value Unappreciated, Salesmen Told

The value of customers has not been appreciated by business men, especially since the years of shortage during the last-war, Edwin G. Taylor, Toronto, manager of sales and sales research of a large rubber products company, told members of the Peterborough Sales and Advertising Club Tuesday night.

During the war, Mr. Taylor said customers were a nuisance and a source of embarrassment to business men with no products to sell. But it was time they began to re-establish a sense of the full value of the customer.

He pointed out men with goods to sell had to be aware of the immediate, cumulative and future value of their customers.

By watching the buying experiences of his growing children, Mr. Taylor said he became aware of how badly business men in general were missing the opportunity of establishing future customers. He said youths and young girls were often ignored, when they went into stores and they soon learned where they could get courtesy and attention and where they were not valued.

Youth Not Served

Mr. Taylor pointed out that young men who were starting out with reliable firms and showed every indication of being responsible citizens but did not have immediate cash had difficulties getting credit and other services their temporary circumstances demanded.

He was aware of the 'teen age movement in supplying that specialized market, but he thought it had a tendency to be foppish and jazzy.

Mr. Taylor was introduced by George Howson and thanked by Paul Irwin.

Some remark appears to amuse him and at another point he seems absorbed. Sometimes he looks discouraged. 770 Applications By Sailor Vets

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 (CP) — A government offer to finance vocational training for qualified merchant seamen veterans brought 770 applications from all across the country. Of that total, 321 or considerably less than half have been approved.

Officials said Tuesday 118 applicants were ruled out because they were over the age limit of 30 years; another 100 withdrew voluntarily; 132 were rejected because they had not signed a Manning Pool agreement in wartime; nine were out because they had not served on Canadian ships; 26 because they had work. Others had not been finally approved or rejected.

The figures were prepared in answer to questions asked in the Commons by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Quadra). Veterans Minister Gregg said recently that consideration will be given to raising the age limit beyond 30 because of "representations."

((The Canadian Press erroneously reported Oct. 7 that the age limit was 35.)

Visitors Find Londoners Wear Wit In Windows

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Oct. 19 —(CP)—A Canadian visitor once remarked that Londoners wear their wit in their windows. He was impressed, as many have been impressed, by the number of quaint signs employed by storekeepers to attract trade. It all started during the war when the "business as usual" slogan was adopted by hundreds of small traders whose premises had been battered and broken by bombs. Typical of these was the sign hung out by a greengrocer after his front windows had been blown in: "more open than usual."

The custom has persisted. In Shepherd Market, East London, tourists often pause outside a little store the front of which is festooned with boots and shoes. chalked across the window is the laconic announcement: "you provide the feet. I'll provide the shoes."

During the August heat-wave a Holborn tailor displayed on his window the somewhat clinical exhortation "don't stop outside and faint. Come inside and have a good fit."

Along the Edgware Road two clean collars and an immaculate shirt are displayed in a laundry shop window. Right in the centre is the avowal: "when ma gets tired, we don't."

Other Evidence

Then there is the Hawker who regularly patrols up and down the Strand bearing a tray of needles, laces, razor blades and shoe horns. Tied to his chest is a placard: "this is on me."

Chalked across the window of a fishmongers in Chelsea is the logical inscription: look out — this is a fishy business!"

Philosophers have said that London's humor is the product of a city always in throes of change. When the Londoner's home is pulled down to make way for a new building project, he grouses plenty at first. But when the times comes to move he invariably goes on his way with a philosophical grin and a joke.

Council Is Lenient On Old House Site

Roy Sanderson of Brioux Ave. is asking the council to cancel certain property restrictions imposed by the township of North Monaghan when its authority extended to the corner of Park and Lansdowne Streets.

One condition requires the house to be ten foot from an adjoining house. That would cut the width of his house to 20 feet. City Solicitor Huycke was asked to carry out the accommodating reply of the council, in a motion by Aldermen Sands and Gillespie.

Minimum value of a house in that area was placed at $1,000 by the township. "You can see how long ago the restrictions were passed," said City Clerk Outram. reading the Ferguson letter.

Dolan Condemns Use U.S. Flag For Tourists

HALIFAX, Oct. 19, (CP)—A man who has been selling Canada to visitors for 15 years said Tuesday Canadians who dig out the American flag to attract business are pretty undignified.

In fact, said Mr. Dolan, in an interview: "I've been against the practice since I established the bureau in 1934."

Principal D. W. Scott's report that it was a case of "unfortunate misunderstanding" was accepted by the board. He said that Boyden attempted to take part in cadet exercises and that the instructor, a non-commissioned officer, did not know he was incapacitated. His name was not publicized.

CAS To Set Up Committee On Foster Homes

A foster home committee, whose purpose will be to increase the number of foster homes available in the community, is to be drawn up by the Board of Governors of the Children's Aid Society.

This was decided Tuesday at the October meeting of the Board.

"The securing of foster homes seems to be something which requires constant interpretation to the public," declared Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the society. She explained that the pressing need was for homes where the child could board, not so much where he would be adopted.

"We stand or fall on the matter of foster homes," said the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan. He suggested that board members could do more to find these homes and not leave it up to the staff members alone.

Publicize Problem

Mr. Morgan stated the problem must be presented to the community An extensive publicity program such as the one he was acquainted with in Hamilton was one means of accomplishing this objective.

Chairman T. T. Rodger pointed out it was desirable to be able to obtain an extensive list of foster homes that could be drawn on as a reserve when needed. Even last year, however, when there was an extensive publicity campaign the response was barely enough to meet the society's needs.

The preent housing shortage and the economic situation both militated against married couples taking children, he said. Lack of housing was obvious to all, and the society was unable to pay the foster parents the true upkeep of the child.

"Child With No Problems"

It was suggested that the matter could be brought up at the meetings of service clubs, in the various women's auxiliaries, the Ministerial Association, and other public bodies.

Miss Young gave an amusing incident of a prospective foster parent who asked for a child "with no problems—or at least very few."

"That child has yet to be born," interjected one woman board member amid general laughter

The motion, passed unanimously, was that the board set up a foster home committee whose duties and responsibilities will be to enlarge in increase the number of foster homes available to the society.

TOO CLOSE TO HALLOWE'EN

Although Hallowe'en is 10 days off, menacing spirits are already at work and the police department is hearing about it. W. J. Koster, 200 Sherbrooke St. today telephoned the police and reported part of a wooden fence along the side lane of his house was stolen during the night. A day or two before a car had knocked it down. Obviously these events were no mere coincidence. It's too close to Oct. 31.—R.H.

Two Tons Copper In Police Court

Almost two tons of copper rod were rolled into the police department this morning for use as evidence in the details of Cycil Gerster. 262 Simcoe St., Kenneth Metcalfe, Bewdley, and Francis McGrath, 252 Charlotte St., who are all charged with receiving stolen property.

The copper disappeared from the Smith Transport storage warehouse Sunday night. It had been shipped from Brockville and was to have been delivered to the CGE.

Detective W. A. Clarke located the copper on a truck and Metcalfe and McGrath appeared in court Monday morning. Gerster made his first appearance in court Tuesday morning. They were all remanded to Oct. 24 without electing in which court they want to be tried and without pleading guilty or not guilty.

Car And Truck Collide At Louis St. Opening

A car and a truck were involved in an accident on Charlotte St. at the entrance of Louis St. Tuesday at noon.

Police reported Mendell Gishman, 680 Reid St., driving a truck north on Louis St. collided with a car driven by John McIsaac, 58 Victoria St.

Constable W. S. Fife said the right rear door and fender of the McIsaac car were damaged and the front bumper of the Gishman truck was bent.

Louis St. is normally a one-way street for south bound traffic only, but the south end is blocked temporarily while King St is being paved.

Day Nursery School To Open Dixon House In November

Peterborough will have a day nursery school at Dixon House by November 1. Jack Dane, recreation director, told the Recreation Commission Tuesday night that with or without a Council bylaw, a school of this kind could be started. Without the bylaw—which he said could be passed a month after operation—there would be no government grant for the nursery.

Wilfrid Langan moved, on behalf of the committee investigating the proposal to establish a nursery school, that it be set up, and the Commission passed the motion. He said that parents had already nominated 42 children for the school, and that only forty were needed to put it into operation. Most of the children will come from the Dixon House area. The fee wast set at $5.50 a child a month, on motion of Mrs. R. Whalon and Mrs. Langan.

The premises have been approved by inspectors from the Provincial Department of Public Welfare which licenses nursery schools. Minor alterations are being made to meet with fire regulations.

Planned Decreased Costs

The Commission believe that the operation of the nursery school will decrease rather than add to the Commission's cost of operating Dixon House. This was $1,485 for the six-month period October to March. Since the school nursery would be using the building during regular school days when it would otherwise be unused, fixed costs like heat and caretaker wages would be shared by the Nursery School.

At the fee of $5.50 a child a monthly income of $220 would accrue. When the school was approved by the Department, and the city bylaw passed authorizing it, the Department would, the Commission estimated, make a monthly grant of $62.75. The monthly revenue would therefore be $282.75. The monthly costs of the nursery school would be $345.50. This figure includes half the operating costs of Dixon House, the salary of the school staff, and the school supplies. The city would have to make up the deficit of $62.75, an amount equal to the Provincial grant. The grant is contingent on the municipality paying an equal amount.

The saving to the Commission would result through half the full operating costs of Dixon House being borne by the nursery school.

Supervisor Named

Miss Joyce Wyatt has been appointed to head the day nursery school. She has the certificated approval of the Department of Public Welfare, and two years' experience in operating nursery schools. She will have an assistant, as required by departmental regulations.

The school is being opened on an experimental basis, and provisions have been made to close it on a month's notice if the experiment does not prove successful.

Dr. John E. Foote of Peterborough, was elected secretary of the Ontario Association of Chiropodists during the 21st annual convention held in Toronto over the week-end.

Surplus Show In Recreation

Surveying the finances of the Recreation Commission to October 14, R. E. MacDonald, chairman of the finance committee, told the commission Tuesday night that he expects a surplus this year between $1,000 and $1,500. The balance brought forward last year was $1,759.90.

Mr. MacDonald said that receipts to October 14 totalled $22,594.90. This was made up by the balance forward from 1948, $1,759.90; the Ontario grant, $3,500; craft classes, $65; City of Peterborough, $17,250 and Dixon House for rental of two rooms for a polling booth, $20.

The summer program was kept well within the budget.

Other items still within their budget are: Peterborough Citizens' Band (budget $3,500, spent $3,018); Dixon House (budget $3,000, spent $2,050); craft classes (budget $1,000, spent $698); grants to organizations (budget $1,725, spent $1,625); new projects and sundries (budget $650, spent $20).

The Chemong road turn at the junction of Stewart and Reid streets claimed another accident today about eight o'clock. Cars driven by Cornelius O'Reilly, 508 Parnell St., and Ralph A. Crumb, 19, of Lindsay collided on Reid St. just 80 feet south of the flasher warning signal on the turn. Crumb was driving into Peterborough from Lindsay and had apparently made the turn when the front left side of his car hit the rear left of the O'Reilly car, travelling in the opposite direction. The Crumb car appeared to go out of control skidding 76 feet and hit a house in the V between Stewart and Reid streets. No one was hurt.

Clarify Duties Of Commission

A clarification of the objects of the Recreation Commission was one of the results of the meeting between chairman R. J. Bolton and a special committee of the city council, the chairman reported to the Commission on Tuesday night. It also urged that there should be more co-operation between the council and the Commission and that there should be no over-lapping of departments.

The committee which Mr. Bolton met was appointed by the City Council to see if a recreational program can not be worked out for the city at definitely less cost.

Little was gained through the discussions, Mr. Bolton reported, and a further committeee of Mr Bolton, R. E. MacDonald, Wilfred Langan and Gordon Armstrong was named to again meet with the civic body.

In replying to criticism about expenditures of the Recreation Commission the chairman intimated that the council in the past had turned over to Recreation Commission all activities requiring expenditures and had retained those which brought in revenue.

LONG STEMMED 'MUMS

Yellow chrysanthemums on stems five to five and a half feet are high are coming into bloom in the greenhouse of Tom Aitken, King George St. Many of them are within a few inches of the ridgepole. Mr. Aitken has 27 varieties of 'mums and pompoms. The colors are mostly white, yellow, red, pink mauve and bronze. Cutting probably will not begin for another week or two, although a few of them are already in full flower. Okie's Gardens used to be beyond the border of the city a few years ago. Today they are in the centre of a new community, south of Nashua Paper's big plant.

Homes' Construction Work Impeded 50% Per Cent By Shortage of Materials

Building operations in Peterborough have been harassed and hampered all summer by lean supplies of cement, relieved for the present by three or four carloads arriving this week. Reynolds Construction Company who are building the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation houses in an agreement with the city and primarily for the accommodation of ex-service men and their families, have been impeded in their work by the same trickle of material. They have been restricted to 50% of their capacity, in foundation work at any rate, and considerable private building projects have been held up by the Canadian cement industry's inability to supply the demand, this year the same as last and the year before that.

Roy Faulconer, superintendent at Reynolds Construction, said: "We've had difficulty getting cement practically from the beginning of this year's building season. You might think that the cement manufacturers might catch up on the market during the winter, but the fact is that the big operators can pour cement all winter. That's what they do on the Hydro contracts. We have a priority on this contract for the Central Mortgage job because the houses are for men who were in the war. Without that, I don't know where we'd be."

One of the dealers remarked that Hydro-Electric Commission takes trainloads of cement for their program of new generating plants. That large scale diversion of material offers a broad explanation of the scarcity experienced by the private citizen.

Peterborough has been using Canadian, Belgian, English and United States cement. This week's deliveries are regarded as only a sop to the trade, and temporary accommodation.

"If you had asked me about the local situation last week," said one man, "I'd have told you that it was deplorable. It happened that local dealers each got a car or so of cement this week. I think it is imported from England. That stock is likely to be all gone next week, there is such a need of it here, and we may be as bad off at any other time this year. I won't say that definitely, but that has been our experience, almost a cement famine between meagre handouts of supplies."

Back of the references to the market is interjected comment that Peterborough is only nine miles from the centre of cement operations which used to be carried on at Lakefield until the company tangled with the municipality about the clouds of dust that used to hang over the south end of the village. Finally, those mills were taken out of operation, and the industry was throttled.

"Peterborough has been getting some U.S. cement from Buffalo," one observer of the market said. "But, there are people planning to build houses for themselves who refuse to pay $1.55 a bag for that stuff as compared with 90 per cent for that stuff as compared with 90 cents for the Canadian product—when you can get it. Why should they pay something like $125 more in the cost of a home by buying cement from the States."

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation say they understand the difficulties which have beset building here this year, and especially in their effect on the progress with the present housing project in the south end.

The private citizen without any priority advantage has to do a lot of waiting and hoping, or accept the alternative of being mulcted to the extent of 65 cents on every bag of Buffalo cement he buys for that house he starts to build for himself.

And, as the trade says, the situation may be as bad as ever next week.

New Electric Device Restores Breathing Of Former Local Lad Hit By Bulbar Polio

The recovery of a former Peterborough boy, Bruce Plater, from the deadliest form of infantile paralysis, bulbar poliomyelitis, by means of electrically controlled breathing made medical history this summer. This week the story of his fight for life is published in Life Magazine.

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Plater who lived on Albertus Ave. about two years ago for some two years. The family has since moved to Ottawa.

Last summer the Platers went to Maine for their holidays. They had picked a time when a record polio epidemic was at its height.

Bruce contracted polio and was taken to The Children's Hospital in Boston. It was attacking the respiratory nerve centers of his brain.

Gasped For Breath

Instead of his lungs expanding and contracting in a deep regular rhythm, the boy was gasping erratically for breath. A newly-developed electrophrenic respirator was brought in to help the boy.

By this electronic device, the phrenic nerve which controls breathing was directly stimulated in a regular breath-like ryhthm. Immediately Bruce's gasping stopped and he began to breathe deeply and normally. The device was kept connected three days and nights while the damaged nerve centres recovered and he was able to breathe naturally.

The respirator was developed by Drs. Stanley S. Sarnoff, James L. Whittenberger and Esther Hardenberg at Harvard's School of Public Health.

About the middle of September, Bruce had recovered enough to be flown back to Ottawa where he is in hospital well on the way to complete recovery.

Respiration Has Many Uses

In this case and in other cases similar the electrophrenic respirator could be used where an iron lung would be useless because an iron lung would interfere with the patients own erratic breathing.

Several other uses have been found for the respirator. It can be used to maintain breathing during brain surgery, and to start the breathing of newborn infants. Probably its widest use will be in emergency work to resusciate victims of asphyxia, drowning and electrocution because it is light enough for easy transportation.

Famous Tenor Melchoir Was Once Baritone Singer

Parsifal, Tristan, Siegmund, and the other great heroic roles created by Richard Wagner today are synonymous with the name of Lauritz Melchior, star of the Metropolitan Opera Association, who will appear in concert in Peterborough next Friday at the Summer Gardens.

Considered one of the greatest heroic tenors in musical history, Mr. Melchior more recently has found new success in another career field—motion pictures. Starred in films such as "Thrill of a Romance" "Two Sisters from Boston," "This Time for Keeps" and Luxury Liner," he will complete two pictures, as yet untitled, for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer during 1950.

This versatile man of music was born in Copenhagen and studied music from early childhood. The Melchior School, a famous boys' school in Copenhagen, was founded by Melchior grandfather and father who were experienced in child psychology. His father had a great singing voice himself and encouraged the young boy to study music because he wanted to, and because he found immense satisfation in singing.

Blind Sister

In his youth, Melchior was abetted in his love of music by his sister, Agnes, who is blind. The boy acted as guide for his sister and students from the Royal School for the Blind when they went to the Royal Opera, where the blind had a box underneath the stage. Thus the young Melchior avidly absorbed the great music pouring forth on the stage above them, although he never saw any of the operas until he himself became a singer.

At the age of 18, Melchior began to study singing seriously. four years later he was admitted to the School of the Royal Opera, a privilege given only to the most talented students of the country. Mr. Melchior singing won such favorable comment that while still at school he was offered the role of the elder Germont in "La Traviata." At that time, Mr. Melchior sang as a baritone. Later in his career, a friend convinced him that he was really a tenor and by dint of much study, Melchior changed to the heroic range in which he became famous.

In 1919, he was invited to appear at Queen's Hall in London with Sir Henry Wood conducting. It was there that Hugh Walpole, the great British novelist, first heard Melchior sing. From then on, Hugh Walpole helped Lauritz Melchior with money, sound advice and encouragement. It was at Walpole's suggestion that Melchior went to Beyreuth, where Anna Bahr-Mildenburg, the famous Isolde taught him the Wagherian tradition. With her he coached for his first Wagnerian role, Parsifal, and later Siegmund and the other great heroic roles.

Sang For Cosima Wagner

Shortly before her death, Cosima Wagner and her son, Siegfried, recognizing the great talent of Lauritz Melchior, offered him the chance to study Wagnerian roles with them in Bayreuth. Audiences in Berlin, Bayreuth, Vienna, Paris, London and South American cities acclaimed him in turn. He has been hailed as the world's greatest heroic tenor in the opera houses of three continents and has broken all records for the number of performances of Tristan, Tannhauser, Siegried and other Wagnerian roles.

On February 17, 1946, Melchior celebrated his 20th anniversary at the Metropolitan Opera House with an unusual Wagnerian evening in which he sang Siegmund in the first act of "Die Walkuere," Tristan in the second act of "Tristan und Isolde" and "Lohengrin," third act.

Petite Wife

Melchior is six feet four inches tall and is married to petite Maria Hacker, former European film star, who literally fell into his arms one day. The singer was in a garden in Munich when the girl who was to become Mrs. Melchior bailed out of an airplane and landed by parachute right in front of the amazed Melchior. Mrs. Melchior, affectionately called "Kleinchen" (little one) by her husband, handles all of his business affairs with an efficiency that belies her miniature and fragile appearance.

Melchior, whose Danish court title is "Singer to the Royal Court" was flown to Denmark in the first September after the war for a Command Performance on the 75th birthday of King Christian, and on the same trip sang for allied occupation troops in Europe.

25 Men Seek Hunter Who Had Gone Home

A 25-man search party hunted about five hours for a man who had tired of hunting and hitch-hiked home Saturday evening without letting his hunting partner know he was going.

The two hunters, Lionel Vivian and Fred Toms, Cobourg, were hunting partridge in the Mt Julian area.

About 7 p.m. Vivian called Provincial Police Constable Bert Howden to report his partner was lost. The last he had seen of Toms was about 3:30 in the afternoon.

Constable Howden quickly organized a search party which covered the area, firing off rifles and shouting without any result. The only responses were an unusual number of wolf howls.

Wolves In Area

A great number of wolves were known to be in the area and the searchers were reluctant to give up but by about 11:30 they decided nothing more could be done in the dark.

Constable Howden returned to his cruiser just in time to get a radio call from Peterborough head office which told him Toms was at home in Cobourg. He had tired of hunting and hitch-hiked home without bothering to tell his friend although the two had driven up in Vivian's car.

"The best place for hunters like that," one searcher exclaimed "is at home."

UAW Votes End Of Walkout In Bell Plant

BUFFALO, N.Y., Oct. 19. — (AP). — About 300 employees were recalled to work today following settlement of the four-month-old Bell Aircraft strike.

Local 501 of the United Automobile Workers' Union (CIO) voted Tuesday night to end the walkout and submit the principal issues to arbitration.

The vote was 618 to 373.

The local represents 1,700 production workers at the Bell plant.

The 300 were recalled in telegrams from the company Tuesday. Bell said it plans to resume normal operations "as rapidly as possible."

The settlement was reached Monday by company and union leaders through the offices of a state board of inquiry which entered the dispute Oct. 10.

Left For Arbitration

Monday's agreement, made public with Tuesday night's vote, listed the status of 22 unionists the company has called subversive as the first subject for arbitration.

Bell claims these men led picket line violence at the plant near Niagara Falls. Company refusal to rehire them was a principal obstacle to earlier settlement of the strike.

The men walked out June 13 in demand of pension aids and a 10-cent wage increase. Bell called the demands "unreasonable," saying its wages averaged $1.78 hourly and were among the highest in the arciraft industry.

Men who returned to work during the strike will keep seniority and other rights, according to the agreement, an dwill not be required to join the union.

Pending arbitration, both parties will follow the contract which expired June 12, the agreement added, and all findings of the board will be final.

Minister Asks Keep Youngsters Away From Shows

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 19 (ENS) — Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite of Peterborough was guest speaker at the autumn meeting of Lakefield Home and School Association Monday evening in the Public School.

Speaking on Visual Aid, Mr. Kibblewhite said that sight was the first sense and had a tremendous influence on people.

Today teachers and ministers have to counteract the informal education which children receive outside of the home and the school, he said. The aim of visual education was to continue to link up a new experience with a concrete meaning.

"Children under nine years of age should definitely not see movies, particularly technicolor ones, and parents should be very careful of the movies older children are allowed to see," the minister declared.

Mr. Kibblewhite showed several films after his address.

President Welcomes

Mrs. Clarence Coons, president, welcomed the parents and teachers.

Mrs. T. Corkery gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Vera Deck, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Mrs. M. O'Donnell, convener of Home Education, announced that Mrs. C. Chambers will address meetings at the council chamber on "The Child from 5 to 12", on the first, second fourth and fifth Wednesdays of November.

Mrs. M. Kingdon of the book committee announced a rise in price of the Parent's magazine.

Mrs. Stanley Burger reported 281 free tickets given out at the booth at the Fair Grounds on Field Day. $55.34 was taken in and expenditures were $51.84.

Mrs. Pearl Hendren, School Nurse, reported on last years dental check-up. Of the 266 children examined, 54 had perfect teeth. Only 114 cards were returned, and Mrs. Hendren asked for better cooperation from parents in returning the cards.

Gives Radio To School

Principal E. G. Sloan was presented with a radio for the Public School by Mrs. Coons and Mr. Romeo Leonard from the Home and School Association.

Mr. Sloan thanked the Association for the radio and for treats at the Field Day.

The new teachers of both High and Public School were introduced by Principal R. E. Sutton and Principal E. G. Sloan.

Mr. Sutton spoke briefly on the new rooms which the group inspected. Two new rooms are also being built in Apsley to furnish education for pupils from Chandos.

Misses Alma Cherry and Mary Jane Foster contributed a piano duet and Mr. Bratten gave a vote of thanks to all who took part in the program.

Lunch was served by mothers of Mr. Sloan's pupils.

College Federal Aid Brief Presented

SASKATOON, Oct. 19 (CP) — The case for federal aid to universities was presented to the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences Tuesday by Dr W. P. Thompson, president of the University of Saskatchewan.

He said such grants should not be tied to scholarships or part-time research projects.

Grants in aid of non-scientific research are highly important They would improve the quality of the scholarly work in the humanities and social studies, without them, graduate scholarships would lose much of their value.

Dr. Thompson said he would favor a plan under which limited sums would be provided a larger number of promising but not necessarily exceptional students rather than a plan under which scholarships would be limited to exceptionally-gifted students who probably would receive the entire cost of their university educations.

Mrs. D. Olan Examined After Street Accident

MILLBROOK, Oct. 19.—(ENS). —Mrs. Dick Olan was taken by ambulance to Peterborough on Tuesday to determine the extent of her injuries received in the car accident Saturday in front of Pethick's store. X-rays revealed two small bones broken at the base of the spine, and she was allowed to return home. Dr. J. W. Wright was unable to make a thorough examination without X-ray because the hip was badly bruised, and Mrs. Olan had no use of one leg.

The accident occurred after Mrs. Olan got out of her car to cross the road. She saw the lights of Ted MacDonald's tractor parked at the corner, but did not see the lights of the oncoming car driven by Russell Sutton. It was at 9 p.m.

Woman Politician In Bermuda Does Four Jobs

By DOROTHY ROE

PAGET, Bermuda, Oct. —(AP) —When the surreys and the 10-horsepower taxis get into a traffic snarl in Bermuda, the gal who has to straighten them out is Montreal-born Mrs. Edna Watson.

One of two women members of Bermuda's parliament, Mrs. Watson is a bland, blonde woman of genteel manner, who looks as if her proper background would be an English garden party.

Actually, she manages to run much of Bermuda's government business, conducts a successful group of guest houses, runs a farm and in her spare time works as a physiotherapist at the local military hospital.

At her stately home, Scarrington Lodge, she is every inch the hostess, intent upon her guest's comfort. In parliament, she is considered a political power to be reckoned with. Discussing her surprising and recent political career over fragile coffee cups and old silver at her home here, she said:

"I never had considered going into politics. The nice Bermuda men always have considered woman's place was in the home.

"We have had women's suffrage here only since 1944, you know. The 1948 elections were the first time a woman could run for office. The thing all came up very suddenly. I was asked on Thursday to stand for parliament. The next Thursday I was in.

Mrs. Watson made no speeches, did no campaigning. Instead, she took an advertisement in the local newspaper to publish her platform, which included: Old age pensions, courses in hotel training in the local schools and social security. She said.

"This was an unheard - of method of seeking public office, but apparently it worked. Anyway, I was elected."

Holds Cabinet Status

Now she is chairman of the transport control board and the social welfare board, two of the most important committee posts in the Bermuda House of Assembly.

The problem of planning an adequate transport program for Bermuda, which until recently allowed no automobiles on the island, keeps her busy most of the day. Some of the old residents want to go back to the horse and buggy days. Others seek to raise the present 20-mile speed limit for automobiles (still limited to 10 horsepower).

What Mrs. Watson wants to do is plan an over-all transit system with ferries and busses, so that Bermudians can get to and from work without depending on taxis, as most of them do now.

Mrs. Watson was born in Montreal and came to Bermuda with her husband after he was gassed in the First World War.

For a time the Watsons ran a farm, raised horses and generally enjoyed life, while Mrs. Watson filled the roles of wife and hostess. But, a graduate of McGill University and a former physiotherapist, with the Canadian army during the First World War, she needed wider interests.

After her husband's death she enlisted again with the Canadian army during the Second World War. Returning, she expanded Scarrington Lodge into a series of guest houses, continued her truck farming and apparently managed to have no idle time. When the opportunity arrived to enter public service, she managed to work that in also.

Let Children Eat Foods They Enjoy

SWANWICK, Derbyshire, England, Oct.—(CP) —If your little boy or girl decides to eat nothing but ice cream all through one day, don't worry, Dr. Elspeth Grant told a conference of mothers.

"Next day they choose for themselves the other things they need for a healthy diet," Dr. Grant, assistant medical officer of health at Birmingham, said.

"Young children have a great capacity for regulating their own meals. One good way to bring up children is to offer them a buffet of all sorts of healthy foods and let them eat as much as they like of anything they fancy."

There were certain "practical objections" to such a scheme, but it produced healthier children with better appetites.

State Finances Women's Figures

LONDON Oct. —(CP)— Portly British matrons are taking off those extra pounds at government expense.

"Doctor, I'm putting on weight," is a frequently-heard opening remark when madam enters the consulting room.

As often as not, the physician writes out a prescription for a fat - reducing drug. National Health Service foots the bills.

"Don't blame the doctor, said a Harley street specialist. "If he refused to treat these cases the patients would go to someone else."

The ministry of health explained that overweight can be a health hazard and a bad thing for a woman's psychology. The ministry would leave the matter to the doctor's judgment.

"If some women are being slimmed for frivolous reasons, it is because there is always a small percentage of people prepared to exploit anything of this kind to the full," said a ministry official.

A lovely fall wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Cathedral Monday morning between Bernadette Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thom. Lynch, and Michael R. Anglesey, son of Mrs. Anglesey and the late P. J. Anglesey, all of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by Rt. Rev. T. J. Crowley, of Sault Ste. Keith G. Davidson Marries Toronto Girl

A pretty wedding in Evangel Temple, Toronto, on Saturday was that of Keith George Davidson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Davidson, 611 George Street, Peterborough, who took as his bride Lorna Amelia Thornhill, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thornhill, Toronto. The Rev. Willis McPherson officiated, assisted by the groom's grandfather, the Rev. G. A. Chambers of Kitchener. Ferns and 'mums in autumn shades decorated with church. Miss Lucy Cooper played wedding music and Miss Barbara Warne of Peterborough sang the "Lord's Prayer" before the service and at the signing of the register, "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white satin trimmed with French lace styled with a wide neckline, long tight sleeves and a skirt with bustle effect which extended in a long train. Her full length veil was caught to a satin headdress trimmed with seed pearls and she was carrying a cascade of white 'mums and red roses.

Miss Ciela Carter, maid of honor, Miss Betty Davidson, sister of the bride, junior bridesmaids, were dressed in identically fashioned gowns of gold satin with tight bodices with wide necklines and long tight sleeves forming points over their hands, the skirts shirred at the back, draping gracefully into short trains. These effective gowns were designed by the maid of honor. Each attendant wore a green velvet poke bonnet and carried a matching muff with a corsage of bronze baby 'mums and ivy.

The groom's brother Mr. Bill Davidson of Peterborough, was his attendant. Mr. George Spaetzel of Kitchener, Reg. Carter of Toronto and Fred Springs of Peterborough ushered.

The reception was at The Towers where about 90 guests were received. The bride's mother was in green crepe with matching accesories and wore a corsage of yellow 'mums. The groom's mother chose dark grey crepe and teal blue accessories and wore Talisman roses.

The couple left on a motor trip to Boston and other points, going by way of the Thousand Island Bridge. For travelling Mrs. Davidson wore a navy suit, rust accessories and a corsage of bronze baby 'mums. On return they will live in Toronto.

A large amount of business was dealt with by the Business and Professional Women's Club on Monday evening which caused their regular dinner meeting to be dispensed with. President Miss S. Eastwood presided.

Detailed reports of the convention Saturday and Sunday in Ottawa were given by Miss Florence Hutchinson and Miss Helen Lytle, delegates. They advised that about 300 women represented 37 clubs from Ontario, Quebec and western provinces, with Dominion president Miss Ruth McGill of Regina and Mrs. Maud Cawsey of Toronto, Ontario president, present, also six regional advisers.

Dinner speaker was Mrs. Leu, wife of the ambassador extraordinary and plenipentiary of China a BA of Smith University, MA of Columbia and noted Chinese historia. She spoke on the position of women in China, outlining lives of famous Chinese women.

Miss Margaret Hyndman, first vice-president of the International Federation, spoke at the Sunday luncheon. She talked of her recent trip to Finland where she attended the International Federation meeting in Helsinki where four new clubs were welcomed from Austria, Australia, South Africa and Rhodesia. While there Miss Hyndman had the pleasure of being entertained by Sibeulies and hearing a program composed completely of his own works.

Following the reports, the club made final plans for the tea being held in the YWCA Green Room on Wednesday afternoon, October 26. Tickets were distributed on a hostess fruit basket which is to be drawn for.

Rev. C. G. Boyd Addresses Trinity WMA

Thankoffering meeting of Trinity Missionary Auxiliary, was held Tuesday afternoon in the ladies's parlors. Mrs. A. Legon, president, introduced the guest speaker the Rev. C. G. Boyd. His timely message clearly established the fact that "Faith in Jesus Christ" is the keynote of the Christian way of life.

The "Perfect Prayer" was pleasingly rendered by guest soloist Mrs. C. J. Weldon, accompanied by Mrs. N. Moncrief. Mrs. G. Hill read the scripture lesson and Miss Helen Hodgens led in thanksgiving prayer

The Auxiliary planned to purchase "World Friends" paper for the Mission Band children in the coming year. Mrs. W. Edmondson reported 18 house and five hospital calls made during the month.

Prizes Galore Feature Cooking School

"Where have all those people been shopping at this hour?" queried late evening main-streeters Tuesday, and no wonder.

About 25 women leaving the IODE cooking school at the Collegiate were carrying large shopping bags well filled with groceries and about 15 others had door prizes which ranged from an electric iron to a beauty kit. Their tickets had been drawn by Mrs. H. I. Keefer, a co-convener of this project.

Mrs. C. M. Scott, regent of 57th Regiment Chapter, IODE, welcomed the 600 attendants at the opening night. Miss Mary Greer, regent of Peter Robinson Chapter, which is jointly supervising the school, was on the platform. Members of the order were on hand to give out program leaflets and recipe books, and at intermission they sold illustrated cook books which are offered at a reduced price by the IODE. These will also be available Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Demonstrations of how to make sausage rolls, fruit muffins, gingerbread squares and shortbread were given on the stage by Mrs. L. Ballentine. She stressed the importance of having good measuring equipment for success in baking, and warned always to sift flour before measuring.

The food value of porridge, especially in winter months, was pointed out, backed by the words of a doctor, who says it gives children much stronger bones—is also very good for the nerves. She suggested that if the figure shows need of cutting down on the diet, omit the toast at breakfast, but always have fruit juice, porridge and beverage

Some of the prize-winners Tuesday evening were: Mrs. C. L. Upper, Mrs. H. Clegg, Mrs. A. Parrington, Mrs. C Boate, Mrs. H. Northrop, Mrs. Chas. Hamilton, Mrs. Hugh Redmond, Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. Gledhill, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Sanders.

The articles baked during the evening and a tasty pie were presented to the newest bride in the audience.

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage With a Degree How Good a Bet is She?

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think a college education tends to decrease a girl's chance of marriage? My observation shows that boys shy away from the college graduate in many cases. I know many fine, intelligent, good-looking girls with college educations who never had a date. It seems to me that a college education should be an asset to marriage.

HELEN

ANSWER: Undoubtedly a college education is an asset to marriage because the more a woman knows and the broader-minded she is the better fitted she is to make a good wife. Every woman who has a husband to get along with, a house to run, dinner to cook, a baby to rear, needs all that any college can teach her of biology and psychology and chemistry and finance.

There are many reasons why a well-educated woman makes a better wife than an illiterate one. To begin with, she is, as a general thing, easier to get along with and more reasonable to live with because she has a wider outlook on life and has been trained to see both sides of a subject. Then she is more interesting to live with because she reads and thinks and has something entertaining to talk about. And, finally, no matter how old she gets to be nor how much she loses her complexion, she never gets to be as ugly as an ignorant woman is.

Learning Pays

I have travelled much in countries in which only a few of the higher-up women are educated, and as I looked at the dull, stupid, sodden faces of the middle-aged and old women, without one ray of intelligence to light them up, I thought that it paid to educate women just to make them easier on the eyes, if for no other reason.

No women are so set in their ways and so impossible to manage as ignorant women. Nor are any women such naggers as they who never read or think and who, having no new ideas, are driven to harping continually on the same subject. So for every reason the college-bred woman is the best matrimonial bet, but unfortunately not all men are wise enough to know this, and it is true that statistics show that a college educatiodn is no help toward getting a husband.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am one of three girls, all employed and making good salaries. We are the support of our mother. I personally have been working for fifteen years, during which time I have handed over my pay envelope to my mother without opening it and have only received a small allowance out of it. The time has come now when I would like to make arrangements to get married, but cannot do so as I have not the money necessary to get the clothes I need. I have asked mother to increase my allowance for this purpose, but she has refused to do so. What shall I do?

ANXIOUS READER

ANSWER: If you have the backbone of a fishing worm, you will turn, and refuse to turn over your salary to your greedy mother all the matter is in your own hands, as she has no way of getting hold of your money unless you give it to her. Of course, it is your duty to help support your mother, and you and your sisters should agree upon what is a fair amount and give it to her, but you are foolish to turn over your entire earnings to her and just have the pittance she chooses to give you.

Mothers take a queer attitude toward their daughters' earnings. Nearly always they seem to think that all the money their daughters make belongs to them by rights. The worker is entitled to her wage. Even if it is necessary to spend every cent of it on the support of the family, handle your own money and, at least, have the satisfaction of giving it yourself

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: What stand should a husband take who has a philandering wife? We were married five years, have two sons, and I have devoted all of my time to my work and trying to make a success of our domestic life, but my wife was not content with just my love. Now we are separated. Our children separated from their father and their mother and even parted from each other. What stand can a father take in this case?

W. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If your wife is an actually immoral woman, then you had best let her go for your own and the children's sake. But there are many women who are not really bad at heart, who just philander because they are weak and vain and crave the admiration of men. If your wife is one of these it might be happier for you and the forlorn little kiddies, for you to forgive and forget.

Fall Fashions In Hats Suit High Collars

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, Oct. —(CP)— Britain's fall hat fashions follow the latest Paris trends. They are built for the high, ear-hugging collars of this year's winter coats.

There is height in crown, brim or feather mount. And there are cloches, bonnets, skull caps, eggshell caps and many new versions of the beanie.

The new peaked shovel brim sweeps upward like a visor from a bonnet of slate-grey fur felt. Midnight-blue velvet, forming a soft side-drape emphasizes the deep-cut hairline.

Height is again achieved in a high-crowned helmet in lime wool felt with soaring mount sweeping up from the back to a plume with pom-pom top. The hat is finished by a chenille-dotted veil.

A new conical crown is carried out in rich rust velour felt with striking feather mount. A "chimney-stack" crown is featured in cherry-red wool felt with grey and red side-drape of Petersham ribbon.

An "arrow-line" beret in soft crystal-fawn beaver with pheasant quill sweeping diagonally from a cluster of ostrich feathers gives the squared, unbrimmed height fashionable in the '20s.

A teen-age "night-cap" style in bottle green corduroy has a tucked-in crown with fringed silk tassels.

Feathers Add Height

There were many beanie variations. the small round brims sweeping in intricate swirls to accommodate the fluffy feather mounts used to give height to these small, head-hugging hats

One variation in donkey brown wool felt has rolled nigger velvet brim, side mount and face veil. Another is a bat-winged cap in black fur felt with side cluster of silk fringing.

There are many cloches and berets with side-swept brims and colorful feather mounts. Often two shades of felting are used in the brim, or a contrasting velvet which ends in a soft side drape

Rabbit's and donkey's ears in felting give height to some roll or fold-brim bonnet types.

Ready For Cocktails

For cocktails there are numerous skull-caps and eggshell bonnets with bead embroidery and spotted veiling. Height in these is achieved by spiked feather mounts with pom-pom finish usually rising from soft chou of maribou.

A cocktail cape in amethyst velvet with scatter-bead crown has a side-chou of toning feathers in silver grey. These fall softly downwards like a fringe, but spiky quills rise from it to a pom-pom finish, to give necessary height.

These hats, shown by the Millinery Information Centre are mass productions already making their way to the shop windows. Prices range from less than 15 shillings to 80 shillings ($2.30 to $12.80).

Displaced Persons Could Help Canada

EDMONTON, —(CP)—After a three-month visit to more than a score of displaced persons camps in Europe, Mrs. D. E. Yanda, a representative of Ukrainian-Canadian relief fund committees, thinks the Dominion should admit more Europeans who have no country.

"Many of the finest European minds—doctors, lawyers, writers and artists—who before the war lived far better than most Canadians, are waiting in camps in Europe. All they want is a chance to come to North America, to educate their families and contribute what they can—which is a great deal—to Canadian life."

Mrs. Yanda said living conditions in the displaced persons camps were "very bad" but despite that, morale was high and there was much hope for the future.

Food was poor but the camp residents carried on such normal activities as setting up their own kindergartens. public and high schools, opera and choral groups and sometimes university courses.

In Hanover, Germany, 22 university professors have banded together to teach in the camp's mechanical school.

"This only shows what fine citizens these 26,000 intellectuals would make," Mrs. Yanda says. "They not only speak English, but, not being sure what country they would be sent to, have learned five or six languages as well."

Mrs. Yanda says she came out of Europe with two impressions. First, the Dominion should let in more displaced persons who can contribute to industry, science and art; and secondly, despite the high cost of living and the housing shortage in Canada, "We don't know how lucky we are."

465 Visits Made By CAS Staff In September

During September, 465 visits were made by the staff of the Children's Aid Society and there were 145 office interviews, Miss Rachael Young, Superintendent of the Society, reported on Tuesday.

Four hundred and forty-one cases were known to the Society during the month.

A further breakdown shows there were 20 family situations involving delinquency of children, desertion, marital discord, inadequate supervision and illness. Police, other societies, neighbors, an employer, lawyer and a personal application were the various sources of information.

Eight children were discharged from care: five through adoption; one, a ward of another Society, was returned to it; another reached his majority, and the eighth was married.

Placed Under Care

Another eight were brought under the care of the Society. There were four applications for adoption already living in the home; one was a request for supervision of a child where the adopting parents had moved into this County; and three were wards of another Society now resident in the County.

"One of the things which causes us great concern is moving children from one home to another," said Miss Young. "It is not recognized that a great deal of damage is done to children when this is necessary. Every effort is made to interpret to the child why a move is necessary, but it is difficult and with younger children, impossible."

Three children were moved from one foster home to another. Two were returned to the Shelter —one of them to attend Collegiate. The other was placed in a foster home he knew well. One child, a resident of the Shelter, was also placed in a foster home; another was made a permanent ward.

In unmarried work there were four cases of girls requesting assistance in planning for a baby; in two other cases, outside Societies had requested the alleged father be interviewed with a view to getting maintenance, and the seventh was a request from another Society to interview the unmarried mother now in this community.

Given 3 Months As Third Offender

Found guilty of a third intoxication offence, William Hanrahan, Lakefield, was sentenced to three months in jail by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court Wednesday morning.

Hanrahan had pleaded not guilty. Constable Sherman Keliele testified he had seen Hanrahan at the bus terminal on King St. Saturday night.

He said Hanrahan had told him he was going to take the bus home, but did not have a ticket nor money to buy one.

He said Hanrahan smelled of wine, wavered when he stood still and couldn't walk straight. He said the man was obviously drunk. He had tried to hide a bottle of wine on the ground beside a car a short distance from the terminal, but denied the wine was his.

Hanrahan said he had had two bottles of wine which he had drunk with some friends in Lakefield during the day and had come into Peterborough later. He testified he was not drunk.

University Women Get Impetus From Conference

Miss Margaret McCulloch addressed the Women's University Club at the monthly meeting this week, presenting a detailed account of the Triennial Conference held in Vancouver in August to which she was a delegate. The meetings were held in Brock Hall on the University of BC campus, an enviable site on a point jutting into the Pacific with mountains forming a bluish backdrop.

In a summation of her report, Miss McCulloch had the following suggestions for the Peterborough Club to start working on to make thetir mark in the community. 1. Give leadership in the matter of combatting cheap literature, comics and unsuitable movies. Details can be obtained from other clubs who have already done pioneer work in this field, and recommendations of the Government which is taking this question up right now can be implemented. 2. Appoint a Library committee to keep the club informed on local problems which might lead to the appointment of a member on the Library Board. 3. Have panel discussions by members on the work of some of the standing committees of CFUW, such as international relations and legal and economic status of women, and perhaps have a girl from a factory present to give her point of view in the discussion.

Canadian Federation president Mrs. Crummy presided over the sessions for which 235 delegates were registered, representing 41 clubs. Dr. Geoff Andrews, executive secretary to the UBC president, spoke on "The University and contemporary social values," stressing the unequal distribution of natural gifts, whether dealing with countries or individuals, and the responsibility which devolves on the "haves." He made a plea for greater interest in social sciences and humanities and suggested that permits are gained with the ex'pending of talent and effort on research in these fields.

Dinner speaker, Dr. Vibert Douglas, president of IFUW, advised the club women that the Federation has observers at United Nations who are able to discuss any question before the committees though they cannot initiate any business.

Members were advised in the president's address that the CFUW has a job to guide women into positions in public life and that University Women should be ready to supply leadersip in current problems. She asked for more scholarships and more News Letters to keep clubs in touch. For aims, she suggested the following fields of leadership: (1) Federal aid for education; (2) Creative Arts — radio and film —as a path to national and international understanding; (3) Support of the United Nations.

The front of the car driven by Miss Oliver struck tehe right side at the rear of the Blodgett car knocking the Blodgett car over on its side.

Ask Quick Action On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—(AP)—Congressional leaders called for swift action today on a newly put together farm bill giving the United States government broad power to support crop prices near present high levels indefinitely.

With the House of Representatives due to vote first, passage of the measure seemed certain before the windup of this session of Congress, expected tonight.

The Bill would permit reductions in price supports for all but a few major commodities next year. However, it gives the agriculture department a choice between such action and maintenance of present support standards. In some cases, the actual supports would be higher than they are now.

The measure apparently spells defeat—or at least a long delay—for agriculture secretary Charles Brannan's plan to give U.S. customers the benefit of unsupported farm prices, with the government paying subsidies to farmers to assure them a predetermined "fair" price for their products.

Atomic Talk Flourishes Anew In All United Nations Groups

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 19—(CP)—The phrase "atomic weapons" is becoming the most frequently heard in the United Nations.

And in U. N. halls the volume of words on a subject almost alway indicates its importance.

Atomic talk here flourished anew since President Truman announced Sept. 23 evidence of an atomic explosion in Russia. This week all records will probably be broken when the subject will be discussed directly in at least three U. N. bodies.

Indirect references to Russia's presumed possession of atomic weapons—which the Soviet-bloc states have been tossing in during discussion of a variety of unrelated topics—is expected to continue.

Both Russia and the western powers say they want international control which would prohibit atomic weapons. More than three years of discussions have brought no answer to how control should be organized, acceptable to both sides. The Soviet bloc rejected the plan approved last year by 46 members of the 59-members United Nations.

Meanwhile the topic has been injected by Russia into the 11-member Security Council during a discussion on a French plan to take a world census of non-atomic weapons as a step toward disarmament.

Russia urged that the 59 U. N. members "submit information" on atomic and conventional armaments. The western powers argue that submission of information would be useless without a system of checking on the information; that the majority of U. N. members already have approved a plan for gathering information on atomic weapons.

Plan Misleading

L. B. Pearson, Canada's External Affairs Minister, described the Russian proposal as "dangerously misleading and inadequate."

The main debate on the topic is expected to centre in the political committee during discussion of "peace proposals" submitted by Andrei Y. Vishinsky Russia's Foreign Minister. Pearson in chairman of the 59-members commmittee which tackles the toughest U. N. problems.

Vishinsky proposed that the "assembly call for a peace pact among the big five powers and declare that use of atomic weapons is against the principles of the United Nations.

Western spokesmen have described Vishinsky's resolution as an olive branch surrounded by thorns. In its opening paragraph it blasts the United States and Britain as preparing for a new war.

A U.S. spokesman has indicated that his country will have a proposal to counter Vishinsky's. The U. S. plan will point to the majority plan for atomic control approved by the assembly and rejected by the Soviet bloc.

Pearson has been discussing with other leading delegates a proposal that the Assembly call for a ban on use of atomic weapons except against an aggressor.

EAST MEETS WEST—Westerners meet easterners at the annual convention of the Canadian University Liberal Federation held in Montreal. Here, G. A. Fahlman, of the University of British Columbia, left, compares notes with Miss June Marler of McGill University and daughter of George C. Marler, Quebec Liberal leader, and C. George Robertson Dalhousie University, Halifax, son of Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader in the Senate.

Cavan News

Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson, Weston, were recent visitors of Mrs. Robert Robertson.

Mrs. Ada Armstrong is spending two weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. F. Hanna and Mr. Hanna at Boston, Mass.

Miss Katharyn Elson, Gananoque, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Elson.

Mrs. Keith Campbell and baby daughter have returned home from St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

WINDSOR, Oct. 19 (CP)—City council Tuesday night heard and accepted a motion of protest against a proposed rental increase on some 2,700 Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation homes here. The motion was brought before council by a delegation representing the tenants.

Ham Operators Told BanOnCommunicating

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 (CP) — W. A. Caton, chief radio inspector for Canada, said Tuesday night he knew of "no special reason" why several foreign countries have forbidden their "ham" operators to communicate with other countries.

"But it's nothing new," he added, commenting on a Washington report that the federal communications commission had informed United States amateur radio operators of the ban.

The countries are: Austria, Burma, French Settlements in Oceana, Greece, Indo-China, Indonesia, Iran, Israel, Lebanon, Madagascar and Dependencies, Mauritius, Netherlands Antilles, Siam, St. Pierre and Miquelon, Togoland, (territory under French trusteeship).

Cemetery Vandals Prove To Be Rooks

RAINHAM, Kent, England — (CP)—Child vandals were blamed at first for destruction in Rainham's cemetery where flowers were scattered and vases emptied and some broken.

But when a watch was kept it was found rooks from a nearby rookery were responsible. The rooks, thirsty because of the drought, tipped over vases to drink the water they contained.

Ida Lupino, Only Woman Director In Motion Pictures Likes Her Job

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16 (AP)—How does it feel to be Hollywood's only woman director?

Fine, says Ida Lupino. But she has advice for others of her sex who want to direct films: keep your powder dry and your puff handy.

In case you don't know what a director is—he (in this case, she) is the only one who tells the actors what to do. Most cinema students agree that he is the key factor in the making of a movie: given a workable script, he can make or break a picture.

"Directing is a tough job in itself, but there are added hardships for a woman," declared Miss Lupino. "It takes more time for a woman to keep up her appearance than it does a man. And when a woman lets herself go a bit, she feels let down and depressed; it also affects the morale of the cast and crew.

Masculine Sphere

"Several times I shot until seven in the evening, then watched rushes until 11. I didn't have time for shampoos and pin curls. I found myself coming on the set with a scarf around my head.

"There was noticeable lag among the crew. Right away I took time out for a new hairdo."

After a taste of producing "Not Wanted" with Anson Bond and her husband, Collier Young, she decided to direct "Never Fear."

The actress admitted she was nervous. To soothe herself, she did a typically feminine thing — she bought a new outfit.

"It did wonders for my morale," she recalled. "But I was still scared."

Capsule Reviews

"Pinky" (TCF) chips away at a massive problem—the negro in the south. It is done with taste and restraint and thus loses power by failing to meet issues head on. But it rates high as entertainment, achieving a number of high points.

"Beyond the Forest" (WB) is being plugged with the blurb "nobody's as good as Bette Davis when she's bad." Those who hold to this notion will enjoy this film. Bette was never badder than as the small-town hellcat who is out for a thrill.

BRAMPTON, Oct. 20 (CP) — White-coated hospital attendants carried plaintiff Clark Charles Elliot, 13-year-old Indian boy, into to court today to give evidence in his suit for $110,000 damages in an accident Oct. 18, 1948.

Witnesses testified in the Supreme Court hearing that Elliot was riding a bicycle during a severe rainstorm and was involved in an accident with a truck, which police said was driven by defendant Norman Leslie, 19, of Streetsville.

Dr. A. J. Henderson, of Brampton, testified the boy's back was broken and "he will never walk again."

The boy has been in Sunnybrook Hospital, in suburban Toronto, since the accident which severed his spinal cord.

Jack Friend, 15, of Huttonville, told the court how he and Clark Elliot were returning to school on bicycles the day of the accident

"It had been raining off and on," he said, "and there were quite a few puddles on the roads Just as we got off the south end of the bridge, Clark swung over to the east side and with his head down started to pedal for a puddle of water. I saw the truck coming north in the middle of the road and yelled for him to look out but Clark didn't seem to hear me.

"He had his head down and I don't think he saw the truck at all. Clark flew through the air and the truck continued on and hit the bridge abuttment. My chum landed on the pavement."

Ernest Caldwell said the truck seemed to be in the centre of the road and forced the automobile he was driving onto the gravel portion.

Sweeps Prizes Total 2 Million

DUBLIN, Oct. 20 (CP)—Holders of tickets on the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes for next week's Cambridgeshire race will divide up prize money totalling £794,900 ($2,464,190).

The prize total was disclosed today as pretty Irish nurses began drawing numbers from a tankcar-sized drum to determine those who will share in the payoff.

Fund officials also announced that 13 top prizes of £25,000 ($77,500) each will go to persons drawing the horse that wins the Cambridgeshire Stakes Oct. 26 at Newmarket, England. Before the devaluation of the pound the top prizes were worth $100,000 each, but fund officials don't expect any complaints from those lucky enough to win.

The addresses of the non-Irish winners in today's draw will not be disclosed until after the running of the Cambridgeshire next.

The first number drawn on the horse Fil D'Or II, a non-runner, was PD42866. The ticket holder took the nom de plume "one more try."

The first number drawn with any chance of winning big prize money was on the horse Starpoint, with odds at 40 to one. The number was KR 11309, under the name or nom de plume "F. E. Ohrvall."

Believe 4,000 Dead In Guatemala Flood

GUATEMALA, Guatemala, Oct. 20 (AP)—A Red Cross-United States army relief mission today launched an aerial survey of Guatemala's mounting flood toll, already estimated at some 4,000 lives and $50,000,000 in property destruction.

In one town, 1,000 children were reported homeless, many of their parents presumably dead. Coffee producers estimated at least 30 per cent of their $33,000,000 crop has been destroyed.

Uncounted thousands of cattle were destroyed. Entire holdings of thousands of pitifully poor peasant families have been wiped out.

Captain Smelled Of Liquor Policeman Says

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP)—Constable William Duggan of Toronto testified today that Captain William Taylor of the steamship Noronic "smelled of liquor" after the fire but there was nothing in his actions to indicate he was intoxicated.

Duggan, a witness at the federal inquiry into the cruise ship disaster, said he saw the captain on pier nine about 3:25-3:30 a.m. (EDT).

"He was set, dishevelled, very red in the face,' Duggan told assistant commission counsel J. M. Godfrey.

Duggan said that other than the smell of liquor, there was nothing in the captain's actions to indicate he was intoxicated.

"I put down everything in his actions to shock," he said.

The constable said he first saw the captain in the company of a detective, who asked "me to escort him to a waiting room. We noticed he had a cut on his hand and wanted to take him to hospital."

"Why did you feel you had to give Captain Taylor a hand?"

Wanted To Go Back

"He wanted to go back to the docks."

"What did you do then?"

"We took him to the other end of the waiting room."

"Sometime then there was a photograph?"

"Yes."

"And what was the captain doing at that time?"

"He threw up his hands . . . he said he didn't want to go to the hospital."

"Did you smell any liquor?"

"I could smell drink."

"How far away were you?"

"About a foot away from him."

Government In UK Offers Guarantee Export Losses

LONDON, Oct. 20—(Reuters)—The government Wednesday night offered to go into partnership with manufacturers willing to launch sales drives in the dollar markets. Its export credits guarantee department said it would guarantee manufacturers against a proportion of any losses which they might incur as a result of such an effort. Orders went out Wednesday night for a corps of hand-picked supersalesmen in British industrial centres to approach exporters and potential exporters to interest them in this new scheme—the first new plan announced officially as a follow-up to devaluation of the pound.

The export credits guarantee department, which is empowered by parliament to undertake risks amounting at any one time to £600,000,000, is extending its previous services by offering to give guarantees in connection with market research, advertising and stock maintenance in North America.

The organization has hitherto offered guarantees only to cover exporters' losses resulting from the bankruptcy of customers or from transference problems. Under these heads the organization has assisted 10,000 firms to export goods valued at $1,500,000,000 and hast done so without incurring, thus far, any cost to the British taxpayer. At present it carries risks totalling £285,000,000.

The new plan was disclosed by Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, Wednesday night and was later explained in detail at a press conference by Somerville Smith, director-general of the export credits guarantee department.

Tough Market

"The North American market is notoriously tough," Wilson said at a meeting of the British Electrical and Allied Manufacturers' Association. "We have no intention of molly-coddling British exporters—they don't need it—but we have equally no intention

RCAF Officer Attends Talks

OTTAWA, Oct. 20—(CP)—Air Vice Marshal H. L. Campbell, 41-year-old head of the RCAF's big Northwest Air Command, today was appointed Canada's permanent military spokesman for Atlantic Pact defence talks.

He will become head of the Canadian joint staff in Washington and Canadian representative to the standing group of the military committee of the Atlantic Pact, defence headquarters announced.

The military committee comprises military leaders of the Atlantic Pact country. On the standing group are the United Kingdom; the United States and Canada but provision is made for consultation with any country on matters of immediate concern to it.

Air Vice-Marshall Campbell, one of the youngest senior officers in the RCAF, has been head of the big North West Command since April this year.

He has been 20 years in the service. At the start of the Second World War was director of Training Plans and did much of the early planning for the Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

Social Services May Be Curbed

LONDON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The British Government, hunting drastic economies, appeared ready today to halt expansion of its cradle-to-grave social services.

Political informants said the social services and the armed forces are two of the main targets of Prime Minister Clement Attlee's economy drive.

Each takes about one-quarter of the country's annual budget of £3,000,000,000 ($9,300,000,000).

The cabinet's economy policy committee met again today. It is believed to have completed a strict economy program which Attlee will announce Monday in the House of Commons.

Final approval by the Cabinet is expected tomorrow. The Cabinet met today but was said to have considered mainly routine business. Its special meeting tomorrow will deal with the cuts, which probably will affect the lives of all 50,000,000 Britons.

Political informants say among the things scrutinized in the social services were the free medical program and food subsidies.

Princess Gets Told Off For Comments On Divorce

LONDON, Oct. 20—(AP)—Britain's Marriage Law Reform Committee today publicly rebuked Princess Elizabeth for saying that divorces lead to many of Britain's social evils.

R. S. W. Pollard, chairman of the committee of Sociologists and Lawyers who want divorces made easier to get, said the Princess had the wrong slant and her comment was regrettable.

"We have observed (it) with regret," he said.

Pollard's statement to the press was unusual in that it constituted an open disagreement with a member of the Royal family.

The Princess statement was the strongest ever made by modern British Royalty about specific sociological problems. Deploring what she called falling moral standards here, she told a British Mothers' Union rally Tuesday that "divorces and separations are responsible for some of the darkest evils of our society."

Mr. Pollard said that "divorce and separation are not themselves responsible for the evils she refers to."

"It is the causes, such as inadequate housing, unstable partners, which lead to the break-up of marriages and are responsible for some of the bad effects to which the Princess referred.

"Divorce only recognizes in law an existing state of facts that a marriage has failed. The harm to children can be greater in a home where both parents are at loggerheads than if divorce ensues."

The Princess had said that children suffered through divorce.

Ontario PC's Acknowledge Party Split

Claim Toronto Group Too Bossy Kelso Roberts Says

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP) — Kelso Roberts said today discontent in the ranks of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association is directed against "individuals and groups who happen to live in Toronto and who exercise control which should be held only by those chosen by election." Mr. Roberts, unsuccessful candidate for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party in Ontario, commented on reports of a "wide shake-up" expected at the Association's annual meeting here Nov. 7-8.

"There are lots of people who talk very independently from their home grounds about these things but when they come to provincial gatherings in the city they act like sheep," he said.

Mr. Roberts a Toronto mining lawyer, said certain individuals who were responsible for much of the party friction had played an important part in bringing the party to power.

"However, the sort of activity they are in now can't go on without a halt. . . Parties go through these cycles during which they can commit suicide or make a complete overhaul. It's time the overhauling was done."

Dissatisfaction is said to arise from complaints of rural members of the Association that party patronage is controlled by "Toronto lawyers" who are not members of Legislature. No criticism is directed by the party members towards the government of Premier Frost.

Belleville Man Dies Of Shock

TRENTON, Oct 20 — (CP) — James Crosbie, 33, R.R. 3, Belleville, died Wednesday night 10 hours after he suffered a 500-volt electric shock while operating a power crane at Trenton RCAF station.

After artificial respiration and a pulmotor obtained from the Belleville fire department failed to bring him around, the RCAF flew an iron lung here from Kingston. He died in the lung shortly before nine o'clock Wednesday night without having regained consciousness. It was not known how he sustained the shock, but an inquest will be held.

Crosbie was pronounced dead in the station hospital by Dr. E. A. McCualg, Trenton. The victim is survived by his wife.

Conciliation Board Asked By Railwaymen

MONTREAL, Oct. 20—((CP)—Spokesmen for 30,000 railway employees said Wednesday that efforts of conciliation officers from the Federal Labor Department have not brought results in negotiations with the major Canadian railways and a conciliation board should be set up

The statement was issued by T. McGregor, chairman of the joint negotiating committee, and T. Clark, grand president of the Brotherhood of Express Employees. They have been leading the joint committee in discussions with M. M. MacLean and H. R. Pettigrove, conciliation officers of the Labor Department.

They said the conciliation officers were told "the truth of the matter is that the railway management has failed to negotiate in any respect the demands for a 40-hour week with the same take-home pay; a 10-cent-an-hour increase in basic wage rate and union security."

Defence Department Auditor Shoots Self

OTTAWA Oct 20 — (CP). — Police said today a Defence Department auditor shot himself to death in a government building. The man was identified as Reuben Johnson 44, an auditor in the Defence Department Inspection Division.

Grant Mrs. Pitre Bail

QUEBEC, Oct. 20—(CP)—Mrs. Arthur Pitre, key witness in the Quebec air disaster murder case, today was allowed bail of $500 after her preliminary hearing on a charge of attempted suicide was adjourned until Oct. 26. Defence Counsel Irenee Simard said his client was "very ill" as the 41-year-old woman was led back to cells to await posting of the bail.

Claim Company Attempting To Provoke Strike

The impasse between CGE and the UE-CIO remains in Peterborough while strike votes are being taken in the other five plants.

A completed strike vote at the Davenport Works showed 805 in favor and 197 against, according to Union sources. And on Wednesday night Cobourg workers, members of Local 534, were 94 per cent in favor of a strike "if necessary."

Charles Hicks, president of the Cobourg local stated this showed the membership was overwhelmingly in favor of a strike "to bring about a successful and speedy conclusion of contract negotiations.

The Peterborough strike vote was taken on Monday at the time the membership of Local 524 decided to return to work.

Decisions reached at a meeting of the executive Wednesday afternoon and at another meeting later in the day have not been revealed.

A bulletin issued at noon the same day charged the Company with trying "to provoke the strike now."

The CGE is continuing to violate its word to our Union in refusing to abide by the Induction Motors Arbitration Award, C. R. Sullivan, UE District Representative, said today.

"Since the Arbitration Board originally met the Company has known that its decision was in favor of the Union because the Company's own representative voted against the majority decision," said Mr. Sullivan.

Earn $3.00 an Hour

"The effect of this Award in this particular case would be that girls on some operations would be earning over $3 an hour—two to two-and-a-half times the hourly rate of skilled mechanics with long experience," Ian F. McRae, works manager has stated.

Such rates for simple and semi-skilled work could not be sound when they would be two to two-and-a-half times as high as rates in the Agreement for highly skilled and experienced mechanics, Mr. McRae contended.

The Company also claims that the arbitration award is inconsistent with the present agreement between itself and the Union.

Security Council Voting Said Sharp Slap At Cominform Russ Bloc

Squeeze Through On Minimum Of Votes After Vishinsky Blast, Soviet Charges Violation of Charter

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(CP)—Yugoslavia won a seat in the United Nations Security Council today over the Soviet-sponsored Czechoslovakia. The action by the 59-member General Assembly was a rebuff to the Cominform Soviet bloc. The vote on the second ballot, was Yugoslavia 39 and Czechoslovakia 19. Thirty-nine votes were required for election. Yugoslavia thus squeezed by on the minimum number of votes needed. The voting was by secret ballot. On the first ballot, Tito's regime got 37, Czechoslovakia 20, Afghanistan one, Philippines one.

Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky took the floor immediately after the results were announced.

Vishinsky charged the election of Yugoslavia was a violition of the U.N. Charter because it failed, he said, to take into account provisions regarding geographic distribution of council seats.

The West previously had contended that Yugoslavia was just as qualified to represent Eastern Europe as Czechoslovakia..

Vishinsky declared Yugoslavia candidacy was advanced by the United States and Britain through behind-the-scenes manoeuvring.

Holds Floor

Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo banged his gavel repeatedly, but Vishinsky held the floor about four minutes.

"Yugoslavia cannot and will not be considered a member of the Eastern bloc," Vishinsky said.

Britain had announced in advance that she would support Czechoslovakia, but there was no indication how she actually voted on the secret ballot.

The voting began after Russia's Andrei Y Vishinsky made a last-minute appeal to the Assembly to defeat Yugoslavia. His remarks, however, were ruled out of order by Assembly President Carlost P. Romulo.

Secret Ballot

The delegates voted by secret ballot.

Czechoslovakia received 20 votes, Afghanistan one.

India and Ecuador were elected to the other two Council seats to be vacated December 31. India replaced Canada and Ecuador took Argentina's seat.

Two Gales Pounding Atlantic For 4th Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP) — Two gales today pounded shipping on the North Atlantic for the fourth straight day, and storm-damaged cripples began limping to port.

The three worst-battered ships were the French freighter Caen, the tanker John H. Marion and the Greek freighter Mathoes.

The 7,176-ton Caen neared Philadelphia under tow by the tug Marion Moran after three days of wallowing without engine power following a propeller accident.

Canadian Armed Forces Seeking Officer Material

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP) — Canada's armed forces are looking for officer material.

The need is emphasized in the annual report of the Defence Department, tabled Wednesday in the Commons.

"It is of extreme importance in the policy of the department to secure the entry into the services of an adequate supply of officers" the report said.

Universities with their naval training divisions, Canadian Officers' Training Corps contingents and RCAF (Auxiliary) flights were described as an "invaluable" source of officers.

In addition to the service colleges—Royal Roads of Esquimalt, B. C., and Royal Military College at Kingston— both of which are tri-service training schools, are helping fill the bill.

The need for officers falls in with the general defence policy of Canada. That is to maintain a small, well-trained force in each service which would become the nucleus of expanded forces in the event of war.

Co-ordination and unification of the three services moved along during the year.

"Canada has proceeded further in military unification than any other coutry, but the system is under constant examination with a view to improvement," the the report says.

Many of the functions of the three services have been combined and "radical action has been taken to avoid overlapping and to produce co-ordination."

General research work, co-ordinated under the Defence Research Board, was reported to be keeping step with other service developments The Board is working with Canadian universities in developing techniques, many of which are secret. One involves study of combatting insects in the Canadian north.

Bradley Gives Admirals Rough Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP). — The United States Navy's admirals, given a rough going over by Gen. Omar Bradley, faced new criticism today.

The usaully mild-spoken Bradley, chairman of the US Joint Chiefs-of-Staff, blasted away bitterly at the Navy Wednesday for not accepting the decisions of top military authority established under the unification law.

He used acid language in speaking of "open rebellion" and declaring that the public airing of Navy grievances had done "infinite harm" to national security.

Bradley was to be followed before the House of Representatives Armed Services Committee by two other leading military figures — General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief-of-Staff.

Discussing the Navy's claim for a bigger share of air power, Bradley said that in the present world situation "traditional lines of security are no longer sacred."

The United States, he emphasized, has but one potential enemy—Russia. Long-range strategic planning must be aimed at containing the threat of Russian aggression.

"If we are ever to abandon the wishful sanctity of our previous attitudes, it shiuld be now, after the announcement of the atomic explosion that has taken place in the Soviet Union," he declared.

Acquit Mayor In Bribery Case

HALIFAX, Oct. 20—(CP)—A Supreme Court jury late Wednesday acquitted former Halifax Mayor John E. Lloyd of a bribery charge after deliberating 20 minutes.

Both Lloyd and manufacturers' agent John A. West, of neighboring Dartmouth, were charged following a probe earlier this year into negotiations for sale of snow blowers to the city of Halifax.

Lloyd, mayor of this city from 1943-45, and deputy mayor at the time of the transactions, was charged with agreeing to accept a bribe from West. In return, Lloyd would have promoted sale of the blowers before city council.

Earlier this month, a Supreme Court jury acquitted West on the charge of offering Lloyd a $3,000 bribe.

Want Men In Jail Paid Weekly Wage

EDINBURGH, Oct. 20 (CP) — Men in jail will be paid a weekly wage and have occasional weekends at home with the wife and kids if the Scottish Advisory Council has its way.

The Council studied the treatment and rehabilitation of offenders under the Scottish prison system. Its report was published Wednesday.

A weekly wage of £3 ($9.30) is recommended, from which prisoners would pay for their maintenance in jail and contribute to the upkeep of dependents.

"We regard receiving of wages to be an important part in the training and responsibility," said the Council.

The recommendation for weekends at home applies to men in "prisons without bars." But the Council turned thumbs down on women prisoners getting the same break.

Russ Army At Frontier, Tito Charges

3 Neighboring Lands Build Trenches Near Yugoslav Border

BELGRADE, Oct. 20 —(AP)— Yugoslavia charged Wednesday night that Russian troops have moved into neighboring Communist countries to build up 'war-mongering' pressure against Marshal Tito's regime.

The charges, printed in the official newspaper Borba, said Red army troops have moved into Romania. Fortifications are being built under Russian supervision along the Yugoslav borders in Bulgaria, Hungary and Albania, the paper declared.

(In Athens, well-informed intelligence officers said privately that Russia has placed five divisions along the Yugoslav borders in the last month.

(These sources — British, American and Greek — said Russia apparently feared that Tito was secretly backing plans for a revolt in the isolated Soviet satellite of Albania.)

Borba's charges were the most specific accusations yet made in the Yugoslav capital about Russian troop movements. Two weeks ago Tito accused Russia and her satellites of "rattling their arms" in an attempt to intimidate Yugoslavia.

The Borba report charged Russia had moved into Romania through Bucharest, with some small Red army units approaching the border toward Yugoslavia.

Strengthen Guards

The article said also that the Cominform countries with Russian help were strengthening their border guards and building trenches and bunkers all along their frontiers with Tito-land.

Borba declared that war talk was being built up in Bulgaria under a slogan of "liberation" for Macedonia, which now is split among Greece, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

On Albania's side of the frontier, the official newspaper continued, the Albanian army has taken over the villages, prohibited civilian movement at night and opened an increasing "war-mongering propaganda campaign" against Yugoslavia.

Prices Slip Slightly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP) — Prices slipped slightly in moderately active forenoon dealings on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Profit-taking sales cut into Wednesday's strong industrial gains. A few golds continued slipping and base metals were mixed on a slightly easier tone.

Western Oils held firm and began to show signs of continuing Wednesday's steady climb.

Losses were held to fractions in Industrials. Scattered key issues slipped quietly pulling the average price level down from the three-year peak touched Wednesday.

Papers weakened and a few foods and utilities were lower.

Steel of Canada went against the trend for a gain of a full point at 89½.

Hudson Bay and Quemont dipped fractions in base metals while Noranda added ⅛ at 62. Sherritt, United Keno Hill and New Calumet showed losses ranging up to 10 cents.

Senior golds were down fractions and Junior Producers were mixed. Roybar was brisk for a slight advance. Wednesday's featured stocks — Bonetal, Broulan and Porcupine Reef — were dull.

Anglo-Canadians gained 10 cents at $4.45 and Royalite five cents at $9.10 in Western Oils while Central Leduc lost nine cents at $1.18.

Must Leave Poland

GENEVA, Oct. 20 (Reuters)— The International Refugee Organization whose representatives in Poland were recently handed a government expusion order, will have to stop work in Poland within about a month, it was learned Wednesday. It is believed the Polish government's expulsion order followed a disagreement with the IRO over the transfer of 150 Polish children from British East Africa to Canada for resettlement.

FIGURES UP

Clearing house figures as reported by the secretary for the week ending October 19 were $2,628,325. This is an increase of $651,070 over last week's figures.

Waiting Report By Commission Before Acting

OTTAWA, Oct. 20, (CP)—The Federal Government plans to wait for the report of the Royal Commission on Arts and Science before attempting to determine "with any degree of precision" how the Dominion should help the Provinces in the field of education.

Prime Minister St. Laurent made that statement in the Commons Wednesday during a debate on a private members' resolution asking the government to consider aid to the provinces for expanding and equalizing educational opportunities.

The principle of the resolution, sponsored by R. R. Knight (CCF-Saskatoon City), was supported by Progressive Conservatives. However George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Federal assistance should be free of attempts to gain indirect control of education in the provinces.

He urged that a Dominion-Provincial conference be called at which the over-all financial position of the provinces on education and all others matters could be considered, rather than taking "piecemeal" action on education alone.

Agrees With Drew

Mr. St. Laurent, who spoke briefly, agreed with Mr. Drew that any Federal grants to the provinces would have to be arranged so as to avoid Federal control, direct or indirect, on a matter which was essentially one of provincial jurisdiction. It was a question that had "possibilities of controversy."

The Royal Commission on Arts and Science is expected to report to the government next spring. Mr. St. Laurent felt it would not be wise to attempt to determine with any degree of precision how the Dominion should help in education until that report is received.

In opening proceedings, solicitor General Lapointe tabled an exchange of correspondence with Attorney General Corman of Saskatchewan. It indicated the government does not plan to investigate the possibility that a price-fixing combine exists in the oil industry of Canada.

Mr. St. Laurent said the government is not prepared to recommend setting up a House committee at this session to look into ministerial use of powers delegated by parliament. The matter will be given careful consideration and the government will indicate early in the 1950 session if it is prepared to establish such a committee.

Defence Report

Joseph Blanchette, parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Claxton, tabled the annual report of the Defence Department. It claimed that Canada is leading the world on the road to unification and co-ordination of the various branches of the armed services.

In the main Commons debate, Mr. St. Laurent said all Canadians are vitally concerned with educational facilities. There was no doubt that since the war, education programs for veterans had been of great assistance in maintaining the efficiency of educational institutions. Many of these, without that aid, would have found it difficult to maintain standards.

He believed it would be necessary to continue the help that was necessary for high educational standardes.

Mr. Drew said it would be necessary to examine the whole field of Dominion-Provincial relations so provincial requirements on health and other matters, as well as education, could be fully looked into so that the provinces could meet the demands of the people.

When he was Minister of Education for Ontario, he had made recommendations similar to those in Mr. Knight's resolution. He said the ability of the provinces to finance education that would give real equality of opportunity was one of the country's most important problems.

Mr. Drew said that the reason Ontario for a time did not accept a Federal physical fitness grant was that it included a "direct attempt" to control the province's fitness program. It had strings attached.

"Given, however, the exporter who is prepared to go into this business with faith and determination, the department is now geared up to giving him the practical assistance he will need."

Smith said American-style market research was essential if British goods were to sell in the United States. If a firm was prepared to undertake this, his department would guarantee it against losses arising from market research surveys which failed to pay for themselves over a period of time.

The department would guarantee exporters against loss involved in extraordinary advertising and promotional expenses in cases where preliminary surveys had been favorable.

Level Of Lake Lowered In City

Utilities Commission began today completing the connections at each end of the 24-inch main that was laid across the river between Burnham's and McDonald's points several months ago.

Lions Club had applied to the Trent Canada department for the lowering of the water in Little Lake and the reach of the river to the Quaker Oats dam. Arrangements were effected this morning earlier than was expected, and Utilities men immediately went to work on the deferred connections. That job had been held up by comparatively high water in the lake.

Meanwhile, Canada Packers and several others interested in the lake level were advised of the proposed lowering. Stop logs were taken out at the locks. Ross Dobbin told the Utilities Commission Wednesday that he would make the connections as soon as the opportunity offered, but he did not know when it would be. Information reached him this morning of the Department's action, and so the river crossing job will be completed by Friday.

Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia were contesting for the seat now held by the Soviet Ukraine.

The complete first ballot vote showed:

Ecuador 57, India 56, Ecuaslavia 37, Czechoslovakia 20, Afghanistan 1, and the Philippines 1.

When Yugoslavia's "victory" was announced, Vishinsky looked up quickly with a wry grin on his face.

He applauded when Romulo announced that India and Ecuador had been elected, joining the others.

Demands Floor

Ballots were being distributed in the Assembly when Vishinsky demanded the floor. He strode to the rostrum to make a technical argument that the seat belongs to Czechoslovakia by choice of the Soviet bloc.

Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo quickly made his ruling that Vishinsky was out of order. No campaigning for candidates is permitted from the floor before the voting.

Vishinsky's charge was: "attempts are being made to distort the Soviet position in this matter in a slanderous manner."

Vishinsky pleaded with the Assembly to take into account Article 23 of the U. N. Charter which provides that the Assembly must consider the principle of geographic representation on the Council.

He also urged the delegates to abide by the "tacit gentleman's agreement" which he said had been made among the big powers allowing each area to select its own nominees. The western powers deny the existence of any such agreement.

2 Chiang Armies Routed As Reds Strike

HONG KONG, Oct. 20 (AP) — The Communists stabbed westward today in what may be the death blow to the Nationalists on China's mainland.

Red Gen. Lin Piao appeared to be trying to split the shattered Nationalist domain in two with a quick knockout of its last big mainland force—the 200,000-man force of Gen. Pai Chung-hsi.

Press accounts said the conqueror of Manchuria, Tientsin and Hankow sent veterans of the Reds' fourth field army straight at Pai's home base, Kweilin. The Kwangsi province city is 250 air miles northwest of Canton.

The ditpatches said two of Pai's armies were blasted along the Kwangsi-Hunan border. The Reds were reported racing along the rail line to Kweilin; and had either taken or by-passed Chuanhsien, only 70 miles to the Northeast.

Second Force

To the south, another Communist force commanded by Gen. Chen Keng, was reported slashing westward from the newly-won Canton area. These troops were said to be less than 50 miles from the Kwangsi border. Their drive was along the west river.

The push on Kwangsi seemed in itself evidence that the Reds are determined to extend control quickly over the entire mainland.

Only two days ago, Nationalist quarters at Chungking expected the Communists' westward drive would be aimed at Kweichow, almost defenceless province just north of Kwangsi. They thought the Reds would take it and cut off Pai's armies from Chungking, new Nationalist refugee capital to the northwest.

Instead, Lin's Reds appeared to be concentrating their power on the cream of the remaining Nationalist forces defending Pai's native province.

"Other than the smell of liquor, did you notice anything that would indicate he was intoxicated?"

"Other than th esmell of liquor, I put everything in his actions down to shock." replied the constable.

Constable Duggan said the captain's speech was coherent. As they set out for the hospital, they met a doctor who "calmed down" Captain Taylor and the trip to hospital was taken.

Detects Slight Smill

Constable Dave Smith said he was with the previous witness on the docks and that he "could detect a slight smell of liquor" on Capt. Taylor's breath.

"His speech and walk were all right," he said.

"Why were you supporting him?"

"He threw up his hands and said he ddin't want to go to hospital."

In his evidence two weeks ago, Capt. Taylor denied he was intoxicated. He said on the night of the fire he had taken only one small drink.

The intoxication charge was made at an earlier inquiry in Cleveland by C. R. Willson, a survivor of that city. Other survivors said the captain was sober.

R. E. Soplet, acting detective on the Toronto police force, said he was patrolling the docks on the night of the fire and stopped to "admire the Noronic."

Seemed All Right

The ship seemed all right then, and the time was fixed at 2:16 a.m. EDT, from a radio call he received and logged at that time. Firemen testified the alarm was turned in at 2:38.

Donald A. Williamson, of Toronto told of rescuing six passengers from harbor waters, and four others from the ship after noticing the fire from the street. He fixed the time at about 2:45 a.m.

Marcel Duplessis of Montreal, the cabin stewart, recalled a discussion he had once with the purser and some bell boys about the importance in case of fire, at sea or in port, of keeping stairways clear of flames so that passengers could reach the gangways.

Worker Buried Highway Cave-in

Buried up to his neck by dirt and gravel when the side of a ten-foot deep ditch caved in on him Wednesday morning, James Davis, 49, R.R. 2, Warsaw, was brought to Peterborough Civic Hospital where officials announced he had a fractured left wrist and undetermined chest injuries.

Davis was a Peterborough county road worker employed temporarily by the department of highways working on a county road at Gilchrist Bay on Stony Lake. They were digging a ditch for a culvert.

Davis climbed down to the bottom of the ditch to take out a rock. The side of the ditch collapsed, pinning him to the opposite side of the ditch. Only his head was left uncovered.

Two or three fellow workers were able to pull him sideways out of the mound of earth without having to dig him out. The superintendent on the job Jim McKeiver, drove Davis to Peterborough to the hospital.

City Polio Victim Taken To Toronto

A young Peterborough polio victim was rushed to Toronto Wednesday afternoon at 70 miles an hour with provincial police escort. The boy is seven-year-old Gary Bugg, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bugg, 384½ Water St.

The youngster was under an oxygen tent during the dash to Toronto. At Toronto city limits, city police took over escort duties to the Isolation Hospital. Toronto hospital authorities made no statement about the child's condition.

The boy had been in hospital for several days in Peterborough under observation before it was decided he should be taken to Toronto where there are better facilities for treating him.

His younger sister has been isolated for observation as well, as a safety measure.

EYE TOPICS

LET'S SEE SEE A SYMPHONY

One of the reasons why we have aural symphonies instead of color symphonies is that the ear is a much less perfect instrument than the eye. The eye can distinguish more colors than can be controlled by the color musician.

The idea of color music is an old one. First to attempt its realization was Sir David Brewster, who invented the kaleidoscope. This device, with its ever-changing patterns of colored glass, is one of the most ingenious toys ever produced. But Brewster himself hardly thought of it as a toy. He said it would be a great help to designers of fabrics and wallpapers. And so it was.

About twenty men have invented color organs since Brewster's day. The most successful was Thomas Wilfred, who perfected the "clavilux." It is played somewhat similarly to an organ. It projects onto a screen fountains, sprays, sheets, bars, discs of color—anything that the player wants to create. This ever-changing music for the eye flows like music for the ear.

Color is one of the most glorious things our vision brings us. Man alone can see the world in all its glowing hues. And man alone has the reasoning power to take care of his eyes—just as he does care of his eyes—just as he alone has access to the fruits of ophthalmic knowledge. There is seldom a reason for his falling a victim to failing vision—unless it be his own carelessness.

Ian McRae On Air Friday To Explain Differences Between CGE and Union

To explain the present position of the Company, Ian McRae, Works' Manager of the Canadian General Electric has announced he will go on the air over CHEX Friday night at 6:15 p.m.

The recent strike by the employees involving wage rates for a number of girls in the Induction Motor Division, followed the Union's accusation that the Company was refusing to accept a ruling which could bring the rates of these girls to over $3.00 an hour.

Mr. McRae will explain why the Company has not accepted a recent ruling by the Arbitration Board which it is felt changes the basic agreement signed by both the Union and the Company.

Public Buildings Inspected By Grand Jury

The grand jury of the Supreme Court fall assizes submitted its report after inspecting eight public buildings in Peterborough and district to The Hon. Mr. Justice P. E. F. Smily, Wednesday.

In the report, Gordon Monkman, grand jury foreman, said the jury had inspected the Old People's Home in Lakefield. The home was reported clean and tidy, but the bedrooms in many cases were "almost bare of furnishings and the jury believes if some could be provided, they would add materially to the comfort of the inmates."

Other recommendations were that fire hoses on emergency hand pumps be replaced and that fire extinguishers be installed on each floor The report also noted the stairs were slippery, "particularly for older people," and the jury suggested stair treads be placed on the steps.

Another suggestion for improving fire equipment in the building was that crash doors should replace windows and screens now in use.

Redecorate Court Room

The jury, after an examination of the County Court House, recommended that the court room be redecorated, the back of the building painted, and that an old unused chimney be torn down.

The jury found the county gaol in "excellent condition" with "admirable" sanitary arrangements.

St. Joseph's Hospital was reported efficiently operated and the fire equipment good except for one old hose which should be replaced.

The House of Providence, the jury reported, was in "splendid condition," but a few bedrooms seemed to contain too many beds in the event of a fire. "The building badly needs an elevator, particularly for occupants on the third floor."

The Children's Shelter was described as "clean and homelike" with well-furnished comfortable rooms. Recently an overheated stove in the kitchen caused some damage which needs repairing.

Steps Needed

St. Vincent's Orphanage building needs steps in place of a ladder at the bottom of a fire escape, but it was otherwise in "excellent condition."

The fire equipment of the Peterborough Civic Hospital was reported in good order, and it was noted that the building had recently been inspected by the fire department.

Inmates of the Anson House "seemed comfortable and content" to the members of the jury. The only criticism was that some corridors leading to fire escapes were dimly lighted.

EASED TOIL

Coal and machinery began to replace the work of men in England in the industrial revolution of the 18th and 19th centuries.

TWENTY-NINE EXAMINER CARRIER BOYS, winners of the circulation contest held recently, spent last week-end in Niagara Falls. Besides seeing the Falls, the boys made a trip to the Indian Burning Spring, to Queenston Heights, and to General Brock's monument. They saw the Falls from beneath and above, making the latter in the aerial car. H. B. Cowan jr., and S. D. Pogue accompanied the boys. Pictured here are the boys and girls with the American and Canadian Falls as a background. Standing with his hands in his pockets at the right is a former Kingston Whig-Standard carrier boy, Si Albertson, who accompanied the boys on some of their trips. Immediately behind Mr. Albertson is Ivan Fletcher, driver of the bus, while Mr. Pogue is third from the left in the back row.

Cobourg Plant Of CGE Supports Strike

COBOURG, Oct. 20—(ENS)—Members of Local 534, UE-CIO, voted last night for strike action at the local General Electric plastics plant if such action became necessary, it was announced by Charles Hicks, president of the local. The announcement followed a meeting of the union after the votes had been tabulated.

Mr. Hicks commented as follows: "Members of Local 534, UE-CIO, in a special membership meeting voted for strike action if necessary to bring about a successful and speedy conclusion of the contract negotiations.

The result of the voting was 94 per cent in favor and six per cent against strike action, it was announced.

Conception of Citizenship Differed At Confederation

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 20 — (ENS).—"In 1867 four provinces united to form the Dominion of Canada and each province had a different conception of citizenship," said Alex. MacColl, local barrister speaking before the Home and School Association on Wednesday night on "The Canadian Citizen."

"Ontario's idea of citizenship," he continued, "was loyalty to the British crown. Quebec's first devotion was to Canada and Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, although faithful to the motherland were drawn to the United States because it was there they found markets.

"Later Prince Edward Island was drawn in and she, too, looked to the United States," declared Mr. MacColl. "When Manitoba became a partner in Confederation she looked to the world for markets. British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan brought with them other types of citizenship when they joined the union," he added.

He said that in 1949 a new influx of British peoples came to the Dominion when Newfoundland threw in her lot with the other provinces. "Although loyal to the crown, these new people will continue to look to the south for markets," he added.

He said that some Canadian citizens were perturbed with the severing of some of the old ties with the motherland. In our national childhood, he said, we had Britain's protection but now we are strong enough to become an equal partner in the Commonwealth.

"During the past three years," he said, "many people have come to Canada from other lands They have brought with them advanced ideas and ingenious ways of doing things."

He stated that the thousands of Dutch who have come to Canada, are teaching us a new sense of devotion to religion and duty. They are a fine class of people, believing firmly in the principles of democracy and the future of Canada.

"We must remember what these people have gone through and look upon them as our equals," said Mr. MacColl when speaking of the DP's. "We should urge and encourage them to become Canadian citizens. Let us prevent them from using Canada as a gateway to the United States," he added.

Mrs. J. Clark presented awards to the following pupils who were successful in competing in the music festival at Colborne.

Ripe Strawberries Picked In 3 Centres

By The Canadian Press.

Ripe strawberries, normally a summer delicacy, are still being picked in three Ontario communities, although winter is almost due.

At Trout Lake, in northern Ontario, Mrs. Earl Phillips picked 10 quarts of the fruit from her garden patch during the last few days. She says there are plenty of blossoms on the plants of the Everbearing variety.

Down south at Fort Erie, in the Niagara Peninsula, A. Ray, newspaper man who undertook to raise strawberries in a barrel this spring, made a meal of them last night.

At Killarney, a little fishing village 50 miles southwest of Sudbury, Mrs. Louis Prue has picked a pint of strawberries during the

Is The Day Of The Strike Over?

Last weekend there seemed to be a considerable possibility of a strike at the local works of the Canadian General Electric, and although the situation is somewhat easier now, that threat has by no means disappeared. If there were to be a strike there is no doubt that local business would suffer, and that some small retailers would face ruin. Yet these people who would suffer heavily from a strike have no voice in calling or preventing it. This is an aspect of a strike which deserves serious consideration.

• • •

Strikes originated in the days when arbitration between employers and employees was far more difficult than it is now. By striking, workers could call attention dramatically to their wrongs—real or imagined. They suffered severely during the strikes, and they still suffer during strikes. And in these days of powerful unions and arbitration machinery it is a question whether strikes, which harm so many people who have no say in them, are still a necessary part of labour negotiations.

• • •

Labour unions will no doubt reply to any such suggestion that arbitration machinery is still far from perfect. We agree. Too often the arbitration boards are not well versed in industrial procedure, and make decisions which are only superficially effective. Further, much of our labour legislation lacks teeth. But there is a method of arbitration which has worked successfully for about thirty years in Norway and Sweden, and which has attracted attention recently in the U.S.A. It is the method of the labour court.

• • •

A labour court is a different thing from an arbitration board. It is a permanent court, with the full authority of law and government behind it, with a judiciary thoroughly versed in all sides of labour law and with special knowledge relating to industrial procedures. In the countries we have named all labour disputes, great and small, are argued in such courts and the decisions given have been satisfactory, considered as a whole, to labour and management alike. Strikes are outlawed in Norway and Sweden.

• • •

If labour and management fought out their disagreements in the streets, bystanders would be hurt. When they fight by the strike method bystanders are hurt, too. In the U.S.A. at present more than a million steel workers are on strike; that strike is harmful to the country as a whole and could, if long continued, weaken its defence program beyond all remedy, with consequent dangers not only to the steel workers, but to their millions of countrymen, and perhaps to a large part of the world.

• • •

Let us make it clear that we are not advocating repressive laws which would put labour at a disadvantage in dealing with management. We advocate, rather a rule of law which would protect the rights of workers and management alike, and also the rights of the innocent bystanders who may also suffer heavily from strikes. Other disputes about contracts are settled by proper courts, and we see no reason why disputes about labour contracts should not be dealt with in the same way.

Fears And Tensions

In the U.S.A. there exists a body called the Educational Policies Commission, which is composed of distinguished men who are engaged in education—such men as President Eisenhower of Columbia and President Conant of Harvard. Since midsummer it has published a report called "American Education and International Tensions" and also a supplement to this report in which it discusses the difficulties which are created at the present time by the fears which international disagreements, talk of atom bombs and biological warfare, inevitably provoke. These fears, say the Commission, have some foundation in fact, and the dangers of our times should not be allowed to impair civil liberties, or to paralyze the nation with fright.

The Commission refers in particular to the sort of fear which can be created by loose applications of such words as "Red" and "Communist"; during times of nation tension there are always people who identify anyone who disagrees with them with the powers of evil. They are often the same people who demand elaborate but essentially worthless tests of loyalty for civil servants and teachers. They are the people who suggest totalitarian methods for crushing totalitarian ideas—a paradox which they appear to be incapable of understanding.

What the Commission warns against in the U.S.A. has shown itself to some extent in Canada, and the Commission's warnings have application here as well. Nothing is so destructive of morale and common sense as fear. The atom bomb and all the horrors of modern science lie within our control; it is only if we abandon ourselves to hysteria that we need despair. As a means of preserving world peace courage and common sense and cool-headedness have yet to be given a thorough trial.

A Word For The Pomegranate

Unless our memory plays us false, we saw a somewhat depreciatory editorial in the Toronto Telegram a few weeks ago, about corn on the cob. In the Telegram's estimation, it was an over-rated food. And now we see that the Telegram is disappointed in the pomegranate, declaring that it delights the eye, and cheats the palate. "Eating a pomegranate is a monotonous performance, for the small, insipid seeds are scarcely worth the effort", it says. The pomegranate may be pretty, says the Toronto paper, and it may have a certain Oriental opulence about it, but it is not really a nice fruit.

That is a matter of opinion. Frankly, we like pomegranates. We do not find the seeds in the least insipid. As we crunch them we rejoice in their odd, puckering flavour. As for the juice, it is delicious. Chomping on a pomegranate we are, for the moment, one flesh with Haroun al-Raschid, and any waitress or boarding-house missus who happens to be about takes on, for a moment, the allure of Scheherazade. We are very partial to the pomegranate.

We are sorry for the Telegram. It does not appear to relish its victuals as a good newspaper should. To asperse, as it has done, both Indian corn and pomegranates, is to reject two of the good gifts of our bountiful mother, Ceres.

East German "Democracy"

A new East German state has been formed, and its Parliament has met under the presidency of Wilhelm Pieck. The state is called "democratic", the Parliament the "People's Chamber". The first long resolution put to the Parliament was passed unanimously and without debate. President Pieck complimented the People's Chamber on their unanimity, and hoped that all future decisions would be equally unanimous.

This is the new German Democracy of the east; a democracy whose parliament votes unanimously, is expected to and by implication, is warned that any dissidence will not be tolerated.

Western democratic parliaments act unanimously from time to time, as for instance when they pay allegiance to the head of the state, and notably in times of war. But government by democratic instrument is generally thought to be at its lowest ebb in wartime emergencies. Perhaps the New East German democracy believes that it is now in war-time straits.

Faith Of The Fathers

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Marmora, has been celebrating its seventy-fifth anniversary this week. It is a happy occasion for the parishioners, and remarkable because two of them taking part in the ceremonies were present at the laying of the corner-stone three-quarters of a century ago. The church has a fine record of faithful supporters and clergy. It has had but four rectors. Canon C. M. Harris, first rector, was the incumbent for 44 years; the late A. B. Caldwell served the parish for seventeen. The present rector is Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, and to him and his people go our congratulations on this anniversary.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Dutchman is in the news because he eats 16 newspapers a day. As a dietician he may be eccentric but as a circulation boosters he's in the top class.

"Well-reared women do not wear slacks", writes a woman's columnist. Hm. There could be two opinions about that.

When a recent vote in the House of Commons was taken, only 120 members were present. It's a pity that the boys who were so eager to get into the House in June aren't a little more eager to stay there in October.

Eastern Shadows Across Berlin

By a Frankfurt Correspondent

THE creation of an East Zone Government, though long expected, has confronted both Western Germany and the Western Allies with a whole series of new and difficult problems. Ever since the Paris conference, Allied policy has aimed at preparing a 'modus vivendi' between a Communist Eastern and an anti-Communist Western Germany. But the practical consequences of such a policy have never been worked out in detail and are only now becoming fully apparent.

◇ ◇ ◇

NOWHERE is this more striking than in Western Berlin. Its defence against the blockade had a clear political meaning within a political offensive strategy aimed at stabilizing lines between East and West and trading across them. Already there is a striking change in the West Berlin atmosphere. As an Allied official put it the other day, Berlin used to be a bright spot from which rays of light penetrated into the darkness of the Eastern zone: now the eastern zone is casting a shadow across Western Berlin.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE failure of Western Germany and the Western Powers to take effective measures in time against the economic crisis which followed the end of the blockade has done much to undermine Berlin morale; isolation of the West Berlin enclave within the new Eastern State, if not counter-acted by effective new political and economic links with the West, may do worse.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE Berliners want these links in the form of straightforward membership in the West German Federal Republic. The Western Powers have so far opposed this idea, partly from a faint hope that East and West might still agree to a reunited Berlin as a kind of international city. This hope, particularly dear to the French, has clearly vanished now that the Government and Parliament of the Eastern State have been established in Berlin. But there are still Allied objections to full West Berlin membership in the Western State.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE latest compromise proposal discussed by the Allied High Commissioners is that Berlin should be associated with the Western Republic in a kind of confederation, joining the Bundesrat in which the State (Land) Governments are represented with full rights, but remaining a mere observer in the Bundestag, the directly elected Lower House. The purpose of this constitutional monstrosity would be that Berlin, by voluntary agreement with Western Germany, would thus acquire the right to share West German revenue in as much as redistribution of revenue among the States is partly within the jurisdiction of the Bundesrat. At the same time Berlin would not participate in framing or become subject to West German legislation,—a matter considered important by some Allied experts who feel that the Allies have to reserve greater powers in Berlin than they need in the West.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is possible that such a solution might do something to revive economic confidence in the permanence of ties between Berlin and the West—an important factor in stopping the flight of factories from Berlin and reviving a stream of orders. It is more than doubtful that anything so artificial and hedged about can have the required moral effect. It is certain that constitutional difficulties are overwhelming. The West German Constitution makes no provision for such a type of confederal association, and the Socialists will be certainly opposed to introducing it; as the required two-thirds majority in both Houses cannot be secured against them, the compromise would have to be imposed by Allied decree. The only alternative seems to be for the Allies to grant the wish of the Berliners and have done with it. There are similar difficulties involved in the attempt to develop interzonal trade between two Governments that refuse to recognize each other.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE diplomatic problem of concluding agreements without mutual recognition has been solved by the device of a treaty signed by officials representing the "highest economic authorities of the currency areas of D-Mark West and D-Mark East". But such a "morganatic" trade agreement will have the same kind of offsprings as a legitimate commercial marriage — mutual recognition of passports and permits, constant negotiation of adjustments, etc.

◇ ◇ ◇

AS the Press service of the Western Christian Democrats has pointed out, it will be impossible to tell the man in the street that a Government with which such relations exist in practice is regarded as "illegal", and the opposition in the Eastern zone will draw the obvious conclusion that it has been abandoned by the West. For this reason there was some opposition to the agreement within Dr. Adenauer's Cabinet and there may be more in the West German Parliament.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE basic issue is whether the West can maintain German morale in a relation with a Communist Eastern Germany which is no longer based on open conflict but on an attempt at peaceful though shamefaced co-operation. When forced to take sides in the open cold war between East and West, 95 per cent. of all Germans will choose the West without hesitation — that the experience of the last few years has proved to the hilt. Whether they will support continued national partition and Western occupation while the Western Powers settle down to a modus vivendi with their Russian antagonists remains yet to be seen. Some Allied policy-makers are beginning to wonder whether it is wise to continue the experiment.

FATAL ATTRACTION

Firecrackers At Airports

(EDINBURGH SCOTSMAN)

BECAUSE the use of falcons has not completely solved the problem of clearing the runways of birds which are liable to collide with aircraft, experiments are to be made at Prestwick Airport next month with the use of fire crackers as a means of bird-scaring.

There have been minor accidents recently to aircraft in collision with birds over Renfrew and Prestwick Airports.

Bird infestation of airports in Scotland is at its worst in October, November and early December, when the airfields—and particularly the runways—are at times invaded by flocks of thousands of plover, lapwing, and other migratory birds, in addition to the "resident population" of seagulls, rooks and other common types. Rising into the air in clouds as aircraft are landing and taking off, they present a menace to air safety.

Peregrine falcons were used to clear the birds from Prestwick Airport last Autumn with great success, but it was found that the hawks must be in constant use to keep the birds away.

This Autumn, experiments are to be made with "bird-scaring ropes". For thousands of years, the Chinese have used fire crackers to scare away evil spirits. The idea has been modernized, and is in regular use in orchards and nursery gardens to keep birds from fruit trees. It is now being adapted by British fireworks manufacturers for airfield use.

Lengths of light rope, strung between piles on the airfield, act as fuses and explode, at preset intervals, a series of crackers strung into the ropes. Each cracker gives a loud report which will probably scare off birds up to a distance of 400 yards.

A chain of crackers can be made up to last eight hours with "bangs" every quarter hour or so. Prestwick Airport will probably be adequately covered by not more than six points.

The materials have the merit of being cheap to manufacture, readily available, and requiring very little attention and no specialist personnel.

Trials of this bird-scaring device will continue for about one month. If it proves satisfactory, it may be adopted at other airports in the Scottish Division of the Ministry of Civil Aviation.

Letter To The Editor

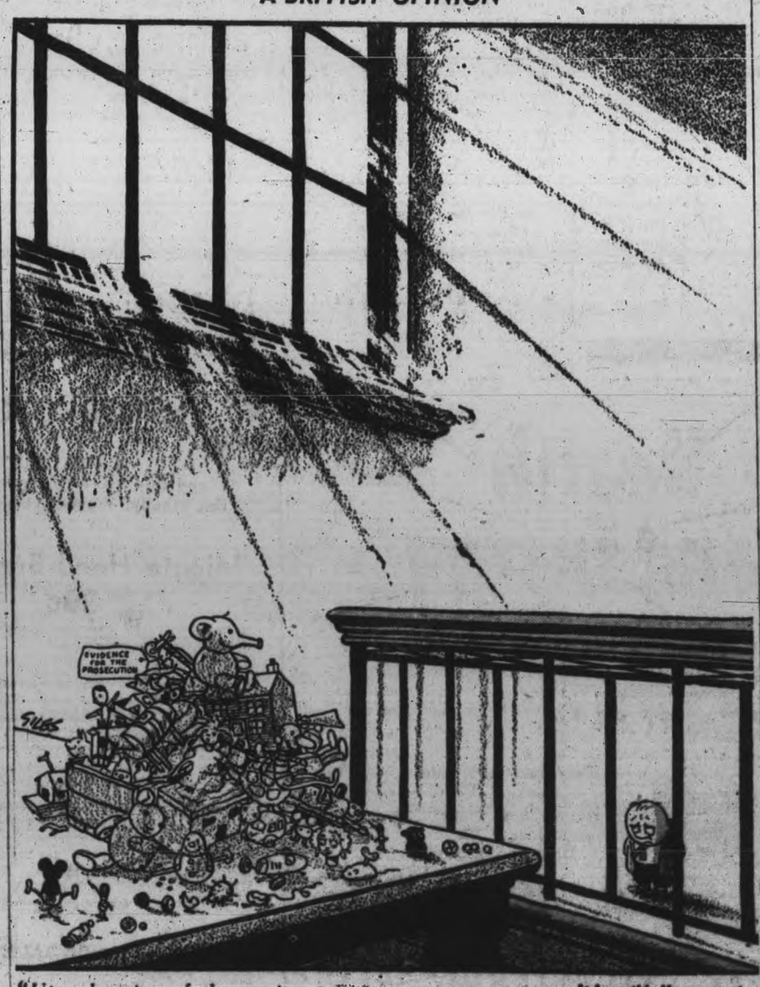
DISAPPROVES OF SITE FOR CENTRE

Sir: I do not make a habit of writing to newspapers, and especially in criticism of our city fathers, but having been a taxpayer in Peterborough and district for many years I feel that I must express my views on the council's proposed choice of site, for the Community Centre.

I was born in Peterborough over 60 years ago, and own the house in which I live. That is the only property that I own in the city, so, as far as my opinion is concerned, real estate does not in any way influence it.

Surely somewhere in Peterborough, there is suitable property to be had, which could be bought for much less, than would have to be spent to insure a safe foundation at proposed site on George St.

I am not an engineer, but when I look back 60 years and remember what the proposed George St. site then was—a small lake in flood time that has since been gradually filled in with ashes, sawdust etc., it does not take much thought to realize the expense the committee may run into in trying to reach bed-rock before building the foundation.



I doubt very much, if any of the aldermen, who are mostly business men, would be willing to sink their own money in a risk of this kind, so why take that risk with the Community Fund, which was subscribed by the people of Peterborough?

I have every sympathy with the Committee of the Fund who are anxious to get the building under way, but I hope they will not be stampeded into accepting the council's offer of the George St. site, until they get some guarantee as to cost of the foundation.

The view of Little Lake, I admit, is one advantage of this site, which should not be overlooked, but the close proximity of Canada Packers, and the city incinerator will more than offset it.

Thank you,
FRED COLLINS.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?...

Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed: and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye. (Ezek. 18: 23, 31, 32.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning, he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them....

Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life....

Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. (John 8: 1, 2, 12, 31, 98.)

What The Diesel Needs

Science in a funny sort of way is now chasing its own tail. It has developed the Diesel locomotive, which is a slick, admirable mechanism, even if given to singing rather than belching and lacking that lusty soot-cough of the old steam juggernaut.

But the Diesel has one weakness—it can't wail. It can squeak, whistle and perhaps hiccup—it can't wail. And this is plainly a matter about which something must be done.

Something is indeed being done about it. A locomotive builder is right now working hard on devising a Diesel locomotive whistle that will emulate that sad, nether-world call of the locomotive of old. The idea is supposed to originate in the need to give motorists better warning than that coming from a Diesel horn; this is surely a dodge.

No train is a train unless it can wail. Even the most rugged smoke gulper—and in this town the gulping is at its pulgingest—must feel that where there was no locomotive wail there would be no world at all. It would be a sort of spiritual cemetery.

Bats in the Hair

Almost all women are afraid of bats, with perhaps less reason than in years gone by (writes our Nature Correspondent). For then, if we may believe our grandmothers, it was no uncommon thing for a bat to become so hopelessly entangled in a girl's long hair that it had to be cut out with scissors. But can we believe our grandmothers?

A scientist, experimenting with (I think) a long-eared bat, arranged threads of black cotton, criss crossing in all directions, about the room in which the bat, a captive specimen, was accustomed to fly at night. In due course the bat emerged, and flitted to and fro in the darkened room, but in the morning not a thread was broken or displaced.

It may be that this kind of bat, with its long ears, is specially fitted to detect the sound of its own wings echoing from unseen obstacles, but the power of evasion even of the common little pipistrelle, flickering about our heads at dusk, are such that it is scarcely conceivable that it should, by accident, become enmeshed in a lady's hair.

Denies Customs Seizes Speech

MONTREAL, Oct. 20—(CP)—Francis Adams Truslow, president of the New York Curb Exchange, Wednesday night denied a report that Canadian customs officials had seized copies of a speech he was to deliver here before a group of financial men and said the report arose due to a misunderstanding.

Mr. Truslow was quoted as saying that Customs had confiscated 100 copies of the speech he had prepared for delivery Wednesday night to a dinner meeting of the Montreal Stock Exchange. The speech was entitled "Devaluation—Warning."

"It's like the old story of Mark Twain's death—exaggerated," said Mr. Truslow Wednesday night.

He said that he and Jacques Forget, chairman of the Montreal Stock Exchange, were talking in his hotel room after his arrival here Wednesday morning with a group of reporters.

"I asked Mr. Forget if he had received the 100 copies of the speech I had sent up here ahead of time," said the Curb Market head. "Mr. Forget replied 'They are stuck at Customs.' I said 'I wonder what's the matter' and there was some joking about it but to say that the speeches were seized is a gross exaggeration."

10 Major Bills Left Hanging By U.S. Congress

By JACK BELL.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—With a 75-day breather ahead, members of the 81st United States Congress went home today to listen to the voters' ideas about how to run the country.

Behind they left, along with their accomplishments, an imposing array of issues settled only temporarily—or not at all—in a 289-day session of the Democratic controlled Congress.

But it had been a busy, if sometimes in acrimonious, session.

The Congressmen face a heavy schedule when they return in January. Awaiting them will be such warmed-over international problems as that of extending the European recovery and foreign arms assistance programs, as well as such recurring domestic issue as rent control, extenion of the low-rent houing program and repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

But some of these may have to yield the spotlight to more controversial measures.

Among those certain to be resubmitted by President Truman are proposals for compulsory health insurance and enactment of civil rights legislation.

He also might ask for extension of the military draft, which has not operated for several months.

Congress left 10 major bills hanging fire when it closed up shop Wednesday night with final approval of a new farm price support measure and passage of the foreign arms aid bill.

As worked out by a conference committee Tuesday, the farm measure makes it possible for the government to keep the props under farm prices at or near the current 90 per cent of parity level indefinitely. Parity is a price figured to give the farmer a pair purchasing power when he turns his crops into cash.

Contract Agreement Reached At 3 Plants

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP) — An agreement on a new contract covering 6,500 Massey-Harris employees in the Toronto, Brantford and Woodstock plants, was reached Wednesday night between the United Automobile Workers (CIO) and the company.

Terms of the agreement were withheld pending ratification by the membership within the next few days.

The end of a series of negotiations, which stretched over three months, was announced in a joint statement by George Burt, Canadian director of the UAW, and E. G. Burgess, vice-president of manufacturing for Massey-Harris.

Anniversary Celebrated Where Married In 1899

BETHANY, Oct. 20—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs Edward F. Weatherilt were "at home" to their friends Thursday on the occasion of there golden wedding.

The marriage ceremony of 50 years ago took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson, on the same farm where they now reside. Mrs. Weatherilt, who was Gertrude Wilson before her marriage, had as her bridesmaid Miss Emma Staples, with John Weatherilt as groomsman for his brother. Two ministers the Rev. Mr. Brown and Rev. Mr. Barrett officiated at the ceremony.

Following their marriage they lived on the farm now owned by Mr Sargeson. One year later they moved to Starkville and again to Bowmanville.

In 1923 they went to Clarkson and for eight years managed the farm known as Barrymede, owned by H. H. Fudger, then manager of the Robert Simpson Co. Following his death and disposal of the farm, Mr. and Mrs. Weatherilt purchased a farm just south of Lindsay. Seven years ago they came back to live on the old Wilson homestead on 35 Highway, Bethany Rural Route No. 1. Mr. Weatherilt does not farm actively now.

The couple received their guests Thursday in the room in which the marriage ceremony of 50 years ago took place. Mr. Weatherilt is 77 and his wife two years his junior

Lunch was served from a beautifully decorated table, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. J. J. Clarke, Bethany, and Mrs. G. Wilson, Yelverton, poured tea.. Miss Viola Skuce and Mrs. Andrew Nicholls served the guests.

A bouquet of 50 yellow roses was presented to the couple by their family. They also received many gifts, flowers and congratulatory messages. A telegram of congratulation was received from the Governor General and Viscountess Alexander.

Mr and Mrs. Weatherilt have two children. Their daughter, Mrs. Andrew Nicholls (Eunice), lives in Little Britain and their son, George, resides in Toronto. There are five grandchildren.

More than 100 friends attended the reception including Mrs. Weatherilt's sisters, Mrs. Franks, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Irvine, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. R.. Matchett.

Mr Weatherilt has one brother living, Milton Weatherilt, and a sister, Miss Lily Weatherilt, both of Bethany. Many attended from Toronto, Kingston, Peterborough, Cobourg, Bowmanville and Lindsay.

Adjourn Motion Against Minister

TORONTO, Oct. 20—(CP)—A motion for an injunction to prevent Rev. Thomas Guthrie from participating further in the life of his Guelph church—York Road Baptist—Wednesday was adjourned to Nov. 2.

The minister fell into disfavor with members of his church some weeks ago when it was discovered he had written love letters to the wife of a member of his congregation.

The adjournment was granted by Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay of the Supreme Court at the request of counsel for the plaintiffs, who include five of the church's six deacons.

If granted, the injunction would prevent Mr. Guthrie from: (a) Acting as "minster of or pastor of" the church; (b) Interfering in any way in the administration and management of the church, and (c) Trespassing or in any way making use of the church and grounds.

Refuse Subsidy To Train Nurses

TORONTO, Oct. 20—(CP)— A suggestion that the Ontario government subsidize the training of nurses by hospitals met with negative reaction from Health Minister Kelley Wednesday night.

A. J. Swanson, superintendent of Toronto Western hospital, advanced the idea at a Chicago meeting Wednesday.

"There is a limit," the Health Minister said, "to what the government can continue to give to hospitals."

Mr. Kelley said the province had increased its annual maintenance grants to hospitals from $1,000,000 to $6,000,000 during the last few years. There has been a proportionate increase in grants to sanitoria.

The government, he said, is also bearing considerable expense in the training of certified nursing assistants who relieve the nurses of much of their routine work.

5-Year Term Highest Can Give 11 Reds

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)—The 11 convicted United States communist leaders come up for sentence tomorrow, facing no more than a possible five years in prison and fines.

Most people had thought they could get up to 10 years.

However, a revision of the Smith Act carries a maximum penalty of only five years for conspiracy. They also can be fined up to $10,000 each.

Apparently, the revision escaped even the defence counsel. Throughout the nine-month trial that ended Oct. 14 they spoke of the maximum prison penalty as 10 years.

The Smith Act forbids any one to advocate violent overthrow of the U.S. government. The 11 defendants were convicted by a Federal jury of conspiring to violate the Act.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The Provincial Baseball League outlaw organization that became a fat-salary haven for big name outcasts from organized ball, wants to join the accepted fold as a Class B Circuit.

President Albert Molini said at Montreal Wednesday that application has been made for his six-team league to enter organized baseball and that all clubs are in favor of the move.

Molini has had much correspondence with George M. Trautman, head of the association of minor league clubs, and will attend the association's annual gathering in Baltimore Dec. 5-9.

Molini said his league can meet all requirements as a Class B Circuit.

He said a B Class salary limit of $21,000 to $22,000 would compare with $65,000 to $80,000 spent by his clubs in salaries last season. All clubs went in the red "but they can take it."

The big name players who went to the league were among those suspended from organized baseball for jumping to the Mexican League. There were such name players as Max Lanier, Sal Maglie, Danny Gardella and Alex Carrasquel.

The gridiron future of Tony Golab, ace plunging star of the Ottawa Rough Riders, remained in doubt today.

Golab suffered torn cartilages in his left leg in a game against Montreal Alouettes at Ottawa on Oct. 8. The leg now is in a full-length cast.

The big backfield star is under treatment of doctors at RCAF Station Rockcliffe, where he is stationed with the rank of Flight Lieutenant. He presently is on sick leave.

Medical officers at the station said Wednesday night that it would be impossible to tell how Tony's leg is mending until the cast is removed. The cast, extending from the ankle to hip will be removed after Golab returns from leave.

Doctors said there was a "possibility" the big fullback would be able to return to the Rough-riders lineup late in the fall. It would all depend on how the leg mended.

Jack Onslow, who piloted Chicago White Sox in the American League race last season, will manage the club through 1950.

Charles A Comiskey, vice-president of the club, Wednesday at Chicago made this announcement, spiking rumors that the 63-year-old Onslow would be replaced even though his contract had another year to run.

Although the White Sox finished 34 games behind the pennant winning New York Yankees, the team's 63-91 record was good enough to clinch sixth place.

The Buffalo Courier-Express said Wednesday night that Paul Richards had submitted his resignation as manager of Buffalo Bisons of the International Baseball League.

Richards confirmed local reports of his resignation when he was reached by telephone at his home in Waxahachie, Tex. Club officials of Buffalo refused comment.

This year Richards led the Bisons to their first International League pennant in 13 seasons, although the Bisons bowed to Montreal in the playoffs. He has been mentioned as possible candidate for several other jobs, including coach with Philadelphia Athletics.

Establishment of a new organization to control thoroughbred horse racing in Ontario was urged Wednesday night at Toronto in a resolution adopted by the Horsemen's Benevolent Protective Association. The present controlling body is the Incorporated Canadian Racing Associations.

The resolution called for equal representation from racetrack owners and horsemen members of the HBPA, with an independent chairman elected by a majority vote of the members of the proposed new governing body.

A. W. Pickard, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association said at Regina Wednesday night he has received an official protest concerning the transfer of five Montreal Junior Royals players to Montreal Nationale but he isn't ready to comment on it.

The protest came from Frank Byrne, owner of Quebec Citadels. Royals, Nationales, and Citadels are teams of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

Mr. Pickard aid he planned to get in touch with the QAHA for information about the case.

Lindsay Takes Grid Fray Over St. Peter's

Plunging by Maidens and MacDuffee of Lindsay in the early part of Wednesday's Lindsay Collegiate-St. Peter's High School football fracas was all that Lindsay needed to take the nod from the Peterborough squad 10-6. A persistent air attack in the second half by St. Peter's failed as the backfielders fumbled on end runs with which they were alternating their passing plays.

Good booting and long plunges carried the ball into the St. Pete's zone early in the first quarter and Lindsay took advantage to score an unconverted major. The St Peter's line tightened near the end of the quarter and continued to hold in the second, but starting with an end run midway in the quarter, weakened enough to allow another touch. Coach Fred Allore of St. Peter's then sent on his second string. A pass by St. Peter's put the Peterborough boys over for a touch, with the extra point being added. The second crew continued to press and were on the one-yard line at the end of the quarter. St. Peter's threw everything but the kitchen sink in the last half but the booting of Trotter and costly fumbles had them deep in their zone at the end of the game.

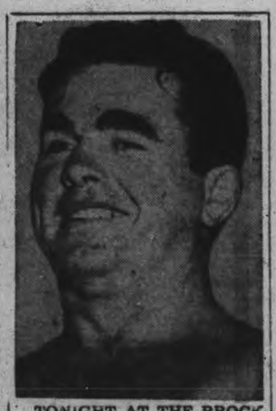
Trotter's lengthy kicking saved the day for Lindsay in the second half as their offensive play began to dim out. The Peterborough line began to hold the lanky MacDuffee to two or three yards, sometimes to no gain at all, but he did the damage in the first and second quarters with his plunging.

Sparks Line

St. Peter's second line's brilliant playing at the end of the first half seemed to rejuvenate the St. Pete's first line. But even on their return to the field in the late stages of the game the first stringers bobbled the ball at the wrong moments.

A pass to Trotter from the St. Petes 38 to the 18 at the beginning of the first enabled Maidens, Logan and MacDuffee to plunge easily to the five-yard line from where MacDuffee went over standing up. Trotter's attempted convert went far from the posts. A Logan-Georgas-Maidens end run started a rally in the second quarter which ended in the second major score for the Lindsay boys by Logan around the end. Georgas tried to run the ball over but was dropped at the 8-yard line.

Richardson's 22-yard runback on Trotter's boot to the St. Pete's 22 spirited the St. Pete's second line and two plays later McCormick flipped to O'Neill at the Lindsay 35. O'Neill was in the clear and went over for a touch. Richardson booted the convert neatly between the posts. A similar play at the end of the first half by the second line resulted in Byrne being tackled on the one-yard line. But the play was called back. Several other times in the second half the St. Peter's boys worked their way in but the Lindsay squad were wide awake on the St. Pete's fumbles.



The line-ups:

Lindsay Collegiate — Flying wing, Smith; halves, Trotter, MacDuffee, Maidens; quarter, Logan; snap, Bellamy; insides, Pennock, Martin; middles, Graham, McFadden; outsides, Brown, McLean; alternates, White, Ward, Race, Teel, Tozios, Schenk, Georgas, Stoddard.

St. Peter's High School— Flying wing, Fitzgerald; halves, McGillen, Picard, Brioux; quarter, Armstrong; snap, LaPlante; insides, Hull, Hickson; middles, O'Reilly, Crowley; outsides, M. Fitzpatrick, Cavanagh; alternates Jones, Richardson, McTeague, O'Neill, T. Fitzpatrick, Hickey, Clare Hickson, Harrington, O'Leary, J. Jones, Byrne, Clark, Kirkley.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

With the devaluation of the pound, hockey is hit pretty hard in Britain, where the majority of the players are Canadians. Rink promoters are undecided yet whether to make up the whole difference in the Canucks' pay or to let the puckists assume part of the salary discount in dollars. You see, practically all these Canadian puck-chasers are playing over there for the sole reason of sending or bringing home a nice little nest egg each season. And, with the dip in the pound, a player loses 95 cents on every pound pay. Over a season it amounts to quite a tidy sum for a hockeyist.

* * * * * *

The Ice Hockey World, a British publication, puts it this way: "You have only to suppose the average hockey player gets 15 pounds a week. Let us say he manages to send home seven a week. In the good old days when the pound had swank, this would mean putting away $28 every seven days. There are roughly 35 weeks of hockey, so the hockey player would return to Canada with $978 in the bank. Today, with the dip in the pound, he would have $756, a loss in saving of approximately $222." This applies equally to hockey in Scotland where many Canadians also perform.

For Arena Improvement

Al Cameron and Walt Smillie, secretary-treasurer and manager respectively of Civic Arena, took in the recent meeting of the Ontario Arenas Association in Milton. They are monthly meetings for representatives of artificial ice places, next one being in Barrie. More than 50 were on hand, several even flying down from the Soo. Much may be learned at such get-togethers as representatives from the various centres swap information and deal with problems coming up for the betterment of arena service. A monthly bulletin is issued, also. Al and Walt expect to take in more such gatherings.

Sarnia scribe reprimands Rich Jackson (former gridder here) for taking a sock at an ORFU headlinesman thusly: "Jackson, who must be crowding 34 and has had senior football experience for years, should realize by now that he can't just go around hitting officials when he's displeased. He'll likely get a permanent suspension, and deservedly so. Rich, you're a friend of mine, but I won't hesitate in telling you that your age and experience leave you less excuse than a kid who loses his head in the stress of competition. Unless you were subjected to more abuse than I think, then you behaved in nothing less than a completely foolish manner. Fans pay to see football and it would be better for football to fold up than to put on such displays. Most players are workers who can't afford injuries which keep them from their employment. They take enough chance in ordinary competition without having these fights, too."

Along The Grid Front

As expected, the Lindsay-St. Peter's junior rugby fixture at the Oval yesterday proved a tight fit, and the Scugog huskies broke out at the shoulders to gain a 10-6 verdict. SPS fumbles were expensive after the second-stringers put Fred Allore's pack back in the hunt with a six-point drive. Couple of well-matched clubs, two recent frays betwixt 'em underlining this point. Another number also in Greater Peterborough as PCVS had to overcome an earlier scare to capture a 17-11 exhibition win o'er the Grove gridders on the Lakefield pitch. An excellent tilt, too, and Coach Alex Londry continues to produce promising players for senior use later. Tomorrow p.m., Bev Goulding takes his senior PCI-ers to Toronto for the Red Feather tourney.

Mrs. Pansy Forbes, local coach of girls' ornamental swimming, was pleasantly surprised yesterday when visited by Mr. and Mrs. D. Clark Leach. Visiting Canada, they made it a point to motor to Peterborough to see Mrs. Forbes, whom they met at Detroit and at Des Moines last year when local swim lasses performed in international competition. Mr. Leach is former national chairman for USA synchronized swimming and a member of the Olympic commission. He was a judge at Des Moines and presented the 18-girl team from Peterborough with the sportsmanship trophy. He said yesterday: "Mrs. Forbes' ornamental swimmers made a wonderful showing in the States and proved very popular. We hope to see them in competition again."

Bisons Crush Ramblers 4-0

By The Canadian Press.

Buffalo Bisons today are in undisputed possession of first place in the eastern division of the American Hockey League by virtue of their 4-0 victory over New Haven Ramblers Wednesday night.

Meanwhile in the western section, Pittsburgh Hornets share top billing with Cleveland Barons as the result of their 2-2 stand-off with Springfield Indians. The Barons were idle Wednesday night.

Providence Reds defeated Cincinnati Mohawks 6-2 and Hershey Bears earned a 4-1 victory over St. Louis Flyers to round out the night's schedule.

Goals by Paul Meger, George Pargeter, Sid McNabney and Ab Demarco enabled Buffalo to blank the visiting Ramblers.

Pressure On

At Springfield, a goal by Eric Pogue with only slightly more than a minute remaining in the game enabled Pittsburgh to draw with the Indians. Church Russell scored the other Hornet marker. Hugh Stacey and Billy Gooden tallied for Springfield.

The newly-formed Cincinnati Hawks held the veteran Providence sharp-shooters for the first 20 minutes of the game but a goal by Jackie Hamilton at the 3:31 mark of the middle session put the Reds ahead to stay. Pete Kapusta and Harvey Fraser were the big guns for the winners with two goals apiece. Johnny Chad and Hamilton completed the Providence scoring. Two defencemen. Roger Leger and Bud MacPherson, scored for the Mohawks, who went down to their fourth loss in five games.

Gordie Bruce led the Bears to their victory against St. Louis with a pair of counters while Frank Mario and Mark Marquess tallied singletons. The lone St. Louis goal came from the stick of Henry Backor.

Lefty Reid was high for men with 775, including a 273 games, and Bill Martin rolled 702. Hard luck prize went to Phyl Thackeray with 68.

Queen Mary Wins

King Edward senior soccer team dropped out of the league race on Wednesday afternoon, when Queen Mary eleven defeated them 1-0 at King Edward Park Best for the winners were Dunn, Brady and Stewart—for the losers Tarkington and Ball

Indifferent play in the opening half resulted in poor midfield tactics unproductive of combination. Queen Mary played a defensive style, awaiting breaks to test the goalie repeatedly. They finally annexed the only goal of the game when Dunn registered to gain the full points.

University Of Toronto Wins Track Meet

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 20 (CP)— University of Toronto is the winner of the 42nd annual intercollegiate track meet with McGill as the runner-up.

The fight Wednesday for the championship was a nip and tuck battle all the way. The finally tally: Toronto 60 points, McGill 58.

In third place was London's own University of Western Ontario with 38 points. In last position was Queen's University of Kingston, with eight.

Toronto and Montreal sent trim, well-balanced squads that put them well in front of the others in point scoring. Western's athletes turned in good individual performances but fell short of the all-round ability of the Varsity Blues and the McGill Redmen.

AFTER THE OLD PRO—Pancho Gonzales, young Mexican tennis whirlwind, is out to show up the old pro of the racquet sport, Jack Kramer, in the professional tennis tour opening in New York on Oct. 25. He has youth, speed and strength against Kramer's experience and mechanical perfection and the transcontinental series of matches may favor youth. The tour will touch Toronto late in the month.

Canadiens Trim Leafs 3-1 As Wings Swamp Rangers

By JACK MITCHELL,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Big Bill Durnan is unfair to National Hockey League forwards, not to mention fellow-members of his craft.

The 34-year-old goal tender, best in the big time in five of his six seasons, apparently is headed for another great year. He was Montreal's standout performer as the Canadiens beat the Maple Leafs 3-1 in Toronto Wednesday night.

The one goal allowed by the 190 pound native of Toronto means he has given up a meagre total of two in the Habitants' three starts.

The victory widened Canadiens first place margin and tumbled the Stanley Cup champion Leafs into a tie for third in the six team league.

Detroit Red Wings hopped over Toronto into second position by swamping New York Rangers 6-1 before a 9,507 crowd in Detroit's Olympia. Boston Bruins tied Toronto for third with a 7-4 victory over Chicago Black Hawks as they made their old goalie, Frank Brimsek, eat rubber before a crowd of 10,626 at Boston Garden.

The Hawks and the Rangers still are tied for last place, each with only one point on a draw in three starts.

Great Goaltending

Durnan treated a Toronto Maple Leafs Gardens crowd of 13,645 to an exhibition of goaltending at its best.

Leafs poured 34 shots at Durnan and the only one that beat him was Captain Ted Kennedy's close-in drive at 7:23 of the second session. The Canadiens had opened the period on an unassisted goal by Grant (Knobby) Warwick, Ranger expatriate, and made it 2-1 on centre Elmer Lach's tally midway through the same session. Joe Carveth iced the match by beating Walter (Turk) Broda again in the third.

Paul Ronty, the blonde Bostonian, jumped into first place among the league's individual scorers by leading Bruins to their rout of Chicago Hawks. The centre scored a goal and added two assists to bring his season's sharpshooting to three goals and three assists.

Besides Ronty, the Boston goals were scored by Ed Sandford, Dave Creighton, Johnny Peirson, Kenny Smith, Woody Dumart and Ed Harrison. Jim Conacher scored twice for Chicago. Defenceman Bill Gadsby and Doug Bentley fired the others. Gadsby also picked up an assist.

Dumart In Trouble

The first period was scoreless and Chicago got back one Boston goal before the Bruins opened up on Sandford's tally after 18 minutes of the second period. Dumart, the usually even-tempered Bruin, drew a major for a fight with Doug McCaig during the opening period.

Someone else besides George Gee got into the Detroit scoring act as the Wings blasted Rangers. The centre who hitherto had scored all Detroit's goals—three in two starts—didn't even get a scoring point on their six tallies.

Detroit's Lindsay-Howe-Abel line were the big guns, figuring in four goals. Ted Lindsay netted two and earned an assist. Sid Abel scored one and had two assists and Howe collected one and one. Pete Babando and Jim McFadden notched the other two.

Buddy O'Connor spoiled Lumley's shutout chances when he tallied with only 39 seconds remaining.

Grove Gridders Give PCVS Close Struggle

Grove School of Lakefield made things mighty hot for the husky PCVS Juniors Wednesday afternoon in Lakefield. The Prep School boys were whistling along at the end of the third quarter with a five-point lead, but the PCI'ers came on, winning 17-11, with two touches in the last.

Boyd for the Grove Schoolers plunged across in the first quarter from the five-yard line for the first major of the game. He converted for the extra point. McIlraith intercepted a pass in the second quarter, lateralling to Stewart in the centre zone. Stewart then raced up field 50 yards for a touch. Young booted the convert.

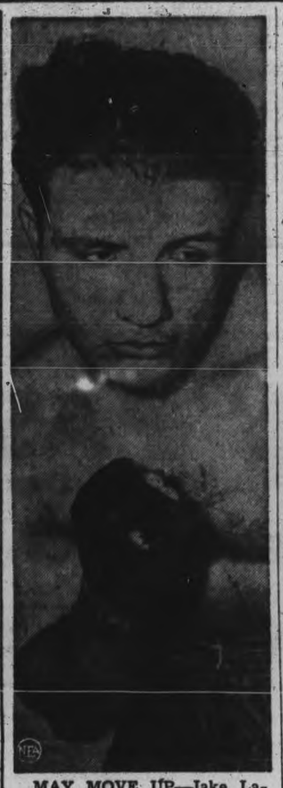
PCVS worked their way to the Grove 25 in the third quarter, and there tried a pass. Boyce for Grove intercepted and ran for a major score. The convert was bad. The PCI train tore up yardage in the fourth quarter as they surged ahead on touches by Stewart and Fowler. Young kicked the extra point on Stewart touch to make the final score 17-11.

Panthers Preparing To Start Puck Play

The Panthers Hockey Club, a wintertime brother of the autumn grid Panthers of the ORFU, is being organized by Gord Beatty, who had much to do with reorganizing football here three years ago. Only players who performed for the football Panthers during any part of the past three seasons may play hockey for the puck-chasing Panthers, and all these are invited to an open practice in Civic Arena from seven to eight p.m. next Wednesday.

The puck Panthers are prepared to play both league and exhibition games. They may enter either the Industrial or Civic Hockey League, if either loop is agreeable. And they also plan to play exhibitions in the city or around the district with TVL, rural or other town clubs any time during the winter. Anyone interested may contact Gord Beatty at 438 Wolsley St. or by phoning 2-1681

Ball Pitcher Drowns Swimming For Help



ALTON, NH, Oct. 20 (CP). — Raymond D. Breton, 20-year-old baseball pitcher, was drowned on Wednesday in Gilman Pond near here while swimming to shore to get aid for his two companions clinging to their overturned boat.

Breton played with Oneonto in the Canadian-American League in the 1949 season and the year before was with Auburn of the Border League

His companions—Harold Chapman 27, and Clifford Henderson 32— said their boat overturned about 75 yards from shore while they were fishing. Chapman and Henderson were rescued

Expensive Business

LONDON, Oct. 20 (Reuters)—The Berlin air lift cost Britain £10,250,000 ($31,775,000), Foreign Undersecretary Christopher Mayhew told Parliament Wednesday. The British part of the Anglo-American air life ended Oct. 6.

MAY MOVE UP—Jake LaMotta, of the Bronx, noted middleweight boxer, has been having his ups and downs lately —including increasing avoirdupois—and he is seriously considering moving up to the light-heavy class this coming winter.

Rickey Will Trade Outfielder For Pitcher

Rickey and Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, held a 90-minute conference Tuesday.

It also was learned that Gene Hermanski, Brooklyn's lefthanded hitting outfielder, and George (Red) Munger, St. Louis' righthanded pitcher, were among the names discussed.

"Our prime need is a front-line pitcher," Rickey told a press conference. "I am willing to trade one of my eight outfielders for such a man. I think there is a chance for such a trade.

Teepees Edge Windsor By 8-6 Margin

By The Canadian Press.

It's so early yet in the Ontario Hockey Association junior race that anything can happen, but St. Catharines Teepees and Barrie Flyers have shown they will bear watching in the lengthy jockeying for playoff berths.

Teepees Wednesday night hung up their third victory in three starts, hammering out an 8-6 margin over Windsor Spitfires. The victory pulled the Teepees into a second place deadlock with Oshawa Generals.

At the same time, Barrie Flyers scored their second triumph of the season. The hard-fighting Flyers, who reached the Eastern Canada Junior finals last year, stopped Stratford Kroehlers 4-2 on Stratford's home ice.

There were no OHA senior games Wednesday night. No games junior or senior are scheduled for tonight. Friday's hockey bill sends Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen up against Toronto's Senior Marlboros, while in the junior section Windsor meets Guelph, Junior Marlboros go to St. Catharines, Galt plays Stratford and Oshawa tackles Barrie.

Heartbreaker

The game with St. Catharines was a heartbreaker for Windsor to lose, especially with a Windsor crowd of 3,300 persons watching the hometown season opener. Eddie Stankiewicz turned in a five-goal performance, but even that wasn't good enough to check the visitors' victory march.

Taking an advantage of an edge in passing attack and in ability to break out of its own end, St. Catharines took a 3-2 lead in the first period made it 5-4 in the second and added three goals early in the final period. Windsor tried to rally in the closing minutes with the speedy Stankiewicz potting two goals 12 seconds apart, but the flurry stopped there.

For Teepees, Bobbie O'Brien, Mel Mullen and George Sullivan scored two goals each and Jack White and Gord Byers tallied the others. Windsor's sixth goal was scored by John Bailey.

Cousin Bobenic scored for Barrie and Jimmie Pernfuss for Stratford in the first period of the match at Stratford. Then Barrie's Stan Long, Rick Hogg and Red McCarthy scored in the second without reply from Stratford and decided the issue. Doug Williams tallied for Stratford midway through the final period when Barrie appeared to tire.

The loss was the second for Stratford in three starts. Kroehlers started out well by defeating Oshawa Generals 4-3. But, in a return game, Generals ran up a 5-1 victory at Stratford's expense.

Spies On West Coast

SEATTLE, Oct. 20 (AP)—Undercover Communists are concentrating on strategic centres on the west coast, Representative Richard Nixon (Dem. Calif.) told a Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday. "Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles are among their major targets for espionage activities because of the possibility of an attack," he said.

YEAR'S WORK GONE—Jeff Cravath walks with head down after seeing his Southern California' team's lead explode as halfback Frank Brunk ran back kick- 102 yards with four minutest to go at Berkeley's Memorial Stadium. The sprint and a safety pushed California to a 16-10 victory.

Soccer Game Tied

Confederation and King George soccer elevens split the league points Wednesday afternoon at King George school grounds with a 1-all decision.

King George opened up with a steady barrage on goal against Confederation who were unaccustomed to the playing pitch. Eventually Confederation were awarded a penalty kick that Dunston converted from the penalty spot. In the second period, Confederation altered their style of play in an endeavour to divert the robust play of their opponents without success, although they were awarded another penalty kick that Duhstan failed to register while King George battled hard to confine the activities to the Confederation net after a goal.

Confederation—M. Bryan, goal; R. Brooks and M. Parry, full backs; B. Bryan, E. Dunstan and T. Post, half-backs; E. Davis, S. Pearton, D. Miller, R Holland and C. Simmons, forwards.

King George—P. McIlmoyle, goal; D. Barclay and F. Johnston, full backs; L. McKenzie, R. Fuller and R. McKenzie, half-backs; G. Barker, B. Simpson, R Withers, B. Fairs and D. Crowder, forwards. Subs.: O. Thompson, C. Butcher, D. Fell, D. Roote.

Referee: Mr. Anderson.

Urge Arbitration In Hospital Row

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 20—(CP)—A special committee of the Brockville General Hospital Board suggested Tuesday night that differences betwen the board and the hospital medical staff be submitted to arbitration.

Senator A. C. Hardy, resigning from the board last month, charged "violent hostility on the party of several members of the board against the medical staff in general and a considerable number in particular."

Two other board members, G. Elmer Johnston and G. R. Johnston, resigned later. None of the three resignations has been accepted. Meanwhile, Senator Hardy has offered to pay up to $500 of the cost of arbitration.

One source said part of the problem is a lack of definition of authority of the medical, nursing and administrative staffs.

Fine Vacation IN FRONTENAC COUNTY

Midway between Toronto and Montreal, where Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River merge, Frontenac County takes in some fine vacation land. If you're historically inclined, you'll enjoy visiting old Fort Henry at Kingston—said to be the greatest colonial restoration on the continent. Then, too, you may like to visit Queen's University and see the Royal Military College—one of Canada's two great service colleges. You can—and should—take the 1,000 Islands cruise from Gananoque; you may fish for muskies, trout and walleyes in the nearby lakes—play golf, swim or just enjoy the scenery. There's pleasant accomodation in Kingston, Gananoque and all points between. Write the Chamber of Commerce in either of these two cities for details.

In Ontario we have a holiday paradise . . . let's do all we can to encourage visitors from across the border. Published in support of the tourist business by John Labatt Limited.

Suggests Aid Given More Than Veterans

EDMONTON, Oct. 20—(CP)—Dr. Robert Newton, president of the University of Alberta, suggested Wednesday the Federal Government extend the education benefits given war veterans to all competent students in need of financial help.

In a personal submission to the royal commission on arts, letters and sciences, Dr. Newton said the post-war scheme for student veterans is nearing completion but the need for a continuing supply of educated citizens remains.

U.S. Competition Felt On Tomatoes

GRIMSBY, Oct. 20—(CP)—C. M. Bonham, Grimsby farmer, said Wednesday that some Canadian wholesalers are buying United States tomatoes at low prices and putting them on the market in competition with a bumper crop of homegrown tomatoes.

Mr. Bonham, who grows 25 acres of tomatoes, said in an interview.

"Last year many Toronto and Montreal wholesalers brought American tomatoes into Canada in carload lots and, after packaging them, sold them at prices 50 per cent lower than you could buy them in Bufaflo. The American growers dump them over the border so that their price will stay up. They are doing the same this year.

"Canadian growers can supply the Canadian market right up to Dec. 1 and there shouldn't be any imports allowed until that date."

Has Way To Go

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP) — Russia may have the atomic bomb but it is doubtful that she has the kind of industrial set-up needed to launch full scale production, G. G. Bateman of Montreal, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, said Wednesday night on arrival here aboard the Empress of Canada.

Army Of Ants Invades Vatican Munches On Capes And Books

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 20 (Reuters)—Vatican technicians were called out today to fight an army of white ants which invaded the Vatican City in a two-column pincer attack, eating their way through walls and ceilings to the Papal archives.

Vatican authorities reported that the insects had penetrated the Vatican walls from the infected Monteverre area of Rome, where several houses already have collapsed because of the ants' depredations.

Both colums of termites converged on one strategic point. Spearhead of the first was discovered in the apartment of Angelo Cardinal Mercati, Papal librarian and archivist, in the area of the Vatican known as The Mint.

By the time the invasion was discovered, the ants had eaten their way through several books and documents, reduced the Cardinal's ceremonial cape to a fragment of grey powder and eaten away an oak beam to the point where it was about to collapse on the Cardinal's bed.

The second column of ants was discovered in the six-foot-thick wall of the Courtyard of the Parrot, eating toward the private archives of the Vatican Secretariat of State.

Vatican officials, battling to prevent the unwelcome pilgrims from indulging their appetite for church literature and property said that, although it was a difficult task to eradicate the ants because of the thickness of the walls, they hoped the last invaders would be wiped out in a few days.

But then came an urgent dispatch from Swiss guards on duty at the Arch of the Bells on the south side of St. Peter's Basilica They reported seeing what may be the advance guard of a new attack swarming across the corner of St. Peter's Square.

Boer War Shots Began To Crackle 50 Years Ago As Invasion of Natal Began

(This is the first of two articles on the Boer War and its aftermath by Rt. Hon. L. S. Amery, and reprinted from The London Times. Mr. Amery was chief war correspondent for The Times in South Africa in 1899-1900, and associate of another noted correspondent, Winston Churchill.)

On October 9, 1899, the Boer republics issued the arrogant ultimatum which ordered Britain to withdraw from her own colonies in South Africa any troops which had arrived since June 1 and to stop reinforcements which might be at sea. At 5 p.m. on October 11 the ultimatum expired.

I was at that moment with the main Transvaal force at Sandspruit on the Natal border as The Time correspondent. It was an anomalous position destined not to last many hours longer before I left and found my way back to British territory. Meanwhile I woke before daylight on the 12th to the sound of horses' feet and rumbling wheels. The invasion of Natal had begun.

Memories of Majuba

Presently there was just enough light to see the heads of the endless line of horsemen silhouetted against the sky before they passed into the blackness of a great mountain mass beyond, Majuba of unhappy memories and still unhappier consequences.

I wondered how many Majubas we might yet have to face before our generals learned how to match the elementary secrets of Boer tactics. I was not afraid that this time they would make any difference to the temper of the British Government or affect the final result. Two and a half years were to pass before that result was reached.

At 11 p.m. on May 31, 1902, the Boer leaders signed the terms of surrender. Next day I stood beside Lord Kitchener as he addressed the assembled Boer commandants at Vereeniging in a straightforward and sympathetic little speech, genuinely appreciated. I think, by brave men who had gone through the bitterness of having to abandon all that they had fought for so stubbornly.

There were no doubts as to the outcome in the minds of the commandos as they crossed the frontier. The English had asked for it and were now to be given their lesson, as at Majuba 18 years before. Whether they were merely to be put in their place or driven out of South Africa for good and all would depend on the success of a campaign which most of them regarded as a matter of weeks. That the clumsy, slow-moving British soldier could compete with the well armed, straight shooting and, above all, mobile burgher never entered their heads. Nor was this mere ignorance.

Outnumbered British Forces

The total British forces in the whole of South Africa at that moment were under 20,000, including the troops from India just landing at Durban. In addition there were local colonial volunteers mostly infantry, and a few newly raised mounted corps, totalling nearly 10,000 in all. The commandos crossed the borders some 40,000 strong. But for all purposes of warfare in the open field one mounted burgher was worth at the very least three infantrymen.

The republics, in fact, started the war with an overwhelming superiority if they had known how to use it. There was nothing to prevent their sweeping to the sea both in Natal and in Cape Colony and in the latter they could soon have doubled their numbers by the spread of rebellion.

Fortunately for the British Empire they threw away their immense initial advantage by attempting the one form of warfare for which they were tactically and temperamentally wholly unfitted, the siege and fixed defences.

While the commandos sat around Ladysmith, Kimberley and Mafeking, Sir Redvers Buller's Army Corps, 47,000 strong, was crossing the ocean and began arriving steadily during November. Its efforts to relieve the besieged garrisons failed at Stormberg, Magersfontein and Colenso in the "Black Week" of December when our generals were repulsed with losses which, by the scale of those days, seemed disastrous.

Deciding Factor In War

Early on Christmas morning I sat with Basil Blackwood on the top of Table Mountain. Dangling our feet over the city and bay 3,600 feet below us we discussed, pessimistically, the prospect of the Boers sweeping unhindered down to the Cape. As we talked we saw far out at sea several small moving objects—like water-spiders Basil said. They were troop transports, and we knew that so long as we held the sea we were bound to win in the end.

The transports were bringing something much more important than reinforcements. They brought Lord Roberts and with him a new spirit and a new conception of warfare. During the next few weeks while Buller was fumbling, irresolutely and half-heartedly, at the Boer defences on the Tugela, Roberts had created his mobile force and swung away from the railway across the open veld to strike at the Boer communications. That masterstroke decided the fate of the war.

On February 15 French relieved Kimberley. On the 18th Kitchener brought Cronje to bay at Paardeberg.

At dawn on the 27th—the anniversary of Majuba—I stood in the trench just taken by the Canadians, and saw the Boer white flags hoisted.

That little exploit by one company was to be the precursor of many famous victories yet to be won by Canada's famous armies in two world wars.

Opens Way to Ladysmith

That same day Buller broke through at Pieters and cleared the way to Ladysmith. From Paardeberg Roberts marched ahead, on a broad front, brushing aside all resistance, to Bloemfontein, to Pretoria and to the Portuguese border. By September the war seemed practically over. The Transvaal was formally annexed. In December Roberts left South Africa, entrusting to Kitchener the task of tidying up—no small task as the event was to prove.

Nor was there lack of consideration for non-combatants. The term "concentration camp" has earned so terrible a significance in recent years that it is as well to remember that it was in order to protect the families of our opponents from hunger and from ill-treatment by wandering natives that Kitchener first brought them together in camps when the necessities of guerrilla warfare led to the destruction of the farms which had served as supply bases and ambushes for the combatants.

There was at first grievious improvidence and incompetence in coping with the epidemics of measles and enteric which for a time led to a heavy death-rate. But that was effectively cured, and there can be no doubt that there would have been far more misery and loss of life had the Boer families been left on the veld.

It was, indeed, Kitchener's decision at the end of 1901 to close the camps to new entrants which was one of the main causes of the final Boer surrender. The other was the steady growing strength of the "National Scouts," i.e., of the Boers who actively fought on the British side, convinced that the continuance of a hopeless struggle was only destroying the life of the nation.

Set Design For Future

The South African War may now seem to have been a small affair. But it was the most serious war we had fought since Waterloo. (The maximum number of British troops in the Crimea was 51,000.) In South Africa we put into the field 450,000 men. Of these, 250,000 were regulars. Over 100,000 were militia, yeomanry, and volunteers, a novel feature in our whole conception of war. Still more striking a departure from all previous notions was the participation in the war of over 30,000 volunteers from the Dominions and over 50,000 troops raised in South Africa itself.

It was our first national and our first Empire war. It laid the psychological foundation both for the universal service and for the whole-hearted Empire co-operation in arms which saw us through two world wars. The weaknesses it revealed in our military organizations and training led to reforms, here and in every part of the Empire, without which we could never have met the most highly trained army in Europe on equal terms and twice won through to victory.

Get Best-Grade Cottons Despite Very Bad Smell

By MICHAEL O'MARA

COMPSTALL, Lancashire Englanr, Oct. 20—(CP)—A success-story is being written here—in the midst of one of the worst smells in England. This village in the Pennine Foothills boasts the only water-driven cotton mill in the country. Thirty million gallons drawn daily from the river Etherow turn the turbines which transmit power to the looms.

The snag is that the Etherow receives the town sewage, the sewage from two other towns and the waste products from a glue factory and a chemical plant upriver from the mill.

Old inhabitants seems to regard the resulting stench as bracing. A party of visiting Canadian reporters found it distinctly oppressive.

Smell or no smell, however—workers and management here are proud of their plant which turns out some of Lancashire's best-grade cottons. About 25 per cent of the mill's output goes to Canada where it is made up into men's shirts by local haberdashery firms.

Egyptian Price Up

Quizzed as to the high price of British shirt materials in Canada, executives gave these replies:

Because of the dollar gap, it is necessary to buy in the Egyptian market — where the price has risen 700 per cent since 1939. British cotton-fabric prices have risen, meantime, only 325 per cent. The margin of profit remains the same.

Canadian retailers generally marked up British goods by around 60 per cent. Possibly with sterling devaluation the price of British shirts would drop substantially to the Canadian consumer.

Canadian consumption of the mill's output is on the increase. One yard in every four produced here still is Canada-labelled, meaning that next year Canada will buy nearly twice as many material-yards from Compstall as she did last year.

THESE TWO McGILL CO-EDS, with gorgeous red hair, are among dozens of "redheads" assisting Dr. Hans Kalmus, new associate professor of genetics at the university, in tracing the connection, and providing scientific data, between "red-hairedness" and one of the human blood groupings. Left to right are Mary Hayes, Ottawa; Margaret Rodger, Peterborough, both students in fine arts, and Professor Kalmus, who is taking a blood sample. Miss Rodger is the daughter of Mr. T. T. Rodger, 602 Rubidge St.

McGill University Co-eds Submit To Redhead Tests

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP) — If you are a redhead, Dr. Hans Kalmus of McGill University is highly interested in you—from a scientific viewpoint.

Dr. Kalmus is amassing data on what connection there may be between red-headedness and blood groupings. He thinks a single chromosome—something in the body which produces or transmits hereditary characteristics—may be responsible for both.

Dr. Kalmus has been studying this particular branch of genetics for several years and now has dozens of Redheads at McGill assisting his as volunteers in his investigation.

Among them are two co-eds, Mary Hayes of Ottawa and Margaret Rodger of Peterborough, both students in fine arts.

"It is very difficult to explain in non-scientific terms the intricate problems involved in this piece of investigation," Dr. Kalmus said today.

"However, the two factors responsible for a certain blood group and red hair may lie in a single chromosome. I need more quantitative data in order to further the investigation. I expect to be able to obtain sufficient redheads on the campus but if I do not, then I may issue an appeal for outside aid."

The volunteers contribute a few drops of blood and a small sample of their hair. It takes Dr. Kalmus only a few minutes to obtain the necessary data but many hours of mathematical calculation to work up the results.

Mrs. R. Wilson Leads WI Topic

WESTWOOD, Oct. 20 (ENS) — Agriculture and Canadian industries were the topics for the October meeting of the Women's Institute, held on Tuesday in the Town Hall, and were featured by a paper by the convener, Mrs. Robert Wilson.

A quiz on the handbook, prepared by Mrs. Aubrey Wood, was won by Mrs. Fred Neilson. A two minute talk on the motto "It is not what you sow, but what you reap that counts," was given by Mrs. E. W. Sargent. A proverb contest was won by Mrs. Stuart Graham.

The president, Mrs. Post, presided for the meeting and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. S. Graham reported a balance of $63.

Mrs. W. Post is the delegate to the Central Area Institute Convention to be held in Toronto on November 9, 10 and 11. Several other members plan to attend.

It was decided to purchase a bingo set. The oratorical contest for Westwood and district will be held in Westwood school on Oct. 26 in the evening. Prizes, donated by the Institute, will be awarded the winners.

Plans were discussed for the lunch which the Institute will provide at the farm auction sale of Harry Carter.

The president announced that nearly 11 pounds of white cotton collected at a previous meeting, was sent to the cancer clinic.

Lunch was served by Mrs. F. Neilson and her helpers.

Sees Nothing Novel

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP) — Justice Minister Garson said Wednesday there is nothing "novel or unreasonable" about abolishing Canadian appeals to the Privy Council. In an address to the Osgoode Hall Legal and Literary Society, he discussed the government's legislation to make the Supreme Court Canada's final tribunal. The idea was conceived in 1875, he said.

EASIER FRONTWARDS

A survey of more than 10,000 accidents involving trucks and commercial cars in nine industries shows that backing up improperly is the greatest cause of accidents.

Find Newsprint Production Remains High

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Canadian production of newsprint continues at record figures, and newsprint's chief market, the United States, is standing up.

The September report of the Newsprint Association of Canada shows production for the first nine months of the year at 3,889,038 tons, compared with 3,695,112 tons in the same period of 1948. September production was 415,810 tons, compared with 408,810 tons in the preceding September.

The report comments that September production per working day (the most significant figure) averaged 16,674 tons, an increase of 1.6 per cent over the daily average a year ago.

The month also saw, as compared with September, 1948:

Canadian shipments of 437,658 tons, up 1.3 per cent. Of this the United States took 367,668 tons or 84 per cent, up 5.5 per cent.

United States estimated consumption of 451,301 tons, up 4.4 per cent. About 81.5 per cent of this was from Canada; 14.7 from American mills; and 3.8 per cent from Europe.

United States consumers' stocks decreased by 171 tons to 781,396 tons, or 48 days' supply, which is, however, above the 661,357 tons, or 37 days' supply on hand at this time last year.

United States newspaper advertising in 52 cities in the first eight months of 1949 was three per cent higher than in the same period of 1948.

Judge Explains Functions Of Family Court

OMEMEE, Oct. 20 (ENS) — Approximately 80 people attended Omemee Home and School Association pot-luck supper Monday evening, at which the guest speaker was Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. of Peterborough, who is also judge at the Family Court.

The tables were smartly decorated with runners in the school colors and bouquets of fall flowers.

After supper and community singing directed by Mrs. W. D. Weir and accompanied by Miss L. Race, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. S. Northy.

The Parents' Roll Call returned the shield to the High School and Principal J. B. Hough assured parents of his availability when they wished to discuss school matters.

Membership convener Mrs. F. W. Pooley made an appeal for more members, but invited non members to attend the meetings.

She also announced that Mrs. L. McQuade, Mrs. L. Parker and Mrs. H. Green were assisting her as room mothers.

Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt introduced Magistrate Philp.

Mr. Philp stated that in the adult section of the Family Court he dealt with such cases as had to do with the Children' Protection Act, Deserted Wives and Maintainance Act, and common assault in husband and wife cases. Juvenile cases were handled in an entirely different way in a separate court.

In Family Court, he said, they worked on the basis of a new approach to criminal law problems; They were not so much concerned about the punishment as trying to arrive at the cause of the crime, and if possible, to remove that cause. The publicity of the common court made it embarrassing, he said, for complainants to state their case and often the charge was with drawn and nothing accomplished.

A private interview relieved the pent-up tension and the situation could in many cases be cleared up.

The Family Court has a probation officer who is a trained social worker and who may be consulted at any time on family matters and in many cases no court is needed. However, he said, "there are teeth in the Family Court too and they punish if necessary."

In the Juvenile Court, he said, they try to find out why the child acted as he did—the charge only illustrates some underlying condition often a broken home, vicious home and lack of wholesome recreation. These reacted on the child in various ways, the most common of which was a feeling of insecurity, lack of confidence, need of affection and a sense of rejection in the home. Children must be made to feel they are a part of a unit including parents and themselves, he stated.

Constable Harold Brooks of the Charlottetown Detachment of the Royal Mounted Police, who is holidaying at the home of parents in Omemee, told of his work with the Federal Police, specializing on preventative policing through the Youth and Police movement

Musical entertainment included a piano solo by Miss L. Race and a vocal duet by Mrs. Wm. Earle and Mrs. W. D. Weir.

Rev. F. W. Pooley moved a vote of thanks to the Magistrate, to Mrs. R. E. Brooks as social convener, to those who entertained with music and to all who helped to make the evening a success.

Won't Have Committee

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Wednesday the government is not prepared to recommend setting up a house committee to look into ministerial use of power delegated by parliament. However, he said it would give careful consideration to the question and might indicate early in the 1950 session if it would make such a recommendation.

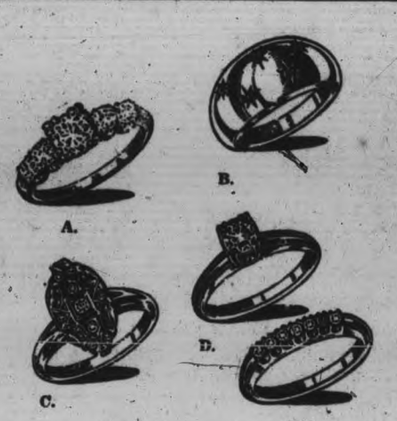
Mayer Agrees To Be Premier

PARIS, Oct. 19 (CP) — Rene Mayer agreed today to become Premier-designate of France and will present himself before the National Assembly tomorrow.

Mayer, former Finance Minister and a radical Socialist, is a member of the same moderate party as Henri Queuille, who resigned as Premier Oct. 6.



Before the National Assembly Mayer will seek the needed vote of confidence before he takes up the task of lining up a government. Socialist Jules Moch gave up the job Monday night because he couldn't get a set of ministers among the middle of the road parties of the coalition to agree on policy.

Queuille's government had fallen in a dispute between the Socialists and the radical Socialists over the price-wage policies.

Name Red Cross Bath In Honor Of Frank Mitchell

WINDSOR, Oct. 20— Honoring its former member Frank J. Mitchell, who died October 5, the Windsor Rotary Club board of directors announced yesterday that the treatment bath in the new Red Cross building will be named in honor of Mr. Mitchell.

Silent Tribute

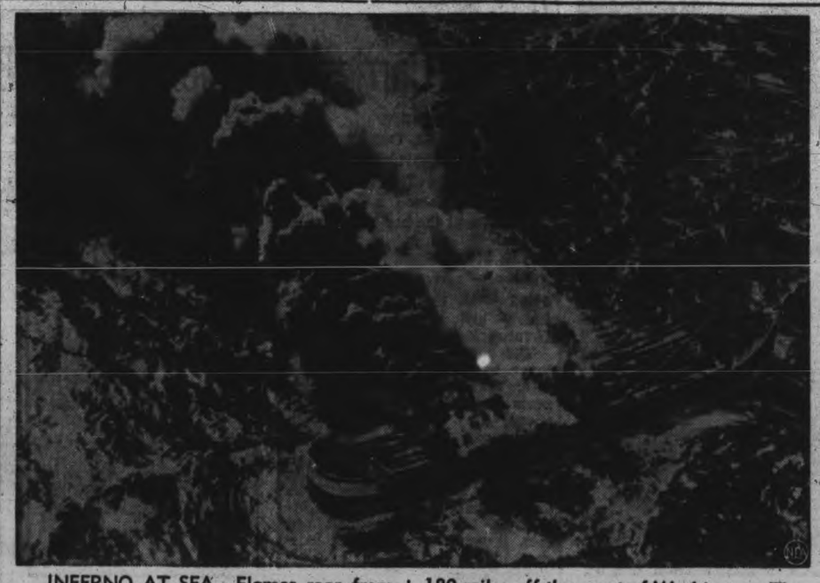
Club members stood in silence for one minute at yesterday's luncheon meeting in tribute of Mr. Mitchell who was such a sparkplug in the club's crippled children program.

With dimmed lights in the ballroom, members of the club observed the silence and then sang one verse of "O God Our Help in Ages Past."

The treatment tank at the Red Cross centre is being installed by the Windsor Rotary Club and is to be known as the Frank Mitchell Memorial Tank for Crippled Children.

President Robert B. Turner, speaking about Mr. Mitchell, said, "Service before self was Frank's motto and he had a deep love of doing things for other people. Rotary members can find an example from Mr. Mitchell who always found time for some other worthwhile deed."

Resolution Moved



J. Clark Keith moved a resolution in honor of Mr. Mitchell, which reads

"Whereas the Eternal Father has stilled the vigorous personality of Frank J. Mitchell an acknowledged leader in diverse understandings for the common weal, a lover of things beautiful in nature, a citizen whose adherence to humanitarian ideals exemplified Rotary service at its ultimate best, and who in his sudden passing left incomplete many things he would wish to have done, thus bequeathing an unvoiced challenge to others to emulate his principles endeavors, and

"Whereas he chose to forego the path of political preferment for the more enduring satisfaction to be derived from the alleviation of the distress of physically handicapped children to whom he gave his unceasing devotion and whose affection for him was at all times ample compensation, and

"Whereas, he will long be enshrined in the hearts of those children whose bodies were healed, as well as by their parents whose peace of mind will give them cause to be eternally grateful.

"Now therefore be it resolved that this club record its loss with profound sorrow, that this resolution be inscribed in the minutes of the club and that a copy be sent to Mrs. Mitchell and family."

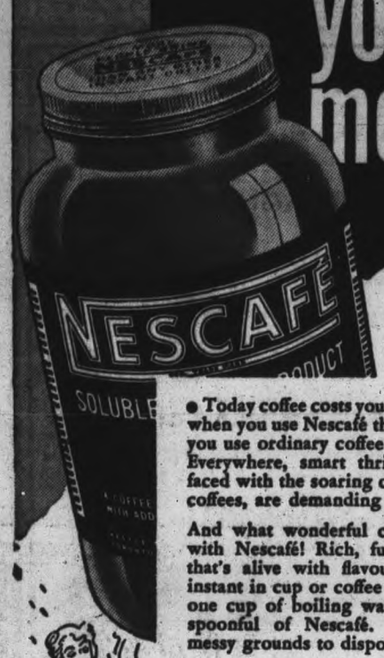
Losing Liberties



MONTREAL, Oct. 20 (CP) — Tim Buck, national leader of the Labor Progressive Party, told some 400 university students Wednesday that infringement on civil liberties was spreading from Canadian labor unions and radical politics into universities and business. Although his 90-minute address was preceded with a request for "good taste and fair play" from students, the Labor Progressive leader was interrupted by booing, shouts and jeering laughter through his speech.

Will Lie Any Time Witness Tells Court

SARNIA, Oct. 20—(CP)—William Hanford, 69-year-old stock salesman, told a general sessions jury Wednesday that he would "lie any time" it suited his purposes.

Hanford is a crown witness at the trial of two Toronto men on a joint charge of conspiracy to defraud the public in connection with trading of Grantland Gold stock. On trial are Hugh H. Sutherland, 69, managing director of Grantland Gold Mines and head of General Securities, and Robert G. McMullen, 53, president of Lobanor Gold Mines.

Under cross-examination, Hanford said a transaction with Grantland Gold and "A. B. Barrett," New York, was a hoax. He added that he would lie any time to obtain money.

The trial is continuing.

ROSYTH, Fifeshire, Scotland, Oct. 20 (Reuters)—Britain's new aircraft carrier Albion, holed on her port side Tuesday in a collision with a welsh collier, was towed Wednesday night by seven tugs into the naval dockyard here at the end of a 36-hour battle with heavy seas. Twenty crew members of the 2,025-ton Welsh collier Maystone were lost when she sank after the collision in the North Sea off the Northumberland coast.

Ruled Insane

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP) — A psychiatrist testified Wednesday Samuel Care, 58, now on trial for murder, was insane when Mrs. Mamie McLennon was fatally slashed with a razor in Weston Sanatorium March 1. Earlier in the trial a panel of four psychiatrists ruled that Care was fit to stand trial, but did not give an opinion on his mental condition at the time of the slaying.

Bogart Carries No Bitterness For 'Big Town'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct 20 (AP)—Humphrey Bogart, veteran of "The Battle of The Pandas," is back in Hollywood with no bitterness about the big-town battleground.

"Me bitter about New York? Nonsense!" he snorted. "I'll be going back there as soon as I finish my picture and Betty (Lauren Bacall) finishes hers."

The movie mug and animal lover has just returned after a nitery skirmish. There were reports that he was being silent about his teapot-tempest with two glamor girls over possession of two giant Panda dolls.

But when I found him testing make-up and hair for "In A Lonely Place," there was no indication he had clammed. In fact, it was Bogart on the half-shell. Verbally, I mean.

Great Town

"New York's a great town to knock around," he commented. "It bends but it doesn't break. It's the best fun town in the world. I don't know why anybody would go to Europe when they can get more enjoyment right in New York."

"Third courting couple I've reaped and bound this week."

London Express Service.

He expressed admiration for a New Yorker acquaintance who has "the right idea" for a vacation: He spends almost his entire two weeks within the confines of 21, the Gotham Watering Place.

Bogart spoke mostalgically of the brief trial in which he was cleared of assault charges. The judge was "a nice guy—the Frank Morgan type." As for the actor's accuser, "she claimed all she wanted to do was pinch my Panda—that's a laugh!"

Freedom Blow

"You might report that I struck a blow for freedom," he said. "Not to mention the pursuit of happiness.

"This may well be the turning point. It's time somebody wised some people up about the notion they can push celebrities around."

Cash Payment Settles Thompson Case

A cash settlement on Thursday morning cut short the trial of Hugh Stewart versus Albert E. (Ned) Thompson, in which Thompson was suing Stewart for $18,000 general damages and $300 special damages to cover doctor and hospital bills.

The suit resulted from an assault August 28, 1948, at the Exhibition Grounds October 5, 1948, Stewart was found guilty of the criminal charge of assaulting Thompson and fined $100 by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in Police Court.

Stewart was also found guilty of assaulting Thomas Fritz, of Brighton, a friend of Thompson, who became involved in the same fracas.

Terms Not Divulged

Neither Thompson's lawyer, Emmett F Sheehy, nor T. J. Carley, KC, who was defending Stewart, would reveal the amount of the settlement. Mr. Carley said he had been asked by Mr. Sheehy not to reveal the terms of settlement. Mr. Sheehy said Thompson did not want the amount revealed and added that one of the terms of settlement made by Stewart was that Thompson should not reveal the amount of the settlement.

No witnesses were heard today. The two lawyers conferred with The Hon. Mr. Justice P. E. F. Smily for a short time, and after about three-quarters of an hour came to an agreement with their clients.

The plaintiff, Thompson, was claiming permanent disability as a result entirely of injuries received from the assault. The defendant, Stewart, claimed Thompson's physical condition was a result of physical aliments which had nothing to do with the assault.

First Gravedigger: I have been sexton here, man and boy, thirty years.

Hamlet: How long will a man lie i' the earth ere he rot?

First Gravedigger: Faith, if he be not rotten before he die,—as we have many pocky corses now-a-days, that will scarce hold the laying-in,—he will last you some eight year or nine year . . . Here's a skull now; this skull hath lain you i' the earth three-and-twenty years.

The lines from the gravedigger scene in Shakespeare's Hamlet are recalled by the uncovering of an old grave by plasterer Maurice Mead, LEFT, who had been gravedigger at St. Joseph's Cemetery, Douro, for the past 33 years. The grave is presumed to be Indian, and the bones perhaps a century and a half old. Mr. Mead was digging sand one mile west of Indian River for a plastering job at St. Joseph's church when he came upon the burial ground a couple of feet below the surface. The human remains fill two receptacles and have roused lively interest, especially of near-neighbor James Devlin who holds a piece of skull. They hope more digging will reveal pottery and arrow heads, perhaps more skeletons.

PRESSURES IMPROVED

Ross L. Dobbin, general manager of Utilities reported to the Commission on Wednesday that water pressures around town were much improved since the completion of the new 24-inch main in the northern end of the city reaching down to Bethune and Sherbrooke Streets. It was also felt in Ashburnham. With the further joining of the Ashburnham and city mains at Perry and George Streets, the Ashburnham customers should soon be getting the full benefit of the Commission's recent investment in the improvement of the system.

TAR POT BOILS OVER

A booster tank was used early Wednesday night to douse a blaze that flared up when a tar pot boiled over on Monaghan Road S. It was on the premises of the Peterborough Lumber Co. There were two other calls made by firemen Wednesday. One was to put out a rubbish fire in front of 36 Ware St., and the other to check on a seized-up washing machine motor belching smoke at the residence of Ernest Braund, 728 George St.

SMALL CHILD BURIED

His daughter, Mrs. Cora Sheik of Indianapolis, who was visiting friends in the village, found her father when she came to his house to prepare his breakfast. He was attended by Dr. Hugh Gastell and taken to a hospital. Reports this morning indicate that Mr. McDonald spent a restful night and is doing well. He was 97 in May of this year.

41 Family Heads On Welfare List

Ald. P. J. Anglesey predicted a surplus at the end of the year in the administration of the welfare committee of which he is chairman.

Total expenditures to the end of September were $35,978.03 of which $12,528.05 is charged to the province, leaving $23,449.98 net from the city treasury. The appropriation for the year is $34,217.35. Subtracting the outlay for nine months, leaves $10,767.37 for the three remaining months

September relief was $2,787 as compared with $2,182 for the same month last year, but there was an increase in the number of heads of families on the welfare list, from 25 to 41; and the total number of persons in those families was 136 last year and 198 last month.

The per capita cost a year ago was $16.05 as against $14.08 in September.

Of the eleven new recipients of relief, nine last month were women. Their woe traced to various disabilities including their husbands. For instance: "husband sentenced to Guelph reformatory; assistance needed for herself and two children". . . "Husband committed to Ontario Hospital. . . Temporary assistance for herself only". "Assistance needed until able to find home for two children. Will then look for work."

One of the two men on the list had suffered a minor accident, and the other was temporarily out of work.

No Santa Claus Parade

1948 Show Discouraging To Sponsors of Event

Santa Claus isn't going to be introduced to the children and adults in Peterborough in a blaze of glory this year. There will be no Santa Claus parade. The parade last year was sponsored by the Peterborough Businessmen's Association.

James Dorris, secretary of the association, said the association came to that decision when B. G. Matlock visited Peterborough to show the 1949 version of the parade. Last year's parade was discouraging, he said, due to the lack of animation in the parade and lack of bands for music.

Mr. Matlock, Mr. Dorris said, presented sketches of the 1949 version of the presentation which will have more animation and floats than last year's. Instead of the 10 floats Mr. Matlock had 16 floats, one of which was a 50-foot Santa Claus float.

The high cost of bringing the parade here last year and its lack of inspiration tended to discourage the association to sponsor the parade this year, Mr. Dorris said.

Mr. Dorris explained that the Santa Claus parade for 1950 will be given considerable thought by the association. Some of the members will attend the parades which will be held at Belleville and Oshawa.

With the abandonment of the parade Peterborough will be in the same position as during the past 10 to 12 years. Mr. Dorris recalled that parades before the war were provided by the association with the help of the local stores and companies who made the floats. One year, he recalled, Santa Claus made his arrival into Peterborough by train, the engine being gayly decorated by Peterborough citizens at Kendry station for its entry into Peterborough.

Province Pays 80% Of Total Bridge Bill

Construction costs for the Chemong Causeway were $255,058.36 John D. Kean, County Engineer and Road Superintendent, told a meeting of the County Council today.

The County's share of this amount, including accumulated interest charges and legal fees, amounts to approximately $35,000. When the Council adjourned at noon members were discussing means of retiring this sum.

A proposal was made by Robert B. Arnold, manager of the Bank of Commerce, to purchase the County's debenture issue over a five year period at two-and-three-quarters-per cent. interest at par. Members seemed to think this was as good an offer as they were likely to receive by calling for tenders.

At the noon adjournment council had approved this in principle but were waiting to check with the Municipal Board in Toronto to ensure that the debentures, issued without advertising, would be approved by the Board.

It was expected that the Finance Committee would bring in a recommendation to accept the Bank of Commerce offer later today.

$2,500 For Old Bridge

Mr. Kean explained that sale of the old wooden bridge had netted $2,500. And this left the construction cost at $252,558:36 to be divided between the County and the Department of Highways.

The Department's share was 80 per cent., or $202,046.69; and the remaining 20 per cent., or $50,-511.67, remained to be divided three ways.

The City of Peterborough contributed a set amount of $10,000, handed over to the County when the Causeway was finally completed. This left construction costs of $40,511.67 to be divided between the County and Ennismore, on a basis of eight-elevenths and three-elevenths, respectively.

Ennismore Questions

Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore said the township would readily pay its share, amounting to $1,048.55, but he stated "extra consideration" should be shown on the matter of legal fees and accumulated interest.

In support of this view he said Ennismore had paid its own legal fees and would, with the other municipalities, be taxed in the general rate for the County's share. The latter argument also applied to the matter of interest.

Moreover, he contended, Ennismore had been ready to proceed with the project when money could have been borrowed a quarter of a per cent cheaper.

Ennismore paid its estimated share of the Causeway ($10,000) immediately, he stated, and thus there were no interest charges on it.

On a motion by Reeve Melville Johnston of North Monaghan and Reeve Rork Ferguson of Norwood the County accepted the Ennismore share of extra construction costs and accepted responsibilities for the interest and legal fees estimated at $5,000.

TWO BROTHERS HURT

Two Peterborough brothers who tried to board an Ontario Northland freight train at Matheson Tuesday found themselves in hospital in North Bay today. The men, identified by police as Garnet Guthrie 22, and David Guthrie 25, suffered injuries when they fell off a moving freight car pulling out of the Matheson station. David lost four toes when his foot was crushed on the rail under the wheels of the freight car and both brothers suffered minor cuts and bruises. They were treated by Dr. R. C. Wade of Matheson.

Lighting Regulations Call For Use of Common Sense Observes Utilities Chairman

Domestic lighting regulations should not exclude common sense in their observance, said Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Utilities Commission, at its meeting Wednesday. Hydro orders for saving power frown on exterior lighting of houses. That is the general rule for the period of shortage. But, a citizen left his verandah light on one night recently, and a neighbor reported the infraction to the office of the Utilities Commission. A routine telephone call obtained the information that the light was left in use because the daughter of the household went out for the evening, and her father wanted the verandah lighted when she came home.

"That's what I would be tempted to do," Mr. Matthews remarked. "If some visitor is leaving my place at night I'm certainly going to turn the light on so he can see his way."

Opinion of the commission was that the people of Peterborough were generally complying with the requirements by which the Hydro plans to save electric power during the present season of the longer nights.

Some one had raised a question about The Examiner's lighting of its mechanical department up to 11 p.m. The reason has been that linotype operators are at work up to that hour.

Patrol On Duty

Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, said there had been "no checking yet on domestic power users," mainly because it did not appear to be necessary. However, the commission has a patrol man on night duty, in the business district up to the present.

His reports are followed the next day by telephone enquiries and personal calls. Some places of business have private generating plants.

"We have them listed, and if they are using Hydro power instead of their own, their bills will disclose it. We have to insist that regulations be adhered to, and so far we have been getting good co-operation."

Some Private Plants

Commission's discussion questioned the value of private generating equipment. It was said that some of the generator users placed cards in their windows indicating the source of their power, but most people did not notice them. The public did not know who had put in emergency generators, but when they saw stores lighted beyond the Hydro's stipulation "it is likely to be adverse advertising."

Mr. Dobbin said there were about fifteen names on the list of those developing their own power.

The members of the commission with Mr. Matthews at Wednesday's meeting were George A. Macdonald and Fred Hills.

"I think it should be mentioned that so far there has been no cutting off of hot water heaters out of the ordinary," the chairman said.

Boy, 14, Lost Seven Hours

WILBERFORCE, Oct. 20—"Did anyone bring anything to eat?" were the words of 14-year-old Bill Graves, of Wilberforce, when a search party found him late at night after he had been wandering around the dense bush for more than seven hours.

Bill had started out with his chum Mervin McNeely, in search of autumn leaves to be used in a nature study class. Point of departure was the school yard, and an hour or so after starting out the lads became separated. When McNeely returned to the school yard, there was no sign of his chum, so an adult search party was organized.

Searchers continued to work through the bush for several hours and shortly before 11 p.m. the lad was found at Cedar Lake about six miles from the village. He had found a canoe on the lake and had paddled in the direction of the searchers' voices.

Cyclist Hit By Car Suffers Back Injury

An 85-year-old man, Jack Richardson, 541 Homewood Ave., was knocked from his bicycle by a car in the thick fog and darkness about 6.50 this morning at the corner of Charlotte and Reid Sts.

Robert A. Record, R.R. 1, Peterborough, told police he was driving south on Reid St. He said he came to a full stop at the Charlotte St. intersection then started across.

He hit the bicycle at its front wheel throwing the man sideways on his back. Police reported Record said he he could see nothing until the bicycle loomed up in front of him.

The cyclist said he had hurt his back and Record drove him to his home.

WI Sees Film Of Improved Farm Methods

BETHANY, Oct. 20 —(ENS)— Walter Reynolds, Bowmanville, of the Crop and Seeds Improvement Branch was guest speaker at the Women's Institute "Open House" meeting held in Bethany Town Hall on Monday. He described Canada first Farm Improvement and Conservation Day held on September 8 at the farm of Heber Downe, Brooklyn.

The object was to demonstrate just how an Eastern Ontario farm below average in productivity, could be laid out for greater production of crops, conservation of soil and water resources, and provide a better living for the farm family.

"Huge bulldozers and other power equipment cleaned out a fence row. People saw a farm noted for being springy and late, completely tile drained. They saw the long slopes laid out for contour cultivation and a four year crop rotation planned to bring the soil back to proper condition. Modern machinery practically built a terrace to prevent run off of water. Weather beaten barns were spray painted and the barnyard levelled with many loads of fill. Mention was also made of a Reforestation project.

The farm home came in for attention and the kitchen was remodelled into a bright modern room, with modern conveniences. Other renovations in the remainder of the home were also planned.

Mr. Reynolds illustrated his lecture with moving pictures of the farm and buildings, before and after the project was completed.

Mrs. W. E. Nicholls, Port Hope, the District President of East Durham Women's Institute Branches, gave a talk on "Making the Farm Surroundings Beautiful" also explaining the culture of many flowers and shrubs.

Mrs. A. H. Monk told of the achievements of the Bethany Branch.

The president, Mrs. H. L. Challice, welcomed the visitors, introducing and thanking the speakers, also explaining the aims rules and motto of the Institute.

Mrs. T. Jennings led a sing song and following an informed discussion over the Downer's Farm Improvements, the Junior Girls served lunch.

Parties Alarm Voters On Future

By ANTONY WHITLOCK

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 20—(CP)—Australia's political parties are making no glowing promises for the Federal Elections to be held Dec. 10. Instead they are alarming voters with grim pictures of what will happen if the other side gets elected.

The Labor Government, in power since 1941 and with three successful elections behind it, is pinning its election policy on a depression which it says is sure to come.

The Liberal and Country Party Alliance is telling voters that the —Labor party is Socialist and therefore only one step removed from Communists.

Earlier this year the joint Federal-State Loans Council drew up plans for a reserve of works to cost £743,000,000 ($1,783,200,000). These include new schools, hospitals, houses, roads. irrigation works, railways and power houses.

Chifley Trump Card

This reserve seems to be Prime Minister Chifley's trump card for the election. He loses no chance of dinning into Australian ears that when the expected depression arrives, these works will provide jobs for those whom private enterprise sacks.

The opposition parties attack Chifley's anti-depression reserve of works plan by saying that it would mean direction of labor. They say city workers thrown out of a job would be forced to leave their homes and go to the back country to build the government's development projects. Chifley denies that there will be any direction of labor in his scheme, but admits that in a depression people out of work probably would have to go elsewhere if they wanted a job with the government.

Opposing the government's National Welfare Plans, the Liberals, under Robert Menzies, a former Prime Minister, are asking electors: "will you continue to expose yourself to the mounting consequences of socialist errors, or will you join in rebuilding Australian life on the basis of our old, tested vigor and enterprise?"

MORE ABOUT--

Stewart Trial

Opening the trial, Dr. Robert J. Young testified he had treated Thompson for alcoholism and that Thompson had been in hospital for alcoholism treatment from Nov. 29 to Dec. 4, 1948.

Dr. Young said he thought alcoholism was about 60 per cent responsible for Thompson's physical deterioration. About 40 per cent was due to the injuries he had received as a result of the Stewart assault. He also said the assault would have more effect because of Thompson's drinking.

Stewart had also been found guilty of assaulting Thomas Fritz, Brighton, a horseman friend of Thompson, by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C., in police court Oct. 5.

Fritz testified there was no reason he knew for the assault. He said when Stewart had hit Thompson he had stepped up to Stewart and said Stewart couldn't do that to a friend of his. He declared the next thing he knew he came to on a trailer about half an hour later.

He said Stewart apologized to him when he was conscious and he ran his horse in the free-for-all. He testified that Stewart also went to Thompson's home the next morning and apologized to both men and, saying he "would not have had it happen for the world."

Fritz said he thought he had supper at Thompson's home that evening. When asked by Mr. Carley whether they had had anything to drink, he answered with a smile, "Well it would have been a little strange if we didn't." He said they had two whiskeys each.

Dr. Raymore Scott who treated Thompson the night of the assault, testified he had sewed up a gash in Thompson's ear and said the ear drum was also ruptured. He told the court an X-ray later showed Thompson had a fractured rib.

When asked whether a sinus condition would be caused by such a blow on the ear, he answered, the condition might be aggravated, but not caused by the blow.

Mrs. C. W. Chambers testified she had helped take Thompson to the St. John Ambulance tent in her husband's car. She sat in the back seat with the injured man, but noticed no evidence that he was intoxicated.

Not Subpoenaed

When her husband was called to give evidence he stood up near the back of the courtroom and said "I wasn't subpoenaed to give evidence. I don't wish to give evidence."

After a short talk with Mr. Sheehy, he went into the witness box and testified he had driven Thompson in his car to the first aid tent. He said he was a former provincial police constable and thought Thompson was quite sober. Under cross examination by Mr. Carley he said in his experience he found a blow sometimes sobers a man, but he hadn't smelled any beer or liquor on Thompson.

Mrs. Donald A. Jordon, Thompson's sister, said she thought Fritz was mistaken about eating with the Thompsons on the night of the assault. She said she and her four-year-old son had spent the afternoon and first part of the evening at her mother's home where Thompson lived. She declared up until the time her brother drove her and her mother and one or two others to the exhibition grounds, she had seen no drinks.

She told the court she "wouldn't know he (Thompson) was the same man," after the assault.

Stanley Blewett, who held the stakes of the bet, did not seem sure whether or not he had seen either Thompson or Fritz struck by Stewart.

When Benjamin Smith took the witness box, he commented, "after hearing all the evidence I'm not sure what I saw."

He said he saw Stewart strike Thompson four or five blows then hit Fritz who appeared to come out of the stable to stop the attack. He said he helped Fritz as much as he could and told the court Fritz was talking to him before he left him.

Saw Assault

Ira J. Fallis, an Omemee farmer, testified he saw Stewart hit Thompson a blow which knocked him down, then flatten Fritz and go after Thompson who was walking toward a bench, and hit him, knocking him down again.

Alvin Thompson, nephew of the assaulted man, told the court to the best of his knowledge Thompson was in the best of health before the incident, but that he had deteriorated very much after it. He said his uncle had lost weight, became very nervous and complained of severe headaches. He said Thompson had cut down a good deal on the amount of work he was able to do.

He said he had never seen his uncle intoxicated before or after the assault, but that liquor affected him a good deal more after the assault.

He denied that his uncle ever drank to excess. He said for about a month in September and October last year, his uncle had a lump on the back of his head. He had also lost considerable hair.

George Siddall, a member of the St. John Ambulance force, who treated Thompson, testified he thought Thompson had considerable shock when he was brought in for first aid, but Thompson hadn't appeared to have been drinking. The hearing was adjourned until today at the conclusion of Siddall's evidence.

Fear Forces' Row

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (CP) —Gen. Omar N. Bradley told the United States Congress Wednesday that the bitter row between the armed services has done "infinite harm" to national defence, and he cautioned against setting the stage for another Pearl Harbor. Tersely, the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff advised all American fighting men to forget their feuds and "get on with the job."

Police Discover $400 Of Plunder

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 20 — (ENS).— Chief Constable George H. Hardy uncovered about $400 worth of plunder this week which had been stolen from local residents by a 14-year-old boy during the past few days. Most of the articles were taken from garages and homes. The loot consisted of two outboard motors, an electric record player, a Boy Scout tent, a pair of oars, two fishing rods and reels, and a boat.

A large hand-drawn wagon was fitted with a rack was used to convey the stolen goods to the secret hideouts.

Laud Princess For Speech On Happiness In Home

TORONTO, Oct. 20 (CP)—Religious leaders and private citizens here agree with Princess Elizabeth that modern morals and irresponsibility in marriage are endangering today's home life.

In fact, many of them commended the Princess for having the courage to rap modern morals and for speaking publicly on the grave responsibilities of marriage.

The Princess Monday told a rally of the Mothers' Union in London that some of the principles on which the family and nation are founded were being endangered by broken homes. A poll here of women's organizations, religious leaders and private citizens brought these answers:

"Coming from a 22-year-old mother, it was a fine deliverance," said the Rev. Dr. H. H. Bingham, general secretary of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec. "She has sounded a note that is needed, not only in Britain, but more so on this side of the Atlantic."

The Rev. Daniel Lord, S.J., of St. Louis, Mo., who spoke in Toronto Tuesday night: "I think it's perfectly wonderful that Princess Elizabeth, holding such a high position, should come out in favor of good, solid family life"

The Rev. Dr. A. R. Beverly, Anglican Bishop of Toronto: "I heartily agree with her. The Princess is to be commended for what she said."

The Rev. Dr. John McNab, editor of the Presbyterian Record: "Christian civilization has always depended upon the virtue of her women and without following the moral and spiritual foundations advocated by the Princess, our 20th century civilization will collapse."

Mrs. W. A. Walker, provincial president of the Catholic Women's League: "To think that such a young woman would have such mature ideas and the courage to state them."

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, October 20th—Appetites are hearty these brisk autumn days . . . and "something chocolate" on the menu is sure to bring rounds of applause from all the family! Especially popular will chocolate dishes be if they are made with BAKER'S UNSWEETENED CHOCOLATE. Rich-coloured, full-flavoured—Baker's Chocolate is a careful blending of the choicest cacao beans, ground to satin-smoothness—with nothing added, nothing taken away. When I buy Baker's Chocolate I know I'm getting the best!

"I'm Head Over Heels In Love with my new FRIGIDAIRE REFRIGERATOR. It does so many wonderful things—like giving me ice cubes trigger-quick from its Quickube Trays—or keeping a week's supply of frozen foods in its big Super-Freezer. And I never get over how much general food storage space I have because of its 'bigger-but-smaller' cabinet design. Yes, when I think of all the other wonderful advantages: the Meter-Miser mechanism that uses so little current, the full-width Hydrator that keeps fruits and leafy vegetables so garden-fresh, the big Meat-Tender that keeps fresh meats at their best—is it any wonder I'm head over heels in love with my new Frigidaire Refrigerator? You will be, too. See it at your Frigidaire Dealer's."

Cripps Pledges No Forced Loans

LONDON, Oct 20 (AP) — Sir Stafford Cripps promised Britons tonight he will not force them to buy government savings bonds, nor freeze the ones they already have.

Government leaders "have set ourselves against the totalitarian way of forced loans to the state," the Chancellor of the Exchequer told a national saving rally.

His speech opened National Savings Week, a concentrated appeal to Britons not to spend their money at a time when inflation and rising prices threaten the country.

Sir Stafford said that since last April 1, Britons have cashed £42,000,000 ($130,200,000) more state savings than they have bought. That, he said, is exactly the opposite of what it ought to be.

Auxiliary crews were rushed to the spot and managed to clear the passing track in six hours. The main track, however, was still blocked this morning although no trains were being held up.

New Skirmish Being Waged Beaverbrook Versus Party

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP) — A new skirmish in the almost-wordless war between Lord Beaverbrook and the Conservative party raises interesting speculation about their relationship at the next general election.

It seems that when whips were handed around for the devaluation debate in the House of Lords, Lord Beaverbrook did not receive one. It was the first time such a thing had happened to the Beaver, and two question arose:

Did a clerk blunder somewhere, or is the Conservative party really angry at Lord Beaverbrook?

The Conservative answer, issued as an official statement from party headquarters, was that the omission was purely an accident. The Tory peers, the statement indicated, thought that the 70-year-old newspaper publisher was holidaying in Canada.

Excommunicated

That was the only official word on the subject. But accident or no accident, Lord Beaverbrook seemed to be burned up. One of his newspapers, The Sunday Express, said earlier that Lord Beaverbrook had been "excommunicated" as a result of a deliberate act by the Marquess of Salisbury, Conservative leader in the Lords, and Lord Fortescue, chief tory whip.

The Independent Manchester Guardian, noted for its careful reporting, said the omission may have been a mistake, "but Lord Beaverbrook is a bad person to make a mistake with."

Political gossips speculated that the Conservatives wanted to get rid of Lord Beaverbrook in anticipation of a general election. A section of the party, it was argued, still holds that the Beaverbrook newspapers contributed to the Tory downfall in the 1945 election.

It wasn't the first breach between the party and the man whose editorial columns crusade consistently for Commonwealth and Empire. Twenty years ago Lord Beaverbrook irritated Conservative bosses by sponsoring empire free trade candidates, and his support has been more or less ambiguous ever since.

In and Out

Last January, Lord Beaverbrook stopped subscribing to his local constituency fund because the new candidate did not support the publishers empire policies. The Tory office was quoted as saying Lord Beaverbrook was no longer in the party. Lord Beaverbrook was quoted as saying he certainly was.

The matter died there, and nobody was sure how things stood. Meanwhile, Lord Beaverbrook has reiterated his stand in the uncompromising words:

"My support depends on the policy developed by Mr. (Winston) Churchill and the party. If it is an empire policy, I am with them. If they fail, I oppose them."

Loaded Firearm Conviction Made

LITTLE CURRENT, Oct. 20 (CP)—Arthur Mastin of Manitowaning, Ont., was convicted Tuesday of a charge of carrying a loaded firearm in a motor vehicle contrary to section 56-1 (A) of the Game and Fisheries Act.

He was fined $10 and costs and the .22 rifle in question is under seizure.

The case attracted wide interest when it was heard two weeks ago. At that time the right of a game warden to enter private premises without a specific warrant was questioned.

Magistrate W. J. Golden made it clear today this point had no bearing on his decision.

Mastin was guilty of violation of the act. By his own admission the loaded gun had been carried in the back seat of his car for several days through an oversight," the magistrate said. "I have no choice but to find him guilty."

Savage-Maloney Nuptials

MARMORA, Oct. 20—(ENS)—A pretty wedding was solemnized at Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, Saturday, when Margaret Maurice, daughter of Mrs. Michael J. Maloney, of Marmora, and the late Mr. Maloney, became the bride of John Henry Savage, son of Mrs. William Savage of Kingston, and the late Mr. Savage. The ceremony and nuptial mass was performed by the Rev. J. A. O'Neill. The Rev. M. J. Nealon, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, was present in the sanctuary.

Altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated with pink and white dahlias, and snapdragon. The wedding music was played by Miss Mary McDougall, cousin of the groom, and Mrs. Kevin Gibson, of Kingston, sister of the groom, sang Schubert's "Ave Maria" and "On this day."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. James McAvoy, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace, over white slipper satin, with satin yoke. She wore a cameo pendant, a gift from her father to her mother on their wedding day. Her finger-top veil was of French tulle illusion, caught with a Dutch cap of lace. She carried a white satin prayer book, with a white orchid and baby yellow roses on streamers.

Miss Joan Andrews, of Kingston, was maid of honor in a pale green moire gown with velvet Dutch cap in hunter's green and matching muff with crescent of baby pink roses. Miss Cecilie Black, of Marmora, a bridesmaid, wore a similar gown of pale pink moire with Dutch cap and muff of Du Bonne velvet.

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

A large gathering of members and friends attended the meeting of Bridgenorth Home and School Association Tuesday evening. Guest speaker was Miss Margaret Green of the Board of Education staff and first vice-president of the Teachers' Association of Ontario.

Miss Green's message to the home and school was of vital interest in that she dealt with home training of pre-school children and the habits of the school child. "Many of the difficulties of the school child would be eliminated if proper guidance was given in the pre-school years," she said. "Teach your children to amuse themselves and play alone. The child who cannot amuse himself becomes an adult too early in life."

Reports on the field day in June and graduation exercises in September were given by conveners Mrs. E. Blewett and Mrs. R. Harding. A short reading on dental health was by Mrs. J. Smith.

Two fine instrumental selections were played on violin and piano by Mrs C. Telford and Mr. T. Seidel. Teacher Mr. B. Patterson read the teachers' code of ethics.

Dr. H. G. Carleton, MOH, was present and spoke for a few minutes on advisability of a public health nurse being taken on in the county to help out in schools of this district. He promised that at the next meeting of the Board of Health he would put before it the problem of garbage disposal in Bridgenorth.

Mr. J. Murray, social convener, and her committee served a delicious lunch at the close.

Keep Curves Stay Healthy Plea to Girls

By MARIENNE IZSAK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, —(CP)— Which would you rather be? Slim, undernourished and unhealthy? Or roundly-curved and bouncing with health?

That is the leading question George Hurrell, who has photographed more beautiful women than most other men see in a lifetime, would like to ask the girls of today.

Hurrell believes girls are not only ruining their own health but that of future generations in their attempt to keep their figures down to model measurements.

"Some of the glamor girls I photograph are so thin, they're unhealthy. They don't eat. They're high-strung and nervous like race horses."

And, asks Hurrell, what kind of mother does that type of person make? They're a menace to the nation, too.

Girls throughout the country see pictures of these flat-chested, snake-hipped models and try to ape them.

"When beautiful girls from other sections of the country come to New York," continued Hurrell, "They're healthy. But when the fashion business makes models of them, they're almost shadows. And they have to keep themselves that way!"

Hollywood Has It

Women would do better if they looked to Hollywood for figure standards. Hollywood caters more to the masculine idea of feminine figure beauty. It like curves on its stars.

Some of the figures Hurrell mentions as example of the Perfect American Girl belong to Lana Turner, Betty Grable, Ann Sheridan and Esther Williams.

Well, what can be done about it?

In the first place, says Hurrell, women should band together to take action against an artificial standard of beauty. Don't let the fashion stylists and models decide for you what your figure should be like.

"The girls were able to get the vote. I don't see why they can't get together, assert their freedom and become real women, not imitations of a few undernourished models."

After that, it's up to the individual woman. Forget about that bit of salad and slice of fruit and eat a hearty meal.

And, above all, shudders Hurrell, don't have just a cigaret and coke for lunch!

Bazaar and Tea At School Is Successful

Success attended the bazaar and tea held Wednesday afternoon at Grove School on Erskine Ave. by the Home and School Association. A large crowd, also out to enjoy the perfect autumn weather, was welcomed by Mrs. F Saunders, president, and Mrs. E. Druecy.

Attractive decorations at the tea table were in keeping with the season. Filling the tea cups were Mrs. H. Doig, Mrs. H. McMann, Mrs. J. Barnard and Mrs. B. Johnson, and serving were Mrs Eric McKinstry, Mrs. D. Keene and Mrs. Nels Foster.

The table of home cooking was in charge of Mrs. W. Hargreaves, who was assisted by Mrs. Jack Ainslie. A miscellaneous table which offered novelties, preserves and pickles was looked after by Mrs. A. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. J. Coit and Mrs. Rutherford. Mrs. Stan Whitfield and Mrs Ed. Johnson sold home-made candy.

Mrs. I. E. Morgan Is Speaker

The Young Women's Mission Circle of Murray St. Baptist Church entertained members of Mary Nicholls Mission Circle at their meeting Tuesday evening, held in the church parlors. Miss Emeline Reed, president, was in the chair and Miss Edna Genge had charge of worship with Thanksgiving as the theme. Mrs. Ivan C. Morgan gave the topic address telling of her visit to the Six Nations Reserve in Brant County during the summer. She gave an interesting account of the formation of this League a long time ago and how the Indians were given the land around the Grand River. A pleasant social time followed the meeting. The tea table was laden with fall fruits and highlighted with candles and Miss Reed presided. Mrs. M. Curtis, convener of refreshments, was assisted in serving by Mrs. C. Gillespie, Mrs. Wm. Lommis, Miss Bernice Robinson and Miss Leatha Kidd.

onymity the detective warned recently that green-eyed females are bad business.

"I've seen more men running away from green-eyed girls than all others put together," he said. "Some of them seem to be more than the boys can handle.

"They drive men to drink and all kinds of desperate actions. In many cases they seem to be too possessive and emotional."

Legion Auxiliary Entertains Braille Society

Regular meeting of the Louis Braille Society at the Dixon House Wednesday evening was highlighted with the attendance of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, who presented a delightful program of entertainment.

President Mr. Tom McQuade opened the proceedings and conducted a short business meeting during which Mrs. A. Mason, president of the Legion Auxiliary, and Alderman Hurrell Dodds and Mcs. Dodds were made honorary members of the Society.

A request was made during the meeting for a piano stool.

The program arranged by Mrs. Mason was presented with honorary member Tom Pritchard as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. W. Davies sang three numbers, "Bendemeer's stream," "Sunrise and you" and "My Ain wee house," with accompaniment by her daughter, Mrs. E. Pearse. Five-year-old Sandra Cross was the hit of the evening singing "Forever and ever" and "You call everybody darling." She was accompanied by Mrs. J. Walton, who also played for sing songs that interspersed the program, and for Mrs. A. Wagstaff who sang "Little grey home" and "Through the years." Mrs. Aikenhead, elocutionist, gave three humorous readings that were greatly enjoyed.

Home-made refreshments were spcially prepared for this occasion by the Auxiliary members, under convenership of Mrs. George Stevens, and were so abundant that each Society member had a parcel of the treats to take home.

Meetings of this group are held on the third Wednesday of each month. There will be a Christmas party on December 13 for which they are being given use of the Legion Halll.

Pastry Making Topic At Cooking Class

Second class of the IODE Cooking School of the Collegiate auditorium on Wednesday evening was given to an almost full house. Attendants learned about making pastry in large quantities so as to always have some on hand watched the steps in making jam tarts, cup cakes and a salmon ring supper dish.

Mrs. C. E. Newman drew 45 ticket stubs which gave the holders of 15 some valuable prizes and the other 30 received well filled shopping bags. Some of the winners were Mrs. Hudson Hall, Mrs. Ken Campbell, Mrs C. Griffin, Mrs. C. Lush, Miss Ruth Barns, Mrs. C. Mann, Mrs. John Turner, Mrs. K. Simpson, Mrs. Eric Denison, Mrs. G. Langhorne, Miss Mary McKee, Mesdames Turney, McKibbin, Stevenson and Jewell.

The school was opened by Miss Mary Greer, regent of Peter Robinson Chapter, with Mrs M. Sutt, regent of the joint sponsor 57th Regiment Chapter, on the platform. Attendants from out of the city each received a bag of flour and a special prize was given a visitor from Cornwall Women's Institute.

Mrs. C. L. Upper and Mrs. D. Miller will be selling tickets at the door for tonight's final class, which will be highlighted by the draw for a mixmaster. Door prizes are being given to each attendant.

Princess Margaret "Almost Certain" To Visit Canada

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(INS). — Princess Margaret Rose, a vivacious young lady who excels at getting her way, is expected to win royal consent for a visit to the United States and Canada, probably in the summer of 1950.

Court circles regard it as "almost a certainty" that King George's fun-loving 19-year-old daughter will pay an official call on the North American dominion next year.

May Also Visit U.S.

An "unofficial" extension of the trip across the border to the U.S. is also regarded as a "distinct possibility."

Margaret came back from her Italian visit this summer with her taste for travel whetted She told inimates ha she had "a wonderful time" in Italy and could hardly wait to make another foreign trip.

Barring a major international blow-up or a worsening of the King's leg ailment, the attractive brunette princess will most likely be travelling westward come 1950.

The Canadian jaunt, Buckingham sources report, will very likely be tied in with important ceremonies involving the Highland Light Infantry of Canada, in which Margaret is an honorary colonel-in-chief. Thus, the trip would be "official"—although the spirited young lady is bound to have "free periods" away from her formal duties as a representative of the royal family.

As for the American journey, this would probably be in the form of a "private or semi-private visit."

Trip To Ranch Likely

It's been suggested that Margaret may take the occasion to visit the Arizona ranch of U.S. Ambassador William Douglas. The ambassador's daughter, Sharman, an attractive 21-year-old blonde who often double-dates with the princess, has offered a standing invitation to Margaret.

The royal family has several important engagements in the spring and early summer of 1950. Margaret will, of course, be expected to participate, particularly in view of her father's limited schedule.

But the word around court is that the good-looking "kid sister" of Princess Elizabeth will eventually have her own way — and make the transatlantic crossing for a look at the new world.

Parents Attend "Open House"

A large number of parents took advantage of Open House at Central School Wednesday evening. It was their opportunity to visit the classrooms and discuss the children's progress with the teachers. Room mothers of the Home and School Association were on hand to assist and to look after registration.

Coffee and do-nuts were served throughout the evening under supervision of Mrs. F. Earle and her committee.

Mrs. S. Maisch, president of the Home and School Association, and Mrs. F. Ross, vice-president, received the guests. Membership tables were presided over by Mrs. S Hayman and Mrs. E. R. Vance for the junior school, and by Mrs. C. Wasson and Mrs. W. Davidson for senior school.

Literature tables, arranged by convener Mrs. W. Gunn, attracted considerable attention.

Hansard Group Meets at YW

First meeting of the Hansard Study Group, sponsored by the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA was held Tuesday evening. Speaker Mr. C. K. Hurst, was introduced by chairman Miss Margaret McIntosh.

The need today for a more widely informed group of people who are interested in government was emphasized by Mr. Hurst in his introductory remarks. He pointed out that the democratic form of government is being subjected to so many pressures it will be a success just to the extent that each individual in society assumes his or her responsibility as a citizen.

The evolution of parliamentary democracy from Alfred the Great to Cromwell was then traced in an extremely lucid and interesting manner by the speaker. Following the discussion a film on local government was shown by Mr. Wm. Graff.

Mr. Hurst will continue his historical survey of the English Parliament at the second meeting on October 25 at the YWCA and anyone interested will be welcomed. This is the first Hansard Study Group that has been made available to the People of Peterborough.

Two-ring Wedding Unites Jean Rowan, N. L. Thurston

Rings and vows were exchanged in the wedding ceremony which took place Saturday in Trinity United Church, Omemee, uniting Jean Thelma Rowan and Norman Leslie Thurston, the Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt officiating. The bride is granddaughter of Mrs. Thos. Rowan of Omemee. The groom is son of Mrs. J. M. Thurston and the late Mr. Thurston of R.R. 3, Lindsay.

Fall flowers and ferns formed the setting at the altar. The organ was played by Mrs. Irvin Connell and Miss Dorothy Connell was soloist. Before the bride entered she sang "The voice that breathed o'er Eden" and at the signing of the register,"O perfect love."

The bride wore a gown of embossed slipper satin which featured a sweetheart neckline and had long pointed sleeves. Her veil of tulle illusion fell into a long train and was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and red carnations. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attendants were the groom's sister Miss Barbara Thurston, bridesmaid, and Miss Marie Rowan, sister of the bride, flower girl. Miss Thurston was dressed in blue taffeta with mittens to match and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white 'mums and wore a long dress of yellow taffeta and matching mittens and her bouquet and headband were of mauve 'mums.

The groom was attended by his cousin Robert Thomas of Toronto. Ushers were Donald Griffin and Percy Robinson.

The reception following was at the bride's home where her grandmother received, gowned in a two-piece black crepe dress, black hat and accessories and wearing pink roses. The groom's mother who assisted her was also dressed in black and she wore white roses.

Leaving later on a wedding trip to western Ontario and United States the bride was wearing a suit of navy wool gabardine, navy and wine accessories and a wine topcoat.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston will live on the groom's farm at R.R. 3, Lindsay.

DOROTHY DIX

Clinging to Past No Good Try to Seek Companionship

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow, 55 years old, no children. My husband died two years ago. I loved him devotedly and since his death I have been trying to keep house for myself. I cook so little it is not worth the trouble, as I have no interest in getting up a meal just for myself and no appetite to eat it after it is cooked. I have nothing to do but think about my loss and I weep all the time. My nature is full of love and kindness and I am so lonely. What shall I do?

Dorothy Dix

HEART-BROKEN WIDOW.

ANSWER: I don't know anything more pitiful than the way women sacrifice themselves to their "things"—the way they cling to the shell of a house and a few sticks of furniture after the spirit that made the house a home is gone. They will live on alone in houses in which they are frightened to death. They will endure semistarvation because it doesn't seem worth while to get up a regular meal just for themselves. And all for the sake of living under a roof in which they have once been happy.

Nothing is more common than to hear a woman say: "I just can't break up my home," but when a woman's husband dies and she has no children of an age to live with her, the very thing she should do is to break up her home and go where she will have companionship and where everything she sees and touches does not remind her of her bereavement.

Take Job

If you cannot afford to live in a boarding house or hotel, be sensible enough to put your pride in your pocket and get a position as housekeeper in some family where there are little children on whom you can bestow your affection, and where you can make yourself a part of family life. Or else get in some philanthropic work. Anything that will bring you in contact with people and make you feel that you are of some use in the world.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a boy of 18, very much in love with a girl of 19. My father is sending me to college and is planning on putting me through a dental school when I finish. My girl says it will ruin my life for her to marry me now and that my family would always blame her for marrying me at this time. I run around a great deal and being young, she is afraid that I will continue to do so after marriage. I think I could stop this. I am positive that she is the one for me and I fear that if I have to wait for three years something will come between us. Shall I marry her and let my father support us until I get through school or shall I take a chance on losing her by waiting three years? Talk to me as if I were your son.

DOC.

ANSWER: No boy in the world at 18 is fit to marry. He hasn't come to himself. He hasn't the faintest idea of what sort of man he is going to develop into nor what sort of woman he is going to want for a wife when he is grown up, and not once in a hundred times does a very youthful marriage turn out successfully. It isn't fair to yourself and it isn't fair to the girl, and she has more intelligence than you have by not being willing to enter into it.

As for the danger of losing her by waiting until you are ready to marry, that is as nothing to the danger of wishing that you hadn't married her if you do marry her. If you really love each other, your love will stand the strain of a three years' wait.

Certainly you have no right to marry and dump a wife down on your father to support. That is as unmanly an act as any lad can commit. You have no moral right to marry until you are ready to assume the obligations that matrimony entails and provide for your own family.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married a short time to my husband. I love him very much and have been very happy until I found out some experiences he had in the past before he married me. What shall I do?

W. P.

ANSWER: Depends upon how serious these experiences were. If they were such as to bring shame or disease on you, I should say leave him before you pass the curse on to your children. Otherwise, forget it. The important thing is not whom a man loved in the past but that he loves you in the present.

Men to Replace Married Women

MANCHESTER, England, Oct. (CP) — Eight thousand wives work in Lancashire's cotton mills. If a new plan to boost output is adopted, they will be replaced by men.

R. Moelwyn Hughes has just completed a 2½-year study of the industry as head of the Cotton Manufacturing Commission. Explaining why he favors more men in the mills, Hughes said.

"Husbands should be paid enough to keep their wives and families. It is undesirable that the industry's output should depend on married women.

Men Beware!

REGINA, —(CP) — Citizens were astounded the other night. About 30 young women played leapfrog down a main street, sang songs; asked passing men to marry them and tried to hawk scraps of newspapers on street corners. It was only the initiation night for a local church girls' club.

Worry of FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are wondering what to call your new mother-in-law.

WRONG WAY: Call her „Mrs. Jones," if you do not feel that you knew her well enough to start in calling her "Mother."

RIGHT WAY: Ask her what she would like you to call her. She may suggest that you call her by her first name.
